Dear Reader,

Time to Be Positive During Massive Corruption in Western Governments and Institutions Exposure Continues Apace

However, will this be enough to awaken true Israel's complacent people? Many divine signs have been given; including signs in the sky, chemtrails, sun dimming to mention a few. Then there is the coming auspicious total eclipse in America on April 8, 2024, which passes through 7 towns named Nineveh!

Corruption is nothing new, it has been going on for centuries through bribery and unlawful marriages, enabling Edom to take control of the levers of power in true Israel. The enemy is so deceptive and subtle that its treason was hidden from view, except for some very perceptive people who tried to root it out, but were soon hunted down and assassinated!

The time of Babylon crumbling has arrived, Yahweh declares: "For there is nothing hid, which shall not be manifested; neither was any thing kept secret, but that it should come abroad"

One of the multi pronged deceptions used by the enemy to deceive Yahweh's people was tampering with the Scriptures so as to substitute themselves as His elect while demoting His people to the manufactured name of Gentiles!!

Yahweh has raised up a man, for this time, to counter the great Bible deception. Who after 25 years of work has translated the Bible so as to remove the glaring errors therein. Further details and review will be published in the May edition.

Another man from Australia did a short video showing how the KJV Bible was grammatically tampered with to remove the true Word of Yahweh, by mixing in Egyptian sign Language: See HERE.

Its time to stand firm and occupy till HE comes again and above all learn who the real enemy is! Praise Yahweh!!

DANIEL 1:4 "Children in whom was no blemish, but well favoured, and skilful in all wisdom, and cunning in knowledge, and understanding science, and such as had ability in them to stand in the king's palace, and whom they might teach the learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans."

Comment: The fact that Daniel and other Israelites may have had to learn Chaldean is of little relevance, as it was very similar to Aramaic. From the following Wikipedia article, it is evident that Chaldean is another form of Aramaic:'

Unlike the East Semitic Akkadian speaking Akkadians, Assyrians and Babylonians, whose ancestors had been established in Mesopotamia since at least the 30th century BC, the Chaldeans were not a native Mesopotamian people, but were late 10th or early 9th century BC West Semitic Levantine migrants to the southeastern corner of the region, who had played no part in the previous 3,000 years or so of Sumero — Akkadian and Assyro-Babylonian Mesopotamian civilization and history.

The ancient Chaldeans seem to have migrated into Mesopotamia sometime between c. 940–860 BC, a century or so after other new Semitic arrivals, the Arameans and the Suteans, appeared in Babylonia, c. 1100 BC.

The Assyrian King Shalmaneser III

According to Ran Zadok, they first appear in written record in cylinder inscriptions of the King of Mari Aššur-ketta-lēšir II (late 12th-early 11th century BC), which record them reaching Mesopotamia as early as the 11th century BC.

They later appear in the annals of the Assyrian king Shalmaneser III (above) during the 850's BC. This was a period of weakness in Babylonia, and its ineffectual native kings were unable to prevent new waves of semi-nomadic foreign peoples from invading and settling in the land.

Though belonging to the same West Semitic speaking ethnic group and migrating from the same Levantine regions as the earlier arriving Aramaeans, they are to be differentiated; the Assyrian king Sennacherib, for example, carefully distinguishes them in his inscriptions.

The Chaldeans were for a time able to keep their identity despite the dominant native Assyro-Babylonian (Sumero-Akkadian-derived) culture although, as was the case for the earlier Amorites, Kassites and Suteans before them, by the time Babylon fell in 539 BC, perhaps before, the Chaldeans ceased to exist as a specific race of people.} Source

So, AZ’s idea that either ancient or modern “Hebrew script” is of Assyrian origin is nothing but a Jewish fable!!! Yes, the Judahites – not Jews -- who were subject to the Babylonian captivity must have had to learn Aramaic.

It was the Aramaic language that was brought back to Jerusalem by these Judahites. But Ezra and Nehemiah (above) still knew Hebrew fluently. This is confirmed by the Aramaic Targums, which are translations of the paleo-Hebrew script into Aramaic for the benefit of the restored Israelites of Judah, who no longer understood Hebrew.

The “Apostle” Zimmerman is taking Chabad Lubavitcher rabbis at their word. Would Jesus do this? As explained already the rabbis of Judaism are trained deceivers and pretenders to the heritage of the Torah and Israel.

The fact is that the Babylonian Talmud was carried by the Sephardic rabbis of Babylon (Sepharvaim), who were not Judahites but religious tricksters, into neo-Assyria, where they subsequently set up their Talmudic yeshivas. This Wikipedia article explains:

{Following the Babylonian exile, the Jews {sic, Judahites - Eli} gradually stopped using the Paleo-Hebrew script, and instead adopted a "square" form of the Aramaic alphabet. A similar "square Aramaic script" is still used for contemporary western dialects of Aramaic (Western Neo-Aramaic.

This "square" variant of Aramaic developed from the Hebrew alphabet proper during the Second Temple period, in a process that was not complete before the 1st century CE; for example, the letter samekh developed its closed or circular form only in the middle Hasmonean period, around 100 BCE, and this variant becomes the standard form in early Herodian hands, in the 1st century CE.} [Herod was an Edomite, not a Judahite. Herod was responsible for empowering the Pharisees in Judea. He also tried to murder baby Jesus. – Eli]

{The Samaritan alphabet, on the other hand, remains a direct descendant of the Paleo-Hebrew script.} [This is a very interesting factoid, as it provides proof that the modern Samaritans, who were partially descended from the Ten Northern Tribes, rejected Judaism and the Talmud, as they still do today. – Eli]

The Aramaic alphabet (above) was later adapted [By the rabbis. – Eli] in order to write down the languages of the Jewish Diaspora (Karaïm, Judæo-Arabic, Ladino, Yiddish, etc.), and was retained all the while in relatively unadapted form throughout the diaspora for Hebrew, which remained the language of Jewish law [which is Not the same as biblical or Mosaic Law – Eli], scriptures and scholarship.

The Hebrew alphabet was also retained as the alphabet used for writing down the Hebrew language during its rebirth as an everyday modern language starting in the 18th to 19th century. Source: History of the Hebrew alphabet - Wikipedia)

“Apostle” Zimmerman (above) has uncritically accepted a Lubavitcher opinion, which is only one opinion among many Jewish and Christian opinions. AZ is using a Talmudic source and considers it to be authoritative.

This may impress Judeo-Christians, but it is a bad sign for Identians. It is also apparent that AZ believes that Jews wrote the Old Testament and accepts rabbinical statements about the Bible uncritically.

The Jews did not write the Old Testament. It was written by Israelites and Judahites. It must also be understood that the Masoretic Text is a Talmudic, Jewish redaction of the original Hebrew. The KJV was translated from the Masoretic Text, which means that it is full of rabbinical, not Mosaic, language.

So far, AZ’s claim that everything in his essay is “proven fact” is not holding up very well. It gets worse. Back to AZ’s original article: – Eli] Did you read the above scriptures in your personal paperback/hardback bible today or just only on this website?

[What Scriptures? Is AZ referring to these rabbinical pronouncements as “scripture”? Daniel 1:4 does not support his contentions about either the Assyrian origin of Hebrew or the Judahites being forced to abandon Hebrew. Let’s continue: – Eli]

If only online, I encourage you to please open your bible and read these verses both on our website and in your bible. There is power in reading the real bible. Also, did you pray before beginning to read about this specific subject today? If not, I encourage you to take the time now to pray for understanding of truth.

It is also a documented, well known fact that Daniel wrote Daniel 1:1 until Dan. 2:4 in Paleo-Hebrew. [Thank you. Eli] But when he got to 2:4, he started writing in Assyrian, Babylonian Aramaic.

Comment: Not true! It is Aramaic only. AZ is still following purely rabbinical opinion. Here is how the Encyclopaedia Britannica differentiates Aramaic, Hebrew and Assyrian:

Aramaic is thought to have first appeared among the Aramaeans about the late 11th century BC. By the 8th century BC it had become accepted by the Assyrians as a second language.

The mass deportations of people by the Assyrians and the use of Aramaic as a lingua franca by Babylonian merchants served to spread the language, so that in the 7th and 6th centuries BC it gradually supplanted Akkadian as the lingua franca of the Middle East.

It subsequently became the official language of the Achaemenian (above) Persian dynasty (559–330 BC), though after the conquests of Alexander the Great, Greek displaced it as the official language throughout the former Persian empire— Aramaic dialects survived into Roman times, however, particularly in Palestine and Syria. Aramaic had replaced Hebrew as the language of the Jews [sic. Judahites – Eli] as early as the 6th century BC. Certain portions of the Bible—i.e., the books of Daniel and Ezra—are written in Aramaic, as are the Babylonian and Jerusalem Talmuds.

Among the Jews [sic. Judahites – Eli], Aramaic was used by the common people, while Hebrew remained the language of religion and government and of the upper class. Jesus and the Apostles are believed to have spoken Aramaic, and Aramaic-language translations (Targums) of the Old Testament circulated.

Aramaic continued in wide use until about 650 AD, when it was supplanted by Arabic. [But not among the Israelites. – Eli] Source: Aramaic language Description, History, & Facts Britannica.

English: Cuneiform of Akkadian Language
31 Akk Cuneiform

The original language of Assyria was Akkadian. The fact that Daniel wrote partly in Hebrew and partly in Aramaic is not problematic, because AZ’s false premise, namely, that Hebrew and Aramaic are dialects of Assyrian, is totally false.

