AS WE ENTER THE MONTH OF JUNE, WE SEE IN THE PRESS A STARTLING THING. For the first time it seems someone is challenging this idea of Einstein as being the idea man of the birth of the Universe and so forth.

From Lawrence, Kansas comes a Kansas professor and his research partner, and they are reporting findings that might cause the physicists to reconsider Einstein's 'theory of relativity' as well as the birth of the universe.

John Ralston, Kansas professor of Physics and Astronomy, and Borge Nodland, Research-Fellow at University of Rochester, are challenging one of the fundamental ideas of modern cosmology. The saying that space is the same in all directions with no up and down.

The professors research appears to show that there is an up and down to the universe. And that space, like earth, may be oriented along an axis.

"Our observational data suggests that there is a mysterious north star that orients the universe." Said Ralston.

Einstein's 'theory of relativity' is based on an 'assumption' of a Universe that is direction less as well as upon the constancy of the speed of light.

The researchers suggest that other scientist need to explore how Einstein's theory of electromagnetism relate to their findings. One possibility would be to revise the laws of light and electromagnetism. This research may also be the first experimental evidence yet of the existence of other universes. (Who, then, was Einstein, who the scientists have followed all of these years?)

Now, as we consider all of the rising agenda against the Tobacco industry—I have never smoked, and neither did my husband, but one wonders what is going on behind the scene as we see all of this play against tobacco. It should not have been surprising to read April 20, in the daily paper that "LSD QUIETLY RETURNS AND STEALS SOFTLY BACK INTO THE SCHOOLS." The 90's kids are unaware of the 60's bad trips.

What is so surprising about this hallucinogen's comeback is how quietly this is happening. By most accounts, LSD is now more popular among the young than heroin, cocaine, or even crack. Yet while health specialists are sounding the alarm over the Tobacco industry there is barely a whisper about LSD. Oh, they know it is there, but it seems that they have cut the dosage of the drug so that most students do not react the way the students did in the sixties. Checking with the teachers and students at grammar schools, high schools and universities, then some say that in the northeast, that the usage of LSD has picked up in the past five years, and really took off last year.

The typical progression they add, is for young people to start with alcohol, add marijuana, then turn to LSD in their quest for a trip that lasts longer and takes them further, even if it is harder to get off.

The principal of the Barnstable High school, said that a 16-year-old Barnstable senior, Jeremy Lang, was found drowned in a drainage ditch last year after taking LSD. Today, the young no longer are told of Art Linkletter's daughter flying out the window to her death on an LSD trip.

We then ask you, who was it that introduced LSD to the students back in the 60's? (Remember professor Timothy O Leary? Who was he and where did he come from?)

As we come to the month of June, we hope that you will stop a moment and think back to the message that Hale-Bopp has pointed out to us. Isn't it interesting that as we come to the month of June that this strange comet with its message is standing almost right above us as if pausing to drive home a message into our hearts?

We now have remembered the connection of our heavenly home as the Pleiades, to Earth, through the sign of Taurus in the heavens. And on Earth through the prophecies and promises to the house of Joseph. He who was separated from his brothers, as though for a mighty purpose.

We get the message that was also a part of Taurus, of Hyades. For it was not a constellation, but a congregation. And here we now stand at the beginning of June, and now Hale-Bopp is pointing out the sign of the great Orion of the heavens with its tremendous message.

The sign of Orion is said to be the most beautiful sign of the heavens. This portrays the MIGHTY ONE as coming into world affairs in JUDGMENT. HE COMES TO RECEIVE THE MEMBERS OF HIS BODY, UNTO HIMSELF, BEFORE, HE COMES WITH THEM TO DESTROY ALL ENEMIES, AND TO JUDGE THE WORLD ORDER IN RIGHTEOUSNESS.

As we leave the sign of Taurus and enter the sign of Orion, then in symbolism we get the message that YAHSHUA'S true church, his body in the world today, will be with HIM. But now they are safe from all judgment.

