Dear Reader,

Covid = Communism

THE CORONA VIRUS IS MUTATING

As we go to press, it is becoming patently obvious that the plandemic hoax is all about rolling out the Satanic so-called “utopian” Communist N-W-O, where all, after the population cull, will be corralled into “Smart” cities, where travel will be prohibited without a permit.

Wearing a mask (change the “s” to “r” and we get mark) is indicating your compliance with the beast system or Babylon whose HQ is in that square mile known as the City (of London) that controls most of the world’s currencies.

Even the boxes of masks imported from India via China, state that they do not protect the wearer from cv-19, but they do deprive the wearer of oxygen. Long term wearing can cause serious lung and brain damage, which of course will be blamed on covid.

One must be especially careful to avoid tests for CV (which have been proved to be fraudulent), especially where a tube is put up the nose and can enter the brain. this is a means of covertly delivering a vaccine together with nanno-bots. Such have been discovered on swabs. There have been several reports of perfectly well people having become ill once tested. Also reports have been received of cerebral leakage where the prod has been pushed too far up the nose!

It should be noted that cattle are often injected through a tube pushed up the nose. It is therefore no surprise that they are doing the very same thing to us! The enemy just regards us as cattle to be milked and killed for their profit!

The reader is directed to page 22 of this magazine where the Biderman report of 1956 on Communist brainwashing techniques to gain compliance of a population that has been taken over. You will see how remarkably similar these are to the covid restrictions. This should ring alarm bells with those who have been complacent and followed the Government’s unlawful directives to date! Indeed we are beginning to see a growing awareness.

Praise Yahweh for this and we look forward to his empowering of his people especially Jacob and Joseph who will burn up the tares, once we have enquired of Him and repented of our evil ways!!!

A Demonstration of The Deceptive Use of Words

By The Rabbis of Judaism

By Pastor Eli James

HERE IS THE PERSPECTIVE OF OUR ANCESTOR, KING DAVID:

"Fret not thyself because of evildoers, neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquity. For they shall soon be cut down like the grass, and wither as the green herb. Trust in YHWH, and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed. Delight thyself also in YHWH; and He shall give thee the desires of thine heart. Commit thy way unto YHWH; trust also in Him; and He shall bring it to pass. And He shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday." (Psalms 37:1-6)

The Jewish system of commercialism has destroyed our family life, from the nuclear family all the way up to the national family. Hence, we are a people that have lost our soul. The anti-Christ is doing everything in his power to keep us from re-bonding as an intact, harmonious racial family. He knows that this eventuality will signal his death knell. This is why the Jews are so tenaciously anti-White and anti-Christian. The parasite knows that if he loses his grip on the host, his life will end. His tenacity is based on FEAR.

The only concern that hinders the Jew, causing him to lose sleep, is his fear of losing money and his fear that the White Race will wake up to its Biblical destiny. He has cleverly manipulated our people into becoming opponents of "racism," twisting history so that WE are perceived as the villains, while THEY are the "liberators" of the "downtrodden" and "oppressed," and the "victims of discrimination," teaching us to hate ourselves for our "dominion," while they, by far, have greater worldly riches and much more abundant political power than we do. Even though THEY are the true oppressors, using their wealth, status and power to oppress US, there is no guilt trip for the Jews.

They positively revel in their pretence and the power it gives them over us: like the power a pimp has over his whores. No, they have rewritten history to falsely portray Whites as oppressors, so that they can wail and moan about how the White Christians have "persecuted" them! This is their "spiel," and our people actually swallow this garbage!!! The Serpent, with great subtlety, continues to accomplish today what he accomplished with Eve in the Garden: pollution of our DNA.

It's about time that we caught on to this tactic!

It is the duty, of those of us who are awake, to hammer out this message harder and harder until the sleeping sheep finally awaken. If there is one deluded Israelite left in this world, it is your duty to splash the ice water of truth in his face—whatever it takes to wake him up! This is TRUE BROTHERLY LOVE, even if they initially hate you for spoiling their illusions. Considering what Yahshua did for us, this is a small price to pay, so do not lose heart in this struggle.

It sounds fanciful, and even contradictory, considering our racial disunity today, but we Israelites, as the Builder Race, were designed to work together and to experience collective success, while maintaining individual liberty. This is achieved by taking personal responsibility for the success of the community (ekklesia). This is what Cain refused to do! ("Am I my brother's keeper?") Therefore, our success will only come as a corporate body, as an organic unit, representing the Body of Christ. No other race has this urge or ability. It is spiritual. It is biological. It is in our DNA. The White Race has built the greatest civilizations on earth. We have accomplished the most monumental construction programs. We have probed the depths of the ocean and we have reached outer space. We have designed and created the most intricate art works, from crafts to music.

We have invented the most sophisticated technologies, all because of our ability to put the success of the goal before our personal interests. Now's the time to put all of our collective talents together, striving for the same goal: the Kingdom! No other race has accomplished one tenth of what we have accomplished. The best they can do is plagiarize; and the Jews simply steal it from us.

Truly, we have been a blessing to the world. What we call "Western Civilization" is the product of two main ingredients: Adamic DNA and Christianity. The DNA makes the individual, and Christianity bonds our individual selves into a purposeful community. Once we begin to utilize this combination of creative ability and dedicated teamwork toward establishing the Kingdom of Yahweh, the world will be amazed at what we will accomplish – and so will we! Our fulfilment is demonstrated in our collective racial accomplishments. In this way, our individual happiness will be greater than ever!!!!

This philosophy is encapsulated in the Biblical slogan: "Love thy neighbour as thyself." (Mark 12:31.) Make no mistake about it, this is a racial command, not a universal command. Jesus precedes Verses 30 and 31 with the words, "HEAR, O ISRAEL." He is speaking to Israel, not to the whole of humanity. Of course, it would be right and proper for all people everywhere to practice this law among their own kind, but, nevertheless, we Adamites should never forget that it was WE who were given the Law and the assignment (and the genetic inheritance) to do this.

"Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day: And that REPENTANCE and REMISSION OF SINS should be preached in his name AMONG all nations, beginning at Jerusalem." -- Luke 24:46-47.

Although the Greek eis is usually translated as "to" or "into," here "among" captures the meaning best, being consistent with Matt. 13:10-16, which clearly tells us that there are those to whom the Gospel should NOT be preached. There, He was speaking of the scribes and Pharisees, the inventors of Judaism. This is one of the few instances that the KJV translators did not automatically resort to a universalistic meaning.

The important point is that we must understand that neither Jesus, the Apostles, nor Paul ever try to preach the Gospel to non-Israelites. Careless usage of words like nations, Jew and Gentile have clouded the indisputable exclusivity of the original Hebrew and Greek prose.

In Matt. 19:20, the rich young man comes to Jesus and says, concerning the Law, "All these things have I kept from my youth up: what lack I yet?" In essence, he is saying, "What more do you want from me?" Because his worldly status is very high, he cannot see beyond the status quo! He desires nothing greater!!! This is proof that keeping the Law is not enough. Because his focus is still very self-centred, he cannot see the coming of the Kingdom.

There must be an innate appreciation and willingness to obey the Law, but that, in itself, will not accomplish the corporate goal. Without Love (agape, brotherly love), there can be no Kingdom. We must strive to establish a society in which the emphasis is no longer on the Self, but instead, on our immediate racial Family, Friends, Community. We can never lose sight of the fact that the source of our Being is our Family Tree, our racial DNA, which was designed by Yahweh Himself. Let's state this as a formula: Faith = The Law + Brotherly Love.

The difference here is between keeping the Law for your own benefit versus keeping the Law so that all of your brothers and sisters, your racial brethren, will benefit. If that sounds "racist," then so be it. Don't let the Jews and liberals label you. "Racist" and "anti-Semite" are the smear words they use against us, while they oppress us with their own form of tyranny. Wake up! There is nothing wrong with being White, and placing the needs of your own Race and Family, First. That is, after all, what all of the other races do. Does anybody criticize them for doing what comes naturally to them? No! Only White people are being brainwashed into submission!

Christianity has tried, for several hundred years, to convert the heathen. The exact opposite has happened, as, in fact, the world has converted Christianity to heathenism, because today, misguided Christians, in the name of "tolerance," approve of what the heathens promote: homosexuality, abortion, socialism, witchcraft, etc., etc. Where does Yahweh teach us to be tolerant of evil? The bottom line is this:

If We Cannot Practice Our Own Faith among Ourselves, How Can We Possibly Set an Example for the Rest of the World?

We've had enough missionary stew. Let's establish the Kingdom.

"Ye [all Israel] Are the Light of the World. A City That Is Set on a Hill Cannot Be Hid." (Matt. 5:14.) A city is composed of many people, working together to accomplish great things. If we dilute our potential by merely focusing on individual accomplishments, we will never achieve glory.

That City must have the Law as its foundation; but if we only focus on our individual salvation, we are missing the purpose of the Law. Staying out of trouble is a good thing, but that, in itself, is a form of stagnation. Look to your glory! This cannot be achieved by acting alone.

We must elevate each other, as brothers and sisters, through Love. It is interpersonal. It is familial. It is racial. It is the body of Christ. Or, in other words, the Law, without Love, is a dead thing, mere words carved into a stone! By itself, it does not provide the cohesiveness that achieves great things.

It is designed to prevent tragedies and injustice, which is a good thing, a positive application; but true accomplishment comes from giving of ourselves over and above what is required by the Law. The Law provides the structure, but Love gives Life!

This is why Jesus tells us, "And whosoever shall compel thee to walk a mile, Go with Him Twain." (Matt. 5:41.) The Law only asked you to go a mile. There is more to the journey. You won't know who or what you really are until you start going that Extra Mile and beyond!!! Liberty is achieved after the Law has been fulfilled.

That's what the Apostle James called, "The perfect law of liberty." (James 1:25-27.) This must come from deep inside yourself; and it involves challenging yourself to relate to your brethren in more dynamic ways, using patience, skill, and encouragement, to elevate each other.

So, stop being a Christian couch potato! Stop practicing TV Apostianity! Get out there and start building the Kingdom. You cannot have the attitude of the Rapturists, who assume that "heaven" is theirs by default – all they have to do is wait for it!!! You will be "raptured" out into oblivion! They have their "faith," and they will reap its "rewards." In the same way, keeping the Law, by itself, cannot bring the Kingdom into being. That is why, throughout the New Testament, we have the Law punctuated with acts of brotherly love.

There's an old German saying that applies here: "He who attempts much makes many mistakes. He who attempts little makes fewer mistakes. But he who attempts nothing is a lazy dog." The lazy dog, like the rich young man who was satisfied with himself and his earthly status, even though he keeps the Law, has really not accomplished very much! He may think he has, but he has yet to go the extra mile! So, stop patting yourself on the back and start building the Kingdom!(See the parables found at Matt. 25:15-30 and Luke 19:11-27.)

"Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment: because as He is, so are we in this world... If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?? And this commandment have we from Him, that he who loveth God loveth his brother also." -- I John 4:17-21.

From this perspective of the organic unity of the Body of Christ, the Gospel of Personal Salvation is thus seen to be very worldly, self-cantered and self-absorbed, contrary to the Spirit of the Holy Scriptures! It is self-help psychology, wrapped in tinsel and packaged in trite, Christian-sounding slogans.

We Israelites have to think racially and organically, as well as individually. We have to be able to put aside our personal differences in order to bring forth the Kingdom. This goal is both biological and spiritual, and exclusive to US. We all want to be social beings. So, let's do it Yahweh's Way, according to His established order.

Using the Law as the bedrock for our civilization, we can achieve greatness through service, by living for each other, not just for ourselves. A law-abiding citizenry that has as much respect for each other as they do for themselves will accomplish miracles. For us, personal reward is directly related to personal sacrifice, for the good of the organic whole. By giving ourselves up for the good of the Body, we will be fulfilled.

We thrive on teamwork and mutual accomplishment, thereby unleashing our individual talents for the good of the Whole. This is how greatness is achieved; and this is how the unimaginable is achieved! The smug, self-satisfied Israelite is a lost soul, though he may be a keeper of the Law!