From the time of the Babylonian captivity, both Hebrew and Aramaic, two languages which are dialectically similar, were used interchangeably by the House of Judah, by those who were fluent in both. - Eli] Back to Zimmerman: This change of language was required. The Israelites eventually translated the entire scriptures into the Assyrian language [This is Lubavitcher nonsense, as explained in the many commentaries cited above. The fact is that the first Assyrian language Bible wasn’t published until 1852. (WorldBible.org.)

All previous editions were in the Aramaic language. - Eli] in a new corrupt bible called "the Targum" & almost completely lost their original language.

Comment. If we slaughter this dead horse, will we get any beef? – or pork? This is a very bad characterization of what actually happened. The fact is that the Paleo-Hebrew Scriptures were available to the Judahites and to the Herodians all the way through to the destruction of the Temple in 70 AD.

Upon the return of the House of Judah to Jerusalem in the land of Judah, the Aramaic Targums were composed by the Judahite priesthood in order to explain – by reading the Torah aloud in both Hebrew and Aramaic in the Judahite, not Jewish, synagogues -- the paleo-Hebrew Torah to the returned exiles.

It is completely misleading to suggest that the Targums supplanted the original Hebrew scriptures. “Apostle” Zimmerman is confusing the Babylonian Talmudic (Jewish) story with the actual history of the House of Judah. Again, AZ does not demonstrate any knowledge of this most important fact that the “Jewish scriptures” are NOT the Bible. The Pharisaic rabbis later composed the Masoretic Text (MT), which was not completed until around 1000 AD. The MT, not the Aramaic Targums, is the distortion of the original paleo-Hebrew by the Pharisaic rabbis. – Eli]

To this very day, the Jews do not speak Hebrew, but rather Assyrian Aramaic, but with a Jewish dialect. All of this is the documented facts of history! [What the Jews speak today is utterly irrelevant to Scripture! The only thing AZ has documented is rabbinical opinions! - Eli]

They only call it "Hebrew" because it had become the language of the Hebrew people when they were in Babylon. [It is true that modern Jews do not speak Hebrew, but it is nonsense to say that they speak "Assyrian Aramaic" today.

The Jews speak Yiddish, which is a combination of German, Polish and other languages set to the modern Jewish version of "Hebrew," which is based on the Aramaic script. But this is all irrelevant, since the Jews Are Not and Never Have Been true Judah!

AZ has the chronology, the dialects, the ethnicity and the connections all wrong, according to Jewish fables, no less! This is poor scholarship, at its worst!

AZ's analysis is overflowing with Jewish deceit and a lack of outside confirmation. As I have documented, every source outside of reference totally disagrees with his Judeo claims. - Eli]

When you look at most websites that proclaim the Y names, what they are calling the "Hebrew" language is not the Hebrew language. [This is nonsense!

It is not the Yahwists who confuse modern "Hebrew" with paleo-Hebrew. It is AZ who is confused!! AZ is very confused! We know the difference between Jewish "block Hebrew" and paleo-Hebrew.

AZ's version of this history is totally lacking in scholarship. It is childish and silly. - Eli

They are pointing you to the Babylonian Assyrian [More nonsense! About 25% of the Dead Sea Scrolls were written in paleo-Hebrew by the Essenes or their predecessors. The rest is written in an Aramaic script, which is similar to what the rabbis concocted later, with its Masoretic vowel points! The Judahite Essenes left Jerusalem because they were opposed to the distortions of the Hebrew scriptures by the Pharisaic rabbis. – Here is an image of that Aramaic script:

Old Testament
“Word for Word” Exodus Part 27
Translation by Stephen Howard Anderson

Chapter 33

1. And said Yahweh to Mosheh, "Depart, and go up there, you and the people which you have brought up from the land of Mitsrayim, unto the land which I swore unto Abraham, and to Yaaqob, saying, Unto your offspring I will give it':

2. And I will send a messenger before you; and I will drive out 1644 the K'naaniy, the Emoriy, the Chittiy,

3. the Perizziy, the Chiiwiy, and the Yebusiy: unto a land flowing with milk and honey: for I will not go up in the midst of you; because you are a stiff-necked people: and I might consume you on the way."

4. And when the people heard these evil tidings, they mourned 56: and no man put his ornaments 5716 upon him.

5. Because had said Yahweh to Mosheh, "Say to the children of Yisrael, 'You are a stiff-necked people: I will come into the midst of you for one moment 7281, and consume you: therefore put off your ornaments from you, so I may know what to do to you.'"

6. And the children of Yisrael stripped themselves 5337 of their ornaments by the mount Choreb 2772.

7. And took Mosheh the Tent, and pitched 5186 it outside of the camp, far off from the camp, and called it the Tent of Meeting, which was outside of the camp.

8. And it came to be, when Mosheh went out to the Tent, that all the people rose up, and every man stood at his tent door, and looked after Mosheh, until he had entered the Tent.

9. And it came to be, as Mosheh entered the Tent, the cloudy pillar descended, and stood at the door of the Tent, and spoke with Mosheh.

10. And saw all the people the cloudy pillar stand at the door of the Tent: and all the people rose up and every man in his tent door bowed low 7812 .

11. And spoke Yahweh to Mosheh face to face, as a man speaks to his friend. And he returned to the camp: but his servant Yahshua, the son of Nun, stayed in the Tent.

12. And said Mosheh to Yahweh, "See, You say to me, 'Bring up these people': and You have not let me know who You will send with me. Yet You have said, 'I know you by name, and you have also found favor 2580 in My eyes'.

13. Now therefore, please, if I have found favor in Your sight, make me to know Your ways, that I may know You, so that I may find favor in Your eyes: and see that this nation is Your people."

14. And said Yahweh, "My Presence shall go with you, and I will give you rest 5117."

15. And said he to Yahweh, "If Your Presence does not go with me, do not carry us up from here.

16. For how shall it be known here that I and Your people have found favor in Your eyes? Is it not that You go with us? So shall we be set apart 6395, I and Your people, from all the people that are on the face of the land?"

17. and said Yahweh to Mosheh, "I will do this thing also that you have spoken: for you have found favor in My eyes, and I know you by name."

18. And said he, "Please, let me see your Glory!"

19. And said Yahweh, "I will make all My Goodness 2898 pass before you, and I will proclaim 7121 The Name YHWH before you; and I will be gracious 2603 to whom I will be gracious, and will have compassion 7355 upon whom I will have compassion."

20. And said Yahweh, "You may not see My face, because there shall no Adam see and live."

21. And said Yahweh, "Behold, there is a place by Me, and you shall stand upon a rock 6697:

22. And it shall be, while My Glory passes by, that I will put you in a cleft 5366 of the rock, and will cover you over with My hand while I pass by:

23. and I will take away My hand, and you shall see My hinder parts 268: but My face shall not be seen."

Chapter 33 Notes

Yahweh basically tells Mosheh to move on towards the final destination, which is to be in the land of the Kenaaniy. He says He will send a messenger with them, but He will not be among them, as His anger still burns after the sin of the golden calf. Jewelry is a sign of pride, so Yahweh strips them of it. Mosheh continues to act to appease Yahweh, as the chosen people are only seen as set apart because of Yahweh's very presence. Yahweh relents a bit after this, and Mosheh requests to physically see Him. Thus into the next chapters.

standing among them you can see Croaghnaun where Saint Finian, tutor to the Saints of Ireland, built a house. On the mountainside can be seen two tracks made by the feet of a giant's daughter as she slid down into the valley below.

NINE IS A MYSTICAL NUMBER IN IRISH FOLKLORE, being thrice three, itself known from ancient times as a mysterious symbol, and so should you happen across nine stones, you would do well to be extra careful! For who knows what might lie sleeping just below the surface.

And such a place can be found on the saddle between Sliabh Bán, the White Mountain, and what we call Mount Leinster today, which was known to the old people as Suidhe Laighen, or the seat of the meeting place of the men of Leinster.

For uncounted centuries they have stood lonely watch over the gorse and bracken, the heather and bilberry, their only companions an occasional passerby and the red grouse flying overhead. Glittering quartz, much favoured by the ancient Gaels for their construction, is scattered about.

The Nine Stones

Local legend has is that Saint Moling was walking along the road between these two peaks and he happened across an old man who had loaves of bread in his bag. Being starved, he asked the old man for one, but was told there was nothing but rocks in his bag.

“Well,” says he “if there are only rocks in your bag, let them be turned to bread! And if bread, may they change to rocks,” and with that, the bag burst asunder and nine rocks fell out.

Other stories tell that nine shepherds lay buried under the nine stones, while yet others say that nine Carlow soldiers who were coming home from the war in Wexford during the 1798 rebellion died on that spot. Older records speak of nine bandits and yet older, of nine chieftains

The truth is, nobody really knows who put them there or why, and sure wouldn't it be a slow life without mystery!

It used to be the custom of those who walked near them to leave a small pebble on each of the stones, which can be found on the map below.

The End

The Lead Up and Background to The Dresden Disaster By Elizabeth Carto

Dresden at the end of WWII

WHEN WWI BROKE OUT IN 1914, the German Kaiser was having an outing on his yacht, cruising the Baltic. His defence minister at that time also was absent, taking the waters at Carlsbad, Bohemia. Germany was at peace, but England, France, and Russia were very much alert and busy preparing for war against Germany.

By 1918 when the killing fields had been filled with the best of all the young men of all of Europe, the next war could be anticipated. Germany lost substantial territory; the Versailles Treaty divided eastern and western parts of Germany among the winners.

Could no one visualize further upheavals to follow, and were their greed and their envy of Germany finally satisfied? At issue had been its strength in global markets, which the British especially resented. Substantial areas were given to France and Poland. The African colonies were devoured by the British during and before WWI. In South Africa, during the First Boer War (1899-1902), England unleashed against the Boer (Dutch) and installed the first concentration camps ever. 40,000 mostly women and children were the inmates of which 27,000 died of starvation and disease.

