Dear Reader,

Dear Scotland: You're British. Get over it

As we go to press, the good news has come in that the Scottish Referendum on whether Scotland should leave the UK returned a firm "No", with a majority of 10% over the "Yes" vote,

The illustration above from the "Daily Stormer" sums up the outcome very well!

The Scottish people have been grossly deceived by those calling for independence as had the "Yes" vote won, they would still have remained under the firm control of the City of London and would find themselves in the same position as the USA is in today, who thought when independence from Great Britain was declared on 4th July 1776 they were in control of their own destiny but were in fact still a crown colony of the City of London, where even now General Martin Dempsey chairman of the joint chiefs of staff of US forces reports directly to the British Army General, Sir Peter Wallis! Not only that, the Scottish police forces have been merged into one force under the control of Alex Salmon and 2 others, so Scotland is well on the way to becoming a "police state"!

In these dangerous days we need to seek strength and pray for guidance from Yahweh and resist the enemy's ploy to divide us but instead strengthen our ties with our brethren in the UK, continental Europe and where ever else they may be. Praise Yahweh, may he come quickly!!

THE DIASPORA.

W H E N
K I N G
D A V I D

possessed much of the Promised Land, he was told by the prophet Nathan that God would appoint this new interim place for his holy [separate] people.

2 Samuel 7:10 "Moreover I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and will plant them, that they may dwell in a place of their own, and move no more; neither shall the children of wickedness afflict them any more, as beforetime".

1 Chron. 17:9 "Also I will ordain a place for my people Israel, and will plant them, and they shall dwell in their place, and shall be moved no more; neither shall the children of wickedness waste them any more, as at the beginning."

This in no way is about the "gathering" to the land of Israel. It is about where Israel is placed when cast out of the Land.

Kings 9:7, "Then will I cut off Israel out of the land which I have given them; and this house, which I have hallowed for my name, will I cast out of my sight".

It is the Promised Land God has His sights on. The land Israel is cut out from is described as being "coasts" to the North and West of The Promised Land, and that somewhere there would be a monarch of the house of David on a throne, but not ruling as an autocrat. Those who declare that this placement was permanently outside of Palestine base their interpretation upon an invalid translation and failure to note what is established is the ongoing nature of David's Throne-(1 Chron. 17:14), and the host of passages that speak about the "re-gathering".

"Move" as in "move no more" in these two verses is ragaz, a word that means "trembling" or "disquieted" rather than "relocated". This possibly refers to the fact that the places the Israelites were expelled to, such as the USA, Canada, New Zealand and Australia, do not have strong enemies on any common border and thus would no longer be disquieted by such enemies. This gives the meaning to, "be moved no more", i.e., they would be "disquieted no more" in this way.

Neither does the word, "plant" insist on permanence, as is claimed. Please view Deut. 29:28, "And the LORD rooted them out of their land in anger, and in wrath, and in great indignation, and cast them into another land, as it is this day". This curse for Law-breaking was to those already brought into the Promised Land.

From there and elsewhere from whence they had been scattered, Israel is to be "gathered" to the land promised to the descendants of Abraham [through Isaac]. Almost every book of the Old Testament prophesies of this event. From this Promised Land, Israel [not what is commonly referred to as "Jews"] will reign with Jesus over the other nations of the earth with "a rod of iron".

Some people use such verses to say that prophetic Zion and Jerusalem do not refer to the old places in Palestine, so as we go along please keep this in mind and then judge whether the land that God sanctified and set apart "for ever", still stands as such.

Some will claim that God's Land means any place where God's people happen to be at any one time, citing the first part of passages such as:

Gen 28:15 "And, behold, I am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whither thou goest",

The second half of this quote describes a much-prophesied pattern of prophecy we all would do well to take heed of. It reads, "and will bring thee again into this land; for I will not leave thee, until I have done that which I have spoken to thee of".

This gives weight to: Hebrews 13:5, "For he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee".

And also what God said to David, "I will not take my mercy away from him".

This means that God will do what He says about "And will bring thee again to this land". The word translated here as "again" is translated in the KJV as "return" 391 times and "again" 248 times, as well as some other ways.

Others point to the USA as being Manesseh but at the same time they claim the USA is the final destination of ALL the tribes and do not seem to be able to see the conflict in these statements. There is no prophecy about all the tribes of Israel being gathered to Manesseh, but there is plenty about their being gathered to the land promised to the fathers.

Then some point to: Matt. 23:37 "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not! Behold, your house is left unto you desolate.

...claiming that this means that God has finished with Old Jerusalem, but they do not choose to put forth what immediately follows on this passage because it does not support their thesis:

"For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord".

Ask yourself if this "For I say unto you" is addressed to the Old Jerusalem or to a Prophetic Jerusalem. What this verse means is that Jerusalem is desolate only for a period "till" this stated time. That the Land is desolate to those, "in Moses seat" does not say it is not God's Land still - in fact the word "till" says the opposite. The word, "desolate" simply does not have the "forsaken-for-ever" application that some try to place upon it, as we see in:

Isaiah 62:3-4 "Thou shalt also be a crown of glory in the hand of the LORD, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God. Thou shalt no more be termed Forsaken; neither shall thy land any more be termed Desolate: but thou shalt be called Hephzibah, and thy land Beulah: for the LORD delighteth in thee, and thy land shall be married".

The Promised Land will no more be termed "desolate" as it is during the long diaspora..

The story about the woman of Samaria at the well is also wrongly used to say that Jesus says that worship was to cease at Jerusalem "forever". To quote one with this view, "This is testimony by Christ Himself that worship of God was to cease in Old Jerusalem and Old Palestine". But could this be true? Jesus pointed out that He was speaking about the mode of worship rather than to the place of worship, saying:

John 4:23-24 "But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him. God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth".

After this hour that "now is", Jesus did of course again minister in the Old Jerusalem! He did even die there!

Then it is claimed that the USA fits the description of Matthew 21:43-44.

Matt. 21:43-44 "Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof. And whosoever shall fall on this stone shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder".

Hosea is not telling us about the behaviour of the tares within Israel in the USA here, as is claimed. Does not all the rottenness and Babylonian behaviour within Israel, as described by Hosea, happen within the USA before the following verse happens?

Hosea 2:15, "She shall sing there, as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt"

No, 1 Peter 1:4 tells us about the "stone" and says, "Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner stone". The word "stone" both here and in Matthew 21 is "lithos", not "petros". This passage goes on to say, "But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people", and then goes on to link this with Hosea's prophecy (V 10) about the House of Israel as in Hosea 2:15 just above.

Where is the place of the "there in this verse"? It is where Israel was when "she came up out of the Land of Egypt, that is, in the Promised Land.

It is also claimed that Micah chapter four is about the USA, as the place where this all happens. This might be so if the USA was the final destination and place of the re-gathering of Israel, but the reference used (Sheldon Emry), ""For now shalt thou go forth out of the city and thou shalt dwell in the field and thou shalt go even to Babylon," is about going to Babylon, and so if the USA was Zion, then Zion would be Babylon. Would all the twelve tribes then be gathered to Babylon in the end? No, Israel is "brought back" from captivity in Babylon.

Likewise, Ezekiel 38:11 about "unwalled villages" may define the USA but in no way does it define a final place for all Israel. "Unwalled villages" of course could equally refer to New Zealand and Australia as being part of the interim places where God has made an interim "place for My people Israel". Maybe even today's United Kingdom could apply as a place of unwalled villages.

Of course, to compare the territory of the USA with the present State of Israel is meaningless as the State of Israel does not occupy the land from the Euphrates to the Nile Rivers.

Misconceptions About Josephus, The Judean (4) Or, How To Tell the Difference Between a Jew and an Israelite! By Pastor Eli James

The Systematic Substitution of the Unscriptural Word 'Jew' for the Scrip- tural Word 'Ju- dah.'

GIVEN these many layers and levels of Jewish deception, our thoughts are thus programmed to think inside the Jewish box of their self-serving false dichotomies and biblical interpolations. This subtle preconditioning goes on with few people aware that an alien, anti-Christian society has generated these false ideas for their own purposes of exploitation and control.

We have to learn to think "outside the box." Unless we Christians realize what has happened to us and how we have been duped and exploited, there will never be TRUE PEACE in this world. We will only have Orwellian...Jewish "peace."

One NT verse worth considering in the light of this deception is I Corinthians 9:20, where Paul, according to the prevailing Jewish-approved interpolation/translation, identifies himself as a "Jew":

"And I became as a Jew [sic] to the Jews [sic] that I might gain the Jews [sic]; to those under Law as under Law, that I might gain those under Law."

Since the Edomite Pharisees who were brought in by King John Hyrcanus in 150 BC were non-Judahites who were NEVER under the Mosaic Law, the Pharisees could not possibly be the subject people under discussion. The word 'Jew' is falsely translated from the Greek 'Ioudaios,' which had only one meaning in those days: "Judean." Since a Judean was merely a citizen or resident of the nation of Judea, that word has no religious connotation, except for the original Judeans, who were racial Judahites!! The word 'American' has undergone the same transformation. Originally, an American, or US citizen, was an Anglo male. Now that we have become a motley crew, the modern meaning of 'American' is merely one who resides here or is a citizen of the country.

When reading the Bible, whenever you come across the word 'Jew,' it is important to understand that that word, with its modern connotations, cannot possibly be a synonym for 'Ioudaios.' There is no way that the modern conglomeration or breed of Jewish people today can be equated with the Judahites of the Bible. Today's Jews are a mixed breed of Canaanites and Khazars. The Judahites were/are White Adamites. Without this historical perspective, the inappropriateness of the word 'Jew' where it appears in the Bible cannot be appreciated.

In the Old Testament, the word should have been left untranslated as 'Judah.' In the New Testament, it should properly be 'Judean.' Thus, modern connotations cannot be read into these words. In the minds of people today, the modern Jewish people are automatically associated with these New Testament words, 'Judah' and 'Judean' simply because they have been translated as 'Jew.' There is no possibility that the authors of the New Testament had such people in mind. Rabbinical deception is designed to get you to ignore these distinctions and unthinkingly assume that 'Jew' and 'Judah' are equivalent. The New Testament has been turned into the "Jew Testament," even though the real Jews (the Edomites) were the arch enemy of both Yahshua and the Apostles.

Here is my translation of I Cor. 9:20 that will never receive rabbinical approval: "And I became as a Judean to the Judeans that I might gain the Judeans [since Paul was a Benjamite who grew up in Tarsus]; to those under the (Levitical) Law as under (Levitical) Law, that I might gain those under the (Levitical) Law."

I submit that my translation preserves the historical context in which these words were composed. Since Paul grew up in Tarsus, an Israelite stronghold away from Judea, what Paul is saying is that he had to get into their Levitical mindset in order to explain to them that the New Covenant, which was established on the cross at Calvary, had abolished the Levitical blood sacrifices. If you assume, as many well-meaning Christians do, that Paul was something like an ethnic Jew living in New York City speaking to other, similar ethnic Jews, then you cannot possibly understand the historical setting involved and captured in the verse above. In fact, you would be hopelessly confusing two entirely different ethnicities, two entirely different world views and two entirely different doctrines.

In addition, your moral understanding of the New Testament would be skewed as well, because Paul was NOT, in this verse, addressing people who were practicing Judaism!!! Paul would thus have been trying to reason with those who were practicing the "traditions of men," the Jewish Pharisees, which he actually condemns at Col. 2:8. If anybody was aware of the hypocrisy of Judaism it was Paul! Within the Gospel narrative, at no time did Jesus or any of the Apostles waste a single moment or sentence in trying to convert the Pharisees or their tainted kinsmen. Jesus Christ clearly regards them as His ENEMY, a people that cannot be reasoned with. That's why He spoke in parables when He spoke in public assemblies, so that those of Judah and Israel in the audience would get the message while the Jews would be scratching their heads in bewilderment and asking each other, "Is he condemning us?"

In contrast, Paul praises the traditions of Israel in Gal. 1:14 and in II Thes. 2:15. This confusion of ethnicities has been accomplished by replacing the word 'Judean' with the modern word 'Jew.' These two words are NOT equivalent, although the rabbis want you to think that both of these verses reference THEIR people when, in fact, they DO NOT. A Judean was a citizen or resident of Judea, period. A Jew is one who follows the teachings of the rabbis. So, when Paul was addressing these Judeans, he was clearly addressing his own racial kinsmen, not impostor Jews.

How could Paul be addressing Pharisaic Jews when he had renounced Pharisaism (Judaism)? That makes no sense at all! They would be objecting to everything he was saying! Plus, the Pharisaic Jews forbade their followers, AS

THEY STILL DO TODAY, from listening to Christian doctrine!!! (The Israeli State today has a law which imposes a five-year prison sentence on any Christian who is convicted of proselytizing a Jew!) The only possible Judeans Paul could have been addressing, at this juncture of time, place and ethnicity, were his kinsmen, Covenant Israel. Think about it. Who else would even be interested in what he had to say? Who else would have had the national and Scriptural history except the Judahites of Judea? -- for it was they, the Judahites of Judea, who were the children of Israel in Judea, not the Jews. The rest of the time, when not addressing these children of Judah, he was addressing the Israelites of the Dispersion.