Here is how Jesus puts it in Matt. 11:11: "Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist: notwithstanding he that is least in the Kingdom of Heaven is greater than he." Can any of us say that we are greater than John the Baptist? Yet, in the Kingdom, all of us shall exceed what He accomplished on this plane!!! Is this not something to look forward to?

Only the White Race has been able to construct a society on the ideals of individual liberty and personal responsibility, reflecting the same ideals as the Bible. The Magna Carta, Common Law, Trial by Jury, the Constitution of the United States are examples of our ability—to create societies in which government (responsibility) preserves liberty for the individual.

All other societies are based on regimentation and dictatorship. In fact, our Declaration of Independence declares that our rights are derived from God, not from government. Now, we have to appeal to Yahweh once again for deliverance. He will do this for His Remnant, if the Remnant will simply ask Him. But, this must be done in unison, as a family! He is patiently waiting for us to get our act together and make our enquiry.

"Thus saith Yahweh Elohim; I will yet for this reason be enquired of by the house of Israel, to do it for them." (Ezek. 36:37.)

Are we ready to ask for His intervention? Or are we so focused on "self-reliance" that we have become distant from Him, forgetting Him altogether?

Just as the Old Covenant was given to Israel exclusively through Moses, the New Covenant was given exclusively to Israel through the Messiah. Therefore, Christianity, not Judaism, is the TRUE FAITH of the Bible.

The impostor's time is just about up; and True Israel must prepare itself for the Second Coming. The New Jerusalem, as explained in the 21st chapter of Revelation, is NOT the literal city of Jerusalem, as it is very clearly described as descending down from heaven. This feat cannot be done by a literal city. Describing this "great city," Verse 12 tells us it,

"—had a wall great and high, and had twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the Twelve Tribes of the Children of Israel."

Now, tell me, does this symbolism of the number twelve apply to all races? We, the literal children of Israel, are the Bride of Christ. (Verse 9.) It would be against Yahweh's Law for His Son to marry a woman of another race.

A corollary of the earlier quotation from II Esdras is contained in the Book of Revelation: "Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of Satan, Which Say They Are Judah, and are not, but Do Lie; behold, I will make them to Come and Worship before Thy Feet and to know that I have loved thee." (Rev. 3:9)

It does not say all humans will worship before each other's feet. The context is, as I have been trying to explain, ISRAEL, and only Israel. Like the Canaanite woman who also knelt before Jesus and acknowledged Him and His kinsmen as her masters, so will the Jews acknowledge us in the last day, if they desire to be healed. The alternative is destruction. (Zech. 14:21, Ob. 18.)

Yahweh is infinite in His Patience and Mercy with those who are guileless, but He has declared the Judgment Day to be His limit for unrepentant evildoers, who are full of guile. As far as I'm concerned, He has been far too patient!

Old Testament

"Word for Word" Deuteronomy Part 14 Translation by Stephen Howard Anderson

Chapter 19

1. When has cut off 3772 Yahweh Eloheycha the nations that Yahweh Eloheycha gives to you for their land, and you dispossess 3423 them and dwell in their cities, and their houses,

2. three cities you shall set apart to you in the midst of your land, that Yahweh Eloheycha give you to possess.

3. You shall prepare 3559 a way, and divide into three parts 8027 the territory 1366 of your land, that gives you to inherit 5157 Yahweh Eloheycha, to be a place for fleeing 5127 there for all slayers 7523.

4. And this is the matter of the slayer which shall flee there, that he may live: whoever smites 5221 to death another without 1097 knowledge 1847, whom he has not hated 8130 in times 8032 past 8543;

5. As a man goes with another 7453 into the woods 3293 to hew 2404 trees 6086, and he wields 5080 with his hand an axe 1631 to cut down 3772 the tree, and drops off 5394 the iron axe head 1270 from the handle 6086, and hits 4672 his neighbor 7453, and he dies; he shall flee 5127 to one of these cities, and live:

6. lest 6435 pursue 7291 the kinsman avenger 1350 of blood 1818 the slayer 7523, while hot 3179 is his heart 3824 with anger, and overtake 5381 him, because long 7235 is the way 1870, and he smites his being; and it is not 369 just 4941 that he die 4191, for he had not hated 8130 him in times 8032 past 8543.

7. Upon this I command you, saying, 'Three cities you shall set apart.'

8. And if enlarges 7337 Yahweh Eloheycha your borders 1366, as He swore 7650 to your forefathers, and gives you all the land that He spoke of to give your forefathers;

9. for you shall observe 8104 all these commandments 4687 and do them, that I command this day, to love 157 Yahweh Eloheycha, and walk in His Way 1870 all the days; you shall add 3254 three more cities, besides these three.

10. There shall not be poured out 8210 the blood of innocents 5355 within 7130 your land, that Yahweh Eloheycha gives you as an inheritance, and upon you is blood guilt 1818.

11. but if it is that the man hated his neighbor, and lies in wait 693, and rises up 6965 upon him, and smites his being so he dies, and flees into one of these cities:

12. then shall send 7971 the elders 2205 of his own city and take 3947 him from there, and give him into the hand of the kinsman avenger of blood, so he may die.

13. No pity 2347 shall be in your eyes upon him, and you shall remove the blood guilt of the innocent from Yis'rael, that it be well 2896 with you.

14. You shall not move 5253 the boundary 1366 of your neighbor 7453, which was set 1379 before times 7223 in your inheritance 5159, that you shall inherit 5157 in the land that Yahweh Eloheycha gives you to possess 3423.

15. There shall not rise up one witness against a man for any iniquity 5771, or any sin 2403, of all sins 2399 that he sins 2398: by the mouth 6310 of two 8147 witnesses, or by the mouth of three 7969 witnesses, shall rise up the matter.

16. If rise up witnesses harmful 2555 against a man to answer 6030 in defection 5627:

17. then shall stand 5975 both the men that have controversy 7389 before Yahweh, before the priests and the judges, which shall be in those days;

18. and shall inquire 1875 the judges well 3190: and behold, if the witness is a false 8267 witness, and has answered falsely against his kinsman;

19. then you shall do to him that which he had planned 2161 to do to his kinsman. So you shall remove 1197 wickedness 7451 from among you.

20. And those that remain 7604 shall hear, and fear, and shall not again do anymore this wickedness among you.

21. And shall not pity 2347 your eye 5869; life 5315 for life, eye 5869 for eye, tooth 8127 for tooth, hand 3027 for hand, foot 7272 for foot.

CHAPTER 19 NOTES

Chapter 19 is simple, common sense law. The innocent have a safe refuge if they accidentally kill someone, and a deliberate murderer gets turned over to the victim's family for execution. False witnesses get the same punishment they tried to cause to their kinsman by "framing him" with their lies. What perfect justice this is under Yahweh's Law! Why have we allowed this to be changed?

Chapter 20

1. When you go forth to battle 4421 against your hated enemies, and see horses and chariots, a people more numerous than you, do not fear them: because Yahweh Eloheycha is with you, that brought you up from the land of Mits'rayim.

2. And it shall be, when you come near 7126 to the battle, that shall approach 5066 the priest and speak to the people,

3. and shall say to them, "Hear, Yisrael! You approach 7131 this day to battle against your hated enemies: do not be fearful 7390 in your hearts 3824, do not 408 fear 3372, and do not flee 2648, and do not be terrified 6206 of their presence;

4. for Yahweh Eloheychem walks 1980 with you, to fight 3898 for you against your hated enemies, to deliver 3467 you.

5. And shall speak the officers 7860 to the people, saying , "What man is there that has built 1129 a new 2319 house, and has not dedicated 2596 it? Let him go to return to his house, lest he die in battle, and another man dedicates it.

6. And what man has planted 5193 a vineyard 3754, and has not eaten of it 2490? Let him go and return to his house, lest he die in battle, and another man eats of it.

7. And what man has betrothed 781 a wife, and has not taken 3947 her? Let him go, and return to his house, lest he die in battle, and another man takes her."

8. And the officers shall speak further 3254 to the people, and they shall say, "What man is fearful 3373 and weak 7390 of heart 3824? Let him go and return to his house, lest his kinsmen's hearts melt 4549 as his heart."

9. And it shall be, when have made an end 3615 the officers of speaking to the people, that they shall appoint 6485 commanders 8269 of the armies 6635 to lead 7218 the people.

10. When you come near to a city to fight against it, proclaim 7121 to it peace 7965.

11. And it shall be, if peace they answer you, and it opens 6605 to you, then it shall be, all the people found in it shall become forced laborers 4522, and shall serve 5647 you.

12. But if it will not make peace with you, but will do battle with you, then you shall lay siege 6696 upon it.

13. And when gives Yahweh Eloheycha the city into your hand, you shall smite all the males 2138 with the edge of the sword,

14. but the women, and the little ones 2945, and the beasts 929, and all that is in the city, all the spoil 7998 of it, you shall plunder 962 for yourself; and you shall eat of the spoil of your hated enemies 341, which has given Yahweh

Eloheycha to you.

15. Thus you shall do to all the cities very 3966 far off 7350 from you, which are not of the cities of these nations.

16. But of the cities of the cursed seedline people, these that Yahweh Eloheycha gives to you for an inheritance, nothing shall live 2421 of all that breathes 5397:

17. but you shall utterly destroy 2763/2763 them; namely the Chittiy 2850, the Emoriy 567, the Kenaaniy 3669, the Perizziy 6522, the Chiwuiy 2348, and the Yebusiy 2983, as that which commanded to you Yahweh Eloheycha:

18. so that they do not teach 3925 you to do all their abominations 8441 that they do for eloheyhem 430, and you sin against 2398 Yahweh Eloheychem.

19. When you lay siege upon a city for a long time, in making war upon it to capture 8610 it, you shall not destroy 7843 the fruit bearing trees of it by bringing against them an axe 1631: for you may eat of them, and shall not cut them down. Is the tree of the field an adam 120 to go before 6440 you as siege works 4692?

20. Only the trees which you know are not trees for food 3978, you shall destroy by cutting down; and you shall build siege works against the city that does war against you until it is brought down.

CHAPTER 20 NOTES

Chapter 20 is all about battles. There are two different types of cities that Yisrael would have to deal with. The first are non-cursed-seedline cities, in which they have a chance for peace. If they choose peace, they will become servants to Yisrael, and do forced labor. If they did not choose peace, only the men would be killed, but not the women and children. The second type of city is that of the cursed-seedline people. All of the cursed-seedline people were to be killed, including the women and children.

All their possessions, and livestock were to be spoils of war for Yisrael. Yahweh did not want the pure Adamic bloodline of Yisrael mixed with racial aliens, nor for them to learn and adopt the pagan worship practices of the alien people. Yisrael did not completely wipe out these people, and the resulting mixture plagues us yet today.

The pretenders that call themselves Jews are of mixed seedline, and have adopted Babylonian Talmudism as their "religion". Much of the Talmud goes entirely contrary to Scripture, and it is a bunch of "rabbinical commandments" of men. Yahshua Messiah reviled these mixed-seedliners for this, as they had infiltrated even the priesthood in those days. Only pureblood Yisrael is Yisrael, and any mixing disqualifies that individual from the name Yisrael, as it is a polluting of the Holy Seedline.

Christian Jews? (Part 2)

By Willie Martin

WE ARE REMINDED OF THE NATURE OF GOD'S QUARREL with His people of the House of Israel when they first went into Assyrian captivity. He said to them then:

"And when you say, 'We will be like the nations, the races of the land, in serving wood and stone,' what you have in mind shall not be." (Ezekiel 20:32, Smith & Goodspeed Translation)

They were saying then that they preferred to be like the other races even to the adoption of their customs and practices. But god said:

"As I live, saith the Lord God, surely with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out, will I rule over you." (Exodus 20:33)

Apparently some are still reluctant to divorce themselves from thinking they are non-Israelites, but we have God's word for it that He will deal with this. The Lord states:

"And I will cause you to pass under the rod, and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant." (Ezekiel 20:37)

The flat statement that "the Anglo-Saxons are a mixed race" is another wholly erroneous argument. They are no more "mixed" than were the original sons of Jacob, with their different mothers. This idea smacks of racial mongrelisation propaganda which is a subversive endeavour on the part of those leading their influence to it to frustrate God's plan concerning His people

The Jews, on the other hand, are a bastard people; which is the result of the mixing of True Israelites with the other races and peoples of the Earth. Which has been going on since the beginning of time, even before there were Israelites. But for clarity lets start with Esau and his Canaanite wives; Judah and his Canaanite wife; the Israelites who came back from the Babylonian captivity and their non-Israel wives. Therefore, in all honesty, it must be admitted that some Jews have Israelite blood in them, but that does not mean they are Israel. For the Khazars who comprise most of Jewry today are NOT in any way related to the Israelites by blood or any other means.