Looking further ahead to the 1930's and life in Germany which had recovered only slightly from WWI. When Hitler became chancellor, England very quickly thought of ways and means to finish off Germany for good.

They were lagging behind in industrial output and had lost valuable land in Africa which they could not rustle back from the Boers. Germany suddenly again became an issue to be watched. The Versailles Treaty had given a large section of Upper Silesia in eastern Germany to Poland.

Dresden Before WWII

For a number of years, Polish elements tried to terrorize the German population which was native to that part of Germany for generations.

The situation turned worst with continuing assaults on the Germans by the Poles. Hitler warned them off numerous times but finally decided to move in some German troops to protect the German population.

lost its Empire it is said. In 1945, Poland, fighting Germany, was destroyed by Russia. It became in essence part of their communist empire for 50 years. The last Russian troops left the country in 1991.

If Germany had anticipated WWII, they would never have entered Poland. At that point, no war had broken out at all. However, the British had their offer to Poland couched in friendly terms, should outsiders (Germans), try to move into the German section of Poland.

Between Churchill and Roosevelt (above), a large part of our civilizations ended up behind the Iron Curtain. Germany was divided between East and West. Half was given to Russian communists for over half a century until President Reagan and Gorbachev ended it.

The following document makes clear that the British intention was war against Germany. No doubt, many people still believe today that Hitler was the warmonger in 1939, when in fact the opposite was true. He tried to keep the British out of it and in general, the German people agreed with Hitler that Upper Silesia was part of Germany and rightfully theirs.

Today's upheavals are again caused by outside forces who would like nothing better than to put the United States, again, in the middle of it. The British don't have much to offer, some troops perhaps. NATO is forced into positions where the 31 member countries don't choose for themselves.

The Text

Agreement between the Government of the United Kingdom and the Poland Government regarding Mutual Assistance (with protocol) London, August 25, 1939.

Presented by the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs to Parliaments by Command of His Majesty.

EU NATO

Article 1

Should one of the Contracting Parties become engaged in hostilities with a European Power in consequence of aggression by the latter against that Contracting Party the other Contracting Party will at once give the Contracting Party engaged in hostilities all the support and assistance in its power. Please see HERE.

The warmongers and Israel supporters in the U.S. are controlling NATO. Ukraine is highly unpopular and Israel is being condemned the world over for its gruesome behaviour in Gaza. The 30 million Christian Zionists in our country are controlled by the Jewish media with their lackeys like Hannity.

We all are only too familiar with the outcome of WWII. Churchill became First Lord of the Admiralty on September 3, 1939, when war was declared. He became Prime Minister in May 1940. The minute he came into office, England

We do not need another war that is not in our interest and religion should have no part in it. Let Israel fight now and run later, they cannot survive in the Holy Land forever. Quoting from Sir John Glubb, known as Glubb Pasha, who was the British expert on the Middle East. During his lifetime his work with the Palestinians and many other Arab states, especially with Jordan and the huge numbers that Israel forced out of their homes, he was very popular and truthful. Willis had invited him to address a meeting of conservative Americans in Los Angeles in 1968. He was much admired and The Spotlight sold his published work for many years.

“The Middle East Crisis” (1967): “Peace can be made by dictation or negotiation.”

Dresden was destroyed on February 13-15, 1945. 240 British bombers attacked for two hours, killing old people, women, and children. Dresden has no military targets. The city had no defence. Again, Churchill was the warlord.

The city was attacked for three days. He joyously watched the fires and explosions raining down and knew of the destruction his bombers were causing. There were no human feelings for the sacrificial lambs who died there.

Glorification for monsters like “Bomber Harris” and Churchill, and yes, the Queen Mother, who it was said, had been cheering on the bombers toward Dresden, was soon to follow the haters. The number of burned and melted victims will never be totally known.

Within days afterward, the number of deaths was made public by the local searchers. Rescuers were completely wiped out with the first assault.

The numbers –

35,000 fully identified, 50,000 not identified, but jewelry and wedding bands were found and recognized. 108,000 victims could not be identified, no body parts were left, and the fires had burned and melted them. Today these numbers are still being debated. 20 million Germans were to be eliminated under the Morgenthau Plan before the war ended. Roosevelt was not opposed but he was stopped.

An important source is the memoirs of Vladimir Semjonows from 1945. He worked at the Russian foreign office; the Russians were only about 30 miles away from Dresden that day. He wrote of the terrible picture of Dresden, the heat and smells of a quarter of a million corpses buried underneath the rubble of the town, melted, a terrible stench for days after the “Anglo-American” bombing attacks.

Gaza, as of this date, has a death count of at least 25,000. Just as in Dresden, the number of children killed is very high. Mothers held on to them to get out of the burning streets and buildings; the asphalt was melting. Little children were unable to hang on but were ripped away from their parents and thrown with the flames into the air. Half the dead in Gaza are children; how can anyone not have sympathy with the mothers and children? The butcher Netanyahu promises, while killing the innocents, that he will empty Gaza.

Its History and Recent Destruction of the Most Advanced Civilisation Ever

Caspian-sea; the Usbec Tartars and Moguls, who lie north of Persia and India; and lastly, those of Tibet, who lie north-west of China.” - Encyclopedia Britannica, Vol. III, Edinburgh, 1771, p. 887.

Now compare to the description given by Wikipedia, “Tartary (Latin: Tartaria) or Great Tartary (Latin: Tartaria Magna) was a name used from the Middle Ages until the twentieth century to designate the great tract of northern and central Asia stretching from the Caspian Sea and the Ural Mountains to the Pacific Ocean, settled mostly by Turko-Mongol peoples after the Mongol invasion and the subsequent Turkic migrations.”

Greek mythology Tartarus is both a deity and a place in the underworld. In ancient Orphic sources and in the mystery schools, Tartarus is also the unbounded first-existing entity from which the Light and the cosmos are born.

VOLGA TATARS, Astrakhan Tatars, Lipka Tatars, Crimean Tatars. Daghestan Tatars who lived in the mountains. Nogai Tatars, includes the Karagash subgroup of Nogais—Kundrov Tatars. ### Dictionary Page of Tartarian Words

In the Greek poet Hesiod’s Theogony, c. 700 BC, Tartarus was the third of the primordial deities, following after Chaos and Gaia (Earth), and preceding Eros, and was the father, by Gaia, of the monster Typhon. According to Hyginus, Tartarus was the offspring of Aether and Gaia.

Roman mythology In Roman mythology, Tartarus is the place where sinners are sent. Virgil describes it in the Aeneid as a gigantic place, surrounded by the flaming river Phlegethon and triple walls to prevent sinners from escaping from it.

It is guarded by a hydra with fifty black gaping jaws, which sits at a screeching gate protected by columns of solid adamantine, a substance akin to diamond – so hard that nothing will cut through it. Inside, there is a castle with wide walls, and a tall iron turret.

Tisiphone, one of the Erinyes who represents revenge, stands guard sleepless at the top of this turret lashing a whip. There is a pit inside which is said to extend down into the earth twice as far as the distance from the lands of the living to Olympus.

At the bottom of this pit lie the Titans, the twin sons of Aloeus, and many other sinners. Still more sinners are contained inside Tartarus, with punishments like those of Greek myth.

To add some serious credibility (or to take away some) to the revised his-story, below we find an excerpt from the CIA document declassified in 1998 and created in 1957 about the conspiracy to eliminate Tartary from his-story.

Or let us take the matter of history, which, along with religion, language and literature, constitute the core of a people's cultural heritage. Here again the Communists have interfered.

In a shameless manner. For example, on 9 August 1944, the Central Committee of the Communist Party, sitting in Moscow, issued a directive ordering the party's Tartar Provincial Committee

"to proceed to a scientific revision of the history of Tartaria, to liquidate serious shortcomings and mistakes of a nationalistic character committed by individual writers and historians in dealing with Tartar history."

In other words, Tartar history was to be rewritten—let us be frank, was to be falsified—in order to eliminate references to Great Russian aggressions and to hide the facts of the real course of Tartar-Russian relations.

And this was no isolated case. In every Muslim area within the USSR, historians, on orders of the Communist Party, have rewritten history to distort the facts so that the Russians appear always in a good light.

Needless to say, histories which present the facts truthfully have been withdrawn and destroyed, so that the present and future generations of Muslims are forever denied the chance of learning the true facts of their nations' past.

The Most Ancient Writings of the Tartarians

In 1961, archaeologist Nicolae Vlassa discovered what may be direct evidence of the earliest forms of writing in the world. While conducting an archeological excavation at a Neolithic site in Romania, Vlassa's team uncovered three small clay tablets containing indecipherable etchings, now known as the Tartaria Tablets.

There have been varying interpretations of the meanings of the etchings on the tablets. Some believe the etchings are a primitive form of writing, while others believe they are pictograms, random scribbles, religious symbols, or symbols of ownership.

They base this conclusion upon four assumptions. First, the inscriptions appear to be sequenced in rows. Second, each character appears to have one unequivocal meaning.

Third, there are standard shapes that were used by scribes on other artefacts from the Danube civilization. And fourth, the symbols create a rectilinear shape that is comparable to other archaic writing systems.

The tablets are each about 2½ inches across. Two are rectangular, and one is round. The round tablet and one rectangular tablet have holes drilled through them. The clay tablets were unbaked and were discovered along with 26 clay and stone figurines, a shell bracelet, and damaged human bones. Some believe that the tablets were actually found within a sacrificial burial pit.

While these assumptions lead to the conclusion that the inscriptions were an early form of writing, it is not known what type of writing they represent. Overall, analysis of the Tartaria Tablets has led to many interesting hypotheses about early human culture, and the emergence of communication by writing.