Remember, the true Judeans (the historical Judahites of the Old Testament) were steeped in the Levitical sacrificial law which, from the year 150 BC onwards, was being appropriated by the Pharisees. The Pharisees of that day, just as the Judeo-Christians of today, edited the Scriptures to suit their own theology; and they kept the True Law under lock and key. Since Judaism, from its very inception, was an anti-Mosaic heresy, Paul could not possibly be talking about Judaic law. He had to be talking about the Mosaic Law. Therefore, his audience was the Mosaic Judahites of Judea, not the Pharisaic Jews of Idumean or mixed blood. Paul's writings are very anti-Pharisaic because, having rejected Pharisaism, he understood that it was this very heresy that Jesus said was the 'traditions of men' that made the Law "of none effect." The Pharisees of Paul's day hated him just as much as they hated Jesus Christ; and modern Jews still hate Paul, second only to their hatred of Yahshua Messiah. Haven't you heard how the Jews condemn the New Testament because it is so "anti-Semitic"?

Many Jewish authors, such as Robert Eisenmann (left), are involved in the debunking of Paul, which has become fashionable within Christian Identity circles. The Jews of that day understood that the awakened Paul was just as much their adversary as was Jesus, but at present the anti-Paulians within CI don't understand this because of the horrible, universal-sounding translations of the KJV. They think Paul actually composed these universalistic passages when it was in fact the Catholic (universal) Church that doctored his original Greek writings, making them sound universalist, when the New Testament Greek actually retains the Israelite exclusivism and racial awareness of the Old Testament Hebrew. The fact is that all of the Apostles and Paul (or including Paul, depending on your point of view) were highly cognizant of the Jewish heresy that was incessantly seeking to usurp the Mosaic Law.

But the common people were not aware of this ongoing impersonation, a fact which is still true today.

Hebrews, Chapter 10: 1-17:

"For the law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never WITH THOSE SACRIFICES which they offered year by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect...For it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats should take away sins." (quoting Isa. 1:11-17)

Yet, Yahweh permitted those sacrifices as a temporary institution for our instruction, thus highlighting for our instruction the importance of the Law. All of those sacrificial ordinances in Numbers and Leviticus were exclusively recorded for the Levitical priesthood to follow and observe UNTIL THE SACRIFICE OF THE LAMB OF GOD. It is important to understand, however, that none of the non-sacrificial laws were abolished. Those are still fully applicable today, especially the Ten Commandments. Otherwise, how could Paul even talk of "righteousness," as he constantly does? Righteousness is obedience to the Law, plain and simple.

It is fascinating that many antinomian ministers concede that the Law was given for Israel's instruction, yet they teach that those days are over and that "the law was done away with at the cross." Well, what about OUR instruction? What about THEIR instruction? What kind of "faith" can you have without any rules? Apparently, the Sermon on the Mount was wasted on these people! Their "faith" consists in believing that they are "saved" no matter what laws they don't obey! Hasn't anybody warned them about the Judgment Day at which we will all be judged according to our WORKS? (Acts 26:20; Rom. 13:13 (What kind of charity is it that hath no works?); 2Cor. 11:15; Rev. 20:12-13.)

They simply ASSUME that Paul's conception of "faith" excludes the Law being written in our hearts. They never talk about this Covenantal connection between the Law and real Faith. And, if there is to be a Kingdom, what kind of Kingdom can there be without the protection of Law and the internalisation and enforcement of it? The antinomians are seeing the fruit of their teaching today in the fact that Christian civilization is collapsing under the weight of its ignorant bliss.

Returning to Hebrews, Chapter 10:

"Above when he said, Sacrifice and offering and burnt offering for sin thou wouldst not, neither hadst thou pleasure therein; which are offered by the law [of sacrifices, not the Whole Law!!!]; Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second."

What is the first? It is the law and the priesthood that was dedicated to the ritual sacrifices. It was that part of the Law, and only that part of the Law, that was done away with, in order to make room for the second.

What is the second?

"For by one offering [that is, Jesus Christ offering Himself as our Kinsman Redeemer for our past sins] he hath perfected forever them that are sanctified."

Of course, the use of the past tense makes it sound like Paul is saying that this "perfection" was accomplished in us at Calvary that very day. We have to forgive Paul for a bit of fiery oratory, for we are still in the process of this perfecting experience. He is speaking of the potential that is within us. Yahshua Messiah took away the obstacle to our perfection, our original sin. It has taken us two thousand years to comprehend what the Scriptures are telling us, namely, that we, God's Chosen People Israel, are to be perfected by having the Law written in our hearts. Paul continues by quoting Jer. 31:31-34:

"Whereof the Holy Ghost also is a witness to us; for after that he had said before, THIS IS THE COVENANT THAT I WILL MAKE WITH THEM AFTER THOSE DAYS, SAITH YAHWEH, I WILL PUT MY LAWS INTO THEIR HEARTS, AND IN THEIR MINDS WILL I WRITE THEM; AND THEIR SINS AND INIQUITIES WILL I REMEMBER NO MORE."

Now, is Paul confirming the Covenant with Israel or isn't he? The simplistic interpretation of Paul as saying the Whole Law has been abolished is utter stupidity!! He teaches nothing of the sort! His context is the SACRIFICIAL LAW ONLY and he ABSOLUTELY VERIFIES THAT THE LAW WILL BE WRITTEN IN OUR HEARTS. This is the Promise, folks! And if Yahweh promises, He delivers!

"For I speak to you "Gentiles" [true meaning: the Israelites of the Dispersion, not "non-Jews" as the lying scribes have led you to believe], inasmuch as I am the apostle to the Dispersed, I magnify mine office. [Now, ask yourself: "Would pagan non-Israelites of that day even have any idea what Paul was talking about, let alone have any interest in the promises of some religion they have absolutely no knowledge or tradition of?"] If by any means I may provoke to emulation THEM WHICH ARE MY FLESH, and might save some of them."

What part of THEM WHICH ARE MY FLESH don't you understand?

Given Paul's constant references to his Israelite flesh, it is amazing that so many completely ignore these references and simply assume he is either spiritualizing or generalizing to all nations!! Paul was a Benjamite of the Dispersion. As such, he understood the plight of the Dispersed of Israel better than Peter. That is why Peter yielded to Paul on this account, when Peter realized that just because a non-Judean Israelite was uncircumcised, he is not necessarily "unclean." Yahshua Messiah came to redeem All Israel, not just those who resided in Judea, but those Dispersed throughout Asia and Europe as well. And that is precisely TO WHOM the Apostles went!

The universalists have totally misinterpreted this exclusive message and they try to argue, deliberately avoiding the Covenant teachings, that the New Testament is about "salvation for all." For those of you who are concerned about the "salvation" of the other races, I can tell you that their salvation is dependent upon OURS. Non-Israelites are saved only through OUR intervention, through our ability to exemplify and establish the Kingdom. As soon as the blinded within True Israel step aside, the job can proceed. This is the "White Man's Burden," as Kipling so eloquently put it. Burden or destiny, the challenge is yours, IF you are of the Covenant Race.

If you cannot see that "diversity" has been a complete failure, then you are most assuredly blinded by rhetoric and find it impossible to see reality. History has proven this fact over and over again: When Whites give up their authority, chaos ensues. Just ask the Whites in South Africa and Rhodesia (Zimbabwe) how well the ruling clique of Blacks treats them. They can't even feed themselves. Can you spell 'genocide'?

The Jews, the Judeo-Christians and the universalists have all rewritten Scripture in an attempt to deny the Covenant Message. They are the blind leading the blind. By redefining such words as 'Gentile' and 'Judah' to mean something not intended by the original authors, they have convinced most Christians that they cannot possibly be the True Chosen People, Israel. Now, dear Christian, do you see how thoroughly you have been deceived by Judeo-Christianity?

The Mistaken J (Part 6)

Yahweh's Assembly In Yahsuha

My People Shall Know My Name

NO other Name can reveal the true Heavenly Father, and the truth of who He is, as His personal Name Yahweh does. This singular truth alone renders all arguments for using substitutes null and void.

Consider these passages that testify to the necessity of the sacred Name:

Salvation is strictly in Yahweh's Name and in His Name alone.

“Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved” (Acts. 4:12). “And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of Yahweh shall be delivered...” (Joel 2:32) “The name of Yahweh is a strong tower: the righteous runs into it, and is safe” (Prov. 18:10)

We are commanded to call on Him in His Name when we pray or praise Him:

“From the rising of the sun unto the going down of the same Yahweh's Name is to be praised” (Ps. 113:3).

Those who revere and call on His Name are special to Yahweh:

“Because he has set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he has known my name” (Ps. 91:14). “Then they that feared Yahweh spoken often one to another: and Yahweh hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared Yahweh, and that thought upon his name. And they shall be mine, says Yahweh of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels; and I will spare them, as a man spares his own son that serves him” (Mal. 3:16-17).

The saints will gather in His Name:

“And I will strengthen them in Yahweh: and they shall walk up and down in his name, says Yahweh” (Zech. 10:12). “And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried: they shall call on my name, and I will hear them: I will say, It is my people: and they shall say, Yahweh is my Elohim” (Zech. 13:9).

His people have not denied His Name:

“I know your works: behold, I have set before you an open door, and no man can shut it: for you have a little strength, and have kept my word, and have not denied my name” (Rev. 3:8). “I know your works, and where you dwell, even where Satan's seat is: and you hold fast my name, and have not denied my faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my faithful martyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwells” (Rev. 2:13).

His people and His future city shall know and be called by His personal, revealed Name Yahweh:

“Therefore my people shall know my name: therefore they shall know in that day that I am he that does speak: behold, it is I” (Isa. 52:6). “O Yahweh, hear; O Yahweh, forgive, O Yahweh, hearken and do; defer not, for your own sake, O my Elohim: for your city and your people are called by your name” (Dan. 9:19). “If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land” (2 Chron. 7:14). “That they may possess the remnant of Edom, and of all the heathen, which are called by my name, says Yahweh that does this” (Amos 9:12). “Even every one that is called by my name: for I have created him for my glory, I have formed him; yea, I have made him” (Isa. 43:7). “Why should you be as a man astonished, as a mighty man that cannot save? Yet you, O YAHWEH in the midst of us, and we are called by your name; leave us not” (Jer. 14:9). “Your words were found, and I did eat them; and your word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by your name, O YAHWEH Elohim of hosts” (Jer. 15:16).

The very Elect will be sealed in His Name:

“And I looked, and, lo, a Lamb stood on the mount Zion, and with him an hundred forty and four thousand, having his Father’s name written in their foreheads” (Rev. 14:1). “And they shall see his face; and his name shall be in their foreheads” (Rev. 22:4).

His Name will be a test of our obedience:

“Pour out your fury upon the heathen that know you not, and upon the families that call not on your name...” (Jer. 10:25; Rev. 13:17 with 14:1).

His Name is the focus of those who rebel against Yahweh:

“A son honours his father, and a servant his master: if then I be a father, where is mine honour? And I be a master, where is my fear?

Says Yahweh of hosts unto you, O priests, that despise my name. And ye say, wherein have we despised thy name?” (Malachi 1:6) “And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against Yahweh, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven” (Rev. 13:6). “And men were scorched with great heat, and blasphemed the name of Yahweh, which has power over these plagues: and they repented not to give him glory” (Rev. 16:9).

Punishment awaits those who refuse and shun His Name and His worship:

“But cursed be the deceiver, which has in his flock a male, and vows, and sacrifices unto Yahweh a corrupt thing: for I am a great King, says Yahweh of hosts, and my name is dreadful among the heathen” (Mal. 1:14). “Pour out your wrath upon the heathen that have not known you, and upon the kingdoms that have not called upon your name” (Ps. 79:6). “Pour out your fury upon that heathen that know you not, and upon the families that call not on your name...” (Jer. 10:25). “He that believes on him is not condemned: but he that believes not is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of Yahweh” (John 3:18). “And the nations were angry, and your wrath is come, and the time of the dead, that they should be judged, and that you should give reward unto your servants the prophets, and to the saints, and them that fear your name, small and great; and should destroy them which destroy the earth” (Rev. 11:18).

His Name Offers Protection, Salvation

The saving nature of Yahweh’s Name will be dramatically demonstrated when the age-ending plagues are unleashed on this world. Just as the four angels standing at the four corners of the earth are about to release their devastation, John in Revelation 7 notices another angel intervening. That angel issues a specific command to the four others: “Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our Elohim in their foreheads” (verse 3).

Just how are Yahweh's servants "sealed"? We find that answer in Revelation 14:1: "And I looked, and lo, a Lamb stood on the mount Zion, and with him an hundred forty and four thousand, having his Father's NAME written in their foreheads."

His Name is an identifying mark and offers protection against the impending calamity from a wrathful Yahweh that will devastate this earth. How can He punish those who have His Name in their minds and hearts? In the ninth chapter we witness what happens to those without the protection of His Name: "And it was commanded them [locusts] that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree; but only those men which have not the seal of Elohim in their foreheads. And to them it was given that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when he strikes a man. And in those days shall men seek death, and shall not find it; and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them" (Rev. 9:4-6).

