

The New Ensign

No. 183 November 2024

This publication is for private circulation only

Calling The True Israel Peoples

Editorial

Dear Readers,

Remember, Remember The 5th of November

The month of November is now upon us, a poignant month in more ways than one, particularly so this year, as in the USA presidential election are scheduled to take place on November 5th being the day in the UK when Guy Fawkes attempted to blow up the Houses of Parliament in the City of Westminster is celebrated. Time will tell!

The above photo, was received from a subscriber, to this magazine last month. It shows Westminster Square, with a direction sign for gunpowder deliveries, no doubt in protest against the detested newly elected Prime Minister, Keir Starmer, also bearing in mind that many a truth is said in jest!

November is an important number in the numerology of true Israel vis-a-vis Gog (Edom) Gog being the hidden little horn (power) coming up amidst the tribes of Israel. No it's not the Pope, although he is part of the system and indeed many of the popes have been Edomites, as is the case today!

In the UK, on November 11th at 11 am is the day when the fallen in WWI and WWII are remembered, ironically using the red poppy symbolic of the drug trade used to subdue true Israel in Europe. Our fallen kith and kin would be turning in their graves if they knew what they fought for. They were under a strong delusion, as we all were at one time, thinking these wars were to eradicate evil once and for all time! This by no means is meant to diminish their bravery, for we all have been deceived for a very long time!

On the Saturday, nearest Remembrance Day, is the installation (coronation) of the Lord Mayor of The City of London to become its titular ruler and most of the world, when the statues of Gog and Magog are paraded through its streets.

Despite the dire bodings of this month, we have comfort that Yahweh is our strength and the enemy will be overcome!!

Editors (editor@newensign.com)

Contents

|   | Page      |
|---|-----------|
| The Great Impersonation (Part 9) Pastor - Eli James                    | 3  |
| OT "Word for Word" Leviticus Part 1 Chap. 1- Pastor Steven H. Anderson | 10 |
| Harold Stough Notes - Destiny of the Picts – Oengus the Ravager        | 12 |
| Cayenne Pepper A Powerful Herbal Medicine                              | 14 |
| Great Tartaria Its History and Destruction (Part 11) - James W Lee     | 17 |
| Can Electricity be heard? - (Part 5) Arthur Firstenburg                | 21 |
| King Arthur and Falsification of British History (Part 6)              | 25 |
| Over 30,000 Chemicals From Packaging Affect Our food                   | 26 |
| The Benefits of Grounding - Jack Lewis -                               | 28 |
| Letters and Views  | 31 |
| Our American Identity - Dr Stanley Barnes (Part 4)                     | 34 |
| The Marvellous Medicinal Properties of Lime Peel                       | 37 |

The Great Impersonation (Part 1)

By Pastor Eli James

Johnson, Autumn 2001 issue of Crown and Commonwealth, published by the British-Israel-World Federation (britishisrael.co.uk)

Preface

"Oh, what a tangled web we weave when first we practice to deceive." Yeats

"It is not truth, but opinion, that can travel the world without a passport." Sir Walter Raleigh

"Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me. When I say unto the wicked. Thou shalt surely die; and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life; the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul—if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and he doth not sin, he shall surely live, because he is warned; also thou hast delivered thy soul." Ezekiel 3:17-19, 21

"Consider the fact that Christian orthodoxy persists—in the face of historical evidence to the contrary—in placing Israel within Jewry. It lit it in the face of the truth that Jewry came into being within the framework of Israel, the House of Jacob, and at no time has all Israel been incorporated into Jewry. The major portion of Israel has always been separate and distinct from Jewry, and travelled a very different road II world history." Bella

I DO NOT WISH TO PREACH TO THE CHOIR. The very people who need to read and understand this message are the ones who are most resistant to it.

So, I can only open with this plea to the reader, sceptical or not: Give this material a fair hearing, for your very soul may depend upon it. God does not open heaven up to those who deliberately avoid hearing both sides of the story.

"Be ye therefore wise as serpents, yet gentle as doves." Matthew 10:16

On the Judgment Day, God will ask all of us: "Did you acquaint yourself with the minority opinion?" "Were you fair to the opposition that begged you to listen to them?"

Sometimes it is best not to follow the crowd. Remember the lemmings and their misguided charges into the sea. The ones who survived were the ones who trusted their misgivings. Remember also that at one time, Christianity was a minority of One. He will yet prevail.