The records of the early Irish Chronicles disprove the claim that the Coronation Stone which rested in the Coronation Chair in Westminster Abby, until recently, originated in Scotland. It is a known fact of history that this Stone came to Scotland from Ireland and sufficient proof of its antiquity is set forth in the book "The Stone of History," in the Documentary Studies, Vol. 1, pages 265-283. This evidence is ignored by the writer of The Sunday School Times article.

Dr. Gartenhaus bases his refutation of the true origin of this Stone on a microscopic examination of particles of accumulated dust removed from it when it was being cleaned, which seemed to identify it with the territory near Scone in Scotland.

We know that the stone did rest for many hundreds of years in Scotland, having been brought there from Ireland. The articles of dust gathered from the Stone in the process of cleaning it could very readily have for their origin the Scottish location where the Stone had remained for so many centuries.

But there is another fact completely ignored by the Doctor. There are two iron rings connected by short chains fastened to both ends of this Stone. What is the explanation of the fact that these rings are worn very thin as a result of the Stone being carried for a long time, evidently swinging on staves run through them?

We know such an extensive journey was never accomplished in Ireland, Scotland or England where the Stone has been since Jeremiah landed with Tea Tephi on the shores of Ireland, bringing this Stone with them.

If this Stone is indeed the Stone of Jacob, then the rings were worn thin during the forty years it was carried in the wilderness journey from Egypt to the Promised Land.

Dr. Gartenhaus takes the position that there is no Scriptural evidence supporting the view of the distinction between the Northern Kingdom, or House of Israel, and the two tribes of the Southern Kingdom, or House of Judah. He says:

"As concerning the claim that there is a distinction between the two and the House of Israel, my reply is that there is not a single Scripture supporting such a view."

Actually to claim there is no evidence in the Bible of a distinction between the House of Israel and the remainder of the tribes of Israel, regardless of whether the name "Judah" or "Israel" was applied to them, demonstrates either ignorance of the facts or a desire to falsify the record. It is a well-known fact of Biblical history that, even when united in Palestine, the distinction between the House of Israel and the rest of Israel was so marked that Biblical writers have found it necessary to take this into consideration.

There was not a ruler in all Israel who did not have to take this distinction into account; otherwise, he would have been confronted with major political difficulties: "Following the death of Saul, the men of Judah came to David and anointed him king over the House of Judah. Afterward David was informed of what the men of Jabesh-gilead had done in burying Saul and he sent a message to them, commending them for the kindness they had shown toward their former king.

"Another, the captain of Saul's army, took Ish-bosheth, Saul's son, and made him king over eleven tribes (2 Samuel 2:8-10), but the House of Judah pledged their loyalty to David. This distinction between the two houses is clearly marked in the Scriptures long before the time of the division of the Kingdom when the House of Israel revolted from the rule of the House of David after Rehoboam, Solomon's son, came to the throne.

"When Saul was seeking the life of David, the same distinction was made between the armies of Judah and the armies of Israel. This separation between Israel and Judah is further emphasized in the record of the length of David's reign, for the account states that he reigned over the House of Judah for seven years and six months in Hebron and afterward over all Israel for thirty-three year." (2 Samuel 5:5; Promagenesis, p. 443)

Even after David became King of all Israel, he experienced some difficulty in overcoming the prejudices still existing between the two branches of Israel. Eventually, King Rehoboam, the son of Solomon (above), was unable to heal the breach that led the House of Israel to revolt from his rule.

As an example given by Dr. Gartenhaus on which he lays much stress in an effort to show that all twelve tribes (actually 13, which shows that Dr. Gartenhaus never really studied the scriptures) of Israel returned to Palestine in the time of Ezra and Nehemiah is the sacrifice offered by the remnant that returned. The account states:

"Also the children of those that had been carried away, which were come out of the captivity, offered burnt offerings unto the God of Israel, twelve bullocks for all Israel." (Ezra 8:35)

The Doctor assumes that, because the sacrifice called for a bullock for each one of the twelve tribes, all twelve tribes must therefore be present. The Bible, however, does not sustain such a contention, for when only a part of Israel offered a sacrifice unto the God of Israel, that sacrifice had to represent every tribe in the offering made even though all the tribes were not present.

This was true in the instance above quoted, for Ezra states that present at that sacrifice were the children of those who had been carried away into Babylonian captivity; therefore there were no "tribes" of the House of Israel present other than the tribe of Benjamin.

Chapter 2 of Ezra lists those who returned from Babylon and states in the first verse:

"Now these are the children of the province that went up out of the captivity, of those which had been carried away, Whom Nebuchadnezzar the King of Babylon Had Carried Away Unto Babylon, and came again unto Jerusalem and Judah, every one unto his city."

The House of Israel was carried away into Assyrian captivity, not by Nebuchadnezzar but by Shalmanezar, King of Assyria. That there were no tribes from the ten tribes of the House of Israel in the returning remnant, other than the tribe of Benjamin, is shown by the statement:

"Now when the adversaries of Judah and Benjamin heard that the children of the captivity builded the temple." (Ezra 4:1)

It does not mention adversaries of Ephraim, Manasseh, Gad or any of the other tribes of the House of Israel, for none of these tribes were present. It has been pointed out elsewhere that a few "families" of the Northern Kingdom of Israel did remain with the Southern Kingdom of Judah, but this in no way evidenced a "tribal" return of the House of Israel at that time. As a matter of fact, the article titled "What Saith the Scriptures?" points out why it was absolutely impossible for the House of Israel to return to the land of Palestine.

Dr. Gartenhaus next makes a sweeping statement that the prophets use the terms "Israel" and "Judah" interchangeably and that the terms "Jacob," "Israel" and "Judah" are used synonymously. Here is an example of the necessity to "search the Scriptures," making a "study" of God's Written Word rather than limiting oneself to a cursory reading of the Bible.

What the Doctor overlooks is that the term "Israel" can be applied to all the "tribes" and to each individual "tribe," for all were Israelites. However, the qualification of the name "Israel" by the use of the term "House of" can only be applicable to the Northern Kingdom. In the House of Israel there is no "tribe" of Judah. Nevertheless, Judah can be called Israel without the designation "House of," for Judah is a part of all Israel.

The House of Judah was made up of the remaining Israel tribes which were not included in the House of Israel. Bear in mind that any of the tribes of the House of Israel may be designated as Israel, but no tribe singly can be designated as the "House of Israel," for that term signifies the Northern Kingdom as a specific entity. There is not one instance in the Scriptures where the terms "House of Israel" and "House of Judah" are used interchangeably.

Here Dr. Gartenhaus' "case in point" falls to pieces. He quotes 2 Chronicles 19:1 which states that Jehoshaphat was king of Judah; then 2 Chronicles 21:2 which mentions Jehoshaphat as king of Israel. But let us examine the surrounding verses which form the context of 2 Chronicles 21:2. Just four verses previously, in 2 Chronicles 20:35, this statement is made:

"And after this did Jehoshaphat king of Judah join himself with Ahaziah king of Israel, who did very wickedly."

Were Ahaziah and Jehoshaphat both kings of Israel at the same time? Obviously not, or the above quoted verse makes no sense whatever. What is the correct explanation? Simply this, that Jehoshaphat was King of Judah, but because Judah was a part of all Israel, it could be said that he was an Israelite king. Israel was the all inclusive term; Judah was not.

God's Plan For Germany

Adam De Witt

THIS BOOK IS A MUST FOR ALL THOSE WHO HAVE LEARNT THE BRITISH ISRAELITE STANCE AS TO THE ISRAELITE, ask, namely, what part has the German folk?

This book is all the more markworthy for those whose outlook is shaped by the Armstrong's World Wide Church of God. Some may be shocked whilst others may be thrilled to learn of God's Plan for the Germans in his time spell (history).

This book was first printed in German for a German readership and is thus written in the setting of, "we," "us" or "our" German culture, time spell and so forth...

ADAM DE WITT was born of emigrant parents who huddled many a night under the stairs of their town house whilst bombs rained down, laying waste their once lovely city. At the age of eleven his family was again on the move, leading to a life of dwelling in several countries and visiting many others besides. In all he visited 30 lands, studying their histories and gaining first hand experiences of how the world "ticks".

His higher education was in European colleges and his early career was in Europe's film industry where he experienced unusually hidden matters for the first time.

Although his forefathers were Christians, his parents were typical of the between-war generation for whom Christianity made way for socialism Brought up as a socialist, evolutionist and humanist, Adam never even saw a Bible until his late twenties.

Upon returning to Australia he settled down to raise a family. Christianity came to his door by way of numerous zealots doing their evangelical rounds. He listened to what they had to say and became curious to see what other denominations had to say. He soon found that they all seemed to disagree with each other and none seriously understood or studied the Holy Writ enough to overcome their differences. It wasn't long before he was confronted with British Israelitism. Yet here too he found some short-comings. That led to Identity, but here too there were differences of understanding and attitude.

It became clear that Christianity is a growing process, for although God's will and plan is fixed, we as a people are not; we need to grow and throw out the wrong and hold fast to the truth.

Halbrecht Cathedral

GERMANY STANDS ON THE EDGE OF A NEW CENTURY, a fact that means many things for many people. The ultimate question of where we are going can only be truly answered with the benefit of hindsight in the future. That would be hard to do unless we could all have future insight. For most of us that is a luxury not available, therefore we need some guidelines.

When walking a highway, you would like to know where it is heading. What if you don't know? You will need to rely on fixed points and the most helpful would be the starting point. At least if you know where it came from you would have a pretty sound idea where it is leading to, in combination with other details.

This principle is being understood by many people around the world in their effort to strengthen their society, and thereby ensuring their future. Likewise, this principle would be very helpful for the future of Germany. So, with that in mind we should seek out our roots.

Germans have tried just about everything from Communism to Nazism to Social Democracy, Unification, the third way and so forth, yet some-thing still is amiss. Maybe we've looked to the wrong experts.

Identity Crisis

For many Germans, to delve into history, to find a future direction is something to fear. They have a fear of being labelled a Neo Nazi or a Nazi apologist because of WWII. But wait. German history goes back further than WWII. Nor should WWII be seen as the climax of the German character when faced by a crisis. No. I am not going to explain the war away or give an opinion on it directly. But we must clear the air and our minds, before we can truly evaluate our destiny.

So, before we delve into our role in the world, let's get one thing straight. Germans are not war mongers. Statistically we are not. On the whole our history has been one of the most peaceful in Europe and the most culturally rich.

Over a period of 1200 years, Germany has been involved in less wars than any of its neighbours and/or rivals.

When the statistics are broken down into percentages the list of nation's war involvements reads as follows:

Poland (Polen)	58%
England (England)	56%
France (Frankreich)	50%
Russia (Rußland)	46%
Netherlands (Holland)	44%
Italy (Italien)	36%
Germany (Deutsche Staaten)	28%

The problem is, some of the wars we have been involved in, were within living memory. Therefore we must keep things in perspective and not lose sight of the fact we are a people with a thrilling destiny. In fact, there is an ancient prophecy stating that although nations shall overcome us (as experienced at the end of the war) we shall overcome in the end.

This prophecy is, of all places, in the Bible. Later on, we will discover where. With that in mind we can now begin to uncover hidden historical truths, withheld from our folk for too long.