Again, notice what exactly it is that Yahweh's people, then saved and living in the Kingdom at New Jerusalem, have sealed in their foreheads: "And there shall be no more curse: but the throne of Elohim and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him: And they shall see his face; and his Name shall be in their foreheads" (Rev. 22:3-4).

Imagine the shame of rebelling against His Name today, only to have it in one's forehead in the Kingdom! This gives us serious doubts as to whether someone who deliberately rejects His Name will even BE in the Kingdom.

The prophet Ezekiel foretold what Yahweh would do in the Kingdom.

"So will I make my holy name known in the midst of my people Israel; and I will not let them pollute my holy name any more: and the heathen shall know that I am Yahweh, the Holy One in Israel" (39:7).

Join those who call upon Yahweh's Name. The Book of Acts may yet have the final chapter, 29, written some day, and we hope you will join us in prayer that our names will be in that register book of Yahweh's people and will not be blotted out!

His Name Is the Foundation for All Truth

Now that we have seen that Yahweh's Name is basic to the truth of the Scriptures, we can also realize how it forms the foundation of True Worship, which shapes the spiritual temple.

When Yahweh says His people will know His Name, He means that through His revealed Name that He Himself is revealed. By telling His people His Name and then saving them, He manifests His innermost character and very nature. As the Concise Bible Handbook says, "To know' in the Old Testament goes beyond the mere possession of information, to the active enjoyment of fellowship with the person known," p. 54. He is our Heavenly FATHER. We worship Him in an intimacy that no other name or title can possibly express. His Name binds His people in a Covenant relationship.

For the past 2,000 years churchianity has been constructing another building, which rests upon another cornerstone cut from a quarry of Greco-Roman teachings. These beliefs are cemented with paganistic practices, humanistic philosophies, Hellenistic and Latin customs, and include a Savior bearing a Latinised Greek name. This spiritual building does not rest upon the foundation of the true Redeemer of Israel. Our Bible is HEBREW, not Greek or Roman.

Scripture clearly reveals that salvation is available only in "the Stone which the builders have rejected," Acts 4:12. That same verse also states, "There is no other Name under heaven given to men by which we must be saved," NIV. Verse one reveals that those being spoken to were the priests and Sadducees, and Hebrew was the language of the Temple.

His Name is to be carried to all people as we follow Paul's example: "But Yahshua said unto him, Go your way: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel" (Acts 9:15). Yahweh promises that His Name shall be great among the gentiles. All the world will honor and offer prayers to His Name, Malachi 1:11:

"For from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name shall be great among the heathen, says Yahweh of hosts."

The last message to be given before the return of the Savior is the proclamation of Yahweh's Name in the power and spirit of EliYAH: "Behold, I will send you EliYAH the prophet before the coming of the great and dreadful day of YAHWEH: And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse" (Mal. 4:5-6).

We are to believe in the Name, John 3:13, 1John 3:23. We are kept in His Name, John 17:11, Proverbs 18:10. We are justified in His Name, 1 Corinthians 6:11. His Name dwells among us, Deuteronomy 12:5, 2Samuel 7:13. His Name influences and controls us in behavior and worship, Leviticus 18:21; Romans 15. Full worship is to be where Yahweh chose to place His Name, Deuteronomy 12:11. And one day ALL nations shall revere and call upon His Name, Revelation 15:4.

Turn back to the truth first given to the patriarchs, and come to KNOW your Heavenly Father by calling on His personal, revealed Name Yahweh.

Adam—Father of All Men?

By

Rev. Seth Adamson

IT has often been noted that any concept based on a wrong premise can only result in error. Perhaps the most amazing example of this principle is the almost universally accepted postulate held by the many Christian religious sects, both Protestant and Catholic, that Adam was and is the father of all the people of the earth. This premise is so widely held that to question it seems to be rank heresy. To challenge it is to imply that there is another explanation. If so, what is it? Simply this, that there were people inhabiting this planet thousands, perhaps countless thousands of years before the time of Adam. Modern archaeology, anthropology and carbon dating all support this probability.

"But, by what Scriptural authority can such a statement be supported?" demands the shocked Bible student. Since the Bible contains the principle account of creation let us take another look at Genesis and see what the Record of Records has to say. Upon re-reading chapter one of Genesis you will note that this chapter is an account of the creation or probably re-creation of the physical earth, the plants, the animals, birds, insects and finally man: "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them." (Gen. 1:27.) This first chapter is the record of the creation or re-creation of many former living things including man. It is a synopsis of a tremendous work and possibly a very long period of time if "days" meant periods of time as some believe.

In the second chapter of Genesis the tone seems more retrospective and contemplative. In the first verse it reads, "Thus the heavens and the earth were finished (or re-finished) and all the hosts of them." Verses 2 and 3 make it clear that God rested on the seventh day following the six days, during which period the earth was made over and restored to its original form, and it was sanctified on that seventh day. A great period of time may have elapsed between the seventh day and the next recorded event. In verse 5 an interesting fact is recorded, "... there was not a man to till the ground." The inference is strong that the first 'created man' as recorded in the first chapter of Genesis was not a farmer. If not a farmer or tiller of the soil then to survive he must have been a hunter and of a nomadic nature. This conforms with the known archeological and anthropological evidence of ancient man.

Verse 7 of chapter 2 of Genesis is most amazing for here is the record of the advent of Adam. The record is clear, for it says, "And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul." This is not just a recapitulation of the first creation as many have assumed but is rather the beginning of a chronological record of the first Adamite, the father of the Adamic race brought into the world by the Most High God much later than the first creation as recorded in the first chapter of Genesis.

From this point on the Scriptural record deals with Adam and his descendants almost exclusively, first a description and location of his homeland called Eden, his naming of the animals, the appearance of Eve his wife, the seduction by Satan, the departure from the garden, etc. In chapter 4 it is recorded that Cain, Eve's son—fathered by Satan—see 1 John 3:12—after having murdered his brother Abel left the area and went to Nod, a country immediately east of Eden where he married a native woman of that country, a descendant of the original created peoples, and established the Canaanite line of ancestry. Chapter 5 of Genesis begins by stating, "This is the book of the generations of Adam." Beginning with verse 3 on to the end of the chapter is the genealogical record of the Seth line of descendants from Adam and Eve until the time of Noah. This record is continued in Chapter 10 and 11, from Noah to the time of Abram whose name was changed to Abraham as recorded in verse 5 chapter 17.

The succeeding chapters of the great Book of Genesis is the record of the activities of the Abraham line of descent through Isaac and Jacob and his 12 sons until the death of Joseph. As Jacob was re-named Israel, his descendants—the families of the 11 sons, plus the 2 sons of Joseph, became known as the Tribes of Israel or the Israelites. These people, at the time of Joseph, lived in Egypt. The Bible records their migration out of Egypt under the leadership of Moses into the Middle East, then later their captivity and subjugation by forces composed of some of the ancient peoples who took them to the Assyrian and Babylonian countries.

The Old Testament Scriptures do not record their history from this point which has led some to erroneously believe these tribes disappeared or were "lost"—thus leading to the "lost tribes of Israel" myth. This is not true because secular history records the movement and migrations of these people on into central, northern and western Europe, and from there to North America and Australia where they have in these latter days established their identity as the great western, Christian nations of the world such as Great Britain, Germany, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Finland, the United States, etc.

To further confuse the racial identity picture is the presence of the black peoples. Are they too a part of the first creation of man? We know that the Most High God does not violate his own laws. The basic law of genetics—"like begets like"—is specifically stated in the first chapter of Genesis verse 24, "And God said, let the earth bring forth the living creature after his kind, and creeping thing, and beast of the earth after his kind, and it was so." With this basic genetic principle in mind we can be sure the white race did not originate from either the people of the first creation, the Tatar or mongoloid race or the Adamic, Aryan, white Caucasian race.

From the Genesis account we might conclude that the blacks were included in the first creation, as one of "the living creatures after his kind." Another possibility is that they came to this planet as axe men and swordsmen aboard Lucifer's spaceships, which were forced down to earth by St. Michael at the time of the great battle for the control of the universe as recorded in Revelation 12:7-8.

Thus we see on the earth today,

1) the descendants of the first creation, the Tatars or Mongolian peoples.

- 2) the blacks and
- 3) the descendants of Adam or the white race.

Here are three distinct racial groups together with varying mixtures of each.

The mistaken premise that all people are descendants of Adam has contributed to the false and satanic cult of equalitarianism which holds that all men are equal and that the only difference between the races are the superficial ones of skin colour and culture. The unbiased and observant white person who has lived among the other races knows that skin pigmentation is not superficial but rather is a natural system of colour coding indicative of the great difference between the races. This observation only confirms the many Scriptural declarations made by the Most High God to his people Israel—descendants of Adam—of which the following is typical, "For thou art a Holy People unto the Lord thy God; the Lord thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto Himself above all people that are upon the face of the earth." (Deut. 7:6.)

This and many similar Scriptural statements, by the Most High God to his people Israel, make it abundantly clear that there are not only different kinds of people on the earth but that the white people of the modern Christian nations are indeed the direct descendants of Adam through Jacob—Israel.

Did God Build A “Nation” Or A “Race”?

By:

Edward Charles Anderson

THE “TITLE” of my thesis is directed to those that may not be familiar with the Christian Identity Message or to those that “know” about it but have a different Scriptural viewpoint of this matter because they only use a select few verses of Scripture that they twist out of context to “prove” their ideas. For those in between, I hope this to be an informative “review.”

I find my article necessary because “someone” (and a few others) who claims to have been in “on the ground floor” of the Christian Identity Movement, states God was building a “NATION” when he called Israel and NOT a “RACE” and refers to TWO main verses of Scripture to prove his/their doctrine, as well as a few other “minor” verses that are twisted out of context. The problem and confusion here lies in the fact that “NATION” is referred to MANY times in Scripture in regards to Israel, so I can understand where that viewpoint comes from, but then again, when you look at the BEGINNING of that “NATION” and the pertinent verses that accompany this subject, it is CLEARLY about “RACE”!!! Yes, God clearly built a “NATION” of Israel, but He did it with a specific “RACE” of People, and THAT should have been clear to the people who claim to have studied this situation.

I will not state that those that profess a different viewpoint are not “saved” but my concern is that when one speaks/writes anything about/for God, what they write/ state/ speak HAS TO BE 100% CORRECT!!! I fear to be the one that takes God’s Word with a flippant sloppy attitude!!! I will start with the “MAIN” verses of Scripture and their arguments so you can fully understand the situation and judge the fact of the matter for yourself.

Gen 14:14 “And when Abram heard that his brother was taken captive, he armed his trained servants, born in his own house, three hundred and eighteen, and pursued them unto Dan.”

This is one of the MAIN verses used to prove that these “servants” were pagan/heathen people and NOT of Abram’s own blood and that they were eventually “mixed” into Abram’s family to form this “NATION.” There are several other minor verses used to “prove” these are “pagan/heathen” people and I will list these verses and then proceed to explain the errors that have been used. But what I find most interesting with this verse is that the word “servant” in the KJV is IN ITALICS, which means that this word has been ADDED!!! It “may be assumed” who Abram “trained” were “servants,” but I will state that this is NOT the case!!! You will find out later how I come to my conclusions.

Gen 15:1 “After these things the word of the LORD came unto Abram in a vision, saying, Fear not, Abram: I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward.”

Gen 15:2 “And Abram said, Lord GOD, what wilt thou give me, seeing I go childless, and the steward of my house is this Eliezer of Damascus?”

Gen 15:3 “And Abram said, Behold, to me thou hast given no seed: and, lo, one born in my house is mine heir.”

Gen 15:4 “And, behold, the word of the LORD came unto him, saying, This shall not be thine heir; but he that shall come forth out of thine own bowels shall be thine heir.”

Some of the main “errors” that the people that use these verses to “prove” that God was building a “NATION” and not a “RACE” are because (1) we are not TOLD that these “servants” are of pagan/heathen people, IT IS ASSUMED (2) Abram states: “I go childless...You have given no seed...one born in my house is my heir.” (3) We “believe” that Abram only had the two sons, Ishmael and Isaac. When one uses the Scriptures as sloppy and careless as these people do, it is no wonder they have a different view of the Scriptures. I don’t have a any “Degrees or PhD” in Scripture but if sloppy and careless reading/studying/believing of the Scriptures is the result of having one, it’s a good thing I didn’t waste my money!!!