There is abroad in the Christian world a prevalent feeling that evil should not be admonished or openly criticized. The Bible, on the other hand, warns the Christian watchman to broadcast the warning whenever it is needed.

The Christian ostrich who has his head in the sand doesn't want to offend his oppressor, presumably because he doesn't feel the oppression badly enough to complain about it.

This book contains the record of that oppression, an oppression which has often achieved the status of genocide against millions of Christians, especially in the 20th century, the most violent century in the history of man.

As the 20th century drew to a close, it was becoming obvious to this researcher that the cultural war which was being waged against Christianity was about to reach a fever pitch.

Just witness the deterioration of "entertainment" and "education," plus the erosion of Constitutional liberties, not just in America, but all around the globe. This war comes dressed up as "racial tolerance," "multiculturalism," "socialism," "secular humanism," and a host of other trends whose main objective is to eliminate Christianity in favour of materialism.

This has taken two main forms: finance capitalism and communism. Both of these forms are the domain of one particular group of people, the Talmudic rabbis.

It is out of the ghetto mini-states of the Middle Ages that neo-Messianism sprang up among Jewish rabbis and intellectuals. Since the Jews reject Jesus as their messiah, someone else must take his place. But no one has ever emerged, with the proper qualifications. Many self-proclaimed messiahs tried to lure all of the rabbis into one camp, but none succeeded.

This constant disappointment within the rabbinical ranks finally led to the emergence of neo-Messianism, the idea that the Jewish people as whole are their own messiah and that no one individual can fill the bill.

The rabbinical idea of the messiah was always couched in political terms: The messiah was to be the political leader who would entrench the rabbis as the spiritual and social masters of their people forever. And as the rabbis are to be the masters of the Jewish people, the messiah would lead this entire group to conquer the world at large.

Boundary to Jewish Ghetto in Lodz

Thus would the ghettos of the various Jewish mini-states be organized and transformed into the world dictatorship that Jesus refused to grant those ambitious scribes, Pharisees, and Sadducees.

In spite of the nearly universal acclaim of the Jews as "God's Chosen People," this book stands as a rebuke of Judaism. It is designed to take any fair-minded individual through the actual records, biblical and otherwise, of the history of the Jews and their adversary, Israel.

At this point, some will object that the Jews and Israel are the same people; but this is a false belief, easily disproven and shown to be the most clever propaganda campaign ever foisted upon a guileless public.

For the impatient reader who would be inclined to throw down this book at this juncture, I would say to him or her, please turn to chapter 2's discussion of the Marks of Israel for a quick lesson on God's description of his people and how the Jews do not even remotely fit his descriptions.

From perusing the Marks of Israel, only two possible conclusions can be reached: Either the Bible is gibberish or the Jews are not the chosen people! Since most Christians believe the Bible is the inerrant word of God, it is utterly amazing how errant the Bible is once the Jews are assumed to be Israelites.

Once this assumption is dropped and the Bible is understood according to what it plainly and actually says, then the pious facade of Judaism is exposed and its true nature is revealed. It is no accident that wherever the Jews have settled, the unwary indigenous populations have nearly always come to hate them as oppressors and exploiters.

Indeed, the very universal charge of "anti-Semitism," which follows them wherever they go, is proof that they are not a blessing, but a curse.

How they love to quote Genesis 12:3:

"And / will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in thee shall all the families of the earth be blessed."

This blessing was given to Abraham and his seed (future generations); but the obvious question must be asked: "Have the Jews been a blessing to those nations which have blessed them by giving them a place to live?"

Certainly those nations blessed them! But did God, as the Bible promises, bless these nations in return? Were the Jews a blessing to the European nation-states which were forced to expel them all back to Khazaria in the 12th, 13th, and 14th centuries? Were they a blessing to Germany which saw them as a blight because of the worldwide boycott declared against them by organized Jewry in 1933? (Germany was already suffering from the ignominious terms of the Versailles Treaty, having been forced to pay reparations for a war which was started by Great Britain, France, and Russia.)

Were they a blessing to Tsarist Russia where Zionist Jews, such as Leiba (Lev Davidovich) Bronstein (alias Leon Trotsky), Vladimir Ilyich Ulyanov (alias Lenin), Jacob Schiff, Alexander Parvus, and others conspired to overthrow the Russian throne while it was in the midst of the most successful agrarian reform movement in history? (76% of Russia's serfs had become owners of their own farms. - (below)

Were they a blessing to America by subjecting us to constant tribute (billions in aid annually to the warlike State of Israel) and the resulting regional and worldwide enmity created by the Israeli State? We have blessed the Jews and the world hates us for it.