There is much in the scriptures and now in the prophecies about the coming of 'The LORD in Judgment,' and about HIS indignation. Enoch, that great man of our race, had this to say about those prophecies as he unfolded the meanings of the stars to our race so long ago. "Behold YAHSHUA comes with 10,000 of his saints to execute judgment upon all and convict all that are ungodly. (Jude 14-15)

As we have said before, at a very early age these 12 Zodiac signs in the heavens were divided among the 12 tribes of Israel, by the blessings of Jacob and of the work of Moses. And the sign of Taurus was assigned to the house of Joseph who was the father of Ephraim and Manasseh. Thus the two powerful horns of the Great Bull, Taurus of the heavens.

"Behold the LORD cometh forth out of his place,
To punish the inhabitants of earth for their iniquity.

The earth also shall disclose its blood,
And no more cover her slain." (Isa. 34:2-8)

Here again, then we have a two fold message. For close to Taurus then comes Orion, as the second revelation. It is thus pictured in the heavens and it is also written in the Book. It is here in Orion that we see the coming JUDGE and a coming judgment. But here in the heavens this was just a symbol of a Bull rushing forward, but truly it was a man coming, using his children to portray the ending of the prophecies. Here with Orion, this is also a glorious man coming, yes even the one called in the scriptures, "The son of man." This then is the first development of the rest of the story as we left the sign of Taurus and move on.

The first picture then is of this coming Prince, here called Orion, the balancer of the Universe. This is a mighty, triumphant, and glorious Prince.

In the ancient Denderah Zodiac of Egypt, we see a man coming forth pointing to the three bright stars of his belt. (Rigel, Bellatrix, and Betelgeuz) as HIS. Thus, this great One is coming forth as Light. And in the ancient Akkadian language it was Ur-ana, or the Light of the heavens. For as Orion comes to the Meridian, he is accompanied by several adjacent constellations of great splendour. This tells us that we are going to have to follow the path of Hale-Bopp on further than Orion. For here in the last quarter of the Zodiac is the finale of this great message.

Thus as this sign of Orion comes above the horizon, the most glorious view of the Celestial bodies that the starry firmament affords, will be visible to all the habitable world, because the equinoctial line passes nearly through the middle of the sign of Orion, while Hale-Bopp passes down through Betelgeuz.

This constellation of Orion was well known both by name and appearance back in the time of Job. It was a familiar object of knowledge at that early part of the Adamic history. (Job 9:9 and 38:32) Don't let the position of the book of Job, in the Bible, fool you for this was probably one of the oldest books of the scriptures. In the Hebrew the meaning of this 'Coming One' was, a strong one, a hero or giant.

This constellation of Orion contains 78 stars. And here we must consider the meaning of numbers for the scriptures are written with this knowledge. The number 7 has the meaning of spiritual perfection, and it is also the number of Adam. And the number 8 thus signifies something beyond this perfection. Thus, has to do with the Almighty, himself.

For this is the first then of a new series. Here the constellation of Orion pictures a mighty ONE holding another head as though of a roaring lion in his hand, and in the right hand is a club, and it is raised high. His waist carries a sword in the form of a cross. And it consists of a collection of nebulous stars and the head of a LAMB. As you ask in wonder, who is this? The names and meaning of the names of the stars give the answer.

The brightest star in the right shoulder is Betelgeuz, meaning 'The coming branch.' The next in the left foot is named Rigel, meaning the foot that crushes. And this foot is lifted up and placed immediately over the head of the enemy as though in the very act of crushing. The next star in the left shoulder is called Bellatrix with a meaning, quickly coming or swiftly destroying. The name of the forth bright star is one of the three in the belt, and it takes you back to the old, old story that this glorious ONE was once humbled, that his heel was bruised, and its name has a meaning of 'the wounded one.'

Now like Ophiuchus, this is also a two-fold picture. For he had one leg bruised, while with the other, he is crushing the enemy under foot. Such is the testimony of Orion's stars which day after day and night after night show forth their knowledge. Whether in Arabic, Chaldee, or Hebrew, He is the ONE now coming forth for a definite purpose. Thus, Hale-Bopp is announcing this Mighty ONE.