I’ll examine these verses before I add any others for clarity. The “after these things” of Gen.15:1 is the battle and defeat of the kings that had taken

Lot and the people of Sodom & Gomorrah captive. God then gave Abram a vision afterwards and we are told that Abram is “childless” and a “servant born in his house is the heir.” It is ASSUMED that these 318 men stated in Gen. 14:14 are “servants” but I have pointed out that that word is in “italics” and that means it has been ADDED “for clarity”!!! But the problem here is, how does one know “servants” is the proper idea because it is the word “trained” that the emphasis is on in the Hebrew, and the word “servant” is not in the Hebrew!!! One way around this dilemma for them is to state that these “pagan/heathen” people can be “ADOPTED” by Abram in order that they could inherit all of his property “LEGALLY,” again, a major ASSUMPTION, and not stated in Scripture. I believe there is ANOTHER, better explanation of this situation that explains WHO these “servants” are, and I will get to that after the next batch of Scripture. I have to lay a little more “groundwork” to make this all come together since most will not have looked at this situation from the angle that I’m going to show you. It will clear up the NATION /RACE issue of the Identity Movement.

Gen 16:1 “Now Sarai Abram's wife bare him no children: and she had an handmaid, an Egyptian, whose name was Hagar.”

Gen 16:2 “And Sarai said unto Abram, Behold now, the LORD hath restrained me from bearing: I pray thee, go in unto my maid; it may be that I may obtain children by her. And Abram hearkened to the voice of Sarai.”

Gen 16:3 “And Sarai Abram's wife took Hagar her maid the Egyptian, after Abram had dwelt ten years in the land of Canaan, and gave her to her husband Abram to be his wife.”

Gen 16:4 “And he went in unto Hagar, and she conceived: and when she saw that she had conceived, her mistress was despised in her eyes.”

We are informed by Scripture that Abram was in Canaan ten years before he took Hagar as a wife. It is ASSUMED, as usual, that Abram had ONLY these two wives and that was it, and all of the other people in his household were servants/slaves that he either bought or what came with him when he left Haran. The problem here is that there is too much ASSUMPTION when it comes to these verses!!! Abram was living in Haran in the Land of the Chaldeans which were ruled by the Code of Hammurabi. Concubines were the norm under this Law and during that time Abram was definitely a man of the times, for we are clearly TOLD of his “concubines and offspring” in:

Gen 25:1 “Then again Abraham took a wife, and her name was Keturah.”

Gen 25:3 “And Jokshan begat Sheba, and Dedan. And the sons of Dedan were Asshurim, and Letushim, and Leummim.”

Gen 25:4 “And the sons of Midian; Ephah, and Ephah, and Hanoch, and Abida, and Eldaah. All these were the children of Keturah.”

Gen 25:5 “And Abraham gave all that he had unto Isaac.”

Gen 25:6 “But unto the sons of the concubines, which Abraham had, Abraham gave gifts, and sent them away from Isaac his son, while he yet lived, eastward, unto the east country.”

We are CLEARLY told in Gen. 25:6 that Abraham had CONCUBINES and CHILDREN by them!!! We are not told WHEN he had all of these concubines and their children but I would surmise that a lot, if not most of those 318 men “born in his household” came from all of these concubines. We are also not told HOW MANY concubines he had, but if he had six children with what little time he spent with Keturah, it is not inconceivable to believe that most or all of those 318 men “born in his house” came from them, especially since he lived 175 years and that would enable him to have that many children and then some.

2 Ch 11:21 “And Rehoboam loved Maachah the daughter of Absalom above all his wives and his concubines: (for he took eighteen wives, and threescore concubines; and begat twenty and eight sons, and threescore daughters.)”

2 Ch 12:13 “So king Rehoboam strengthened himself in Jerusalem, and reigned: for Rehoboam was one and forty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city which the LORD had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, to put his name there. And his mother's name was Naamah an Ammonitess”

As can be seen from the verses above, Rehoboam had eighteen wives and SIXTY concubines, from which he had produced EIGHTY-EIGHT children and believed to be only FIFTY-SEVEN YEARS OLD!!! Think of how many children he could have had, had he lived to be 175 and if a number of those wives and concubines had twins or triplets!!! It wouldn't take too many years for Abraham to have had 318 children by all of the wives and concubines that he had. Again, we are told that he HAD concubines and CHILDREN by them, we are not told HOW MANY, but I can pretty much prove that most of the kings and great chiefs of Israel had an appetite for women. Solomon is the prize winner but Rehoboam was no slouch when it came to collecting women and children.

As mentioned earlier, “servants” in Gen. 14:14 are in the italics and is not part of the Hebrew text; it has been ADDED for clarity, and Abram did not call the “one born in my house” a “servant,” it is ASSUMED. I feel this “clarity” of the use of “servant” in Gen. 14:14 has been a big mistake but with what all I have shown you thus far, you can draw your own conclusions. I have no choice but to believe that the 318 men that were born in his house were the result of all of the concubines that this “great chief” of Israel had. And there is no need to “legally adopt” anyone to inherit Abraham's possessions. Sarah and Hagar were Abraham's WIVES, and all others that he took were his concubines, and then, after Sarah died, Abraham took Keturah as a wife. But the MAIN POINT we can take from these verses is that all of these concubines and children of Abraham were sent to the east, away from Isaac!!! There was no marriage with these sons/servants with Isaac or his children!!!

Now the question could be asked if it was only the concubines and their children from Abraham that were sent away or if all of the servants were sent also. I believe we can get a fair answer to that question if we do a little math. We know in Gen 14:14 that Abram had 318 “servants” that were born in his house. He then had Ishmael, Isaac, and then the six sons of Keturah and then we have to add Keturah.

The Expulsion of Hagar and Ishmael

Let us say that this is ALL of the people he had when he died for a total of 327 people. Abraham dies, and we have to assume that all of these “servants” are passed on to Isaac. We add Rebecca, his wife and their two sons Jacob and Esau. We will not count any “servants” born in Isaac’s house during his lifetime, but as you can see, there should have been HUNDREDS of more people added to Isaac’s “house” if all of these “servants” and their offspring are included in this “nation building”!!! And when Isaac dies, Jacob should have inherited all of these servants and their offspring. Yes, I am well aware that many of Abrahams’ original servants would be dead by now, for any of you bean counters out there that would try to nitpick my thesis to justify your theological positions, but if each 318 man took a wife, that would have increased Abram’s household to 636 servants.

Now, let’s give them an average of FOUR children per couple, a very very LOW estimate for that age, you would have 2544 servants just in Abraham’s household, and every year, this total would have increased dramatically into the THOUSANDS of people when we get to the time of Jacob!!! But yet, when we are told when Jacob went down to Egypt, there were ONLY seventy souls that were counted, which included

Joseph that came from Jacob’s body-his direct descendants!!!

Where did ALL of these “servants” disappear from Abraham’s and Isaac’s household Jacob SHOULD have inherited if God was trying to build a NATION and they were all intermarrying!?!? because it is these missing people that are used to justify a belief in nationhood!!!

Exo 1:5 “And all the souls that came out of the loins of Jacob were seventy souls: for Joseph was in Egypt already.”

As we are clearly told in the above verse, only the people born to Jacob were counted!!! Where do these folks get the idea that God was building a “NATION” and not a “RACE” especially when you see that God CHANGED Abram and Sarai’s names to reflect a RACE, not a NATION!!!!???

Gen 17:5 “Neither shall thy name any more be called Abram, but thy name shall be Abraham; for a father of many nations have I made thee.”

Gen 17:6 “And I will make thee exceeding fruitful, and I will make nations of thee, and kings shall come out of thee.”

Gen 17:7 “And I will establish my covenant between me and thee and thy seed after thee in their generations for an everlasting covenant, to be a God unto thee, and to thy seed after thee.”

Gen 17:15 “And God said unto Abraham, As for Sarai thy wife, thou shalt not call her name Sarai, but Sarah shall her name be.”

Gen 17:16 “And I will bless her, and give thee a son also of her: yea, I will bless her, and she shall be a mother of nations; kings of people shall be of her”.

Gen 17:19 “And God said, Sarah thy wife shall bear thee a son indeed; and thou shalt call his name Isaac: and I will establish my covenant with him for an everlasting covenant, and with his seed after him. “

Gen 17:21 “But my covenant will I establish with Isaac, which Sarah shall bear unto thee at this set time in the next year.”

I left out a few verses in this narrative because there was no need to repeat needlessly. One should get a Bible and read ALL of the Scriptures to flesh out the story but I highlighted the most important verses. As can be seen, Abram's name was changed to "Abraham" which means "father of a multitude" and Sarai's name was changed to "Sarah" which means "Princess"!!! In short, with Sarah's name change, we are told in Gen. 17:16 that "KINGS of people shall be of her"!!! KINGS of People is ROYALTY folks, and you can ONLY pass "royalty" down through BLOODLINE, not by "adoption" and these "NATIONS" were to come DIRECTLY FROM ABRAHAM'S OWN BODY!!! PLEASE re-read Gen. 17:6 if you are still confused about this matter because that verse CLEARLY states TWO things: (1) I will make thee FRUITFUL, i.e. CHILDREN are to come directly from him, not by adopting pagans, (2) KINGS shall "come out of thee" EXACTLY as was stated for Sarah, and kings can only get their Right to rule BY BLOODLINE, NOT BY ADOPTION!!! It is apparent to me that those that espouse the "NATION" building have confused Roman ruling practices with the Hebrew practice. Roman rulers could and did "adopt" people to succeed them in rule, but in Hebrew practice, the Right to the Throne was through direct BLOODLINE!!!

Harold Stough Notes Nine Ladies (Stanton Moor II) Bronze Age Stone Circle

Although this embanked stone circle is known as the Nine Ladies, there are in fact 10 stones here, a buried slab was discovered in 1979 and can be seen to the east of the circle, it is possible that there were originally even more. In keeping with many Derbyshire circles none of the stones are particularly tall and this ring has a diameter of about 10 metres - there is a faint trace of the outer bank and what may have been a small cairn or earth mound near the centre. It is thought that there were entrances to the northeast and southwest. Thirty five metres to the south west of the circle is the 'King Stone' a single graffiti covered stone that was once thought to be an outlier but which is now known to have formed part of a now destroyed ring cairn. The stone was once taller but was damaged in recent years after being hit by a vehicle.

The first thing you'll notice when visiting the Nine Ladies is the pristine state of the turf, the result of recent renovations at the site which was rapidly turning into a quagmire due to the pressure of visitor numbers. The neatness and tidiness of the grass give the circle a bit of an artificial modern air but once the wild grasses and flowers have started seeding themselves in the new grass the place will look a lot more natural but it's already a huge improvement. The site could once have had good views to the north (Wye valley) and the east (Derwent valley), these views are now obscured by a small copse of trees.

High-tech Scans of Egyptian Mummies Reveal Tattoo of Archangel Michael

April Holloway

A TEAM OF SCIENTISTS in London have carried out high-tech scanning on eight Egyptian mummies from the British Museum, uncovering fascinating information about them, including the revelation that one of the female mummies has a tattoo symbolising Archangel Michael on her inner thigh.

The eight mummies lived during different eras and came from different walks of life, from royalty to citizens living along the Nile. One of the mummies was only around two years of age when he died, while others lived to see their 50th birthday. The oldest mummy tested is more than 5,500 years old, while the most recent lived around 1,300 years ago.

The mummies underwent computerised tomography scans (CAT scans) and infra-red reflectography at London hospital, which revealed what lay underneath their wrappings for the first time. The scans enabled the scientists to build up a 3D image of the ancient remains, revealing bones, tissue, and vital organs.

The results revealed that the Egyptians suffered from some of the same health issues that plague us today, including high cholesterol, fatty diets, heart problems, and dental issues. But most fascinating of all was the discovery of a tattoo on a female mummy, aged between 20 and 35, which Dr David Antoine, curator of physical anthropology at the British Museum, described as “truly a unique and remarkable find”.

The 1,300-year-old female mummy was different from the others in that her remains were found in Sudan and she had been naturally-preserved by the hot and arid environment. Her tattoo represents the symbol of the Archangel Michael, who features in both the Old and New Testaments, and who was the Patron Saint of Medieval Sudan.

“The tattoo on her right inner thigh represents a monogram that spells Michael in ancient Greek,” said Dr Antoine. “We have found other examples of the monogram, but never in the form of a tattoo.”

A depiction of Archangel Michael

Michael is an archangel in Hebrew and Christian teachings. In the New Testament Michael leads God's armies against Satan's forces in the Book of Revelation, where during the war in heaven he defeats Satan. Christian sanctuaries to Michael appeared in the 4th century, when he was first seen as a healing angel, and then over time as a protector and the leader of the army of God against the forces of evil. By the 6th century, devotions to Archangel Michael were widespread both in the Eastern and Western Churches.

The mummies and the detailed results of the scans will be available for the first time in a new exhibition opening on 22nd May at the British Museum titled "Ancient Lives: New Discoveries".

The Lusitania And The Secrets Of War (Quoted From The Guardian - May 2014) By Saul David

The sinking of the Lusitania as depicted in a propaganda poster to encourage new recruits. Photograph: Galerie Bilderwelt/Getty Images

ONE OF THE GREAT MYSTERIES of the first world war – whether or not the passenger ship Lusitania was carrying munitions and therefore a legitimate target when it was sunk by a German submarine in May 1915 – has been solved in the affirmative by newly released government papers. They contain Foreign Office concerns that a 1982 salvage operation might "literally blow up on us" and that "there is a large amount of ammunition in the wreck, some of which is highly dangerous".