GERMANY IS IN THE HEART OF EUROPE, the "wilderness made ready of god" by the Abrahamic 'Voortrekkers' (pioneers), the Kelts, so that later waves of Saxon-Israelites could found new lands in a tilled area. (Rev 12:6)

The wilderness of Rev 12:14 was not made ready or tilled, it is made up of the settlements that became the Americas, Zuid Afrika, Sud West Africa, Australia, New Zealand and so forth. Out of Europe's 'Heart' came the world's greatest architects, the greatest composers, the greatest scientists and the greatest minds of the Reformation. Germany, Austria, Switzerland and the once German region, the Netherlands, together, make up the most comely and the most lovely Israelite lands on earth despite the ghastly stains of modernism, multiracialism and the shattering of war.

The Paper Curtain

The Berlin Wall

Those withholding the information are aware of the ramifications for our nation should it become widespread knowledge. At the end of this account you too will know why the world's best kept secret is so suppressed. Just as the Berlin wall came down, so too will the paper curtain come down. No, I am not going to get into the holocaust debate.

The paper curtain of misinformation that has beguiled millions of people, particularly since the late 18 hundreds is beginning to rip. This booklet will speed up the shredding process

The Flame

There is a truth like a flame that is spreading from land to land, to conservative groups, to patriot groups, from church to church, quietly crossing denominational lines and often by-passing church leaders. The teaching crosses political ideologies. Many study groups are accepting it, as are many archaeologists, historians and secretly, many politicians. It is being called "Israelite Identity" and has absolutely nothing to do with Judaism.

Those who do not understand it or those who fear it, call it Racism, Cultism, Hatred, Unbiblical, Anglo-Israelitism, White Supremacy, Heresy and New Anti-Semitism. Yet many are saying and teaching that it is Truth, that it can be proved historically, archaeologically and Biblically.

Identifying Heirs and Why

Picture a tramp sleeping down in a back alley. One day a solicitor finds him and asks if the tramp is the man he is looking for. The tramp can prove that he is. It turns out that the tramp is a long-lost grandson of a King that left his estate and Kingdom to him. Do you think identifying the tramp would make a difference to his life? Are other tramps entitled to the future by his birthright? Clearly the difference is very real and only this tramp receives the blessings that come from being an heir.

It is the difference between living in a cardboard box or a palace. Identifying a people correctly makes a difference in their national mental outlook that translates into national performance, not just on an economic level, but also morally.

Many trendy 'intellectuals' hate the word morality. Yet morality governs more than sexual behaviour; it's the difference between suicide or living to live and even procreate on a personal as well as a national level.

So, let's begin to identify who we are...

At school we are taught we come from a bunch of barbarians who came into Europe as part of a mass folk migration from the east, moving West and Northwest. Keep the following in mind. Barbarian, despite modern ideas, does not mean a slob or crude fellow. It was a term that meant, 'one who does not speak Greek or Latin.' The barbarians were often descendants of refugees or people migrating. Refugees or migrants can be seen to lack sophistication because they are in transit, just like a back packer. Our forefathers in Roman times were in transit, they were pioneers carrying out their culture in a wilderness. But their forefathers were very civilised and cultured from whence they migrated. Like the American pioneers who came from cultured lands, they had to start afresh in a wilderness with very little means.

To the British they were 'barbarians'. They lived rough and ready. Yet their bloodline, (like the British) was European. The American 'barbarism' was not due to the people being crude, but rather, the sophisticated and culturally rich pioneers had to live crudely because they were in the wilderness. It is therefore not a case that pioneers are uncultured, rather they have to start with nothing and try to recreate their culture.

The early Europeans who lived outside the 'world' or dominion of Rome were pioneers. The aim of a pioneer is not to become a barbarian. The aim is to recreate the culture left behind but without (what is seen by the pioneer) as intolerable decadence, corruption or a lack of morality. Indeed, most early American pioneers were made up of Christian sects that opted to live a higher moral standard than they felt was possible in their land of birth.

America was settled by Puritans, Mennonites, Quakers, Huguenots, Amish and so on. Can we then liken these folk to the early Europeans, who lived outside the empire of Rome? Certainly, Roman culture was highly decadent and thrived on fleshly passions ranging from gluttony to all manner of sexual activity to ultimate fleshly pursuits ending in spectator viewed deaths.

The Romans were keen to write gruesome accounts of the Celts and Germanics, yet much of this was propaganda or exaggeration, even perverted romanticism to suit various aims. By and large the Celts and Germanics had strong moral codes. They were highly religious. An ancient text proves the origin of their religion to be founded in the Old Testament and that the reason for migrating in the first place was to leave a morally corrupt civilisation, (more on that later)

Jews Boast That New Bible Translation Proves Christ Imposter

Article from The Cross and The Flag June, 1958

TWO THOUSAND YEARS OF CONFLICT BETWEEN JUDAISM AND CHRISTIANITY may be approaching a conclusion with the triumph of the Jewish version of Holy Writ, according to the Jewish scholar Chaim Lieberman, in his new book The Christianity of Sholem Asch.

Christianity, according to Mr. Lieberman, has always been based upon "erroneous translations from the Bible." Christian moderns, however, are "slowly but surely yielding" to the Jewish translation and abandoning 'the notion that their saviour is virgin born," he says.

Quoting from Mr. Lieberman's book "The Revised Standard of the Holy Bible sponsored by the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States of America and published in 1952, has changed the word 'virgin' to 'young woman' in the much disputed verse in Isaiah. Thus an eminent group of Christian scholars at long last have bowed to the truth and yielded to the Jewish point of view."

While he lauds the new Biblical interpretations of Christian modernism, Mr Lieberman lashes out in savage fury at the Jewish writer, Sholem Asch, whom he calls "a desecrator, a misleader and seducer, a traitor to all that is most precious and holy, a corrupter of the house of Israel, an incendiary of the Holy Temple."

The sin of Sholem Asch, in the eyes of Mr. Lieberman, was that he treated empathetically "the principle of Jesus' divinity, the keystone of Christian fundamentalism. The Christological works of Asch, "The Nazarene," "Many" and "The Apostle" are dissected and denounced as Mr. Lieberman continues to write chapter after chapter in an angry and argumentative mood.

Placed in juxtaposition with recent Christian writing, such as the current Apostles of Discord by Ralph L. Roy, "The Christianity of Sholem Asch" takes on a significance unrelated to its literary merit. Endorsed by Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, "Apostles of Discord," states the case for the revised version, with its more elastic translation, identified by Mr. Lieberman as "the Jewish point of view." At the same time there is the injection of personalities, with a select list of fundamentalists, those which Mr. Lieberman calls "Bible believers," subjected to criticism. In essence, the cleavage which exists in Jewish and Christian circles, seems to bring the Christian modernist and the Jew closer together."

"To me, an English public school is ipso facto Christian, since England is a Christian country; and in my opinion it is absurd and even impertinent to send Jewish children to it ... The most ardent champion of Judaism cannot deny that fundamentally, Judaism is anti-Christian." Jewish World, March 3, 1923

Letter to Cressida Dick Metropolitan Police Commissioner

Subject Matt Hancock

Coming of Age

Sir___, It is perhaps indicative of trends in British society that the widely accepted time for coming of age has been altered from twenty-one years to eighteen. This change is from the traditional trinity of sevens (7+7+7=21) to a new combination of three sixes (6+6+6=18).

While the former practice was measured in whole weeks of perfect numbers (7's), the latter is measured in the number of man (6), and is reminiscent of 666 — "the mark of the beast".

The change has not been accompanied by an increase in wisdom or righteousness. Quite the opposite, as recent years have seen a rising tide of lawlessness and immorality in our nation.
Yours Truly, JB, Ireland.

Sir___, I understand you have said that cancer treatment might go on hold until Covid is under control. This will mean cancer patients will be refused lifesaving treatment. That means many will die when, if treated, they could live a full and active life for many more years.

Now we know you are not medically qualified and when it comes to medical matters and in particular Covid, you have not the faintest idea what you are talking about.

It is equally clear you have no legal training or you would know that if as a result of a conscious decision on your part someone dies, that is a definition of murder. If the decision is as a result of stupidity, then that is a definition of manslaughter.

Now I would put money on the fact a large number of Her Majesty's thinking subjects would opt for your stupidity. You, on the other hand, made it through two prestigious universities not known for sending stupid people out into the world. And of course, you would never admit to being stupid but would claim an intelligence not yet witnessed by me.

So it is my intention that, as cancer patients die having been refused treatment on your orders, to lay the information before the police of an allegation of murder for everyone who dies because your decision killed them.

I would suggest before anyone dies you have a word with your legal people and then treat all those people who will die without it on the grounds that they might catch a glorified flu.

What Matt Hancock has said, amounts to a threat to kill. Yours Truly, Albert Burgess.

Re Covid Testing

Sir____, What makes a person go against their beliefs? This is what they are counting on, people doubting themselves. Authority figures are so ingrained in us from birth that when push comes to shove, many of us will cave in. The thought makes me shiver.

Americans Should Never Again Comply With Pandemic Lock-down Orders

I suspect he is leaving it to the governors because I received this today from a friend in South Carolina:

This was just shared with me from a high school friend. I am posting this with her permission. Her niece was not given informed consent prior to testing. Before any medical procedure, we have a right to informed consent.

Just following up on my niece's situation at the nursing home. The National Guard came to her work and tested all of the employees. She was about to quit her job because she didn't believe she should be forced to take the test--she went against her beliefs and was tested. All of the employees 2 weeks ago tested negative. 3 days ago 4 of the employees started showing symptoms, 2 hospitalised, 1 confirmed positive.

Remember she feared that the test was actually infecting people. She said hers and several other co-workers' noses bled when blowing them for days after the test. She is terrified. Her head nurse in her wing was hospitalised and on max oxygen. 3 other people were sent home the same day with 103 fevers.

Mind you they were all Perfectly Healthy when tested. Her entire wing was in quarantine of course and not one patient or employee was showing symptoms. They did temp and symptom checks every time someone came into the building even if they just left for lunch breaks." Yours truly, Sherry.

An Open Letter to Michael Gove

Sir____, Look at this, from the Head of Conservative Woman, Kathy Gyngell, to Michael Gove. She might as well accuse him of mass murder! - Copy below:-

“it is a common view that you and your Cabinet colleagues are not just crassly incompetent, but deliberately taking the country down a very bad route – and that you are doing so after every citizen has effectively been blindfolded, bound and gagged by various arms of the state.”

Dear Michael,

I feel I have no choice but to write to you directly and publicly to say how appalled I am by your part in the government's response to the Covid-19 virus which, in six months, has destroyed the country's economic prospects, and turned us from a democracy into a dictatorship. For what?

For a non-cure that is far worse than the disease. I have known you long enough (about 10 years, I believe) and well enough to tell you the truth.

Your friends in the mainstream press and at the Right-leaning think tanks may still be reluctant to do the same. I suspect they dare not offend you because they need to be under the establishment umbrella. Well, I do not.

You once told me that you admired my website, The Conservative Woman. What follows is a reflection of thousands of our readers and contributors' views. This is not about me or my family but about our country, the one I thought you valued as much as I do.

You may not personally be responsible for every decision made in recent months, but you are at the heart of the Prime Minister's inner circle and chief advocate of the government's coercive and economically ruinous policy, as you were again this weekend.

People ask me what happened to the Michael who I have known to be a highly intelligent, sensitive and attentive listener. I think you – and Sarah, who is herself admirably forthright – will be grateful for being made aware of what people are really thinking and saying about you and your Cabinet colleagues.

It's true that every government in the world was dealt a difficult hand when Covid emerged late last year. Following a precautionary principle, as many Asian countries did straight away when so much remained unknown, would have been wise. However, no such precautions – whether airport screening or test and trace – were deemed necessary.

The Government's policy could be summed up in three words: 'Wash your hands'. By mid-March, when Neil Ferguson's prophecy of doom prompted your government's overnight U-turn from 'herd immunity' to total lock-down, the horse had already bolted. The NHS was culpably lax over this period in securing the necessary PPE and testing that would have protected medical staff, health and care workers.