This prince of Glory is about to rise up and shine forth for the deliverance of his earthly family. Their redemption draweth nigh.

"The LORD shall go forth as a mighty man,
He shall stir up jealousy, like a man of war.
He shall cry, yea roar;
HE shall prevail against his enemies.

I have (he says) long time holden my Peace;
I have been still, and refrained myself.
Now will I cry like a travailing woman;
I will destroy and devour at once.
(Isaiah 421 13-14)

Then it shall be said to this people, and this setting of the prophecy in its beautiful introverted structure shows us the beauty and glory of this great truth now Revealed:

"Arise and shine, for thy light is come,
And the glory of the LORD is risen upon thee,
For behold, the darkness shall cover the earth,
And gross darkness the people;
but the LORD shall arise upon thee,
And the nations shall come to the light.
And the kings to the brightness of thy rising."
(Isaiah 60:1-3)

This is the Glory of YAHWEH (God) which the heavens constantly declares (Psalms 19:1). Telling of that Glorious time when the whole earth shall be filled with His Glory. (Numbers 14:21; Isa. 11:9; when the Glory of the LORD shall be revealed and all flesh shall see it together. (Isaiah 11:5) as all see now the beauty of Orion's Glory, as Hale-Bopp has declared it.

But side by side with the Glory, which the coming Light of the world, shall bring for his people, is that Wicked whom YAHSHUA, shall destroy WITH THE BRIGHTNESS OF HIS COMING.

In the earlier part of the story we had Praise for the conqueror, but also a consuming fire for his enemies as in the burning pyre. Thus here in Orion, with this Glory prepared for the conqueror we also have Eridanus, this River of Wrath, prepared for His enemies. In all pictures this issues from the meaning of its name as 'the river of the judge.' In the Denderah Zodiac it was a river under the feet of Orion named Peh-ta-t, meaning the mouth of the river. It is an immense constellation and consists of 84 stars.

Here we have a river running down from the glorious Orion. It runs in the course of a serpent down and down toward the lower regions of the Universe, and we see the claw of Setus the Sea Monster trying to stop it. But this is the 'river of the Judge.' And it speaks of the final judgment in which the wicked shall be cast into the lake of fire.

Thus in Greek mythology then we see that two great facts are preserved, such as Judgment and Fire.

Aratus states:

"From yonder, trod by heavenly feet
Winds the scorched waters of Eridanus' tear swollen flood,
Welling beneath Orion's uplifted foot"

Is this not the testimony which is written in the Book? Daniel sees this very river in his vision of that day for he wrote:

"I beheld till the thrones were placed, and one that was the ancient of days did sit. His throne was fiery flames and the wheels thereof burning fire. A fiery stream issued before HIM;"

This is the river of the Judge. For he goes on to say, "The judgment was set, and the books were opened." (Daniel 7:9-11). And we have the same in Psalms 97:3-5 and Psalms 1:3, and in Habakkuk, chapter 3. Then it was written also in Isaiah 30:27-33.

Then we may ask who may abide in the day of His Wrath? Who can stand before HIS indignation when his fury is poured out like fire. (Nahum 1:6)

And we find our answer in the picture of Auriga (the shepherd) a decan of Orion. For here is the safety for the redeemed in this Day of HIS coming. Thus here we have the picture of the Mighty Bull rushing forward and then the fiery river of the Judge. But here also is the Great Shepherd. He is seated upon the Milky Way, holding up to his left shoulder a ewe, a mother sheep. She is clinging to his neck and is looking down at this great rushing bull. In his left hand he supports also two little sheep, apparently just born and bleating and trembling in fear. One of the horns of Taurus touches the foot of the Great Shepherd and the toe of Perseus touches his other knee. The bright star in the body of the Sheep means a She animal or a Ewe. The star in the shepherds right arm means the band, or the chain of the sheep.