Yet the truth was kept hidden in 1915 because the British government wanted to use the sinking of a non-military ship, and the loss of 1,198 lives, as an example of German ruthlessness. It was also a useful means of swaying American opinion in favour of entering the war. It eventually had the desired effect – the US declared war on Germany in April 1917 – but the lie continued as successive governments, worried about their ongoing relations with America, denied there were munitions on board. These wartime lies are inevitable. The perpetrators – politicians, civil servants and soldiers – would argue that the end justifies the means, and that information that assists the enemy must remain secret. After the conflict, however, it's all about protecting reputations.

Take the case of the Sèvres protocol, the secret deal between the governments of Israel, France and the UK to topple President Nasser of Egypt by launching a two-step invasion in 1956 (otherwise known as "the Suez crisis"). Although reports of the deal leaked out within days, Sir Anthony Eden, the British prime minister, always denied its existence and even sent a civil servant to France to collect all copies and leave no trace. Yet the proof of Eden's engineered war remained buried until 1996 when a BBC documentary on the 40th anniversary of the Suez crisis obtained a copy from a former head of the Mossad (Israel's foreign intelligence service).

My own research into the case of the Salerno mutineers – 191 veterans of the Eighth Army who were convicted of mutiny for refusing to join unfamiliar units at the Salerno beachhead in 1943 – turned up documents that proved they had been lied to and were probably victims of a miscarriage of justice.

Of course many, if not most, "smoking guns" have yet to be discovered. The two Australian officers – lieutenants "Breaker" Morant and Handcock – executed by the British for shooting unarmed Boer prisoners during the South African war of 1899-1902 always claimed they were following verbal orders approved by their commander-in-chief, Sir Herbert Kitchener. Those orders, they said, were to execute any Boers captured in British khaki. But when a member of Kitchener's staff denied this at their trial, their fate was sealed. Did he lie because peace talks with the Boers were under way? It is possible, but documentary evidence will be hard to find (as Australian campaigners know to their cost).

Which makes the news that diaries and documents belonging to Italian dictator Benito Mussolini might be hidden near the Swiss border another tantalising prospect. The documents are said to include important state papers that Mussolini hoped to use in negotiating his surrender with the Allies, and should reveal many of wartime Italy's secrets. But we have been here before – with the fake Hitler diaries – and will have to be cautious if they are ever found.

Does all this matter? Do we need to know the truth? The answer is yes. We can forgive the lies at the time – many are often told without malice and, at least in theory, in the national interest – but they must at some point be publicly acknowledged. We need to know why governments (and individuals) take the decisions they do. That, to me, is the point of history..

The Word Antichrist

John Trotter – Winmalee, Australia

THE words Antichrist or antichrists appear 5 times in the Scriptures. In Strong's Concordance the number is 500. These 2 words appear in the following 4 verses: 1 John 2:18, 2:22, 4:3 and 2 John 1:7.

In 1 John 2:18 it is believed by John that it is the last time or days. I am sure that the followers of Christ at the time would have found it very difficult to accept that Christ was not going to return for another 2000 years. Opposition to the Faith certainly made the followers of Christ to believe that Christ's return was very soon.

John says that many had heard that "antichrist" shall come. In many versions this word is in capitals. Even Ferrar Fenton provides the capital A for this word. Whilst I am not totally convinced, I can still see how many believe that there is to arise "the Antichrist" sometime in the future. John goes onto to say that many antichrists are already present during his time. In 1 John 2: 22 John provides the basic teaching of the antichrists. He says, "Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son". In 2 John 1:7 John adds to this understanding where he says, "For many deceivers are entered into the world, who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiver and an antichrist". Deceiver means imposter. (See Strong's 4108) In 1 John 4:3 there is a reference to the spirit of antichrist in the King James Version. Ferrar Fenton says "and every teacher who does not acknowledge Jesus is not from God. This then, is the test of the antagonist of Christ whose coming you have heard of, and now he is already in the world". This spirit of the antichrist has expressed itself in many forms throughout history. The New Age teaching of today which has its origins in the discussion between Satan and Eve, expresses many aspects of the spirit of antichrist.

In 1 John 2:19 we read the following: "They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us, but they went out, that they might be made manifest that they were not all of us". The reference to "they" I believe refers to those who were in constant conflict with Christ whilst He was on earth. They were of their father the Devil (John 8:44). They certainly denied who He said He was.

To conclude this article I will refer to the meaning of the prefix "anti". In the verses used by John this prefix does not mean "against". The word antichrist means an opponent to the Messiah. The prefix "anti" means "opposite", that is instead of or because of. A synonym for the prefix is substitution. See Strong's number 473. The phrase that best explains this prefix is "vying for the position of ". 2 Thessalonians 2:3-9 expresses more fully the meaning of the prefix "anti".

When Karl Marx referred to "removing God from His throne and authority" his intention was to put in its place human reason and the view that man himself would replace the need of having a God in heaven. As a Jew himself he fully understood the implications. It is also within the meaning of "anti" that we can understand why the Reformation leaders took the stand that they did against the Papacy.

It is the "spirit" of antichrist that has permeated everything in society, whether in the past or in the future. World leaders whether spiritual or political are most vulnerable to the persuasion of this evil spirit. We in the meantime must continually ask for wisdom and knowledge to help us understand the subtle difference between the spirit of Satan and the Spirit of the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. May our prayers be discerning in this matter. (Malachi 3:18, Hebrews 5:14).

Tony Blair as 'Miranda' He Who Pays The Piper

By T Stokes

PEOPLE ASK, 'why do politicians get into power and then ignore the wishes of the electorate' ? its quite simple the financial backers choose carefully people with character flaws that can be bribed or blackmailed. Look at Winston Churchill in the thirties, both the Times mag and Homes and Gardens magazine voted Hitler man of the year, Manpower mag said if Hitler can achieve such prosperity and with full employment surely we can do it in Britain?

Many in government admired him and Oswald Mosely was such a talented negotiator and politician that he was asked to lead both major political parties but knew they were too infiltrated and corrupted so started his own National Socialists party as an alternative.

Neville Chamberlain had a team which secretly spent 4 years studying the German model and planned to implement part of it in Britain, suddenly Churchill decided the Russians are not the threat but Germany, and agitates for war; Hitler was shocked at this because under the Chamberlain agreements the Anglo Saxon family were to join against Russia.

Churchill had huge gambling, drinking and whoring bills, and Jock Colville claimed he usually insisted on ginger haired prostitutes, so they bought him a ginger tomcat as a private joke.

Churchill's sandhurst file, the original and proper one lists him as, 'a confirmed sodomite and a menace to the younger boys' ( Courtesy of guy burgess diaries ) this waywardness allowed Churchill to be used by the bankers, under the carrot and the stick, you do as we say and you get paid x amount, you don't do as we say and we ruin you. In W W I Churchill took bankers cash in the name of Colonel Arden, and W W II his secretary said several names were used, Mr. A Conner's was alleged to be just one.

How Britain came to be in the EU under such disastrous terms was because Edward Heath was allegedly a coprophiliac, he would regularly take boys from certain care homes away on his boat for weekends. His sheets had to be perfectly white, clean ironed and perfumed, Heaths obsession with this made the boats name 'morning cloud' the subject of many in house jokes, nevertheless he was seriously warned 4 times by the police for hanging around public toilets, special branch had to appoint a man especially to protect him, it was Liberal party Leader Jeremy Thorpes threat to bring down Edward Heath and a big bunch of other politicians, which got him off the Norman Scott attempted murder court case. The name 'Mr. Eddy' was well known on Hampstead Heath and the boys home nearby in the seventies.

Peter Mandelson and Cherie Blair hated each other, Mandelson as top Rothschild apparatchik for Britain was rumoured to boss and bully Blair, but after a row with the French the newspapers were tipped off anonymously that Frederic Mitterrand was paying young boys for sex, but a small security firm phone tapping for a newspaper, claimed the tip came from Mandelsons people.

Labour politician Tom Driberg was said to spend as much time in public lavatories as the houses of parliament and he gave in 1972 a long list of top people involved in 'blackmailable' sexual pursuits to M I 5. This same list in the same order would later turn up in the KGB London office, top of this list was Sir Anthony Blunt, who was believed to be a procurer of men and young lads, when a person dies their bowels tighten then release, and Blunt was said to have strangled young boys while being sodomized in 'snuff' killings, this is supposed to heighten the sexual climax. He would obtain boys from care homes for David Temple, who was also known as 'Soxon Rothschild, because he always kept his socks on while naked.

Blunt knew actor Peter Arne who allegedly would take food to tramps sleeping in the local park in exchange for sex and Arne had contacts at the top of the political tree, and was picked out by several boys in mug shot pics as hanging about outside boys schools.

In 1983 at Bow St Magistrates Court a certain Charles Lynton was fined £50 for attempted soliciting in city toilets, the police notes were to disappear later along with several prior verbal warnings, Charles Lynton was at university well known as 'Miranda' a promiscuous cross dresser who played a guitar badly. Charles Lynton is Tony Blair's middle names, and it was lord levy who funded and greased Tony Blair through the hoop into the prime minister's office for one reason, the Iraq war.

The NSA whistleblower David Murphy-Fawkes has said they listened in to all Tony Blairs calls, as the US senate saw him as a lightweight 'Pinocchio' figure.

In march 2003 Peter Mandelson officially endorsed Leo Gillan as his political candidate, who then lost out to a man in a monkey suit, 'hangus' the monkey was offering a free banana to schoolchildren, 'hangus' was an in joke on the campaign to hang war criminals such as Saddam Hussein and Tony Blair.

Mandelson while business minister showed his true metal while holidaying on Deripaskas yacht, now Deripaska is banned under organized crime regs in the USA, but according to the Daily Mail 23rd May 2010, Nat Rothschild, Deripaska and Mandelson shook hands on a £500 million aluminium deal that cost many Britons their jobs, much of this is said to be in chemtrail drops. These 3 were joked about in the MI5 canteen as 'the axis of evil' and 'the 3 jewboys' and when Mandelson was admitted into a French hospital recently with prostate problems, the French doctors report told of felching injuries, felching is the gay sport where a cardboard tube is pushed into the rectum and a small furry animal slid down inside, our Peter apparently was scratched internally rather badly.

Peter Mandelson is controlling director of the NSPCC, and when Margaret Hodge ( Oppenheimer) was children's minister she lived next door to Tony Blair, they also knew childline funders Sarah Caplin and Esther Rantzen, who are connected to TV mogul Michael Grade.

The Metropolitan police tell us that a score of scandals have hit children's homes across the country, and strangely all has gone very silent, except for the Holly Greg case, now this is the only one that involves a girl all the rest being boys, one reporter for a newspaper asked Westminster police why has all this not got out, and pointed at chief children's minister Mrs. Hodge, and asked if this was a conspiracy of silence and if so why?

Interestingly a score of names of frequent visitors to these care homes including pop musicians DJs and top politicians. Was a gag order imposed by Tony Blair, including mention that Gordon Brown was close to several rent boys and Sarah Macauley was paid £50,000 to marry him and stay the course, this out of publisher Robert Maxwell's 'black widow fund' which went usually to Zionist activists. Maxwell's daughter Ghislaine is said to be fund administrator and close to Prince Andrew, and all this is why no politician does what it says on the tin, because they have to dance to the paymasters tune 'He who pays the piper, calls the tune.'

Behind the Balfour Declaration Britain's Great War Pledge To Lord Rothschild By Robert John

Acknowledgements

To Benjamin H. Freedman, who committed himself to finding and telling the facts about Zionism and Communism. and encouraged others to do the same. The son of one of the founders of the American Jewish Committee, which for many years was anti-Zionist, Ben Freedman founded the League for Peace with Justice in Palestine in 1946. He gave me copies of materials on the Balfour Declaration which I might never have found on my own and encouraged my own research. (He died in April 1984.)

The Institute for Historical Review is providing means for the better understanding of the events of our time.

Attempts to review historical records impartially often reveal that blame, culpability, or dishonour are not to be attached wholly to one side in the conflicts of the last hundred years. To seek to untangle fact from propaganda is a worthy study, for it increases understanding of how we got where we are and it should help people resist exploitation by powerful and destructive interests in the present and future, by exposing their working in the past.

THE BALFOUR DECLARATION may be the most extraordinary document produced by any Government in world history. It took the form of a letter from the Government of His Britannic Majesty King George the Fifth, the Government of the largest empire the world has even known, on which -- once upon a time -- the sun never set; a letter to an international financier of the banking house of Rothschild who had been made a peer of the realm.

Arthur Koestler wrote that in the letter "one nation solemnly promised to a second nation the country of a third." More than that, the country was still part of the Empire of a fourth, namely Turkey. It read:

Foreign Office, November 2nd, 1917
Dear Lord Rothschild,

approved by the Cabinet:

"His Majesty's Government view with favour the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish people, and will use their best endeavours to facilitate the achievement of this object, it being clearly understood that nothing shall be done which may prejudice the civil and religious rights of existing non-Jewish communities in Palestine or the rights and political status enjoyed by Jews in any other country."