Since then the best evidence is that the policies of lock-down, Stay at Home/Save Lives/Protect the NHS and social distancing have cost at least as many lives as saved and with very cruel consequences, callously so for the most vulnerable elderly, denying hospital treatment to the group you were meant to be protecting, and, it transpires, for mothers-to-be.

Despite the lack of evidence for it and though there is now much greater understanding of who is most at risk from this disease, you have extended lock-down again and again. Can you deny the basic facts that for anyone under 50 the chances of dying from Covid are negligible, or that the average age of death from Covid at 82.4 years is actually higher than the 81.16 years life expectancy for the UK as a whole, or that the vast majority of the population is at little or no risk?

On Sunday Toby Young, a man whose advice you once followed, set out ten reasons why a second lock-down is a truly terrible idea. Please read them and reconsider your ill-advised threat of Sunday that the new lock-down in England could be extended beyond four weeks if the number of infections does not fall far enough.

How can you continue to treat every British citizen as though they face a very high risk of being hospitalised or even dying as a result of exposure to Covid, when this patently is not true? And why pretend the NHS is overwhelmed when the Nightingale hospitals lie empty? And how, this weekend, could you have bought into and sold the public such a dodgy Covid deaths dossier, your so-called 'realistic worst case' scenarios that lack any credibility an excuse for lock-down? Yours truly, Kathy Gyngell.

An Appreciation

Sir ___, I love getting these types of emails: These messages are simply Shock and Awe for me. I've been brought to tears many times. I've read the bible nearly every day for the 43 years I've been a Christian. I have had more questions than answers. I've tried attending churches, training, studies and seminars. Nothing has ever made sense until I started reading this site. Now, I have many answers but still a few questions such as; is it even possible to trace or know what tribe I am from? Where are the rest of us who are becoming aware of our true identity? Plus others, but for now I'm wondering where the 2520 years of punishment for disobedience comes from? Thank you for all your labors, Robert Stevenson

The $100 Bill

Stay with This One. It Is Makes Sense

Sir ___, It's a slow day in the small town of Pumphandle and the streets are deserted. Times are tough, everybody is in debt, and everybody is living on credit.

A tourist visiting the area drives through town, stops at the motel, and lays a $100 bill on the desk saying he wants to inspect the rooms upstairs to pick one for the night.

As soon as he walks upstairs, the motel owner grabs the bill and runs next door to pay his debt to the butcher. (Stay with this..... and pay attention)

The butcher takes the $100 and runs down the street to retire his debt to the pig farmer. The pig farmer takes the $100 and heads off to pay his bill to his supplier, the Co-op.

The guy at the Co-op takes the $100 and runs to pay his debt to the local prostitute, who has also been facing hard times and has had to offer her "services" on credit.

The hooker rushes to the hotel and pays off her room bill with the hotel Owner. The hotel proprietor then places the $100 back on the counter so the traveller will not suspect anything. At that moment the traveller comes down the stairs, states that the rooms are not satisfactory, picks up the $100 bill and leaves.

No one produced anything. No one earned anything. However, the whole town now thinks that they are out of debt and there is a false atmosphere of optimism and glee.

And that, my friends, is how a "government stimulus package" works! Yours Truly, Alan Spence, Texas, USA.

My Reply

Hi. WONDERFUL! Being chosen to see is an incredible blessing, not many can say that.

Yes, nothing makes sense until you understand who is who first.

Well, as far as tracing what tribe you are from, that's not too hard, but it's probably not one tribe. For example, my parents are both Italian, my Dad has some French relatives and my Mom's dad is German/Irish/Scot. So I am from the tribes of Gad/Naphtali/Reuben and Judah. Maybe Levi too because my dad and his dad were butchers, hehe.

It's hard to say really, but I have info on my site that shows which tribes settles which white nations. You can find these things in the Who's Who menu. Also look in the Calendar section at this year's calendar theme, which is the 12 tribes and their national emblems. See Here.

I'd say you are mostly of Judah. Stevenson is Scottish/English/German. See Here

Leviticus 26:18 And if you will not yet for all this hearken unto Me, then I will punish you seven times more for your sins.

Know Who You Are (Scio te quis sis) By A Legal Expert

Here Is How the Lies Start

MY POSITION OF LATE on going to court has always been: never voluntarily go to court. Live men and women are not meant to be in any place designed solely for the business of fictional entities. When we attend court, we are deemed dead, in fact, they cannot deal with us until we admit to being dead....a legal fiction....a trust. Court is for titled persons: judge, prosecutor, defendant, bailiffs, cops, and attorneys.

Live men and women are not recognized, so it makes sense to send in a dead person—an attorney—to handle our cases .... except for one thing: they do not know how the system works, due to their indoctrination. If you can find one to do as you say, then you will prevail, but most of them would rather hang onto their BAR cards than behave honourably.

The only thing that dead, fictional entities want from us is our life energy, and the only way they can get it is by our agreement. Without us, they cannot function, so, they are desperate to get us into court, to have us pay the debt which they created by charging the trust.

Since common law courts no longer exist, we know that the case never has anything to do with “facts” or live men and women and so, anyone who testifies (talks about the facts of the case) is doomed. ALL courts operate in trust law, based upon ecclesiastical canon law— ritualism, superstition, Satanism, etc.—which manifests as insidious, commercial law and we are in court to take the hit, if they can get us to do so. They use every trick in the book—intimidation, fear, threat, ridicule, rage, and even recesses, in order to change the jurisdiction, when they know they are losing, in order to make us admit that we are the name of the trust. When we do so, we are deemed to be the trustee—the one liable for administering the trust. Ergo, until now, it has been a waste of our time, energy, and emotion to go to a place where it is almost certain that we will be stuck with the liability.

We all know from our indoctrination, programming, and schooling that judges are impartial and have sworn an oath to this effect. This means he must not favour either plaintiff or defendant. But, our experience reveals that he does, indeed, favour the plaintiff, indicating a glaring conflict of interest—that the prosecutor, judge, and clerk all work for the state—the owner of the CQV trust.

So, as the case is NOT about “justice”, it must be about the administration of a trust. They all represent the trust owned by the state and, if we are beneficiary, the only two positions left are Trustee and Executor.

So, if you detect the judge’s partiality, although I doubt the case will get this far, you might just want to let them know that you know this.

If you consider court as entertainment and if you can stand the evil emanating from its officers, the fear and angst oozing from the walls, and the treacherous atmosphere, then go, knowing that under trust law we cannot be the trustee or the executor of a trust, whilst being beneficiary, as that would be a conflict. The position of beneficiary may lack clout, but the other positions hold liability.

Since state employees want to be the beneficiaries of the trust, the only way they can do so is to transfer, to us, the liability which they hold, as trustees and executors, because they also cannot be both the administrators and beneficiary of the trust. So, trusteeship and executorship, i.e.: suretyship, becomes a hot potato and everyone wants to toss it so s/he can be beneficiary of the credit from the trust.

Well, the best way is to get us into court and trick us into unwittingly doing so. But, if we know what has transpired, prior to our being there, it is easy to know what to say so that this doesn't happen. The court clerk is the hot shot, even though it appears as if the judge is. The clerk is the trustee for the CQV owned by the state/province and it is s/he who is responsible for appointing the trustee and the executor for a constructive trust—that particular court case.

When we were born, a trust, called a Cestui Que Vie Trust (“CQV”) was set-up, for our benefit. Evidence of this is the birth certificate. But what is the value which must be conveyed to the trust, in order to create it? It was our right to property (via Birth into this world), our body (via the Live Birth Record), and our souls (via Baptism). Since the state/province which registered the trust is the owner, it is also the trustee.... the one that administers the trust.

So s/he appoints the judge as trustee (the one to administer the trust) and appoints the prosecutor as executor of the trust. The executor is ultimately liable for the charge because it was s/he who brought the case into court (created the constructive trust) on behalf of the state/province which charged the CQV trust. Only an executor/prosecutor can initiate/create a constructive trust and we all know the maxim of law:

Since they, also, wanted to be beneficiary of this trust, they had to come up with ways to get us, as beneficiary, to authorize their charging the trust, allegedly, for our benefit (via our signature on a document: citation, application, etc.), and then, temporarily transfer trusteeship, to us, during the brief time that they want to be the beneficiary of a particular “constructive” trust.

Whoever creates the controversy holds the liability and whoever holds the liability must provide the remedy. This is why all attorneys are mandated to bring their cheque-books to court because if it all goes wrong for them.... meaning either they fail to transfer their liability onto the alleged defendant, or the alleged defendant does not accept their offer of liability, then someone has to credit the trust account in order to off-set the debt. Since the prosecutor is the one who issues bogus paper and charges the trust, it is the Prosecutor/Executor (“PE”) who is in the hot-seat.

This means that a trust can be established anywhere, anytime, and the parties of the trust are quickly, albeit temporarily, put into place. But, since a beneficiary cannot charge a trust—only a trustee can do so—it is the state that charges the trust, but they do so for their benefit, not ours (albeit occasionally we do reap some benefit from that charge but nowhere near the value which they reap. Think bank loan..... we reap a minute percentage of what they gain from our authorization).

When the Name (of the trust), e.g.: JOHN DOE, is called by the Judge aka Administrator aka Trustee (“JAT”), we can stand and ask, “Are you saying that the trust which you are now administrating is the JOHN DOE trust?” This establishes that we know that the Name is a trust, not a live man. What’s the JAT’s first question? “What’s your name?” or “State your name for the record”.

So, the only way, under trust law, for them to be able to charge the trust is to get the authorization from the beneficiary—us, and the only way for them to benefit from their charge is to get us to switch roles—from beneficiary to trustee (the one responsible for the accounting), and for them to switch their role—from trustee to beneficiary because no party can be both, at the same time, i.e.: within the same constructive trust. They must somehow trick us into accepting the role of trustee. Why would we do so when the trust is for our benefit? .... and how do they manage to do this?

We must be very careful not to identify with the name of the trust because doing so makes us the trustee. What does this tell you about the judge? If we know that the judge is the trustee, then we also know that the judge is the Name, but only for this particular, constructive trust. Now, think about all the times that JATs have become so frustrated by our refusal to admit to being the Name that they issue a warrant and then, as soon as the man leaves, he is arrested. How idiotic is that? They must feel foolish for saying, “John Doe is not in court so I’m issuing a warrant for his arrest” and then, the man whom they just admitted is NOT there is arrested because he IS there.

Their desperation makes them insane. They must get us to admit to being the name, or they pay, and we must not accept their coercion, or we pay. Because the JAT is the trustee—
—a precarious position, the best thing to say, in that case, is “JOHN DOE is, indeed, in the court!” Point to the JAT. “It is YOU! As trustee, YOU are JOHN DOE, today, aren’t you?!”

During their frustration over our not admitting to being a trust name—the trustee and/or executor of the trust, we ought to ask who they are. “Before we go any further, I need to know who YOU are.” Address the clerk of the court—the trustee for the CQV trust owned by the state/province, “Are you the CQV’s trustee who has appointed this judge as administrator and trustee of the constructive trust case #12345? Did you also appoint the prosecutor as executor of this constructive trust?”

Then point to the JAT: “So you are the trustee”, then point to the prosecutor, “and you are the executor? And I’m the beneficiary, so, now we know who’s who and, as beneficiary, I authorize you to handle the accounting and dissolve this constructive trust. I now claim my body so I am collapsing the CQV trust which you have charged, as there is no value in it. You have committed fraud against all laws!” Likely, we will not get that far before the JAT will order “Case dismissed” or, even more likely, the PE, as he clings tightly to his cheque-book, will call, “We withdraw the charges”.

We have exposed their fraud of the CQV trust which exists only on presumptions. The CQV has no corpus, no property, ergo, no value. Trusts are created only upon the conveyance of property and can exist only as long as there is value in the trust. But, there is no value in the CQV trust, yet, they continue to charge the trust. That is fraud!