Thus this sign is pointing out the truth that never again will there be 'lost sheep.' They are now held in the bands of love, to the Great Shepherd forever.

Can there be any mistake in your minds as to who this Great Shepherd really is? This is HE who was bruised and wounded in the heel. He is the Good Shepherd who gave his life for the sheep. And this is also HE, the Great Shepherd brought again from the dead and is now the Chief Shepherd. He is thus, YAHSHUA, YAHWEH in the flesh. In the Zenderah Zodiac pictured more than 5000 years ago, this was the man carrying the sceptre. But at the top of it was the head of a goat, or sheep. And at the bottom below his hand that holds it was a cross. To the Egyptians, at that time, then a Cross meant a sign of Life. Here we see life and salvation for the Sheep of His flock, and He then comes to rule in Judgment. In the Psalms, this is referred to as the day when the wicked shall be cut off.

Yes, there is still more to this story. And as I have said, it is all brought to its final climax here in this last forth of the Ecliptic. Thus we feel that we should look at all that is pictured here in this quarter. For all is connected.

As to the Planets and the comet in June: Hale-Bopp is not as clearly seen because of a solar glare which will lie between us and this departing comet. But with a telescope, some will still see the departing comet passing just a few degrees from Betelgeuz, in the shoulder of the arm upraised of Orion, the arm that holds the club. The planets are in motion but not as bright as other times. Venus creeps up at the time of dusk. The moon is near Saturn on June first. Mercury on June, 15, is near the moon. And Saturn and the moon are close together on June first. The moon is near Jupiter on June 24 and Saturn again on June 28th.

Now remember as the events in earth get more complicated, then the sheep are now safe in the arms of their great Shepherd. That is the safety for the Redeemed in the Day of Wrath. For HE feeds his flock like a Good Shepherd. And he gathers his lambs in his arm and carries them in His bosom, and gently carries even those who are little.

Thus we have the beginning of this final picture which Hale-Bopp is pointing out, and this being a continued story. We will see you next month for the next instalment.

Human Events:

WITH THE COLLAPSE OF MARXISM LENINISM, many of the aims of Socialism have been transferred into the modern environmental movement. According to Myron Ebell, instead of redistributing income and seizing private property in the name of the people, it is now being done for the sake of "MOTHER EARTH."

Environmentalists will do anything to keep the Endangered Species Act on the books because it gives them more control over property and hence more power over people than any other law. In fact the "Endangered Species Act" is Radicals' most potent weapon. Even Speaker Newt Gingrich is said to be taken in by this because it offends his green sensibilities. He thinks of this as being a friend of nature and the animals that he loves. However the Endangered Species Act is failing because it pits the interests of wildlife against the interests of the people, and thereby turns people into the enemy of wildlife. Because landowners are afraid that they might be destroyed by this ESA, they are naturally taking steps to make sure that they don't have endangered species on their land. They are in fact clearing their land of wildlife habitat.

What will have to be done is for the Congress to Repeal ESA and replace it with an incentive program. In three words: repeal and replace, with a non-regulatory, incentive-based conservation program. No law can succeed when the vast majority of those directly affected by it are hostile to it. Removing the ESA would remove the threat of ruination by regulation and, consequently, once again, make use of the conservation ethic and love of nature that most landowners still retain. Much has been done to show that private conservation efforts achieved before the ESA made then foolhardy.

The new crop circle of England for this year is the 'whirling cross'. Last year you remember, it was the one headed scorpion with three bodies. Remember also that England had an election this year. The press has tried to portray that young man who was elected as following in the Clinton footsteps. But this I don't see. For he worked for years building up his party and seeing what appealed to the people, then was elected. Whereas Clinton, after being elected, has torn down his party. So we will wait and see how this little drama plays out.

The Blair family will not move into No. 10 Downing Street, for it is not big enough for their growing family of three children. Another will occupy that place which the Prime Minister usually occupies.

The White House has a new problem.