I should be grateful if you would bring this Declaration to the knowledge of the Zionist Federation. Yours sincerely, Arthur James Balfour.[\[1\]](#)

It was decided by Lord Allenby that the "Declaration" should not then be published in Palestine where his forces were still south of the Gaza-Beersheba line. This was not done until after the establishment of the Civil Administration in 1920.

Then why was the "Declaration" made a year before the end of what was called The Great War? "The people" were told at the time that it was given as a return for a debt of gratitude which they were supposed to owe to the Zionist leader (and first President of Israel), Chaim Weizman, a Russian-born immigrant to Britain from Germany who was said to have invented a process of fermentation of horse chestnuts into scarce acetone for production of high explosives by the Ministry of Munitions.

This horse chestnut propaganda production was not dislodged from the mass mind by the short bursts of another story which was used officially between the World Wars.

So let us dig into the records and bury the chestnuts forever.

To know where to explore we must stand back from the event and look over some parts of the relevant historical background. The terrain is extensive and the mud deep, so I shall try to proceed by pointing out markers.

Herzl on the Jewish Problem

Support for a "national home" for the Jews in Palestine from the government of the greatest empire in the world was in part a fulfilment of the efforts and scheming of Theodore Herzl (1860-1904), descendant of Sephardim (on his rich father's side) who had published Der Judenstaat (The Jewish State) in Vienna in 1896. It outlined the factors which he believed had created a universal Jewish problem, and offered a program to regulate it through the exodus of unhappy and unwanted Jews to an autonomous territory of their own in a national-socialist setting.

Herzl offered a focus for a Zionist movement founded in Odessa in 1881, which spread rapidly through the Jewish communities of Russia, and small branches which had sprung up in Germany, England and elsewhere. Though "Zion" referred to a geographical location, it functioned as a utopian conception in the myths of traditionalists, modernists and Zionists alike. It was the reverse of everything rejected in the actual Jewish situation in the "Dispersion," whether oppression or assimilation.

In his diary Herzl describes submitting his draft proposals to the Rothschild Family Council, noting: "I bring to the Rothschilds and the big Jews their historical mission. I shall welcome all men of goodwill -- we must be united -- and crush all those of bad." [\[2\]](#)

He read his manuscript "Addressed to the Rothschilds" to a friend, Meyer-Cohn, who said:

Up till now I have believed that we are not a nation -- but more than a nation. I believed that we have the historic mission of being the exponents of universalism among the nations and therefore were more than a people identified with a specific land.

Herzl replied:

Nothing prevents us from being and remaining the exponents of a united humanity, when we have a country of our own. To fulfill this mission we do not have to remain literally planted among the nations who hate and despise us. If, in our present circumstances, we wanted to bring about the unity of mankind independent of national boundaries, we would have to combat the ideal of patriotism. The latter, however, will prove stronger than we for innumerable years to come." [\[2a\]](#)

In this era, there were a number of Christians and Messianic groups who looked for a Jewish "return." One of these was the Protestant chaplain at the British Embassy in Vienna, who had published a book in 1882: The Restoration of the Jews to Palestine According to the Prophets. Through him, Herzl obtained an audience of the Grand Duke of Baden, and as they waited for their appointment to go to the castle, Herzl said to Chaplain Hechler, "When I go to Jerusalem I shall take you with me."

The Duke gave Herzl's proposal his consideration, and agreed to Herzl's request that he might refer to it in his meetings outside of Baden. He then used this to open his way to higher levels of power.

Through intermediaries, he endeavoured to ingratiate himself with the Sultan of Turkey by activities designed to reduce the agitation by émigré Armenian committees in London and Brussels for Turkish reforms and cessation of oppression [\[A\]](#) and started a press campaign to calm public opinion in London on the Armenian question. But when offered money for Palestine, the Sultan replied that his people had won their Empire with blood, and owned it. "The Jews may spend their millions. When my Empire is divided, perhaps they will get Palestine for nothing. But only our corpse can be divided. I will never consent to vivisection." [\[2b\]](#) and Nazareth from the Jewish state. He started a Zionist newspaper, Die Welt, and was delighted to hear from the United States that a group of rabbis headed by Dr. Gustave Gottheil favored a Zionist movement. All this, and more, in a few months.

It was Herzl who created the first Zionist Congress at Basel, Switzerland, 29-31 August 1897, [\[B\]](#) There were 197 "delegates"; some were orthodox, some nationalist, liberal, atheist, culturalist, anarchist, socialist and some capitalist. "We want to lay the foundation stone of the house which is to shelter the Jewish nation," and "Zionism seeks to obtain for the Jewish people a publicly recognized, legally secured homeland in Palestine." declared Herzl. And his anti-assimilationist dictum that "Zionism is a return to the Jewish fold even before it is a return to the Jewish land," was an expression of his own experience which was extended into the official platform of Zionism as the aim of "strengthening the Jewish national sentiment and national consciousness." [\[3\]](#)

Another leading figure who addressed the Congress was Max Nordau, a Hungarian Jewish physician and author, who delivered a polemic against assimilated Jews. "For the first time the Jewish problem was presented forcefully before a European forum," wrote Weizmann. But the Russian Jews thought Herzl was patronizing them as Askenazim. They found his "western dignity did not sit well with our Russian-Jewish realism; and without wanting to, we could not help irritating him." [\[4\]](#)

As a result of the Congress, the "Basic Protocol," keystone of the world Zionist movement, was adopted as follows:

Zionism strives to create for the Jewish people a home in Palestine secured by public law. The Congress contemplates the following means to the attainment of this end:

1. The promotion on suitable lines of the colonization of Palestine by Jewish agricultural and industrial workers.
2. The organization and binding together of the whole of Jewry by means of appropriate institutions, local and international, in accordance with the laws of each country.

3. The strengthening and fostering of Jewish national sentiment and consciousness.

4. Preparatory steps towards obtaining Government consent where necessary to the attainment of the aim of Zionism.[\[5\]](#)

The British Chovevei-Zion Association declined an invitation to be represented at the Congress, and the Executive Committee of the Association of Rabbis in Germany protested that:

1. The efforts of so-called Zionists to found a Jewish national state in Palestine contradict the messianic promise of Judaism as contained in the Holy Writ and in later religious sources.

2. Judaism obligates its adherents to serve with all devotion the Fatherland to which they belong, and to further its national interests with all their heart and with all their strength.

3. However, those noble aims directed toward the colonization of Palestine by Jewish peasants and farmers are not in contradiction to these obligations, because they have no relation whatsoever to the founding of a national state.[\[6\]](#)

In conversation with a delegate at the First Congress, Litman Rosenthal, Herzl said:

It may be that Turkey will refuse or be unable to understand us. This will not discourage us. We will seek other means to accomplish our end. The Orient question is now the question of the day. Sooner or later it will bring about a conflict among the nations. A European war is imminent.

The great European War must come. With my watch in hand do I await this terrible moment. After the great European war is ended the Peace Conference will assemble. We must be ready for that time. We will assuredly be called to this great conference of the nations and we must prove to them the urgent importance of a Zionist solution to the Jewish Question. We must prove to them that the problem of the Orient and Palestine is one with the problem of the Jews -- both must be solved together. We must prove to them that the Jewish problem is a world problem and that a world problem must be solved by the world. And the solution must be the return of Palestine to the Jewish people.[\[American Jewish News, 7 March 1919\]](#)

A few months later, in a message to a Jewish conference in London, Herzl wrote "the first moment I entered the Movement my eyes were directed towards England because I saw that by reason of the general situation of things there it was the Archimedean point where the lever could be applied." Herzl showed his desire for some foothold in England, and also perhaps his respect for London as the world's financial center, by causing the Jewish Colonial Trust, which was to be the main financial instrument of his Movement, to be incorporated in 1899 as an English company.

Herzl was indefatigable. He offered the Sultan of Turkey help in re-organizing his financial affairs in return for assistance in Jewish settlement in Palestine.[\[7\]](#) To the Kaiser, who visited

Palestine in 1888 and again in 1898, [\[C\]](#) he promised support for furthering German interests in the Near East; a similar offer was made to King Edward VII of England (left); and he personally promised the Pope to respect the holy places of Christendom in return for Vatican support.[\[D\]](#) But only from the Czar did he receive, through the Minister of the Interior, a pledge of "moral and material assistance with respect to the measures taken by the movement which would lead to a diminution of the Jewish population in Russia." [\[8\]](#)

He reported his work to the Sixth Zionist Congress at Basle on 23 August 1903, but stated, "Zion is not and can never be. It is merely an expedient for colonization purposes, but, be it well understood, an expedient founded on a national and political basis." [\[9\]](#)

When pressed for Jewish colonization in Palestine, the Turkish Sublime Porte offered a charter for any other Turkish territory [with acceptance by the settlers of Ottoman citizenship] which Herzl refused.[\[11\]](#) The British Establishment, aware of Herzl's activities through his appearance before the Royal Commission on Alien Immigration, [\[E\]](#) and powerful press organs such as the Daily Chronicle and Pall Mall Gazette which were demanding a conference of the Powers to consider the Zionist program, [\[12\]](#) somewhat characteristically, had shown a willingness to negotiate about a Jewish colony in the Egyptian territory of El-'Arish on the Turco-Egyptian frontier in the Sinai Peninsula. But the Egyptian Government objected to making Nile water available for irrigation; the Turkish Government, through its Commissioner in Cairo, objected; and the British Agent in Cairo, Lord Cromer, finally advised the scheme's rejection.[\[13\]](#)

Meanwhile, returning from a visit to British East Africa in the Spring of 1903, Prime Minister Joseph Chamberlain put to Herzl the idea of a Jewish settlement in what was soon to become the Colony of Kenya, but through a misunderstanding Herzl believed that Uganda was intended, and it was referred to as the "Uganda scheme." Of the part of the conversation on the El-'Arish proposal, Herzl wrote in his diary that he had told Chamberlain that eventually we shall gain our aims "not from the goodwill but from the jealousy of the Powers." [\[14\]](#) With the failure of the El-'Arish proposal, Herzl authorized the preparation of a draft scheme for settlement in East Africa. This was prepared by the legal firm of Lloyd George, Roberts and Company, on the instructions of Herzl's go-between with the British Government, Leopold Greenberg.[\[15\]](#)

Herzl urged acceptance of the "Uganda scheme," favoring it as a temporary refuge, but he was opposed from all sides, and died suddenly of heart failure on 3 July 1904. Herzl's death rid the Zionists of an "alien," and he was replaced by David Wolffsohn (the Litvak [\[F\]](#)).[\[16\]](#)

The "Uganda proposal" split the Zionist movement. Some who favored it formed the Jewish Territorial Organization, under the leadership of Israel Zangwill (1864-1926). For these territorialists, the renunciation of "Zion" was not generally felt as an ideological sacrifice; instead they contended that not mystical claims to "historic attachment" but present conditions should determine the location of a Jewish national homeland.[\[17\]](#)

In Turkey, the "Young Turk" (Committee of Union and Progress) revolution of 1908 was ostensibly a popular movement opposed to foreign influence. However, Jews and crypto-Jews known as Dunmeh had played a leading part in the Revolution.[\[19\]](#)

The Zionists opened a branch of the Anglo-Palestine Bank in the Turkish capital, and the bank became the headquarters of their work in the Ottoman Empire. Victor Jacobson [\[G\]](#) was brought from Beirut, "ostensibly to represent the Anglo-Palestine Company, but really to make Zionist propaganda among the Turkish Jews." [\[20\]](#) His contacts included both political parties, discussions with Arab members of Parliament from Syria and Palestine, and a general approach to young Ottoman intellectuals through a newspaper issued by the Zionist office.[\[21\]](#) In Turkey, as in Germany, "Their own native Jews were resentful of the attempt to segregate them as Jews and were opposed to the intrusion of Jewish nationalism in their domestic affairs." Though several periodicals in French "were subvented" by the Zionist-front office under Dr. Victor Jacobson, [\[22\]](#) (the first Zionist who aspired to be not a Zionist leader but a "career" diplomat,) and although he built up good political connections through social contacts, "always avoiding the sharpness of a direct issue, and waiting in patient oriental fashion for the insidious seed of propaganda to fructify," [\[23\]](#) yet some of those engaged in the work, notably Vladimir (Zev) Jabotinsky (1880-1940), came to despair of success so long as the Ottoman Empire controlled Palestine. They henceforth pinned their hopes on its collapse.[\[24\]](#)

At the Tenth Zionist Congress in 1911, David Wolffsohn, (Left) who had succeeded Herzl, said in his presidential address that what the Zionists wanted was not a Jewish state but a homeland, [\[26\]](#) while Max Nordau denounced the "infamous traducers," who alleged that "the Zionists ... wanted to worm their way into Turkey in order to seize Palestine . It is our duty to convince (the Turks) that ... they possess in the whole world no more generous and self-sacrificing friends than the Zionists." [\[H\]](#) [\[27\]](#)

The mild sympathy which the Young Turks had shown for Zionism was replaced by suspicion as growing national unrest threatened the Ottoman Empire, especially in the Balkans. Zionist policy then shifted to the Arabs, so that they might think of Zionism as a possible make-weight against the Turks. But Zionists soon observed that their reception by Arab leaders grew warmer as the Arabs were disappointed in their hopes of gaining concessions from the Turks, but cooled swiftly when these hopes revived. The more than 60 Arab parliamentary delegates in Constantinople and the newly active Arabic press kept up "a drumfire of complaints" against Jewish immigration, land purchase and settlement in Palestine.<sup>[28]</sup>

"After many years of striving, the conviction was forced upon us that we stood before a blank wall, which it was impossible for us to surmount by ordinary political means," said Weizmann of the last pre-war Zionist Congress. But the strength of the national will forged for itself two main roads towards its goal -- the gradual extension and strengthening of our Yishuv (Hebrew: literally, "settlement," a collective name for the Jewish settlers) in Palestine and the spreading of the Zionist idea throughout the length and breadth of Jewry.<sup>[29]</sup>

The Turks were doing all they could to keep Jews out of Palestine. But this barrier was covertly surmounted, partly due to the venality of Turkish officials, <sup>[30]</sup> (as delicately put in a Zionist report -- "it was always possible to get round the individual official with a little artifice"); <sup>[32]</sup> and partly to the diligence of the Russian consuls in Palestine in protecting Russian Jews and saving them from expulsion.<sup>[33]</sup> But if Zionism were to succeed in its ambitions, Ottoman rule of Palestine must end. Arab independence could be prevented by the intervention of England and France, Germany or Russia. The Eastern Jews hated Czarist Russia. With the entente cordiale in existence, it was to be Germany or England, with the odds slightly in Britain's favor in potential support of the Zionist aim in Palestine, as well as in military power.<sup>[1]</sup> On the other hand, Zionism was attracting some German and Austrian Jews with important financial interests and had to take into account strong Jewish anti-Zionist opinion in England.