The tablets are inscribed on only one side, and the inscriptions resemble a horned animal, an unclear figure, a vegetal motif, a branch or tree, and a variety of mainly abstract symbols.

While ancient artefacts may initially appear to answer many questions about human civilization, in this instance, it is clear that some finds ultimately lead us to more questions than answers.

There is much scholarly debate as to the meaning of the inscriptions on the tablets. Some scholars have concluded that the inscriptions are an early form of writing (below).

Tarturus in “The” King James Bible

In the KJV bible it reads that after this life we will go to places such as Abaddon, Hades, heaven, hell, Paradise, Sheol, and Tartarus. The vast majority of people believe that there is a life after this one. What are these places? The Old Testament talks about Sheol, the recesses of Sheol, Abaddon, and heaven, while the New Testament uses the terms Hades, hell or Gehenna, the abyss or Tartarus, and the lake of fire, Paradise, and heaven. This study is designed to explain these terms and help you understand what the KJV bible is saying.

Abaddon is another horrible place. It is the place where the angels who sinned in Genesis 6:1-4 are bound. They were and are particularly disobedient evil angels who sinned by having relations with women.

This statement is supported by comparing Jude 6-8 with 1 Peter 3:18-20; 2 Peter 2:4-8 and Luke 8:31. By comparing these verses we discover that these angels sinned before Noah built the ark in Genesis 6. They sinned in Genesis 6:1-4. Jude 6-8 with 1 Peter 3:18-20; 2 Peter 2:4-8 provide the chronology.

As a result, these angels were imprisoned in Abaddon (Old Testament name) or Tartarus (New Testament name). Tartarus is another New Testament name for Abaddon.

The Greek word Tartarus appears in 2 Peter 2:4. For if God did not spare angels when they sinned, but sent them to hell [Tartarus], putting them into gloomy dungeons to be held for judgment. 2 Peter 2:4 (NIV)

Here we are specifically told that it is a place where the bound angels exist. The Tatar Union of the Godless was an organization in the Muslim republics during the purges by the Soviet Union. From 1928 to 1937, Burhan Mansurov served as the chairman of the organization.

The territory presently known as Tatarstan made demands for greater Tatar autonomy within the USSR, which came into conflict with the advocates of a federal system grouped around Joseph Stalin. In 1928, the leaders of the Tatar Union of the Godless were arrested, stripped of Bolshevik Party membership, and some were sentenced to death.

From the book “Chronicles of Border Warfare” by Alexander Scott Withers:

Tartarian Native Americans are considered Hebrew Israelites. It's very possible that the true Hebrew Israelites are Scythian/Tartarian, based on older maps as reference when Tartar (Scythia) encompassed all of Russia, parts of Europe, and Asia. Seems like this is an open secret within the Native American community.

- More than one nation in America had Scythian or Tartarian extraction.
- Native Americans were trafficked to other parts of the globe, including China.
- Native Americans resemble that of Scythians, Tartars, and Samoyed people.
- Continent of Brazil was peopled by Carthaginians and Israelites (Israelites meaning people of the North, aka Scythians)

- Native American descendants were possessed of an extraordinary divine spirit by which they foretold future events; and that this was transmitted to their offspring, provided they obeyed the sacred laws annexed to it.

Absolutely nothing was invented or discovered by “scientists and intellectuals” of the 19th and 20th century. The high civilization Tartar Aryan extracted electromagnetic energy from the Aether through star fort-strongholds, complexes of temples, domes, towers, minarets, and obelisks that used copper.

The energy was processed and stored in toroid coils at the power plant summits, covered with copper, and always positioned below the towers. When rotating inside coils, magnetic fields create electrical charges in a mercury vortex. Hindu energetic complexes exhibit this function at the top of their structures.

Tartars (the oldest in the Asiagenis and the many people already four thousand years the Chinese an enemy) instead of being carried on an active campaign spent, does nevertheless exert winners.

“In a coil of multiple turns of wire, the magnetic field of the turns adds in the centre of the coil, creating a strong field”, says Wikipedia. Copper has high electrical and thermal conductivity and has been mined since the beginning of human history. Venetians (“Phoenicians”) mined copper in New World (America) and Cornwall. Copper ingots used in the Middle East and Europe complex were mined and molten in facilities in the Americas.

China and Tartary Were Interlinked Throughout Modern History Dating Back to 1200 AD

There are a lot of preconceptions attached to Chinese history. Today it is thought that it is exceptionally ancient, that its dating is absolutely reliable, that in many ways it precedes European history.

The common misconception is that allegedly Chinese chronology is solidly based on various ‘Ancient Chinese’ astronomical notes, which allow us to unequivocally date the ‘Ancient Chinese’ events. We analyse the Chinese astronomy and history. We show that dating the first astronomical observations in China to allegedly the sixth millennium BC is a serious error, as the alleged reference to the sunspots on the Chinese crockery of allegedly the fourth millennium BC. The Chinese astronomy of allegedly the second millennium BC on the shells and turtle shells also belong to the same phantoms. As it becomes clear, the First observatories and astronomical permanent service appeared in China not earlier than the 19th century.

The Most Ancient Chinese horoscope of the grandson of the Yellow (Huangdi) Emperor Xuanyan-shi (who allegedly ruled in 2637-2597 B.C.) in fact dates to the 6th March 1725 according to Julian calendar, i.e. the XVIII century!

It appears that the earliest Chinese Yellow Emperor who introduced the epoch of the ‘Great Beginning’ in China is the first Manchurian dynasty Shì-TzuZhang-Huángdì Shun-Chih (1644-1662), i.e. lived in the 17th century, and not at all in the ‘deepest antiquity’.

The astronomical facts prove, that the Most Ancient (Chinese 60-year calendar cycle) was in fact introduced for the first time not until the XIII century.

Halley’s Comet seen over El Paso 1910

We have devoted a large section in [5v2] to the Chinese comets – the most important backbone of the Chinese chronology. We have studied the Chinese comet catalogues in detail. To conclude that the only comet, based on which it could have been possible to try and attempt to prove the validity of the Chinese chronology, is Halley's Comet (picture previous page).

The rest of the comets are absolutely useless for the verification of the chronology of China as well as of any other ancient chronology.

The early history of China up until the 15th century is in fact the history of Europe, Mediterranean, including Byzantium. The historical chronicles narrating about Europe were brought to China by the Hordian conquerors not until the 14th-15th centuries. Later, after the 17th century, in China, these chronicles were erroneously understood as giving an account of allegedly 'ancient Chinese history'.

It was easy to make a mistake particularly because in China for writing they used hieroglyphs, i.e. simply pictures. The understanding of the pictures-hieroglyphs intrinsically depends on the language.

The same hieroglyphs are read entirely differently depending on who is reading them: a Chinese, a Japanese, a Vietnamese, etc.

The proper nouns are represented by the hieroglyphs by way of finding similar sounding hieroglyphs in the Applied Language. Hence the spelling, and therefore the reading, contemporary to us, of an old Chinese name considerably depends on who exactly translated Originally into the hieroglyphic script: a Japanese, a Chinese or a Korean ... Besides, the language evolves too.

A name which used to sound one way would acquire a completely different sound in several hundreds of years in the evolved language – even if the Hieroglyphs, which it was written with, remained the same.

The Invisible Rainbow (Part 2) Suspended Animation By Arthur Firstenburg

Resting metabolic rate does not change, but maximum metabolism does. No cell —no brain cell, no heart cell, no muscle cell—can work to its capacity.

BUT THERE IS A THIRD WAY to slow our rate of living: by poisoning the electron transport chain. One way to do this is to expose it to an electromagnetic field.

And since the 1840's, at a gradual but accelerating rate, we have immersed our world, and all biology, in a thickening fog of such fields, that exert forces on the electrons in our mitochondria and slow them down.

Unlike calorie restriction, this does not promote health. It starves our cells not of calories, but of oxygen.

Where calorie restriction prevents cancer, diabetes, and heart disease, electromagnetic fields promote cancer, diabetes, and heart disease. Where calorie restriction promotes well-being, oxygen deprivation promotes headaches, fatigue, heart palpitation, "brain fog," and muscular aches and pains. But both will slow overall metabolism and prolong life. Industrial electricity in any of its forms always injures. If the injury is not too severe, it also prolongs life.

In an experiment funded by the Atomic Energy Commission, exposure to simple electric shock for one hour each day throughout adulthood increase the average life span of mice by 62 days.

Radio Waves Also Increase Life Span

Radio telescope, Los Alamos National Laboratory

In the late 1960's, a proton accelerator was being built at Los Alamos National Laboratory that was going to use radio waves at a frequency of 800 MHz. As a precaution, forty-eight mice were enrolled in an experiment to see if this radiation might be dangerous for workers in the facility.

Twenty-four of the mice were irradiated at a power level of 43 milliwatts per square centimeter for two hours a day, five days a week, for three years. This is a huge exposure that is powerful enough to produce internal burns. And indeed four of the mice died from burn injuries.

A fifth mouse became so obese that it could not be extracted from the exposure compartment and it died there. But the mice that weren't directly killed by the experiment lived a long time—on average, 19 days longer than the unexposed mice.

In the late 1950's, Charles Süsskind (left) at the University of California, Berkeley received funding from the Air Force to determine the lethal dose of microwave radiation in mice, and to investigate its effects on growth and longevity. At that time, the Air Force thought that 100 milliwatts per square centimeter was a safe dose; Süsskind soon found out that it was not.