By blaming journalists for being involved in a 'right wing' information food chain, Clinton has virtually accused the British press of fabricating many of the scandals kept away from the U.S. media glare. This is the emergence of a new mass media that does not respond to the usual levers of control.

Stories run by foreign newspapers such as the Sunday Telegraph, can be picked up by the Internet and transmitted instantly across America, to be amplified by the growing number of citizens radio shows. The White House has not figured out a way to jam the transmissions, so it has resorted to shameless propaganda, referring to such newspapers and shows as 'right wing.'

Ironically, though, the report has now backfired. The White House, in its zeal to discredit critics, has given a fresh lease of life to the very articles on Vincent Foster that caused so much anxiety in the first place. (Source: The Weekly Telegraph.)

Global news from Nexus:

Diversity and depopulation: Two million acres in Kentucky and Tennessee to be depopulated, and 500,000 people will lose their homes.

According to America's CNN Cable news network a meeting was scheduled for March of 1997, on the first day of the month, at Murray College in Kentucky, to discuss the movement of half a million people in 17 counties across Kentucky and Tennessee.

A special congressional committee heard testimony from ecologists on why this move must be accomplished. Very few from the opposing side was able to speak on this issue. Homes, businesses, farms and lives would be abandoned should the opposition not be successful in protesting this.

You say, 'How can they do this?' But very few Americans, even environmentalists, know that this change means the end of living in a free society with a decent standard of living.

These ideas are at the heart of the Biological Diversity Treaty that was officially created during the Earth Summit in Rio de Janeiro in 1992. This 20 paged treaty looked harmless, but there are section that will cause massive changes in your life. In article 25 there was to be Global Bio-diversity assessment, GBA. This document of many thousands of pages outlines the plans to change the world. In this GBA the following is stated: Societies dominated by Islam, and especially Christianity, have gone farther in setting humans apart from nature. In the process, nature has lost its sacred qualities.

Human beings are merely one-strand in nature's web and are no more important than any other living creature. Therefore the natural way is right, and human activities should be moulded along nature's rhythms. Also, population growth has exceeded the capacity of the earth to maintain our current global population of five to seven billion people. Therefore we must reduce our standard of living to that of an agriculture world in which most human beings are peasants. A reasonable population for an industrial society would be one billion people.

In this treaty also is this: A heavy global tax should be levied on agriculture, forestry, mining and golfing. Heavy consumption taxes are to replace Income taxes to discourage the use of automobiles, air conditioners, and other items deemed nonessential to basic human needs.

Thus you see where the idea came from for the Bio-diversity program for the Ozarks which is being pushed, behind the scenes now.

Soybean products - a recipe for disaster.

Remember how this product has been pushed for Infant formulas and such? We are now learning that Soy should never be considered as a substitute for animal products like meat and milk. The soybean contains a large quantity of a number of harmful substances. First among them are the potent enzyme inhibitors which block the action of trypsin and other enzymes needed for protein digestion. In animals when tested these diets high in trypsin inhibitors cause enlargement and pathological conditions of the pancreas, including cancer. Some researchers believe that the rapid increase in liver and pancreatic cancer in Africa is due to the introduction of soy products there.

Soy protein isolate is the main ingredient of soy-based infant formula. So see what is added here. Soybeans are first ground and subjected to high temperature and solvent extraction processes to remove the oils. The resultant defatted meal is then mixed with an alkaline solution and sugars in a separation process to remove fibre; then it is precipitate and separated, using an ACID wash. Finally the resultant curds are neutralized in an alkaline solution and spray-dried at high temperatures to produce high protein powder.

The soybean has a higher phytate content than any other grain or legume that has been studied. These phytates are present in the bran or hulls of all seeds; they block the uptake of essential minerals, such as calcium, magnesium, iron and especially zinc, in the intestinal tract.

Soy formulas lack cholesterol, which is absolutely essential for the development of the brain and nervous system; they also lack lactose, and galactose, which play an equally important role in the development of the nervous system.