But before Zionism had finally reckoned it could gain no special consideration in Palestine from Turkey, the correspondent of The Times was able to report in a message published 14 April 1911, of the Zionist organ Jeune Turc's <sup>[J]</sup> "violent hostility to England" and "its germanophile enthusiasm," and to the propaganda carried on among Turkish Jews by "German Zionist agents." When the policy line altered, this impression in England had to be erased.<sup>[34]</sup> The concern of the majority of rich English Jews was not allayed by articles in the Jewish Chronicle, edited by Leopold Greenberg, pointing out that in the Basle program there was "not a word of any autonomous Jewish state," <sup>[35]</sup> and in Die Welt, the official organ of the Movement, the article by Nahum Sokolow, then the General Secretary of the Zionist Organization, in which he protested that there was no truth in the allegation that Zionism aimed at the establishment of an independent Jewish State.<sup>[36]</sup> Even at the 11th Congress in 1913, Otto Warburg, speaking as chairman of the Zionist Executive, gave assurances of loyalty to Turkey, adding that in colonizing Palestine and developing its resources, Zionists would be making a valuable contribution to the progress of the Turkish Empire.<sup>[37]</sup>

Notes Part 1

<sup>[A]</sup> A letter entered in Herzl's diary on 15 May 1896 states that the head of the Armenian movement in London is Avetis Nazarhek, "and he directs the paper Huntchak (The Bell). He will be spoken to."

<sup>[B]</sup> On either side of the main doorway of the hall hung white banners with two blue stripes, and over the doorway was placed a six-pointed "Shield of David." It was the invention of David Wolffsohn, who employed the colors of the traditional Jewish prayer shawl. Fifty years later, the combined emblems became the flag of the Zionist state. The "Shield of David" is of Assyrian origin: previously a decorative motif or magical emblem. It appeared on the heraldic flag of the Jews in Prague in 1527.

<sup>[C]</sup> On the latter trip he was accompanied by his Empress. Their yacht, the Hohenzollern, put in at Haifa, and they were escorted to Jerusalem by 2,000 Turkish soldiers.

<sup>[D]</sup> Pope Pius X told him that the Church could not support the return of "infidel Jews" to the Holy Land.[\[10\]](#)

[\[E\]](#) In 1880, there were about 60,000 Jews in England. Between 1881 and 1905, there was an immigration of some 100,000 Eastern Jews. Though cut by the Aliens Bill of the Balfour Government, which became law in the summer of 1905, immigration continued so that by 1914 there was a Jewish population in England of some 300,000. A leader of the fight against the Aliens Bill and against tightening up naturalization regulations in 1903-1904 was Winston S. Churchill.[\[18\]](#)

[\[F\]](#) The Eastern Jews referred to each other as "Litvaks" (Lithuania), "Galizianers" (Galicia), "Polaks," "Hungarians," and geographical regions of their ancestral origin, e.g., "Pinskens"; never by the term Jew.

[\[G\]](#) (1869 -- 1935). Born in the Crimea, and nurtured in the atmosphere of assimilation and revolutionary agitation in Russia, Jacobson had organized clubs and written about Zionism in Russian Jewish newspapers. After the First World War, the era of the direct and indirect bribe and the contact man gave way to one in which the interests of nationalities, represented by diplomat-attorneys, had to be met, wrote Lipsky: "In this new world into which Jacobson was thrown, he laboured with the delicacy and concentration of an artist . . . working persistently and with vision to build up an interest in the cause. He had to win sympathy as well as conviction." [\[25\]](#)

[\[H\]](#) In the Zionist Congress of 1911, (22 years before Hitler came to power, and three years before World War I), Nordau said, "How dare the smooth talkers, the clever official blabbers, open their mouths and boast of progress ... Here they hold jubilant peace conferences in which they talk against war... But the same righteous governments, who are so nobly, industriously active to establish the eternal peace, are preparing, by their own confession, complete annihilation for six million people, and there is nobody, except the doomed themselves, to raise his voice in protest although this is a worse crime than any war ... " [\[31\]](#)

[\[I\]](#) Approximate annual expenditure for military purposes by the European Powers in the first years of the century were: France -- £38,400,000; Germany -- £38,000,000; Italy -- £15,000,000; Russia -- £43,000,000; United States -- £38,300,000; Great Britain -- £69,000,000 at pre-1914 values of sterling.

[\[J\]](#) Its business manager was a German Jew, Sam Hochberg. Among invited contributors was the immensely wealthy Russian Jew Alexander Helphand who, as "Parvus," was later to suggest to the German left-wing parties that Lenin and his associates be sent to Russia in 1917 to demoralize still further the beaten Russian armies.

Common Law and Custom as they relate to matters of major constitutional importance before?

For example the authority of the King originates in common law, which itself goes back way beyond the normal definition of time before memory. The last time the authority of the King was formally discussed in this country was in the reign of King George III when a vote was taken in Parliament which itself is governed by the common law, as to where ultimate Sovereignty lay with the lawfully anointed King or with the House of Commons as the elected House. King George III won the vote and it was decided Ultimate and Supreme Sovereignty lay with him. Prior to that the Question was discussed at the Convention (which was not a Parliament) of the Estates of the England where they produced the Declaration of Rights 1689 which left the authority of the King as the Supreme Governor of England untouched, it remained as it had always been. The Declaration of Rights was passed into law as the 1689 Bill of Rights.

Matters touching the authority of England's Kings/Queens impact upon each and everyone of Her Majesty's subjects.

Parliament was formed when the first Kings chose advisors to assist them in the government of their Kingdoms, this was put on a formal basis in 1297 when King Edward I summoned commoners to form the House of Commons. It was to vote taxes.

Changes to the roll and authority of Parliament or to the composition of Parliament or to its composition, or the superiority of one House over the other or the roll of the Sovereign in Parliament are of immense interest to each and every one of us, and these questions touch us deeply.

My Lord I have laid out my concerns as clearly as I can in plain English, I am not asking for you to give an opinion on my concerns, I have had the run around from the Royal Courts this morning with no one able to answer my question and all claiming to be ignorant of the law. Which begs the question why are they employed there. What I do require is an answer to my question. On matters of major constitutional importance touching the above mentioned concerns would the case be heard by a Red Judge sitting in a Queens Bench court, with a jury? Which is my belief. Respectfully Submitted, Albert Burgess

Sweden & WW2

Sir___, Lots of Jews went to Sweden before WWII. Sweden was used as an experimental sterilisation project with babies being sterilised at birth by Jewish doctors and surgeons.

It was rumoured at one time that there were more American bombers sitting on Sweden's airfields than in the whole of the USAAF, crews just didn't fancy fighting and being killed. Yours truly, PJT, Lincoln.

Letter to The Daily Telegraph

Dear Matthew,

Though many years later than would have been ideal, your article <http://www.telegraph.co.uk/news/politics/uk/ip/10839448/My-rivals-should-be-hanged-for-treason-says-Ukip-candidate.html> is to be commended for all that it contains. There is one flaw however. The death penalty for treason has never been abolished as it was far beyond the grasp of Tony Blair to do that, even though he sought to avoid the gallows for his known treasonous actions against Britain.

Hidden behind promises of a common market with Europe, when Edward Heath signed the European Communities Act in 1972 he knowingly and wilfully tricked, deceived and betrayed the British people into foreign rule by the EEC/EU. His was the most calculating and grievous treason in British history. He gave away his country, its sovereignty and its people, receiving £16,000 for his effort. Upon signing, his treason instantly removed him from lawful office and his treasonous act failed to become legally binding because treason has no legitimacy and cannot do that. His then treasonous government immediately became an unlawful assembly as a treasonous government is not lawful. It too, has no legitimacy.

No parliament can bind a successor. But no following parliament has ever reversed Heath's treachery. Instead, every following prime minister and parliament has consciously and deliberately lied to reinforce Heath's outrageous, unthinkable pretence that Britain had knowingly and willingly consented to foreign rule. As public servants, neither he nor they ever had such authority and their actions are treasonable contrary to English Constitutional and Common Law for acting against the nation's known interests, intent to surrender its sovereignty, using wilful deception to deliberately betray the nation and for acting in the political interests of a foreign power for others' benefit. It is effectively to declare war on the British Crown and the British nation.

Every single parliament since Heath's therefore, is and has been an unlawful assembly committing the most atrocious act of treason against their own people, inviting and imposing foreign rule over their own country. Not one has ever acted within the law. Having solemnly sworn lifetime oaths of loyalty and allegiance to Britain, each has conspired in this treason and they continue to deceitfully conceal the truth of their illicit activities from the public as it has long been known that the British people would never accept it and would object most violently were they ever to find out. But the people are finding out. A considerable volume of Foreign and Commonwealth Office documentary evidence to prove this criminality exists in the public domain. Over 600 pages of it can be read at <http://www.acasefortreason.org.uk/index.php/the-evidence-files> and similar evidence is also to be found in Hansard as a record of parliamentary activity over the years.

No law or other binding obligation can result from treason or intent by an unlawful assembly. English law therefore, stands as it was prior to signing of the 1972 Act. Thus Britain is not and can never have been part of the European Union as every Act, EU Treaty and every statute since 1972 whether or not given the Royal Assent, is treasonous, illegal, null and void. Not one has the force of law. The European Union has no legitimate influence in Britain whatsoever. Neither does its Napoleonic European Law. They exist only in certain political minds. In any case, the supremacy of English law in this country automatically intercedes and strikes down any attempt to repeal, subvert, overrule or replace it. The pretence of European influence is none other than parliamentary make-believe and pure theatre designed at the highest levels of Westminster to deceive and subjugate the people to foreign rule against their will for others' political purpose, contrary to law. It is WILFUL TREASON.

To date, a succession of unlawful British parliamentary assemblies therefore, having no legitimacy, illegally and without mandate, wilfully import and impose upon their own people, foreign rule and influence that has no legality in Britain.

But the criminality does not stop there.

In English law, those who support the commission of treason - the voters who keep the three main parties Lib-Lab-Con in office at Westminster - are guilty of the same offence which means that they commit Misprision of Treason (knowing of treason committed but doing nothing to report or prevent it) and Compounding (the) Treason at common law (any act or inaction which effectively condones, supports or allows the treason to continue). These are tried in court as the original treason. The legal obligation to report known treason extends to every British national from birth.

In addition, members of the British public have for some years recognised and reported the politicians' treason to the police. Fifteen police forces across the country have accepted and referred these evidential treason reports to the Metropolitan Police Commissioner for investigation and prosecution. This means the police forces have examined the evidence to establish that prima facie cases exist and have then recorded the allegations, each with a crime number before referring them to the Commissioner for action to be taken. But the Commissioner refuses to take any action whatsoever on this unmistakable evidence. Instead, he disregards the reports as vexatious and fanciful. Very clearly, he attempts to sweep this clear proof under the mat.

So governmental and the Commissioner's corruption are not just criminal, serious misconduct in public office and dereliction of duty, but appear to be co-ordinated according to some other agenda set against the people of this country.