It killed most mice within nine minutes. So after that, Süsskind only exposed mice for four and a half minutes at a time. He irradiated one hundred mice for 59 weeks, five days per week for four and a half minutes a day at a power density of 109 milliwatts per square centimeter.

Some of the irradiated mice, which subsequently died, developed extraordinarily high white blood cell counts, and had enlarge lymphoid tissue and enormous liver abscesses. Testicular degeneration occurred in 40 percent of the irradiated mice, and 35 percent developed leukemia.

However, the Un-irradiated mice, although they were much healthier, did not live as long. After 15 months, half the control mice were dead, and only 36 percent of the irradiated ones.

From 1980 to 1982, Chung-Kwang Chou and Arthur William Guy (above) led a famous experiment at the University of Washington. They had a contract with the United States Air Force to investigate the safety of the early warning radar stations recently installed at Beale Air Force Base in California, and on Cape Cod in Massachusetts.

Known as Pave Paws, these were the most powerful radar stations in the world, emitting a peak effective radiated power of about three billion watts and irradiating millions of Americans. The University of Washington team approximated the Pave Paws signals at a “very low” level, irradiating one hundred rats 21.5 hours a day, 7 days a week, for 25 months. The Specific Absorption Rate—approximately that of the average cell phone today—was 0.4 watts per kilogram.

During the two years of the experiment the exposed animals developed four times as many malignant tumours as the control animals. But they lived, on average, 25 days longer.

Recently gerontologists at the University of Illinois exposed cell cultures of mouse fibroblasts to radio waves (50 MHz, 0.5 watts) for either 0, 5, 15, or 30 minutes at a time, twice a week. The treatments lowered the mortality rate of the cells.

The greater the exposure time, the lower the mortality, so that the 30-minute exposure reduced cell death by one-third after seven days, and increased their average life span from 118 days to 138 days.

Even ionising radiation—X-rays and gamma rays—will prolong life if not too intense. Everything from Paramecia to coddling moths to rats and mice to human embryo cells have had their average and/or maximal life spans increased by exposure to ionising radiation.

Even wild chipmunks have been captured, irradiated, and released—and had their average life spans thereby extended.

Rajindar Sohal and Robert Allen, who irradiated house flies at Southern Methodist University, discovered that at moderate doses, an increase in life span occurred only if the flies were placed in compartments small enough so that they could not fly. They concluded that radiation always produces two opposite kinds of effects: injurious effects that shorten the life span, and a reduction in basal metabolic rate that lengthens the life span. If the dose of radiation is low enough, the net effect is a lengthening of life despite obvious injuries.

Loren Carlson and Betty Jackson at the University of Washington School of Medicine reported that rats exposed daily to moderate doses of gamma rays for a year had their lives extended, on average, by 50 percent, but suffered a significant increase in tumours. Their oxygen consumption was reduced by one third.

Have Faith Not Fear

By
Laura Aboli

WHEN YOU STOP FOLLOWING THE CROWD, THE OFFICIAL NARRATIVE, THE UNQUESTIONED ‘SCIENCE’, the accepted collective opinion and you start thinking for yourself, questioning things, following your gut, being in touch with your heart and walking with your bare feet on the ground of truth and reality, then my friend you are on the right track.

You are part of the Great Awakening, which is the only thing that will save us from total and absolute control and enslavement.

Walking ‘barefoot’ in un-chartered territory is not easy, we’ve all stepped on slippery grounds, and walked on terrain so disturbing that it hurts deep in our soul.

But with each step we take, we gain strength, confidence, determination and the courage to accept that we must part ways with some people and embrace the fact that we may have to walk alone. And that’s ok, it’s always better to walk alone on the right path than with those taking you down the wrong one.

You will soon learn that you are never alone, for this new path you are walking on, not only teaches you the truth about the world, it shows you the truth about you, about us, and about The Creator.

The Great Awakening is as much about facing the darkness that surrounds us, as it is about discovering the powerful light within us.

Things may look bad and scary and crazy at the moment, but as you keep walking down this path, you will soon start feeling stronger and wiser and more powerful than ever.

As the world falls apart around you, you will come to yourself like never before, and you will know that you can face anything. Have faith not fear.

The End

The evil was not in bread and circuses, per se, but in the willingness of the people to sell their rights as free men for full bellies and the excitement of the games which would serve to distract them from the other human hungers which bread and circuses can never appease.

More On Carbon Dioxide’s (CO2) Importance In Maintaining Good Health

fermented foods.

CARBON DIOXIDE (CO2) IS A DRIVER OF MITOCHONDRIAL ENERGY PRODUCTION, and improves the delivery of oxygen into your cells. It also protects against the harmful effects of lipid peroxidation

CO2 is also part of the “magic” that makes fermented foods so good for you. During lacto-fermentation, certain lactic acid-producing bacteria break down sugars into acids and CO2. The CO2 is what creates the fizziness in ability to promote gut health. L. reuteri also up-regulates systemic immune responses, thereby promoting wound healing, mental health, metabolism and myoskeletal maintenance, and has been shown to have “antiaging” effects.

CO2-producing bacteria include Lactobacillus brevis, L. reuteri and L. Fermentum

Like L. brevis, L. reuteri is well-known for its

Sauerkraut A Source of CO2

All Lactobacillus strains also inhibit the growth of gram-negative endotoxin producing bacteria through competitive inhibition. Endotoxin is one of several factors that destroy mitochondrial function, promotes glycolysis and, ultimately, cancer metabolism.

Over the past few months, I’ve published several articles discussing the remarkable health benefits of carbon dioxide (CO2), which is produced in the Krebs cycle in your mitochondria.

CO2 is a driver of mitochondrial energy production, and improves the delivery of oxygen into your cells. It also protects against the harmful effects of lipid peroxidation.

Carbonated Water

It’s rather surprising that the benefits of CO2 have become forgotten considering its historical use. Asian cultures, for example, have a long history of using carbonated water for its health benefits.

Roman Bath Somerset UK

The Romans recommended taking baths in naturally carbonated water for all kinds of ailments but especially arthritis, infertility and psychiatric ailments, and this practice extended well into the Middle Ages when monks prescribed it.

To this day many visit natural hot springs, and the likely benefit in many of these springs is the CO2 content of the water.

In the 20th century, Russian scientists did loads of research on CO2, and to this day, many Russian clinics offer CO2 baths and other CO2 treatments. There’s even a suit that can be filled up with CO2, which then diffuses into your tissues. You’ll start feeling hot very rapidly and this is a sign of vasodilation, which is one of the cardiovascular effects of CO2.

It’s been shown that CO2 can, over the long term, reverse arterial calcification, as well as other kinds of damage caused by the aging process. In fact, while this may come as a shock to most people, I believe CO2 is one of the most effective longevity interventions available.

It may also be a crucial component of cancer prevention and treatment, as discussed in one of my interviews with Georgi Dinkov.

Certain Bacteria Produce CO2 During Fermentation CO2 is also part of the “magic” that makes fermented foods so good for you. During lacto-fermentation, certain lactic acid-producing bacteria break down sugars into acids, alcohol and CO2 (among other things). CO2 is what creates the fizziness in fermented foods like sauerkraut or pickles, while the acids create an environment with low pH that is free of oxygen, thereby preventing spoilage. During lacto fermentation, certain lactic acid-producing bacteria break down sugars into acids and CO<sub>2</sub>. The CO<sub>2</sub> is what creates the fizziness in fermented foods.

Lactic acid bacteria, such as Lactobacillus brevis — one of 16 Lactobacillaceae strains — (above) also produce anti-microbial compounds such as bacteriocins that prevent the growth of harmful bacteria that can make you sick.

The Conversation recently highlighted Lactobacillus brevis, referring to it as a “fermentation superstar” for all these reasons.

Aside from fermented veggies, L. brevis is also found in raw milk, wine, sourdough bread and certain cheeses. It’s known to promote digestive health in general, and can help prevent and treat gastric ulcers by inhibiting Helicobacter pylori.

Other health benefits of L. brevis include improved cognitive function and immune function.

Health Benefits of L. Reuteri

Two other strains in the Lactobacillaceae family — L. reuteri and L. fermentum — are also CO<sub>2</sub> producers. Like L. brevis, L. reuteri is well-known for its ability to promote gut health. It also up regulates systemic immune responses, thereby promoting wound healing, mental health, metabolism and myoskeletal maintenance, and has been shown to have “anti-aging” effects.

Research published in 2013 found that aged mice fed a commercially-available L. reuteri-containing probiotic yogurt experienced skin and fur changes that mimic the “peak health and reproductive fitness characteristic of much younger animals,” including a thicker dermis, and thicker, shinier, more lustrous coats. In contrast, age-matched controls that ate chow alone had dull fur and suffered from occasional alopecia and dermatitis.

The researchers pointed out that healthy-looking fur (and hair in humans) tend to be a sign of good fertility, and is a recognized sign of health in general:

“Taken together these facts lead us to hypothesize that probiotics may play a role in effecting the ‘glow of health’ associated with youth and reproductive fitness. Further, we postulated that feeding of probiotic organisms recapitulates these beneficial integumentary effects characteristic of youth within aged adult animals.”

Other documented health benefits of L. reuteri include:

- Anti-microbial effects
- Immune-boosting and immune-regulating effects
- Strengthening the intestinal barrier, thereby decreasing microbial translocation from the gut lumen to other tissues. As a result, a wide variety of diseases rooted in systemic inflammation may be ameliorated

Lactobacillus Inhibits Endotoxin Production

All Lactobacillus strains also inhibit the growth of gram-negative endotoxin-producing bacteria through competitive inhibition, and this is crucial for health in several respects.

Endotoxin, also known as lipopolysaccharide (LPS), is produced by gram-negative bacteria in your gut. As explained in several previous articles, endotoxin is one of several factors that destroy mitochondrial function, promotes glycolysis and, ultimately, cancer metabolism.