George Santayana's warning bears repeating here: "Those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it." In a similar vein, Ayn Rand (left) born Alisa Zinovyevna Rosenbaum said: "You can ignore reality, but you cannot avoid the consequences of ignoring reality."

Contrary to Genesis 12:3, those nations which have blessed the Jews have been invariably led to ruin by those same Jews who were given the blessing by that nation! This is the irrefutable fact of history. There Is no positive result in dealing with the Jews because, in every case and according to the Jews own testimony, "anti-Semitism" invariably rears its ugly head and the Jews must defend themselves against the very people who gave them refuge! Now, is this a curse or a blessing? Be honest.

Isaac Blessing Jacob

As will be demonstrated later, Abraham had two sons, only one of which was destined to carry out this blessing; and the Jews are not descended from that son, namely Isaac. The Jews never quote this prophecy:

"In Isaac shall thy seed be called" (Genesis 21:12), because they obviously do not answer to the appellation, "Isaac's Sons," as the Anglo-Saxons do. (The Hebrew 'Beth-Sak' means 'House of Isaac.')

Nor do they quote the rest of the blessing: And in thy seed shall all the earth be blessed; "because thou hast obeyed my voice" (Genesis 22:18), because their holy book, the Talmud, is the epitome of disobedience.

The rabbi, like today's lawyers, has always been the world's leading expert at dodging the law and getting around the law for his own benefit. If this statement seems extreme, then I can only say: "Where have you been? Haven't you read the Gospels? What are the Gospels if not a condemnation of rabbinical traditions?"

An Elderly Jew Reading The Talmud

Your pastor has not kept you informed of the true record.

[Authors Note: On the very remote possibility that this testament might be read by a person of the Jewish faith, I must say that it is just as important that you know the facts also, because you should know what your leaders are planning to do on your supposed behalf; and you may suffer for their excesses.

The fact that much of the research for this book has been obtained from Jewish sources ought to lend credence to the arguments contained herein.

Also, it behoves all people to be on the side of truth and justice, and, yes, mercy, for the coming Judgment Day will be your opportunity to redeem your own soul, just as it will be for Christians and others. No blanket condemnation of Jews is intended; however, all Jews who follow the dictates of Zionism and Talmudism are just as guilty as the assassins because they give their support.

There can be no pretence of neutrality. Jesus said: "He that is not with me is against me." (Matthew 12:30) God knows your heart. There is no middle ground. If you are Jewish, the rabbis have conditioned you to hate Jesus Christ. Be aware who your true master is.]

As unpopular as this theme is in polite and political circles, the fact is that deception must be exposed; and this is the exposé. The mere fact that titles such as The International Jew by Henry Ford, The Plot Against Christianity by Elizabeth Dilling, The Mask of Edom by William Norman Saxon, Pawns in the Game by William Guy Carr, The Empire of "The City" by E. C. Knuth and The Hoax of the Twentieth Century by A. R. Butz cannot be found in the library and are not discussed in university classrooms is proof by itself that Talmudic Judaism has fully established its tribal oligarchy in America.

Jewish censorship of "anti-Semitic" literature proceeds at a very quiet, deceptive pace—no bonfires and newsreels, just garbage cans and empty bookshelves.

Only in the Islamic world and in some parts of the Oriental world is the true nature of Judaism openly discussed. I say to you: If you have to talk about the Jews under your breath or look over your shoulder to see who might be listening, then you are not free.

You are a slave. The extent to which you are a slave is detailed in this book; and the extent to which you understand this book is the extent to which you will be free.

As Jesus said: "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall set you free." Many of the slaves who were set free by Abraham Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation did not want to be set free. Many saw themselves as having privileged positions in the established hierarchy.

For them, freedom meant deprivation and the loss of privilege. The same is true for all of those people in the world today who have allowed themselves to be chained to the Beast called Zionism.

Most do not even realize they are so chained because they do not realize the extent of Zionism's control over their lives. This book was written to set the record straight and to set you free, whether you like it or not.

As a god-fearing and ethical Christian, the writing of this book has been a soul-searching experience. Ever since I began to learn of the true nature of Judaism (most non-Jewish people will have to admit they know almost nothing about it),

I began to be very concerned about the future of Christianity. The fact is Judaism is not so much a religion than a chauvinistic tribal fraternity, a fraternity, constantly at odds with other cultures.