Gordon Ferguson is totally correct is his assertions. The saddest thing being that until now, it has not gained press publicity even though the British public have become increasingly aware that these officials commit the most serious offence in law, against them. If you ever wish to become newspaper correspondent of the year, I would recommend concentrating on this one subject - Treason. It will be very much at the nation's heart and in the nation's interest, will further increase newspaper sales and it has a very long way to run. And who knows how many villains will fall because of it! The country will owe you an immense debt of gratitude. Yours sincerely, Rex Poulton

The Russian Naval Flags

Sir__, Yet again the Jews, with motor mouths and keyboards blazing, are making our blood brothers our enemy.

It worked for them so many times in the past, they just can't help themselves. To the tried and true, is their trumpet's call.

Known as the 'Andreevsky Flag', for Russia's patron saint, St. Andrew, it has seldom been struck in surrender, save for some unfortunate events in the early 20th century. The Andreevsky flag is a source of great pride to Russian sailors and strikes fear into Russia's enemies when it appears on the battlefield at the head of the Regiments Equipage, or naval infantry.

The naval jack is similar to the flag of the United Kingdom, featuring a combination of the St. George's cross and St. Andrew's cross on a red field.

Yours truly, A Belfast NE Reader.

The Highlands

Sir__, The aristocracy have always known about the Highlands - Salmon from the Dee and Venison from the hills. When Victoria and Albert bought Balmoral the newly wealthy manufacturing classes began to come too, such as Ian Aukenhead who studied agriculture at Leeds University and stayed with his mother to help her over cash problems. He was a real gentleman and took me as a child for a ride in his MG sports car and then gave me the bus fare back to home. He told me that many woollen mills had machinery, but the machines were too close together. Insufficient room caused horrendous accidents. After many years the politicians passed an act requiring mill owners to comply with safety standards.

Most mill owners were put to considerable expense, but not the Aukenheads. So many of the manufacturing class are not respectable people.

Such a lady took her seat at the breakfast table at the Inn where I was staying, where a Highland lassie served her a plate of porridge. "What's this?" She demanded. "Porridge is made from oatmeal" "Huh" she smiled, "in England we feed that to the horses."

"Oh" said the lassie. "That's why you English have such fine horses! And we have such fine men"

I am not a Scottish Nationalist! Yours truly, An Ancient Mariner.

May 2014 Election Fiasco

The people's choice The Borough of Tower Hamlets

Sir__, Although the Islamification of the UK was not the people's choice, indirectly they are accountable for its implementation. It was our people's choice at the Ballot Box who placed in charge the treacherous, treasonous criminals who are deliberately responsible for the painfully slow replacement of its indigenous people. Giving the people the benefit of the doubt the native Briton was perhaps genuinely naively complicit in their descent into a minority status.

I could show you pictures of the bomb damage around the East end of London and show you the Phoenix that rose from those ashes called Tower Hamlets. London landmarks like Peckham, Newham and towns like Oldham, Bradford and Peterborough also rose from debris of our bombed out towns and cities and were reborn as foreign enclaves.

I was going to write about Manchester but decided not to bother as one can select any one of a dozen English towns and cities and they would all look like a tourist snapshot taken anywhere in the Middle East or beyond. The people are the same, the only missing feature in the tourist snapshots are unpaved roads, cattle pulling ploughs, Holy Cows wandering the streets, open sewerage and people scavenging on rubbish heaps. The rest has been brought with them, child marriage, honour killing, acid attacks, Halal torture of animals, and Female Genital mutilation, the common practise of marrying first cousins and much more.

A freeze frame of the Borough of Tower Hamlets in 2011 depict a population of about 254,000 which includes one of the highest ethnic populations of Bangladeshi, which in turn has placed the "White British" in a minority status. The "White British" population are a sub group of 31.2% of the population. Bangladeshis make up 32% of the population of Tower Hamlets.

Another piece of news is that there are 21 active churches in Tower Hamlets affiliated with the Church of England, including also churches of many other Christian denominations. Although the "White English" are now a minority the really good news for the celebration of diversity coming out of Tower Hamlets is that there are now around 40 mosques including Islamic centres, I assume that includes Madrassas.

To explain diversity to a native of the Amazonian Forest, a Hottentot or Mud Person from Mt Hagen in New Guinea it can be explained as thus. Diversity is a potpourri of primitive 'Third World' communities of differing cultures and standards of behaviour, some still practising medieval beliefs living with a host nation, an advanced society.

They live separate lives, even apart from other ethnic groups in their own tribal communities or 'visible ethnic clusters'. They are particularly suspicious of the people of the host nation but they have to rely on them heavily as an economic life-raft or as a parasite might thrive as it feeds off its host. There are NO redeeming features of Muticulturalism, I repeat, for the ordinary Briton there are none.

I never ceased to be amazed and saddened at the frailties of human beings when I read of The Ukraine people wanting closer ties with the European Union. The carrot was a loan of 13 Billion Euros being offered from the World and European banks to rebuild its economy. Sound familiar? Spain, Greece and Ireland have also been there before. The people of the Ukraine should understand it is not AID as Russia have offered, it is a loan and has to be repaid or the Peoples Presidium in Brussels will institute austerity measures as Greece and Spain found to their horror.

I wish that were all but it is not. It would pay the Ukraine to look closely at the social nightmare affecting the rest of Europe, the race riots, the social fragmentation, particularly the incredibly high number of schools full of children of immigrants. Still sound attractive? Do you have a constitution? You are also going to have to exchange your constitution with the European constitution or Lisbon Treaty as it is called and open up your borders to the Third World as the other member countries have had to do.

I have saved the best part to the end; you will in a very short space of time be defined to an ethnic grouping called 'White Ukrainian'. Your next door neighbour could well be a Pakistani Ukrainian or an Indian Ukrainian, Bangla, or even a black Ukrainian. If you are part of the European Union no exemption will be made for you. As a Ukrainian you will be categorised into a sub grouping and your laws and general governance will be made in consultation by a consortium of 21 other countries that will decide your future.

To the good people of the Ukraine I would like to add a word of caution if I may. Looking over the EU wall to what appears on the surface as Peace, Western Freedom, democracy and Prosperity which might appear attractive, things are never what they seem and there is no such thing as a free lunch.

Brick Lane E.1.

You must be prepared in due course to lose your freedom of speech and expression as a raft of cleverly designed laws enacted and emanating from Brussels purely to silence expressing your alarm and resentment as the Sub-Saharan immigrant hordes arrive in their hundreds of thousands and descend on your towns, cities and villages like Locusts as we have experienced in the other occupied European countries. It might be better to stick with the devil you know rather the devil you do not know. Welcome to our world.

Yours truly, Albion.

Churchill: Hidden Truth In Ely Cathedral

The Late T. Stokes - London

This article originally appeared circa 2009. The author, T Stokes, was deeply informed of many hidden aspects of the power structure and the manipulation of public perceptions through organised deceit. When Cicero wrote of the “Traitor within” he surely had characters such as Churchill in mind.

The graffiti found at Ely Cathedral circa 2009

WE tend to think of the truth movement as something modern, but an amazing piece of graffiti discovered only days ago, has shocked historians and truthers alike, and is expected by Churchill memorabilia collectors to fetch a fair price at auction.

The Bishops palace at Ely Cathedral during the recent renovations had some floorboards taken up which were put down during the 1941-42 renovations and excited workmen called the foreman who thankfully, realising the importance of the find, took it straight for safe keeping to management.

The find was authenticated by David and Roger Collier and Jeffrey Solomons, as being the right age the right style and the right black pencil for the early forties, and the fact that as the boards had not been up since that time period, has got collectors excited.

The graffiti shows a wartime soldier turning his back on Churchill while muttering; “hmmm you warmonger Churchill” and underneath the words “Drink and Smoke while we die” while over Churchills head are the words;” You stinkweed churchill you C**t ”

It should be said that “Stinkweed” was the wartime nickname given by Lord Halifax for Churchill who, while drunk, was apt to soil his pants. His secretary John Colville had a special quick release jump suit made like a babies pair of rompers and is on record as saying; “Strange to think a babies jumpsuit may have helped us win the war, by helping our leader not sh*t himself.”

The wartime aeroplane is a well drawn spitfire with RAF markings from the period on the wings, and is shown machine-gunning a mother with 2 small children standing near a German flag, and could be depicting cities like Dresden or Hamburg, where Allied aircraft were told to target civilians and refugees trying to pass through the ruins.

This colossal war crime was hid up at Nuremberg where 1000 bomber raids would come several times a day, not targeting buildings because nothing was left standing, just civilians, women and children, long after Hitler had made many peace offers even sending his deputy Rudolph Hess to negotiate.

The fact that this wartime piece of memorabilia was found in Ely Cathedral is particularly important because, the Fenlands, the agricultural area of East Anglia had all the farmlands. Many poorly paid farm workers were envious of the high standards of living in Hitler's Germany, even among the Queens estate workers at Sandringham there was an unwillingness to join another Churchill war on fellow Anglo Saxons.

Churchill sent 5th columnists to mix with these land workers and farmhands, and wherever money is offered stories will appear, and because the German bombing in the general Norwich docks area was so accurate, it was said these Norfolk farm hands were signalling to German aircraft with torches, and that tractor wheel ruts in the ground were pointers for German aircraft. So Churchill actually drew up plans to bomb his own people in the Fens area. The full hatred of Churchill is shown in the picture and the star of David emphasises the belief at the time that he was in the pay of the bankers evicted from Germany, and this is partly why with his initials W.C. (W.C. in England stands for Water Closet, another name for toilet or bathroom) he was known as the "shit-house"

Footnote: The Norfolk landowner Sir Andrew Fountaine after the war stood for parliament on a right wing ticket, which would give all his estate workers economic parity with their German counterparts, he won the election but a fraudulent vote count slipped in the Labour candidate by 5 votes.

The famous Churchill impersonator Norman Shelley who actually used to appear as Churchill when he was too drunk to appear in public used to joke;

We will fight them on the beeches

you will I won't

We shall fight them on the land

you will I won't

We shall fight them in the air

you will I won't

And when it's all over we shall smoke expensive cigars and drink champagne

you won't I will

The Marijuana Conspiracy The Real Reason why Hemp is Illegal Doug Yurchey

And I will raise up for them a plant of renown, and they shall be no more consumed with hunger in the land. — Ezekiel 34/29

POT is NOT harmful to the human body or mind. It typically does NOT send users into addiction rehab programs.

Marijuana does NOT pose a threat to the general public. While marijuana users have every right to check into high-end drug rehabilitation facilities if they want, the dangers of marijuana are more directed towards big business. Marijuana is very much a danger to the oil companies, alcohol, tobacco industries and a large number of chemical corporations. Various big businesses, with plenty of dollars and influence, have suppressed the truth from the people. pot is illegal because billionaires want to remain billionaires.

Introduction

Did you know, it is estimated that hemp has approximately 25,000 uses? From food, paint and fuel to clothing and construction materials, hemp is used. There are even hemp fibres in your Red Rose® and Lipton® tea bags. And several cars made today contain hemp The oldest relic of human industry is a piece of hemp fabric (canvas) found in ancient Mesopotamia dating back to approximately 8000 B.C. The oldest surviving piece of paper was made over 2000 years ago in China and was also made from hemp fibre. In 2500 B.C. the pharaohs used hemp in the construction of the great pyramids.

Hemp was so important in England in the 16th century that King Henry VIII passed a law in 1553 which fined farmers who failed to grow at least one quarter acre of hemp for every 60 acres of arable land they owned. There was even a time in history for over 200 years when you could pay your taxes in America with hemp. In 1850 there were more than 8,300 hemp farms in the United States.

Every 3.6 seconds someone in the world dies of hunger. Hemp seeds are the most nutritious and economical solution to end world hunger. With an 80 percent concentration of “good fats” our bodies need for good health maintenance and protein with all eight amino acids plus optimum dietary fibre, hemp truly is a “perfect balance” food source  [Health Benefits of Hemp Seed ]. Nature has provided the essential nutrients for restoring and maintaining optimal health in a power-packed seed that is gluten, cholesterol and sugar free. Pure, natural, raw shelled hemp seed – the best single food source of protein, essential fats, vitamins and enzymes on the planet. [ Online source of hemp foods: <http://www.healing-source.com> ]

The first diesel engine was designed to run on vegetable oils, one of which was hemp oil. In the 1930's Henry Ford produced an automobile composed of 70 percent hemp plastic which also ran on hemp based fuel and oil. In 2001 the “Hempcar” circled the North American continent powered by hemp oil.

The paintings of Rembrandt (1606- 1669), Vincent Van Gogh (1853-1890) and Thomas Gainsborough (1727- 1788) were painted primarily on hemp canvas, often with hemp oil based paint. Over 50 percent of all chemical pesticides sprayed are used in the cultivation of cotton. Hemp is eight times stronger than cotton and more air-permeable. Hemp can grow vigorously (up to 16 feet) in 100 days without the use of harmful pesticides and herbicides... healthier for your skin and the environment.

One acre of hemp can produce as much raw fibre as 4.1 acres of trees. Pulping hemp for paper would produce a strong paper that lasts incredibly long and doesn't yellow with age. Also, using hemp as a raw source for paper would eliminate the need to cut down our dwindling old-growth forests which contribute to climate control and clean the air we breathe.