When complex carbs aren't digested in your stomach, they travel down to the intestine where they feed these gram-negative bacteria, and as the bacteria grow, multiply and die, they release LPS, which can result in leaky gut, allergic reactions, organ dysfunction and even sepsis.

Endotoxin also catalyzes a series of metabolic reactions that convert tryptophan in your gut to serotonin, which at high levels is not good for your health.

You do not want high levels of serotonin because it's an antimetabolite, meaning it suppresses your body's ability to create energy in your mitochondria in the electron transport chain, so you become tired and fatigued, your metabolic rate slows and you gain weight.

To address this vicious cycle, you need to heal and seal your gut. Beneficial bacteria such as Bifidobacteria and Lactobacillus, and beneficial yeast like Saccharomyces boulardii, can all help rein in the endotoxin production through competitive inhibition.

Probiotics such as these also strengthen your intestinal barrier (the "seal" part of "heal and seal your gut") by increasing mucus production, stimulating release of anti-microbial peptides, and increasing tight junction integrity.

At the same time, you also want to strictly limit your intake of refined sugar and most starches, as these types of carbs tend to feed the bacteria that produce endotoxin, especially if your microbiome is less than optimal.

How to Feed the Lactobacillus in Your Gut

The greater the diversity of your gut microbiome, the more likely you are to be able to maintain overall good health as the beneficial bacteria will maintain homeostasis and make sure opportunistic pathogens (commensal bacteria) won't get the upper hand.

There are three primary ways to increase the number of Lactobacilli and other beneficial bacteria in your gut:

- *Consume fermented foods such as unpasteurized yogurt or kefir made from raw milk, sour cream and fermented vegetables such as sauerkraut.

- *Take a high-quality probiotic supplement that contains one or more strains.

- *Eat foods that promote proliferation of Lactobacilli, such as dietary fibre, Konjac flour, wheat bran, buckwheat, barley, apples, walnuts, artichoke and chokeberry.

The Power of Cinnamon

Sir, Cinnamon has been used for over 4,000 years and was used as a holy anointing oil in the Bible, having incredible therapeutic and antioxidant benefits.

Some of the ways I recommend using cinnamon are:

1. For healing any skin conditions
2. For diabetes
- 3 .Improving energy levels (helps with weight loss and balancing hormones)
4. Helps heal and cure candida (improves UTI)

The cinnamon you're consuming needs to be Ceylon instead of cassia. Ceylon cinnamon is better for you internally and doesn't have any of the side effects that cassia has. Some of the best ways to get cinnamon in your diet are by adding it to your morning smoothie or a homemade dessert, Yours truly, DJ, USA.

Start Walking Barefoot

Sir, Earthing, also called grounding, stems from the idea that in modern city life we no longer have direct physical contact with the Earth, and therefore are losing out on purported health benefits of exchanging electrons with the surface of our planet.

The crisp image TV is able to bring is due to the cable shielding which prevents electrical interference (noise). The cable is wrapped with a conductive sheath that is grounded to the earth to shield any electrical charge from interfering with the wires transmitting data-rich signals inside.

Grounded technology is what has allowed for the complexity of perfect data transfer in today's age of the telecommunication industry through the internet, cable, and telephone.

Ultimate Guide to Earthing

The human body is no different. We require ground to maintain electrical stability—we are electric beings after all—and achieve perfect data transfer between the complexity of our environment (Earth's 24-hour day cycle) and our human circadian rhythm, which informs the myriad of biological processes our bodies perform daily. (See diagram above how each organ of the body has its own grounding connection)

Human beings function optimally when we have a slight negative charge, the same to that of earth, which happens naturally when we connect electrically with the earth via grounding.

The electron-rich natural rhythms of sunlight, lightning, and the earth's hydrologic cycle charge the earth with an unlimited supply of negative ions. When we humans are disconnected from the earth, our bio-electric potential and immune system go deficient.

This happens more rapidly with exposure to man-made electromagnetic frequencies (cell phone, wifi, refrigerator, smart meter etc.) as this man made form of EMF affects tissue repair processes and disturbs immune function through stimulation of various allergic and inflammatory responses. Yours truly, David Griffin, Exeter, UK.

Sir ___, A ridiculously windy day meant I had millions of years of history, geography and atmosphere all to myself.

I have posted this in good faith and nothing more than the desire to share what I found, a quite incredible structure at a site steeped in history and geology. I visited Brimham Rocks, this stone is there and standing as it appears in the picture. It has not been photo shopped. Whether there are internal supports which have been added to maintain the balance, I don't know but I very much doubt it and from my experience of it and from what I could see, it seems that Mother Nature has had no further help in creating this.

Others may know differently, certainly they will believe differently, but as the author of this post, I wanted to clarify that this is where and how the rock is sited. Yes, it is towards the rear of the site, but it is there. Believe in it or not, I would thoroughly recommend a visit to Brimham because there is plenty more to see than just this.

These unusual rock formations came about through glaciation and erosion from wind and rain of the millstone grit sandstone that is found in the area. Geologists have dated the rocks at around 320 million years old.

A large river originating in Norway, and passing through the mountains of northern Scotland, washed grit and sand into a delta that extended across much of the county of Yorkshire. The grit and sand combined with feldspar and quartz formed the sandstone called millstone grit.

Over time nature has carved the rocks into weird and wonderful shapes, earning them nicknames such as the Sphinx, the Eagle, Idol rock, the Turtle, the Camel and the Dancing Bear. The rock shapes we see today were most likely formed by erosion during the last glacial period, which occurred from around 110,000 to 10,000 years ago.

Without plant cover the sand-blasting effect wore down the softer layers of rock, creating unusual shapes such as Idol Rock, on which a giant curved rock balances improbably atop a tiny plinth. Yours truly, Garry Coe, UK.

Where Was The Court of King Arthur II?

Sir ___, Don't let any other nonsense be told to you! The Courts of King Arthur II was Lodge Hill (Hill of the Llys), as discovered by Wilson & Blackett, "Rex Artorius Discovered", page 30: "Various amateur attempts have been made to locate the court or courts of King Arthur and this included an extensive archeological dig on a large hill fort in Somerset in England where King Arthur never was.

These attempts can not succeed because they are founded on a romantic hope rather than careful analysis of the situation.

In order to locate the King and his courts it is necessary to examine the practice and custom of the 6th century "Celtic" Kings of the British and to understand their lifestyle. Once this is done the quite precise location of the Courts of Arthur is in fact possible."

Link HERE

Now at Caerleon there was a great ruin of the Roman Legionary Fortress, which covered over forty eight acres. This was abandoned long before the time of King Arthur ap Meurig ap Tewdrig and was not occupied during the 6th century.

Nonetheless this has not prevented the inquiry after King Arthur from being directed at this ruined Roman site. This is in fact foolish, for the "Celtic" Kings did not occupy huge stone fortresses set on flat, indefensible plains. They used the techniques of their forefathers and occupied hill forts, set on the top of steep sloped, easily defended hills.

Significantly the ideal spot for the defence of central Gwent is a very steep hill which stands just half a mile to the North of the Roman ruins at Caerleon.

The view from the top of this hill is stupendous. It dominates the tidal reaches of the River Usk down the shores of the Severn and stands above the entrances of the valleys of the Usk and Ebbw rivers and central Gwent." Yours truly, Monica, E. UK

Remedy - Dental Infections

Sir___, I've recently saved four lives from certain death from tooth infections.

Often a dentist will say that the tooth must be extracted, it's too far gone. The sufferer will feel extensive pain and possibly the progression of the infection into the palate and up into the brain - which means Death is imminent.

All one need do is apply tea tree oil with a clean, dry finger to the gum around the base of the tooth. Use another finger to apply on the other side, and yet another to apply in areas extended therefrom.

See if this works over the course of a few hours. If the infection persists, reapply the tea tree oil, and additionally do the same with oregano oil, clove oil and cinnamon (real cinnamon) oils. The combination of these four oils is Certain to stop the infection!

Naturopathic dentists are taught wrongly to say that tea tree and the other oils are very strong and ought to be administered in diluted form by way of a carrier oil such as coconut oil.

No! Tooth infections are life-threatening: the Strength of these oils is precisely the means to get through the gums to the source of the infection and eradicate it.

Having cleared the infection, one can then act so as to rebuild the base of the tooth with calcium hydroxyapatite, (boneknit comfrey left) tea, and foods such as (organic!!!) yogurts and cheeses.

So please acquire these four oils. Have them on hand to help anyone who may so suffer. They can be used for many other purposes, as well.

I have a whole presentation on the Medical Bag that we should all keep handy, whether at home or driving in a car.

I'd strongly advise one more for all: given that each of us has been exposed to cv injectees (whether by arm and/or nose) and subjected to their shedding, it is essential that we take EDTA, minimally, to interrupt the formation of self-assembling synthetic biologic nano-tech. Yours truly, Susan, USA.

race, and labelled a Nazi (Stalin even made such studies the death penalty during his campaign of mass-murdering 66 million of his own people, which was highlighted by Nobel Prize-winner Alexander Solzhenitsyn (below) and numerous other prominent authors).

In America you also got labelled a Nazi and were banned or destroyed in other ways. Rather than let the light shine, darkness and lies about it has been a weapon of destroying the Nations God made good.

It says all His creation was good, including those He created in the earlier creation, such species or races are highlighted as mainstream theology in the below text. This “covering up” and hiding of truth has caused things to go haywire for all races.

Segregation

Sir_. Is there a good spiritual basis in the dominant Christian separatist doctrine that kept nearly 100% of America’s churches racially segregated through the 1960’s?