It seems that we were sold a bill of bad goods with the idea of switching to Soy products. Then look who sold that idea and you will better understand what is happening behind the scenes in our nation and the other Christian nations.

From the magazine "New American."
RED CHINA'S Ocean invasion:

Beijing is setting itself up so as to set up shop right on America's doorstep. According to the NEW China Lobby this is all to be looked at as a new global trading policy which through trade and peaceful means will bring Red China into World Affairs as a playing partner. Anyone who has opposed this idea is listed as a Crackpot by the Clinton Administration watchdog James Carville. It has been established that U.S. Custom's Service would be allowed to inspect only one out of every eight containers in each Cosco ship. So what is to be smuggled into this country by this avenue? There is much to this deal that the American people do not know, and time will bring the results.

Almost every instance of an event is being controlled and programmed so as to result in the setting in place of the One world government. But did the enemy ask the Almighty if this would be OK? I think not. Therefore, don't bet on them winning

HUMAN EVENTS: (Cal Thomas)

For an administration to explode, in this case the Clinton Administration, the radioactive components of scandal and corruption must be present in sufficient quantities to produce its own critical mass and a subsequent explosion. It appears that point has been, or is about to be reached. Taken separately, it has been difficult for the public to get a handle on the ethical malnutrition that infects this administration. Taken together, and with the vocalizing in preparation for singing of MARK MIDDLETON, and the Grand jury extension sought and won by Kenneth Starr, along with James McDougal's reported naming of people who can corroborate his testimony, only one conclusion can be drawn. Critical mass is about to be reached.

Watch out for an explosion of politically atomic proportions.

Biblical question for the month:

Question: What does it mean when it talks about the Heavens rolled away?

Answer: Go to Revelation 6:4, and you read: 'The heavens departed as a scroll, when it is rolled together and every mountain and island were moved out of their places. Mountains, land, is governments. And this is talking about the Great Judgment Day.'

According to the Companion Bible, this saying: "The heavens departed as a scroll" is simply a phrase used to mark a distance between two events.

And what is talked about here is the Saints under the altar asking their Father how long before HE avenges all this being done to the Saints of Zion? Thus, here is being pointed out that there is a distance between the cries of the Saints under the altar and the Judgment on the enemy, or the Great and Terrible Day of the LORD.

Now who does the judgment fall on? Turn to Isaiah 34, and in verse 4, again we find the heavens rolled together and a judgment.

"And all the hosts of heaven shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be rolled together as a scroll; and all of their hosts shall fall down as a leaf falleth off from a vine, and as a falling fig from the fig tree."

Here we are talking about the destruction of Idumea, 'The people of MY curse, to judgment.' This then is the day of the LORD's vengeance and the recompense for the controversy of Zion. For proof of that then go to Verse 16, thus go to the Book of the Lord and read.' And according to (app. 47) this is the Book of the Law.

The Idumea people, the Edomite Jews, descendants of Esau and his Canaanite wives, who came into Israel at the time of Christ or rather just before that, and took over the Temple and the country. Today these people are still recognized as a part of Jewry. You remember the part they played at the time of the Crucifixion. Thus once again we see a twofold prophecy, and message as we have been seeing all of the time. And also a scroll contains two rollers, one on each side. And if rolled on both, then they show the difference or what can be the heavens rolled together, and as such showing the distance between two events in our biblical story.

World Magazine: May 4, 1997.

An alert staffer wading through the Federal Register, made a startling discovery. A new executive order on the environment, published April 21, contained a line repealing one of the previous Presidents orders, and this was one that had nothing to do with the environment. Repealed, was a pro-family order of President Reagan, written by FRC head Gary Bauer, then a domestic policy aide.

Mr. Bauer says that the order required government to consider its policies in light of whether they advanced or harmed the Family unit. He says the order blocked some of the worst schemes of government bureaucrats in the last ten years.