(".. for ye also have suffered like things of your own countrymen, even as they have of the Jews who both killed the Lord Jesus, and their own prophets, and have persecuted us; and they please not God, and are contrary to all men. Thessalonians 2:13)

Obviously, Paul does not consider the Jews to be a blessing to mankind. The primary characteristics of Judaism are an outward posture of high idealism (liberalism) combined with an inward stealth (Talmudism). The two together establish a culture of deceit.

For or obvious reasons, this inward aspect of stealth is not normally subject to public scrutiny. For this reason, the statements made in his research work are thoroughly documented so the outward posture can be compared to the actual record.

True Israel

"By their fruits shall ye know them." As much as this book is a judgment upon Judaism, it is also the history of True Israel, because only by understanding who the real Israelites are is it possible to understand the Bible.

As the above quote from Ezekiel 3 suggests, it is from a sense of duty to my heritage of Anglo-Saxon Christendom and the desire to protect my fellow Christians from the potential horrors to come that I have undertaken this project, which has consumed literally thousands of hours of research, writing, and rewriting.

At issue is whether or not Judaism, as presently constituted as an elitist cultural minority, should be allowed to usurp the inheritance of the rightful heir, which is the subject of The Great Impersonation, the impersonation by Esau of his brother Jacob/Israel.

To allow Talmudic Judaism and its rich brother, Zionism (also an impostor), to continually deceive the world, is too much for a true Israelite to bear. Talmudism is the path of destruction and chaos. To those who are ignorant of Talmudism's true nature, only God can judge whether one's lack of vigilance is cause enough for the denial of entry into heaven.

It is of paramount importance that any broad-scale condemnation be thoroughly documented so the condemnation can be judged on the basis of its consistency and fair-mindedness. Consequently, the story of The Great Impersonation must be historical as well as ethical, so that all Jewish claims can be examined in the light of both history and personal experience.

The one great insight which has devolved upon me as a result of this intensive research is that one can learn to sympathize with and even love one's "enemy" when it is understood how irresistible the forces are which can turn an impressionable child into a raving fanatic. It is with a profound sense of sorrow that I address this subject at all, because, if anything, Judaism is one of the greatest tragedies ever to befall the Earth—and that goes double for those brainwashed people who are unfortunate enough to call themselves Jews.

Never has any group of people been subjected to such thorough, intense, and rigorous mind-control as those who are born under that bad sign.

It is with a genuinely deep respect for the notion of Divine Retribution that I allow myself to publish the words contained in this volume. To quote Paul in Romans 2:1-2:

"Therefore thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoever thou art that judgest: for wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest doest these same things. But we are sure that the judgment of God is according to truth against them which commit such things."

Lest I be accused of "hate" or "anti-Semitism," it must be pointed out that a hater prescribes violence or ostracism or ridicule whereas an analyst in the spirit of truth prescribes only understanding and the correction of evil practices. Hence, as a believer, I stand in fear of the judgment of Jesus Christ if I be unfair in the smallest detail of the criticism.

In keeping with my duty as a Christian and considering my assumption of the role of defender of the Faith, I in no small measure regard the responsibility of this role. I have weighed heavily whether I should appease the ostrich, who does not wish to be told he has been deceived, or be a watchman sounding the alarm of the international effort to destroy Christianity and Christendom. The general method of this book is to document the history of the Jews along with the separate, distinct, and parallel history of the Tribes of Israel.

Along with the documentation of these historical distinctions, relevant ethical considerations are brought up which are germane to the history under discussion.

This will be the method up until the last two chapters, where the subject matter turns more toward ethics and prophecy, with a thorough discussion of Jewish ethics and tactics permeating these two chapters.

Such claims as "Judaism invented monotheism," "Jesus was a Jew," "The Jews are God's chosen people," and others will be examined in the light of Scripture and in the light of secular history.

What emerges from this study is a definite pattern of grandiose deceit and tribal self-worship trying to impose itself upon a resistant outside world. This primitive form of tribal self-worship, due to its nearly total insularity (separate language, separate food, customs, literature, art, etc.), has managed to survive into the modern world and even find its most fruitful soil in the age of democracy, an age which ideologically repudiates tribalism.

Yet, for reasons to be explained, Jewish tribalism is tolerated and even condoned by the most verbose democratic ideologues (hypocrites) of our time.