The below genetics studies, mainstream Universities and theology textbooks, demonstrate that the non-white races did not descend from the 6,000 year old Adamic-man, but were part of the “older races”. This has been the universally held position, and the advances in science have only further proven it, never refuted.

Isaiah 85:10 “Mercy and truth are met together; righteousness and peace have kissed each other.”

Since Soviet Communist times, Christians have been violently bullied into stopping all study of Mainly if there’s disrespect for one, there’s disrespect for all. As we see everywhere, the forced integration programs have only led to more chaos. Even through the 1990’s we saw top Harvard University Professors in the faculties of Anthropology violently attacked, but not discredited.

However, as you will read herein, that now with the advent of the field of genetics, the proponents of the “old race” theories have been vindicated. These which were badly attacked for speaking the truth, have all been vindicated 100 x over as being absolutely correct.

We now see in the latest DNA studies, the verifiable proof that there are no common ancestors between the distinct races, but these all are actually different species. (However, a subset of these scientists will leave room for a tiny possibility that millions of years before Adam man was created and placed on earth, that a common ancestor could have factored in on one of the roots, but not all.)

This study for the true tolerance, acceptance, and respect of all races is long overdue. St Andrew’s OCC and any other Jesus loving or freedom loving institution should do the same. More ministries should ask for rights to publish this good study by Priory of Salem, Institute of Peace Studies.

The 7th Century Memorial Stone of King Cadfan of Gwynedd

Sir _____, In Latin, it describes Cadfan as the wisest and most renowned of kings.

The language is imperial in style and probably the choice of his son, King Cadwallon of Gwynedd who vied with King Edwin of Northumbria for supremacy in 7th-Century Britain.

In 633, Cadwallon was the senior partner in a coalition that attacked Northumbria. The campaign was a success, and Cadwallon briefly took control of the most northerly of the Anglo-Saxon kingdoms.

He was a “rapacious and bloody tyrant” according to the Venerable Bede (who was Northumbrian and naturally biased); the “Champion of the Britons” according to the Welsh poets.

In 634, Cadwallon was killed fighting the Northumbrians at the battle of Heavenfield, close to Hadrian’s Wall. After his death, there would be no serious British challenge to the Anglo-Saxon dominance of lowland Britain.

It’s worth reading the linked piece by Professor Nancy Edwards on the memorial stone to his father Here.

Known as the Cadfan or Catamanus stone, it’s in the church at Llangadwaladr, near Aberffraw on the island of Anglesey, which may have been the heartland of the early medieval kingdom of Gwynedd. It’s not to be confused with the other ‘Cadfan stone’ - at Tywyn on the Welsh mainland - which is carved with the oldest example of written Welsh.

The church at LLangadwaladr was probably a place of royal burial. It’s still dedicated to Cadwaladr, grandson of Cadfan and son of Cadwallon, king of Gwynedd like them—and also saint. Yours truly, Paul Challenger. UK.

The Same Old Game - Parasites Killing The Host By John Kaminski

The World Being Suicided

JEWISH WORLD PSYCHOPATHY, infecting every country with their irresistible bribes and insincere promises, which they never keep. So this is the face of Bill Gates’s idea of population control. No, not needles in the arms of virile young men on soccer fields, terminating their lives in poisoned paroxysms of pharmaceutical perfidy.

I’m talking about bombs from above, obliterating useless eaters where they stand, condemned by the Talmud for being ordinary, innocent humans who never wanted to kill anybody. I’m talking about Gaza.

Little Arab babies lined up on a cement slab, their faces swabbed in dust and caked dry blood, their dreams, the dreams of little kids who just wanted to go out and play, their dreams are frozen in time, just like their bodies turned to instant kosher statues, rigid and cold, with perhaps a bullet hole in their foreheads, neatly wrapped in plastic shrouds, their grief stricken parents whose hearts are wracked by the pain of knowing their lives had come to this.

Their kids lying dead in the dust of civilization turned to dust, while smarmy Jews in faraway synagogues smugly sneer and say, “This is the way it had to be, those Amalek, they are so bad, we knew we had to kill them to get them off the land God promised to us,” they muttered snidely on the ruined patch of desert they had stolen not so many years before.

No one in world history has ever been as bad as the people who have done this. And, they have done this for thousands of years.

Remember the 250,000 Cassius Dio said Jews had killed on Cyprus in the days of the Roman Empire, made ghastly fashion ornaments out of shards of corpses they had slaughtered and eaten as the blood oozed from their foul mouths as they screamed insane epithets about anti-Semitism. Remember the hundred million Christians they murdered in the frozen gulags of Russia while inflicting Communist dementia on starving peasants over the course of the early 20th century.

In order to pull off today’s mad caper in Gaza, Jewish soldiers had to gun down a bunch of their own neighbours to make their feigned outrage look convincing — what’s a few more dead bodies here and there, when it comes to making the Holy Land fit for the Chosen People? That’s all this was, kosher population control; they’ve been practicing it for years. It makes you wonder how they think about themselves, as they kill people for sport, even their own kinsmen as the price they pay to keep themselves insane and show the world just how it’s done.

Maybe the worst of it is not the homicidal maniacs teaching their children to hate everyone and kill the human grasshoppers they revile, maybe the worst of it is really the American politicians in their finely tailored suits and rancid rhetoric inflexibly vomiting support for this cruel carnage, recklessly raving about how Israeli has a right a defend itself.

Not ever once thinking, amidst the filthy lucre rich Jews have showered them with, about how Israelis could ever defend themselves from themselves, as anyone who would kill their neighbours for show and then blame it on the people they wanted to kill could never be trusted by anyone anywhere, which is the situation we face now in the world about the Jews.

By murdering 20,000 people in a vengeful plot they designed themselves, the Jews have signed their own death warrant, and that work, conducted by all the righteous people in the world, should begin at once.

It’s called pest control, and the human species, if they plan on staying alive, should finally realize what they have to do to do so.

But, of course, they won't. Have you noticed? The world is being suicided by Jews who pretend to be the faithful citizens of the countries they intend to sabotage, swindle and slaughter like the psychopathological perverts they are and have always been.

Keep listening to the TV networks they own, the newspapers they run, and the misguided children they ruin at an early age by getting them to cut off their balls or breasts in operations that have never-ever once been successful, making them forever useless and sterile formerly healthy human beings. They'll tell you to kill yourself, just like the Jews always tell you, and if you listen long enough, you will, one way or the other.

By looking the other way we assure that this is already happening, and you really can't blame anybody but yourself for sitting on your hands and doing nothing about it.

Saint David (Known in British / Welsh as Dewi Sant)

By

Margaret Taylor-Hill

Prydain Fawr / Britanniae / Great Britain

SAINTE DAVID (KNOWN IN BRITISH / WELSH AS DEWI SANT) is a revered figure in British history and spirituality. He was a descendant of both the Holy Family and the royal British lineage, attributing a sense of divine heritage to his character (1).

Renowned for his miraculous deeds, Saint David's influence on the conversion of the Saxons to Christianity is immortalized in the epic poem 'the Prophecy of Great Britain', where his miracles are said to have played a pivotal role in the spread of the Christian faith (2).

In addition to his spiritual prowess, medieval genealogies also suggest an intriguing familial connection between Saint David and the legendary King Arthur of Britain, portraying him as Arthur's uncle (3).

According to some accounts, Saint David sought and obtained King Arthur's permission to relocate the ecclesiastical seat from Caerleon to Menevia in order to safeguard it from Germanic invasions, showcasing his strategic foresight and dedication to the preservation of the Church.

Welsh Book About St. David

Delving deeper into the lesser-known tales of Saint David's life reveals intriguing narratives about his interactions with King Arthur. One such interaction depicts King Arthur's visit to Saint David's monastery in Menevia (renamed to St. David's), where the two iconic figures engaged in profound discussions on matters of faith, governance, and the future of Britain.

This encounter symbolized a meeting of minds, where both Arthur and Saint David shared wisdom and insights, fostering a bond of mutual respect and camaraderie that transcended their respective roles in society.

Saint David's legacy extends far beyond his familial ties and geographical relocations. Revered as a cornerstone of the British state, his memory continues to resonate with people to this day.

The veneration of Dewi Sant by the Britons inspired neighbouring nations to embrace their own local saints, underscoring his enduring influence in shaping the religious landscape of the region. Despite concerted efforts by the English and the Roman Catholic Church to overshadow the ecclesiastical heritage of the Isle of Britain, the steadfast reverence for Saint David among the Britons has persisted over the centuries, ensuring that his legacy remains alive and celebrated in contemporary times.

Saint David stands as a symbol of spiritual resilience, cultural identity, and unwavering faith, embodying the timeless values of compassion, courage, and devotion that continue to inspire generations of believers and admirers alike. As we commemorate his Saint's day, let us reflect on the profound impact of Saint David's life and teachings, and honour his enduring legacy with reverence and gratitude.

These Are My Dreams about the Future... And It's Beautiful! By David Sørensen

to these horrors In order to see the wonderful future become reality, it is important to learn to envision it in our heart.

Even though we see evil all around us, I encourage you to dream about what the future will look like, once this stranglehold of darkness has been removed from our world.

Here are some of the things that I am dreaming of... knowing this will one day be reality.

Clean Landscapes and Free Energy

I BELIEVE WE HAVE A GLORIOUSLY BEAUTIFUL FUTURE WHICH WILL EMERGE IN THE COMING YEARS. The reason we see so much evil being exposed right now, is so we can wake up, and put an end

There will be landscapes without ugly electricity pylons, because everyone has a free energy device at home, that draws the omnipresent and freely available energy from the aether. The world is liberated from the demonic stranglehold of the criminal energy corporations (who are currently hiding free energy technology from humanity) and has as much energy at home, as needed. Plus everyone can enjoy the pure beauty of the majestic land, without any obstruction. No more millions of pylons that cover the world like a spiders web, but just pure, undefiled splendour of the land, all around us.