The alleged property is we men and women whom they have deemed to be incompetent, dead, abandoned, lost, bankrupts, or minors, but that is an illusion so, if we claim our body, then we collapse the presumption that the trust has value. They are operating in fraud—something we’ve always known, but now we know how they do it. Our having exposed their fraud gives them only three options:

1. They can dissolve the CQV trust—the one for which the clerk of the court is trustee and from which s/he created a constructive trust—the case—for which s/he appointed the judge and prosecutor titles which hold temporary liability—trustee and executor, respectively. But they cannot dissolve the CQV or the entire global system will collapse because they cannot exist without our energy which they obtain via that CQV trust.

2. They can enforce the existing rules of trust law which means, as trustee, they can set-off their debt and leave us alone. Now they know that we are onto their fraud and every time they go into court to administer a trust account, they will not know if we are the one who will send them to jail. The trustee (judge) is the liable party who will go to jail, and the executor (prosecutor) is the one who enforces this. This is why they want us to take on both titles, because then, not only do we go to jail but also, by signing their paper, we become executor and enforce our own sentence. They cannot afford to violate the ecclesiastical canon laws, out of fear of ending their careers, so they are, again, trapped with no place to run.

3. They can dismiss the cases before they even take the risk of our exposing their fraud .... which also makes no sense because then their careers, again, come to a screeching halt.

What’s a court clerk to do!? Pretty soon, none of these thugs will take any cases because the risk is too great. This will be the end of the court system. ‘Bout bloody time, eh?

Knowledge—not procedure—is power.

The means by which we have attempted to assuage our problems, inflicted upon us by the PTW (powers that were) have all been superficial, compared to the origins of all the black magic, superstition, satanic ritualism, trickery, mind-control, and clandestine practices. Under commercial law, dating back to the Code of Ur-Nammu—around 2100 BCE—the use of another’s property without permission puts one into dishonour and makes him liable for any debts. So, our using UCC forms, bills of exchange, AFV, or bonds, and altering documents of the Roman System can create penalties, as this is trading and/or using the property of a corporation we do not own .... the birth certificate proves that the “name” is, in fact, the property of the corporation which issued it.

We can do all the paper perfectly but, in the end, they say, “Sorry; you’re not one of us.” But, now, we get to inflict fear onto them. When we are forced to court, knowing that the Judge acts as the Trustee and the prosecutor acts as Executor of the CQV Trusts is empowering. It gives us two choices:

1. If we wish to expose the fraud of presumptions, by which the CQV trusts still exist, then the court is the perfect opportunity to have them dissolved or to prove the fraud because the Trustee is sitting on the bench. Dissolving the first CQV, dissolves them all; or,

2. If we are not inclined to use something like the Ecclesiastical Deed Poll to expose the fraud of the CQV Trusts, then, at least, we ought to know that everything the judge says—even if it sounds like a command, order, or sentence—is actually an offer which we can choose to decline (“I do not consent; I do not accept your offer”). This is a fundamental principle of testamentary trusts—the beneficiary can accept or decline what the trustee offers.

For 15 years, I have watched the alleged solutions in commerce come and go and nothing has worked for enough people on enough occasions to call anything a consistent win. Paying for information is insanity because those who sell information clearly have not prevailed or they wouldn’t need to sell anything, would they?

Buying express, private-contract trusts, e.g.: NACRS, is a huge waste of time and money because the entire process is too complicated for anyone with an IQ below 400 and— “no refunds”. I have found no solution in commerce because those who claim to have solutions still insist upon treating symptoms rather than curing the cause—the fraudulent CQV trust.

How the Popes Gave Ireland to England From Our Irish Correspondent

GENERATIONS OF ROMAN CATHOLIC IRISH REPUBLICANS have proclaimed loud and long that the source of all of Ireland’s woes has been the presence of the English. The Emerald Isle, once famed as a land of Saints and Scholars, has been drenched in blood down the centuries, as inhuman fiends posing as patriots have murdered, maimed and massacred, rebelled and waged civil war, often with the blessing of the Roman Catholic clergy, in the supposed cause of Irish freedom.

However the suppressed facts of history are that when King Henry II of England landed with an army of 4.000 at Waterford in October 1171. he came at the Pope’s behest and carrying as his authority the Papal Bull Laudabiliter, by which the Roman Pontiff claimed the right to bestow Ireland as a gift to the English King on condition that he suppressed the ancient Celtic or Culdee Church, and brought the island and its people into submission to Rome.

We reproduce herewith the Bull Laudabiliter by which Pope Adrian IV gave Ireland to England:

“Adrian, bishop, servant of the servants of God, to our well beloved son in Christ, the illustrious King of the English greeting and Apostolic Benediction. Laudably, and profitably, does your majesty contemplate spreading the glory of your name on earth and laying up for yourself the reward of eternal happiness in heaven, in that as becomes a Catholic Prince, you propose to enlarge the boundaries of the Church, to proclaim the truths of the Christian religion to a rude and ignorant people (the Irish), to root out the growth of vice from the field of the Lord: and the better to accomplish this purpose you seek the counsel and goodwill of the Apostolic See.

In pursuing your object the loftier your aim and the greater your discretion, the more prosperous we are assured with God’s assistance will be the progress you will make: for undertakings commenced in the zeal of faith and the love of religion are ever wont to attain to a good end and issue.

Verily as your excellency doth acknowledge, there is no doubt that Ireland, and all the islands on which Christ the sun of righteousness has shone, and which have accepted the doctrines of the Christian faith, belong to the blessed Peter and the Holy Roman Church, wherefore the more pleased are we to plant in them the seed of faith acceptable to God, inasmuch as our conscience warns us that in their case a stricter account will hereafter be required of us.

Whereas then well beloved son in Christ you have expressed to us your desire to enter the island of Ireland in order to subject its people to law (Papal Canon Law) and root out from them the weeds of vice (Ancient Culdee faith) and your willingness to pay an annual tribute to the blessed Peter (the Pope) of one penny from every house, and to maintain the rights of the Churches of that land whole and inviolate. We therefore meeting your pious and laudable desire with due favour, and according a gracious assent to your petition, do hereby declare our will and pleasure, that with a view to enlarging the boundaries of the Church, restraining the downward course of vice, correcting evil customs and planting virtue and for the increase of the Christian religion (Romanism) you shall enter that island and execute whatsoever may tend to the honour of God, and the welfare of the land: and also that the people shall receive you with honour and revere you as their Lord: provided always that the rights of the Churches remain whole and inviolate and saving to the blessed Peter and the Holy Roman Church the annual tribute of one penny for every house.

If then you should carry your project into effect, let it be to your care to instruct that people in good ways of life ... that the Church there may be adorned, that the Christian religion (Romanism) may take root and grow—that you may deserve at God’s hands the fullness of an everlasting reward and may obtain on earth a name renowned throughout the ages.”

Pope Adrian's successor .Alexander III wrote to the Bishops of Ireland calling on them to submit to King Henry:

“Understanding that our dear son in Christ. Henry, illustrious King of England stirred by divine inspiration and with his united forces has subjected to his dominion, that people a barbarous one, uncivilized and ignorant of the Divine Law - we command and enjoin upon you that you will diligently and manfully assist the above said King to maintain and preserve that land and to extirpate the filthiness of such great abominations. .

And if any of the Kings, Princes or persons of the land shall rashly attempt to go against his due oath and fealty pledged to the said King you shall lay ecclesiastical censure on such a one."

In a similar vein Pope Alexander addressed these words to the Princes of Ireland:

“Whereas you have received our dear son in Christ, Henry, illustrious King of England as your king and Lord and have sworn fealty to him

... we ward and admonish your noble order to strive to preserve the fealty which by solemn oath you have made."

The same Roman Pontiff in a letter congratulating Henry on his conquest of Ireland wrote: "We have been assured how you have wonderfully triumphed over the people of Ireland and over a Kingdom which the Roman Emperors, the conquerors of the world left untouched, and you have extended the power of your majesty' over the same people, a race uncivilized and undisciplined.

We understand that you, collecting your splendid naval and land forces have set your mind upon subjugating that people ... so we exhort and beseech your majesty' and enjoin upon you that you will even more intently and strenuously continue ... and earnestly enjoin upon your majesty that you will carefully seek to preserve the rights of the See of St. Peter.'

This was indeed what King Henry did and one of his first acts was to call the Council of Cashel in 1172 at which the ancient Celtic Church of Ireland was brought into submission to the yoke of Roman bondage—As for the Papal insults that the Irish were a rude, ignorant, uncivilized people, had not the missionaries of Patrick's Celtic Church brought the uncorrupted Gospel not only to the rest of the British Isles but to Europe. Was it a savage people who produced such beautifully illuminated Christian manuscripts as the Book of Kells, and who preserved the primitive Christian faith in their communities even under Viking attack, whilst Papal Rome was sunk in the depths of vice and superstition?

The Roman Catholic writer O'Driscoll admits: The Christian Church of Ireland was founded by St. Patrick, existed for many centuries free and unshackled ... and differed on many points from Rome. From the days of Patrick to the Council of Cashel was a bright and glorious career for Ireland. From the sitting of that Council to our own times the lot of Ireland has been unmixed evil and all her "history a tale of woe." Views of Ireland, Vol. 2, Page 84.

It was only when the rest of the British Isles and the British Monarchy embraced Protestantism at the Reformation that the Papacy changed its policy and began to pose as the champion of Irish freedom. The bloody wars, wholesale massacres, and midnight assassinations incited by the Romish clergy in the name of Irish patriotism were in fact conflicts fought purely and simply to secure the continued domination of this island by Roman Catholicism. Papal policy is best summed up in this letter sent to the Irish rebel leader Shane O'Neill by the Roman Catholic Bishop of Mentz - dated in Rome April 28th, 1528:

"My dear son O'Neill, thou and thy fathers are all along faithful to the Mother Church of Rome. His Holiness Paul III now Pope, and the Council of the Holy Fathers there, have lately found a prophecy of one Saint Lazerianus Bishop of Cashel, wherein he saith that the Mother Church of Rome faileth, when in Ireland the Catholic Faith is overcome.

Therefore for the glory of the Mother Church, the honour of St. Peter, and your own secureness suppress heresy and His Holiness' enemies, for when the Roman Faith there perisheth (in Ireland) the See of Rome faileth also. Therefore the Council of Cardinals have thought fit to encourage your country of Ireland as a Sacred Island, being certified whilst the Mother Church hath a son of worth as yourself, and those that shall succour you and join therein, that she will never fall but have more or less hold in Britain in spite of fate." Mant's History of the Irish Church, page 40.

The Irish Republican terrorists currently waging their war of genocide against the Protestant majority in Northern Ireland, loudly demand that we: "Break the British connection and boldly declare that: "Ireland unfree will never be at peace."

Their political philosophy and hence their murder campaign is based on a perversion of Irish history and the deliberate suppression of facts. The real truth is that: Ireland will only truly enjoy peace and liberty when the chains of Roman Catholicism are broken by the Gospel of Christ, and the blight of priest-craft and Popery are banished from our island home for ever.

If vaccines weren't harmful to health, why would pharmaceutical companies be exempt from liability?

This goose has been laying a golden egg for more than a century, at an indescribable toll in human suffering.

Now they want to make vaccinations – not one but regular shots — a condition for participation in society and freedom.

“The practice of medicine may not be the world's oldest profession, but it is often seen to be operating on much the same principles.”

Excerpts from Murder by Injection (1988)
By
Eustace Mullins (henrymakow.com)

Despite the great power of the hidden rulers, I found that only one group has the power to issue life or death sentences to any American — our nation's physicians.

I discovered that these physicians, despite their great power, were themselves subjected to very strict controls over every aspect of their professional lives. These controls, surprisingly enough, were not wielded by any state or federal agency, although almost every other aspect of American life is now under the absolute control of the bureaucracy.

The physicians have their own autocracy, a private trade association, the American Medical Association. This group, which is headquartered in Chicago, Illinois, had gradually built up its power until it assumed total control over medical schools and the accreditation of physicians.

From its earliest inception [in 1847], the American Medical Association has had one principal objective, attaining and defending a total monopoly of the practice of medicine in the United States. From its outset, the AMA made allopathy the basis of its practice. Allopathy was a type of medicine whose practitioners had received training in a recognized academic school of medicine, and who relied heavily on surgical procedures and the use of medications.