The reasons for the survival of this religious tribalism are numerous; and there is no end to the number of lessons to be learned from the study of its methods, both physical and psychological, of insulating its adherents from the liberating influences of the outside world. It is this insularity—this rabbinical demand for tribal loyalty—which has kept Judaism alive down through the centuries in spite of its lack of a homeland.

Crucial to maintaining the rag-tag cohesiveness of the Jewish tribal society is its mythology. This mythology makes several claims about Jewishness besides that being "chosen" by God. This mythology centers around the Talmud and other "holy" books, which give the rabbi the psychological tools with which to corral his flock and fence them in while they are led to believe they are, in spite of their insular lifestyles, cultural and intellectual world leaders.

This is control by flattery; and it is extremely effective. By maintaining separate Jewish, courts of law, the kehilla, or the Jewish ruling clique, asserts punitive powers even unto the death of those who would resist it. The typical punishment for offending the Jewish ruling clique is ostracism, and for a person who looks, thinks, and acts Jewish, this is well-nigh a spiritual death sentence.

To be continued OS-X1-14

A hard copy of Pastor Eli's book can be purchased from Money Tree Publishing HERE. Note: Magazine edition illustration are different to the book.

The Greatest Multi-Century
Con
E-Book
New Ensign Library
Download Here

Old Testament

“Word For Word” - Leviticus Chap. 1 - (Part 1)

Translation

By
Stephen Howard Anderson

Introduction

Wayiq'ra (Called)

Commonly called Leviticus

WAYYIQ'RA IS A BOOK OF LAWS and procedures for the Aharonic priests. Also here are many National laws for Yisrael, for health, sexual behavior, proper conduct towards each other, business dealings, conduct toward visiting Yisraeliy from other countries, conduct toward aliens of other races in Yisrael, holy days and feasts, food laws, and sacrificial laws.

The sacrifice for the propitiation (covering over) of sin has been eliminated by Yahshua Messiah. He made the last sacrifice of Himself, and animal sacrifice is no longer needed. The other laws that do not have to do with sin sacrifice still stand, however, and they are all common sense laws. Heaven and earth have not passed away, yet.

Some words are unclear today as to the type of unclean animals. The meaning has been lost over time, and where this occurs, I will note it in the Chapter Notes following the chapter.

The term "leprosy" is used in connection with fabric, and houses. This was a mold or mildew that was unhealthy to be around, such as toxic "black mold" in our time. This would cause severe health problems from breathing in the spores, and they had no other term to use back then, so they termed it "leprosy" for want of a better word. Leprosy concerning people, however, is actual flesh destroying leprosy, which then was incurable, and resulted in eventual death for those afflicted with it. Yahweh cured several people of it in Scripture, and this was always considered a major miracle. Even today, with modern drug treatments, leprosy is a true horror to cure.

Where "leprosy" is used in the KJV and others, but actually refers to some type of skin disease, I have used "skin disease" for accuracy.

As in the first two books of Mosheh, proper names of people and places are as in the Hebrew for spelling. Strong's© Numbers will be used after key words a single time.

Chapter notes will be small in this book, as a lot of it is fulfilled sacrificial stuff. I will note the verses where laws still stand, and why. There is quite a bit of this in here, so read the Chapter notes carefully.

Please note - All words spoken by Yahweh and His messengers will be in bold type.

This work is Copyrighted© in 2016 by Stephen H. Anderson, and may not be reproduced for profit. Quotations are permitted, but only if no changes are made to the text, and due credit is given to the translator.

Where a Chapter ends, and there is some room, lines for writing your own notes while studying will be inserted in the otherwise blank space. I hope you are enjoying these translations, and receiving knowledge of Yahweh's Holy Word from them. May Yahweh Bless and Keep You. Praise Yahweh!

Stephen H. Anderson
Translator
Chapter 1

1. Called 7121 Yahweh to Mosheh, and spoke to him from the Tent of Meeting, saying,

2. "Speak to the children of Yisrael, and say to them, 'If any adam 120 of you brings an offering to Yahweh, you shall bring your offering from the beasts of the herd 1241, and of the flock 6629.

3. If his offering is a burnt sacrifice 5930 of the herd, let him offer a male without blemish 8549: he shall bring it for acceptance 7522 to the door of the Tent of Meeting before Yahweh.

4. And he shall put his hand upon the head of the burnt offering, and it shall be accepted 7521 for him to make propitiation 3722 for him.