This is already available, and it just needs to be activated.

Cities That Feel like Paradise

Villages and towns will no longer be characterized by the most ugly, horrible, gray square buildings, without a soul or beauty, but they will be built so beautifully that you feel like you are in paradise.

Houses will completely blend into the natural surroundings and do not detract from the beauty of nature, but add to it. Streets will be so naturally laid out that it is always a pleasure to go for a walk, between the abundance of trees, flowers and artworks everywhere, while countless birds are singing in the trees, filling the cities with their happy sounds.

This is already available, and it just needs to be activated.

Technology That Heals

Instead of technology and radiation that is harmful to our bodies, and all of nature, there will be new technologies with better frequencies that are harmonizing and restorative. This is already available, and it just needs to be activated.

Uplifting Music

On the streets, in stores, restaurants and public buildings the most beautiful music will resound that you can imagine. No longer will our world be filled with horrible screams from deranged lunatics, and sickening, stressful noise, but music will be played everywhere that makes you happy and makes you feel better.

This is already available, and it just needs to be activated.

Back to Local Shopping

The mega supermarkets will diminish and there will be a return to local stores where everyone knows each other, people make pleasant conversations, and where vegetables, fruits and meat are sold from their own farmers, who prepare them with love and care. No longer will humanity be poisoned by the most toxic faker food, filled with toxins, from the criminal industry, but people will return to heartfelt, healthy, high quality local food that heals and blesses them.

Personal contact between people will reign supreme, as impersonal online shopping will make way for the delightful enjoyment of the daily chat with the baker around the corner, grocer down the street and butcher next door. People will once again truly Live in a thriving, happy community.

This is already available, and it just needs to be activated.

Righteous Judiciary

The current highly corrupt and criminalized judicial system will be destroyed, corrupt judges will be removed and every form of corruption will be punished immediately. Dishonest judges and politicians will no longer have a chance.

This is already available, and it just needs to be activated.

No More Tax Robbery

Taxes will be reformed to a flat tax of approx. 5%, with all other taxes abolished. There is no longer need for heavy taxation on everything, because the criminal overlords to whom these funds flowed, will be removed. With a flat 5% tax on income and nothing else, governments have abundance to build flourishing, happy and healthy nations. There will also be full transparency what taxes are used for, so no criminal activities can be funded with them.

This is already available, and it just needs to be activated.

Empowering Schools

Schools will prioritise creativity, intelligent thinking, problem solving, while encouraging each child's unique gifts. Less sitting still and listening to dull theory, and much more going out and having adventures together, learning by doing, discovering and playing.

Children are truly allowed to be children and learn to talk to each other, pray together, reflect on problems, and reach great heights together. Schools that do not dull kids down, but that build them up. Schools that produce dreamers, inventors and innovators. Schools that teach children that the most important thing is to help each other, give love, and together build a world where everyone is happy.

This is already available, and it just needs to be activated.

More dreams coming soon...

This is part one of a series of dreams about the future. The purpose is to open our minds to what is available and possible. The good people simply have to rise up, and do what it takes to make this reality. The current ugliness, destruction, poisoning, dehumanisation, corruption and darkness of our society is because the good people stand back, while the wicked are allowed to spread like cancer.

When the good people arise and take back this world, while the wicked are exposed and removed, Earth will become a paradise in a breeze.

Let the good people rise up, to lead humanity to a world full of happiness!

The Posterity of Cain By Willie Martin

“Two Ball Cane (007)” the Eighth of the Seven Revelation 17:11

“And the beast that was and is not. even he is the eighth. and is of the seven and goeth into perdition”

IT IS IMPORTANT TO NOTE THAT THE POSTERITY OF CAIN COMES IN THE FIRST TÔKEDÔTH, viz., that of the generations of the heavens and the earth; and not in the book of the generations of Adam.

The posterity of Seth commences with the generations of Adam: showing that the two accounts are distinct, and deal with two different subjects. There were 130 years before Seth was born and substituted for Abel in the line of the promised seed.

If we suppose Adam’s earlier sons and daughters to have had children at the age of twenty one instead of at sixty-five, there would have been over half a million in the 130 years, without reckoning the old or young, and this at a very moderate of increase.

It is generally assumed that Adam and Eve had no children beyond those named. But, as in the line of Seth, it is very clear from Genesis 5:4 that they had, we may well conclude that the same was the case in the line of Cain. It is a gratuitous assumption that Abel had no posterity.

In those 130 years after Cain, Adam must have begotten sons and daughters, as in the 800 years after Seth.

If Abel died in a.m. 125, and Abel and Cain had children before that year, even supposing they had no descendants till they reached the age of sixty-five, Adam could have had 130 children. And if each of those could have a child at sixty-five years of age, one in each successive year, there would have been 1,219 in a.m. 130.

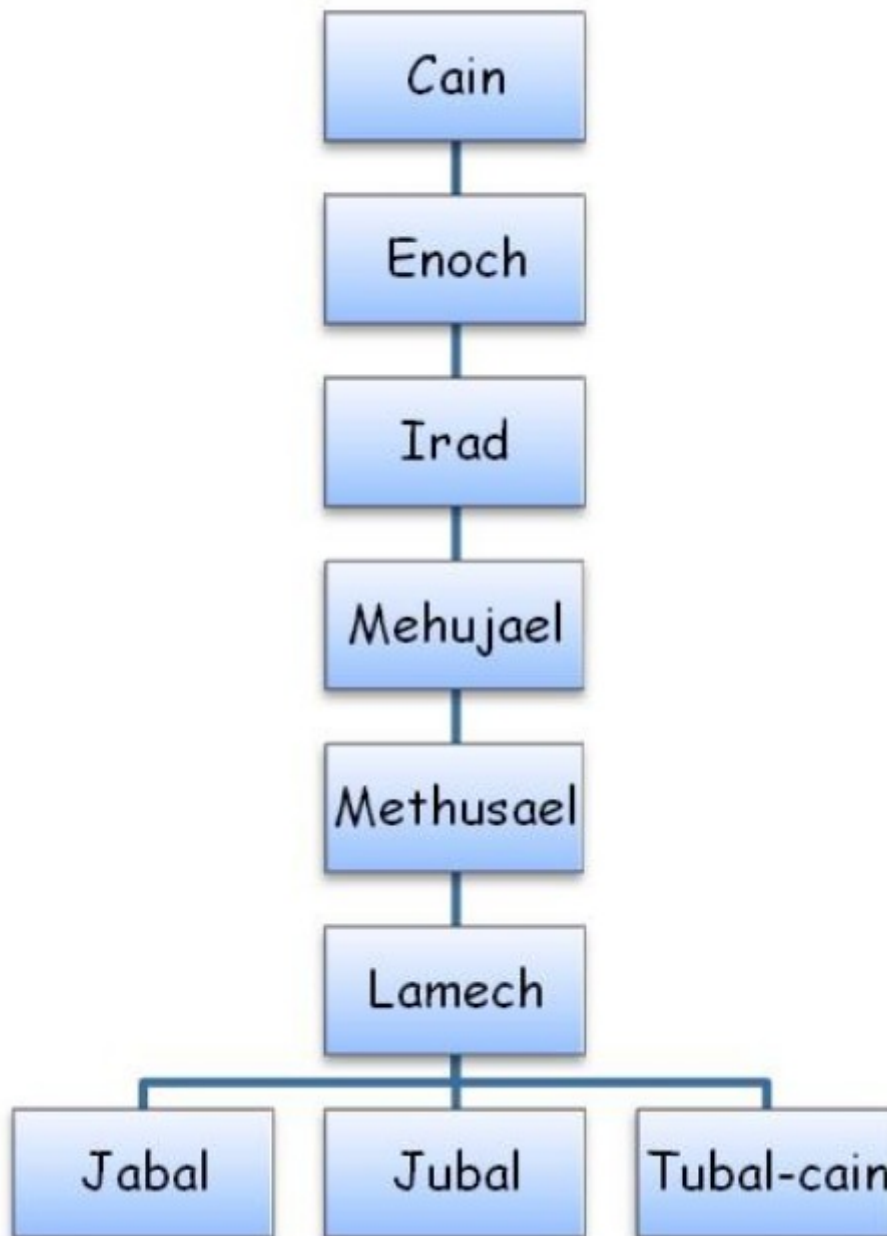

It is manifest that the history assumes a considerable population; and the fact that there is no attempt to explain it, proves its genuineness, and shows (Companion Bible,Page 5).

The Posterity of Cain By Willie Martin that we are left to explain it for ourselves in the only natural way by which it can be explained. (Companion Bible, Appendix 20, page 26)

After murdering his brother Abel, Cain left with his wife and founded an advanced civilisation. Notice their descendents did not lead primitive lives, but very quickly made rapid cultural and technological advances. The Bible does not give us a record of all Cain's descendents but those who are mentioned help us to understand what life was like in those early days.

Cain Posterity Chart 1

Jabal was the father of those who lived nomadic lives in tents and were skilled herdsmen (Genesis 4v 20).

Jubal was the first to build and play both stringed and wind musical instruments (Genesis 4v 21).

Tubal-Cain was skilled in metalworking with iron and brass (Genesis 4v 22).

Lamech, a wicked descendent of Cain, defied God's plan for marriage (Genesis 2v 23-24) by taking two wives, Adah and Zillah. He was also a murderer (Genesis 4 19,23+24).