The order required bureaucrats to ask these seven questions before implementing any policy:

1. Does this action by government strengthen or erode the stability of the family, and particularly the marital commitment?
2. Does this action strengthen or erode the authority and rights of parents in the education, nurture, and supervision of their children?
3. Does this action help the family perform its functions, or does it substitute governmental activity for the function?

4. Does this action by government increase or decrease family earnings? Do the proposed benefits of this action justify the impact on the family budget?

5. Can this activity be carried out by a lower level of government or by the family itself?

6. What message does it send to young people concerning the relationship between their behaviour, their personal responsibility, and the norms of our society?

7. What message, intended or otherwise, does this program send to the public concerning the status of the family?

‘Why?’ we ask, ‘did this need to be repealed?’ Mr. Bauer, who understands how the left works, sees dark motives. He is calling upon Congress to reinstate the order and force President Clinton to veto it, if he wants, in the light of Day.

Until next time

Dr. Wesley A. Swift

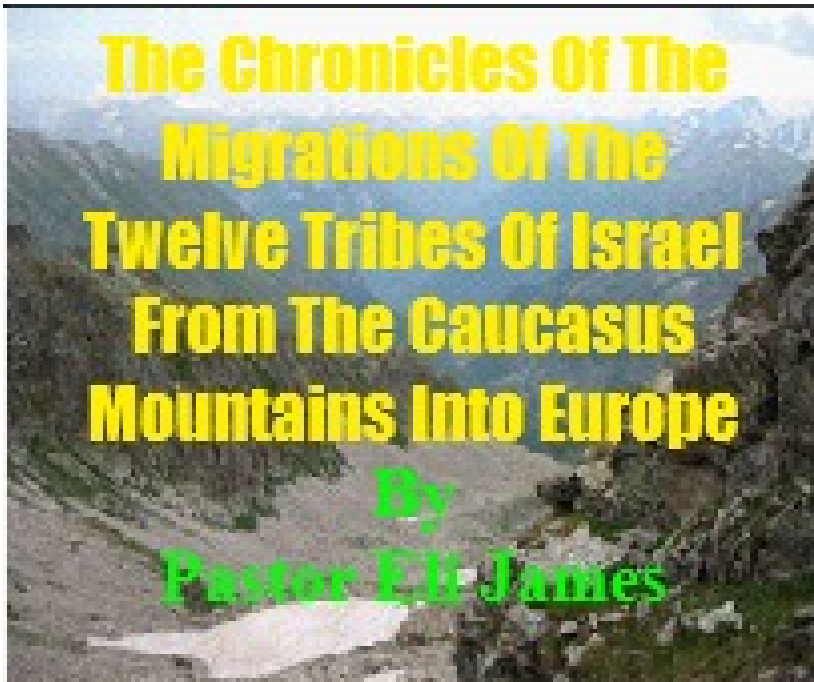

Dr. Wesley A. Swift, the son of a Methodist minister, was called to preach in his teens. He was a dynamic, inspired speaker who taught uncompromising Biblical truths ignored by modernist ministers. His anointed preaching brought forth a high spiritual dimension of understanding to the Kingdom Identity message, giving “life” and “power” to the Sacred Word. Even the antichrists acknowledge that, “Wesley Swift is considered the single most significant figure in the early years of the Christian Identity movement in the United States.”

Dr. Swift founded the Church of Jesus Christ – Christian in the 1940’s, a ministry that spread the Kingdom Identity message nation-wide to YHVH’s Children, the White spirit-race known Scripturally as “sons of God”. By teaching these truths to true Israel, this warrior-priest put fear in the hearts of the enemies of Christ. Following Dr. Swift’s death in 1970, his widow Lorraine Swift faithfully carried on the Church of Jesus Christ – Christian. We are highly honoured to be able to continue Dr. Swift’s work, by placing those works that we have in print here on our web site ...preserving and earnestly contending for “the faith which was once delivered unto the saints”...for any and all to read.

We, at the Covenant Church of Yahweh hope that you will study, enjoy, and appreciate Dr. Wesley Swift’s works.