The practice of immunization goes directly against the discovery of modern holistic medical experts that the body has a natural immune defence against illness. The Church of Modern Medicine claims that we can only be absolved from the peril of infection by the Holy Water of vaccination, injecting into the system a foreign body of infection, which will then perform a Medical Miracle, and will confer life-long immunity, hence the term, “immunization.”

The greatest heresy any physician can commit is to voice publicly any doubt of any one of the Four Holy Waters, but the most deeply entrenched in modern medical practice is undoubtedly the numerous vaccination programs. They are also the most consistently profitable operations of the Medical Monopoly. Yet one physician, Dr. Henry R. Bybee, of Norfolk, Virginia, has publicly stated, “My honest opinion is that vaccine is the cause of more disease and suffering than anything I could name.

I believe that such diseases as cancer, syphilis, cold sores and many other disease conditions are the direct results of vaccination. Yet, in the state of Virginia, and in many other states, parents are compelled to submit their children to this procedure while the medical profession not only receives its pay for this service, but also makes splendid and prospective patients for the future.” (P 79) —

Another practitioner, Dr. W. B. Clarke of Indiana finds that “Cancer was practically unknown until compulsory vaccination with cowpox vaccine began to be introduced. I have had to deal with a least two hundred cases of cancer, and I never saw a case of cancer in an unvaccinated person.” (P. 81)

Another well-known medical practitioner, Dr. J. M. Peebles of San Francisco, has written a book on vaccine, in which he says,

“The vaccination practice, pushed to the front on all occasions by the medical profession through political connivance made compulsory by the state, has not only become the chief menace and the greatest danger to the health of the rising generation, but likewise the crowning outrage upon the personal liberties of the American citizen; compulsory vaccination, poisoning the crimson currents of the human system with brute-extracted lymph under the strange infatuation that it would prevent smallpox, was one of the darkest blots that disfigured the last century.”

Dr. Peebles refers to the fact that the cowpox vaccine was one of the more peculiar “inventions or discoveries of the Age of Enlightenment.” However, as I have pointed out in “The Curse of Canaan,” the Age of Enlightenment was merely the latest program of the Cult of Baal and its rituals of child sacrifice, which, in one guise or another, has now been with us for some five thousand years. Because of this goal, the Medical Monopoly is also known as “The Society for Crippling Children.” (P 81-82)

(COVID scam perpetrated by the medical profession)

However, the peril of even one state legislature foiling their criminal conspiracy caused the Rockefeller Syndicate to concentrate on perfecting an instrument for controlling each and every state legislature in these United States. This was achieved by setting up the Council of State Governments in Chicago. Its ukases are routinely issued to every state legislator, and such is its totalitarian control that not one legislature has ever failed to follow its dictates.

Edward Jenner (1796-1839) “discovered” that cowpox vaccine would supposedly inoculate persons against the eighteenth-century scourge of smallpox. In fact, smallpox was already on the wane, and some authorities believe it would have vanished by the end of the century, due to a number of contributing factors. After the use of the cowpox vaccine became widespread in England, a smallpox epidemic broke out which killed 22,081 people.

The smallpox epidemics became worse each year that the vaccine was used. In 1872, 44,480 people were killed by it. England finally banned the vaccine in 1948, despite the fact that it was one of the most widely heralded “contributions” which that country had made to modern medicine.

This action came after many years of compulsory vaccination, during which period those who refused to submit to its dangers were hurried off to jail. (p. 83) —Polio has increased 700% in states which have compulsory vaccination. The much-quoted writer on medical problems, Morris Beale, who for years edited his informative publication, Capsule News Digest, from Capitol Hill, offered a standing reward during the years from 1954 to 1960 of $30,000, which he would pay to anyone who could prove that the polio vaccine was not a killer and a fraud. There were no takers.

Medical historians have finally come to the reluctant conclusion that the great flu “epidemic” of 1918 was solely attributable to the widespread use of vaccines. It was the first war in which vaccination was compulsory for all servicemen. The Boston Herald reported that forty-seven soldiers had been killed by vaccination in one month. As a result, the military hospitals were filled, not with wounded combat casualties, but with casualties of the vaccine.

The epidemic was called “the Spanish Influenza,” a deliberately misleading appellation, which was intended to conceal its origin. This flu epidemic claimed twenty million victims; those who survived it were the ones who had refused the vaccine. In recent years, annual recurring epidemics of flu are called “the Russian Flu.” For some reason, the Russians never protest, perhaps because the Rockefellers make regular trips to Moscow to lay down the party line.

The perils of vaccination were already known. Plain Talk magazine notes that “during the Franco-Prussian War, every German soldier was vaccinated. The result was that 53,288 otherwise healthy men developed smallpox. The death rate was high.”

In what is now known as “the Great Swine Flu Massacre,” the President of the United States, Gerald Ford, was enlisted to persuade the public to undergo a national vaccination campaign. The moving force behind the scheme was a $135 million windfall profit for the major drug manufacturers. They had a “swine flu” vaccine which suspicious pig raisers had refused to touch, fearful it might wipe out their crop.

The manufacturers had only tried to get $80 million from the swine breeders; balked in this sale, they turned to the other market, humans. The impetus for the national swine flu vaccine came directly from the Disease Control Centre in Atlanta, Georgia. Perhaps coincidentally, Jimmy Carter, a member of the Trilateral Commission, was then planning his presidential campaign in Georgia. The incumbent President, Gerald Ford, had all the advantages of a massive bureaucracy to aid him in his election campaign, while the ineffectual and little known Jimmy Carter offered no serious threat in the election.

Suddenly, out of Atlanta, came the Center of Disease Control plan for a national immunization campaign against “swine flu.” The fact that there was not a single known case of this flu in the United States did not deter the Medical Monopoly from their scheme.

The swine breeders had been shocked by the demonstrations of the vaccine on a few pigs, which had collapsed and died. One can imagine the anxious conferences in the headquarters of the great drug firms, until one bright young man remarked, “Well if the swine breeders won't inject it into their animals, our only other market is to inject it into people." The Ford sponsored swine flu campaign almost died an early death, when a conscientious public servant, Dr. Anthony Morris, formerly of HEW and then active as director of the Virus Bureau at the Food and Dink Administration, declared that there could be no authentic swine flu vaccine, because there had never been any cases of swine flu on which they could test it. Dr. Morris then went public with his statement that "at no point were the swine flu vaccines effective." He was promptly fired, but the damage had been done. (84-85) Source.

Culture Skills of Ancient Britons

George F. Jowett

Roman Britons Strolling by the Thames

STRANGE AS IT MAY SEEM, it was the enemies of ancient Britain who wrote at length with candour the most faithful description of the early Britons, showing that they possessed an admirable culture, a patriarchal religion, and an epochal history that extended far beyond that of Rome. Modern writers also confirm their testimony.

E. O. Gordon, in Prehistoric London, states that the city of London (Llandn) was founded two hundred and seventy years before Rome, in 1020 B.C.

The famed British archaeologist, Sir Flinders Petrie, discovered at Old Gaza gold ornaments and enamelware of Celtic origin, dated 1500 B.C., and in reverse found Egyptian beads at Stonehenge.

The art of enamelling is early identified with Britain as is the production of tin. The ancient Briton was the inventor of enamelling. He was so perfect in this craft that relics reposing in the British Museum and the Glastonbury Museum, such as the famous Glastonbury bowl (over two thousand years old), and the beautiful Desborough mirror are as perfect as the day they were made. They are magnificent examples of "La Tene" art, as the Celtic design is named, their geometric beauty and excellence being beyond the ability of modern craftsmen to duplicate.

In Early Britain, by Jacquetta Hawkes, we read: "These Yorkshire Celts, beyond all other groups seem to have been responsible for establishing the tradition of La Tene art. . . .

Nearly all the finest pieces are luxuries reflecting the taste of warriors who enjoyed personal magnificence and the trapping out of their wives and horses. Brooches to fasten the Celtic cloak, bracelets, necklaces, pins, hand mirrors, harness fittings: bits and horse armour, helmets, sword scabbards and shields were among the chief vehicles of La Tene art.

They show on the one hand strong plastic modelling, and on the other decorative design incised, in low relief, or picked out in coloured enamel. Both plastically and in the flat the Celtic work shows an extraordinary assurance, often a kind of wild delicacy, far surpassing its Greek prototypes.

In these the finest artists achieved a marvellous control of balanced symmetry in the design and equally in its related spaces."

S. E. Winbold, in Britain B.C. writes: "The Celtic curvilinear art, circa 300 B.C. and of which the famous Glastonbury bowl is a good example, reached its zenith development in Britain."

Roman testimony states that captive Britons taught the Romans the craft of enamelling.

sterling character, ingenuity in commerce, and craftsmanship.

Herodotus, father of profane history circa 450 B.C., wrote of the British Isles and its people, under the name of Cassiterides, remarking on their talent in the metal industry. Julius Caesar, following his campaign in Britain, 55 B.C., wrote with admiration of their culture, their

Teia-Tephi or Scota John Brogan

THERE ARE CURRENTLY TWO OPINIONS in circulation about the name of Zedekiah's daughter, through whom the Royal Descent from David was transferred from Palestine to Britain: was she Tea-Tephi or Scota? The Federation's Committee on Teaching has been looking into this question with a view to clarification and the correction of any erroneous ideas that have been published in the past.

Ever since the publication in 1840 of John Wilson's book Our Israelitish Origin, it has been realised that the Royal House of Britain must have been descended from the Biblical House of David to whom God made promises of an enduring dynasty.

Since our own royal house can, without difficulty, trace its ancestry back to the ancient kings of Ireland, it was necessary to find a connecting link with Zedekiah, the last king of Judah. The Bible tells us that all his sons were slain, but that the king's daughters were taken to Egypt with Jeremiah, after which no more was heard of them (Jer. 43:5-7).

According to traditional Irish history Ireland was ruled by the Milesian dynasty for at least a thousand years before the birth of Christ, and before that by sundry "Pre-Milesian" peoples, the last of whom were the Tuatha De Danaan. The Rev. F.R.A. Glover, without proper evidence, jumped to the conclusion that one of Zedekiah's daughters made her way to Ireland along with Jeremiah, and there married the reigning monarch.

In seeking evidence to support his theory in Irish history, he picked on a lady named Tea who married Heremon, the first Milesian king of Ireland. and he made out that she was also called Tephi.

Glover published his theory in 1861, and a second edition of his book, England the Remnant of Judah, appeared in 1881 shortly before he died. His ideas were then adopted by an American professor of Military Tactics, C. A. L. Totten, in the first five volumes of Our Race published in 1890-92. He was followed by Rev. W. M. H.. Milner in The Royal House of Britain an Enduring Dynasty in 1902 of which the enlarged edition of 1908 has since been reprinted many times.

About 1953 an alternative view was put forward by W. Parker, and was published in the Federation's Bible Research Handbook Serials 113-118.

He pointed out that according to Irish history Miletus, father of Heremon, and founder of the Milesian dynasty had married a lady known as Scota in Egypt before he migrated to Spain on the way to Ireland. At least this theory has the merit of locating the lady in Egypt. a feature that is entirely lacking in case of Tea-Tephi.

Glovers Sources

Without any proper evidence that Tea had come from Egypt, Glover claimed to find this in some old Irish tracts on the origin of the name Temor for Tara, the ancient seat of the Irish kings. Three such documents had been published by George Petrie in 1839. and again by O'Connellan in 1846 in the notes to his translation of The Annals of Ireland (1171-1616). Glover refers to both of these sources, but quoted only those parts that suited his purpose, ignoring the first one altogether.

The first of these tracts was composed by Amergin, chief bard of Dermot, monarch of Ireland in the sixth century. It is summarised by O'Connellan thus:

"Teph or Tephi, a daughter of Bachtir, king of Spain, having been married to Canthon, king of Britain, died there, but her body was brought back to Spain. and a mur or mound was erected to her memory, and called Teph-mur, or the Mound of Teph. Tea, daughter of Lugaidh, son of Ith, and queen of Heremon, the first Milesian monarch of Ireland, having seen the mound of Teph while in Spain, she caused a similar mound to be constructed when she came to Ireland, as a sepulchral monument for herself; and being buried there, it was called Tea-mur, signifying Tea's mound, and hence was derived the name of Tara." (p. 294).

The full text of this tract in Gaelic, with an English translation, is given in Petrie's paper on Tara, pages 129-131 of the Transactions of the Royal Irish Academy, Vol 18 (1839).

The second document produced by Petrie and O'Connellan is a poem attributed to Fintan, a bard of the sixth century. This makes no mention at all of Teph. but it agrees with the first document in saying that Tea was the wife of Heremon, and the daughter of Lugaidh, and that Teamhair was named after her.

The third document is a poem attributed to Cuan O' Lochain who died in 1024, but Petrie points out that the language shows it to be some centuries older than that. It comprises eighteen stanzas or 72 lines of which Glover appears to publish 42, but actually only 38, since he quotes verse 8 a second time with a different translation of the first line.

The first four stanzas relate that Heremon provided a mound for Tea when she died. Verses 5-15 then give an account of the marriage of Teph, daughter of Cino Bactir, to Canthon, a British king, and the return of her body to Spain when she died, and the building of her sepulchre there. Verse 16 explains that this was the model from which Temor, or Tara, was copied. It reads:

"It was in that place, according to arrangement They nobly constructed the first model For that of Temor, of unrivalled form and of delightful and elegant aspect."

Petrie gives a similar translation, and in a footnote (p. 135) says, "The meaning is, that the tomb which was erected in Spain for Teph was the model after which Heremon built the monument or mur of Tea on the hill of Temur, from which it took its name."

Immediately following the poem O'Connellan gives the following summary: "it appears from the foregoing poem that Teph, therein mentioned, daughter of Cino Bactir, king of Brigantia in Spain, was married to Canthon, king of Britain, and as a guarantee that her body should be restored for burial in Spain, the chief idol of the Britons, called Etherun or Taran, was left as a pledge with the king of Spain; and Canthon, king of Britain, having restored the body of Teph, she was buried in a sepulchral mound, from which was taken the model of queen Tea's tomb, called Tea-Mur, from which was derived the name of Temor or Tara" (p.295).

It is evident from these old sources that Tea and Teph were two different women. Teph, the daughter of the leader of the Celtic settlement in Spain, had been married to Canthon a British king. She is otherwise unknown to Irish history. Tea, on the other hand, is a well known person.

She is always said to be the daughter of Lugaidh, the son of Ith, the son of Breogan. She married Heremon, son of Miletus, in Spain before the sons of Miletus migrated to Ireland. Since her ancestry is well known, she cannot have been a daughter of Zedekiah.

The Story of Scota

In an article on "Who were the Scots?" published in The National Message, June 1970, W.E. Filmer pointed out that there were at least two separate groups of Israelites migrating along the Mediterranean Sea from Asia Minor to Spain. The first group to arrive founded a city called Brigantium in the northwest, after passing through the Straits of Gibraltar. The leader of this group is given the eponymous name Breogan in the Irish histories; he was the great - grandfather of Tea.

Another group of Israelites travelled by way of Egypt. Their leader Gaythelus, or Miletus, went to Egypt and assisted Pharaoh Psammitichus in his war against the Ethiopians, and received in reward Scota, said to be the daughter of Pharaoh, to wife, after which they migrated to Spain. Scota was probably the daughter of Zedekiah who had been taken to Egypt by Jeremiah.

Miletus had six sons by Scota, one of whom was Heremon who married Tea in Spain. It is suggested that Miletus had been among the Cimmerian group of Israelites ravaging Asia Minor at that time. Since these Cimmerians included captives taken by Sennacharib in 701

B.C., some of them would be of the tribe of Judah, for Sennacharib came "up against all the fenced cities Judah and took them" (2 Kings 18:13).

It is possible, therefore, that Miletus could have been a Judahite. This is important, since inheritance through the female line could take place only if the lady married one of her own tribe.

The Above table illustrates the suggested relationship between the two ladies Scota and Tea:

Prehistoric London Its Mounds And Circles

By E. O. Gordon ( Published 1946 ) Part 21

LLUDD'S ATTEMPT TO BEAUTIFY THE CITY is thus described in the ancient Welsh MSS. of the Mabinogion preserved in Jesus College, Oxford, translated by Lady Charlotte Guest.

"Lludd ruled prosperously and rebuilt the walls of London and encompassed it about with numberless towers. After that he bade the citizens build houses therein, such as no houses in the kingdom could equal. Moreover he was a mighty warrior and generous and liberal in giving meat and drink to all who sought them, and though he had many castles and cities, this one loved he more than any. And he dwelt therein most part of the year and therefore it was called Caer Lludd and afterwards Caer London."

From the same source we learn that Lludd caused the Isle of Britain to be measured in its length and in its breadth, and in Oxford he found the central point. This is confirmed by Mr. Stanford, the great authority on all topographical matters at the present time. That Oxford was an important centre in early British times is proved by the existence, as we have seen, of a fine prehistoric, artificial circular mound, within the precincts of the ancient royal castle.

It is further recorded that Lludd issued an edict commanding the city to be henceforth called Llund-din instead of Caer Troia. Gildas, the British historian, writing in the sixth century, mentions that the people, headed by Nennius, threatened to rise and depose Lludd if the edict was carried out. He was compelled to give way.

This contention seems to suggest that the old heroic name of Troynovant, bestowed by Brutus on the Porth of the Tain, had never completely superseded the yet older and more popular Kymric title of the Llan-din, from remote antiquity the "seat" of government in the great capital of commerce. If the mounds had not been already there, the resemblance to the historic Troy would not have impressed Brutus. As the sacred name of the Winton survives to this day the official title of the southern capital, in like manner (we venture to think) do the traditions of the Llandin survive in the titles of the Bishop and the Diocese, the Mayor and Corporation of the city of London.

Lludd's two sons were too young to rule, so that by the "voice of the people" Cassivellaunis was crowned king and made military dictator under the title of Pendragon. The city of Trinovantum, with the Duchy of Kent, was given to Androgeus, the Duchy of Cornwall to Tenuantius. In 55 BC. Cæsar landed in Britain. With four thousand chariots Cassivellaunis opposed him. Nennius attacked the 10th Legion.

Cæsar was assailed by Nennius in person. The sword of the great Roman buried itself in the shield of the British prince, and before he could extricate it, the tide of battle separated the combatants, leaving the weapon a trophy to be long afterwards exhibited to the inhabitants of Caer Troia[5]. Nennius died from the effect of the wound inflicted by the famous "Mors Crocca" and was buried in the Bryn Gwyn.

Androgeus, or Avarwy, Lludd's elder son, had made a secret treaty, undertaking to open the gates of London to Cæsar. The plot, however, was unsuccessful. This act of treachery procured for him among the mass of the people the opprobrious name of "Mandubrad," the Black Traitor, perpetuated, in Cæsar's Commentaries, in the form of Manubratius. This man was consigned to eternal infamy in the Triads of his country as the first of the "three capital traitors of the island of Britain."

Avarwy and many of his partisans took refuge from the storm of national execration on board the Roman fleet and returned to Rome with Cæsar after his fifty-five days' campaign. The Black Traitor, Avarwy, died prior to the assassination of Cæsar in Rome.

In the following lines Spenser gives us the history of the events of the next few years:—

"He left two sons, too young to rule aright, Ahdorogcus and Tenantius, pictures of his might."

"Whilst they were young, Cassibalane theirerne
(uncle) Was by the people chosen in theirsted Who on him tooke the royall diademe, And goodly well long time it governed;

Till the prowde Romans him disquieted, And warlike Caesar, tempted with the name Of this sweet island, never conquered, And envying the Briton's blazed fame. (O hideous hunger of dominion) hither came.

"Yettwise they were repulsed backe againe, And twisereinforsht back to their ships did fly
The whilst with blood they all the Shore did staine, And the gray ocean into purple dy:

Ne had they footing found at last perdie. Had not Androgeus, false to native sovele, And envious of uncles soveraintic, Betrayd his countrey unto forreine spoyle, Nought els but treason from the first this land did loyle.

"So by him Cæsar got the victory, Through great bloudshed, and many a sud assay, In which him
seife was charged heavily Of hardy Nennius, whom he yet did slay. But lost his sword, yet to be seene this day.

Thenceforth this land was tributaire made
T'ambitious Rome, and did their rule obey,
Till Arthur all that reckoning defrayd; Yet oft the Briton kings against them strongly swayd.

KING AND HIS SONS

(From old Temple Bar. now in the grounds of St. Dunstan's. Regent's Park)

Now in the vestry porch of St Dunstan-in-the West in Fleet Street.

“Next him Tenantius reigned—” (Faerie Queene, Book II, canto x.)

In the reign of King John we hear of Lludd’s Gate, when in 1215 the Barons came to London to compel the King to sign the Magna Charta. While waiting for the King’s consent, riots broke out. They stormed the Jews’ Quarter in the neighbourhood of Ludgate and used the materials thus obtained in repairing the damage done to the wall and gate.

Evidence of the fact was found some years later, when stones, inscribed with Hebrew characters, were found embedded in the masonry of the gate. In 1260, during the reign of Henry III, the gate was again repaired and adorned with figures of Lludd and his two sons, Androgens and Tenuantius.

During the reign of Edward VI, the populace, in their hatred of all images, knocked off the heads of Lludd and his sons—these were restored by Mary; but during the reign of Elizabeth the gate was entirely taken down and rebuilt, new figures of Lludd and his sons being put on the eastern side. Thus the gate stood till 1760, when it was finally taken down and the statues granted to Sir Francis Gosselin.

The late Marquis of Hertford eventually purchased them with St. Dunstan’s clock. These and the clock he erected in Hertford Villa, Regent’s Park, now called St. Dunstan’s. Lord Londesborough, the present owner, kindly gave the writer permission for photographs to be taken of these historical representations of King Lludd and his sons.

According to the Welsh chronicles and a tradition recorded by Morgan in his Cambrian History, Cassivellaunus, after peace had been concluded at Verulam, chivalrously entertained Cæsar at the White Tower for seven days, while the embarkation of the Roman army was proceeded with in Kent. Colour is lent to this tradition by the fact that one of the towers of the oldest part of the fortifications, the “Salt Tower,” is known to this day as Cæsar’s Tower.

“Salt,” a corruption of Sol (like the Eton montem example of “Salt Hill”), is a name which takes us back to early British times, and suggests that this ancient structure may have been originally the “Clock” Tower of King Belin’s Castle.

When the records of the Tower of London come to be published we may learn if the tradition of Cæsar’s sojourn within its walls has any foundation in fact; and some clue may be found as to the origin of Roman masonry that still may be seen in different parts of the old buildings that on two sides encircle William the Norman’s White Tower.

The Bryn Gwyn in Cæsar’s time, we should remember, was still in its original condition, simply a green conical mound, with no building whatever upon it, consecrated to the service of the Most High, and venerated as the burial-place of two of the most illustrious of our prehistoric British kings, Brutus, the reputed founder of London, and Molmutius, the “Solon” of Britain, of whom Keltic lore records he was a “restorer and protector of the ancient sanctuaries, and of the high-ways that led to them,” showing that the religious monuments of Britain were regarded as old even in his time, circa 500 B.C.

Shortly before Cæsar’s stay at the Tower, Nennius, the British prince, died here in the palace of his forefathers, after a lingering illness of three weeks, from the effects of a wound he had received from Cæsar’s sword (the morscrocea), and had been laid to rest in the bosom of the Holy Hill; an interesting tradition that links the British Gorsedd with historical times.

It is with the continuity of the prehistoric traditions of the Bryn Gwyn that we must now deal; these are certainly worthy of consideration, slender as may be the connection between the Kymric customs and those that still survive, in one or two instances, to the present time. That the White Mount was the seat of a prehistoric observatory is probable from the existence in the basement of a well 150 feet deep, lined with stone throughout like that of the Penton; it is only recently that this ancient well has been enclosed with iron railing; it is now said by the authorities to be a Roman well.