5. And he shall slaughter 7819 the calf 1121/1241 in the presence of Yahweh: and the priests 3548, sons of Aharon, shall bring the blood 1818, and sprinkle 2536 the blood round about the altar that is by the door of the Tent of Meeting.

6. And he shall flay 6584 the burnt offering, and cut it into pieces.

7. And the sons of Aharon the priest shall put fire upon the altar, and lay the wood in order upon the fire:

8. And the priests, sons of Aharon, shall lay the pieces, the head 7218, and the fat 6309, in order upon the wood that is on the fire, which is upon the altar.

9. But its inner organs 7130 and its lower legs 3767 he shall wash 7364 in water: and the priest shall burn 6999 all on the altar, a burnt sacrifice, an offering made by fire 801, of a pleasing odor 7381 to Yahweh.

10. And if his offering be of the flocks, of the young sheep 3775, or of the young goats 5795 for a burnt sacrifice; he shall bring a male 2145 without blemish,

11. and he shall slaughter it on the north side of the altar before Yahweh: and the priests, sons of Aharon, shall sprinkle its blood round about upon the altar.

12. And he shall cut it into pieces, with its head and its fat: and the priest shall lay them in order on the wood that is on the fire which is upon the altar:

13. But he shall wash the inner organs and the lower legs with water: and the priest shall bring all, and burn upon the altar: it is a burnt sacrifice, an offering made by fire, of a pleasing odor to Yahweh.

14. And if the burnt sacrifice for his offering to Yahweh be of birds 5775, then shall he bring an offering of turtledoves 8449, or of young pigeons 3123.

15. And the priest shall bring it to the altar, and wring off 4454 its head, and burn it on the altar; and the blood of it shall be wrung out 4680 at the side of the altar:

16. and he shall remove 5493 its crop 4760

with its feathers 5133, and cast it beside the altar, on the east part 6924, by the place of the ashes 1880:

17. and he shall split 8156 it with the wings 3671 of it, but shall not separate it 914: and the priest shall burn it upon the altar, upon the wood that is upon the fire: it is a burnt sacrifice, an offering made by fire, of a pleasing odor to Yahweh.

carries through for all blood sacrifices. Yahshua Messiah was without blemish, as was required, and was The Passover Lamb for Yisrael, covering over our sins for all time, at the point when we acknowledge Him as our redeemer.

After that point, if we continue in sin, there is no further sacrifice for us. All animal sacrifices have been rendered of no effect, and are of historical significance only now.

Chapter 1 Notes

In verses 3 and 10 we see the stipulation of a Male without Blemish for the sacrifice. This

To be continued

Harold Stough Notes Destiny of the Picts – Oengus the Ravager United The Scots and Picts

King Oengus

The spectacularly brutal life and reign of Medieval Pictish King Oengus map Fergus (686 AD – 761 AD), the first monarch to unite the Picts and Scots under one ruler. The man who devised the plan to create one realm under God whose Patron Saint was Saint Andrew.

His controversial life is revealed here via serialised extracts from the book 'Destiny of the Picts' A narrative reconstruction of real historical events, people and places, only in some rare cases have the names of female participants been added, and battle tactics based upon historical examples included, to give gravitas to these otherwise unidentified historical figures.

What you read next will provoke controversy, however I have simply followed the evidence to its logical conclusions. I'll leave you to make up your own mind.

Origins of Clan Fergus (Uurguis)!

Prince Fergus ap Beli was the son of Beli ap Neithon, the King of Alt Clut and a Northumbrian Princess Ædwen Ædwinsdohtar. He was brother to Prince Eugein ap Beli, Lady Der-Ilei ferch Beli, Dumnagual ap Beli, Guret ap Beli, and King Brude ap Beli, King of the Picts. Fergus's first wife was Princess Brigid ferch Feredach, from House Cenél Loairn of Dal Riata.

Feirbe ferch Erp was sister of Cano ferch Erp and was the aunt of King Nechtan ap Cano the grandson of Erp who was king of the Picts from 595 to around 616.

Brigid ferch Forth's parents were King Foith / Gwid ap Brude of Circinn and Bebba ferch Erp who was the sister of Feirbe and Cano.

It was after his brother, King Brude, conquered Circinn, that Fergus became the King of Circinn. Together Fergus and Brigid had several children including; Oengus, Talorgan and Ninian.

After Queen Brigid ferch Feredach had died King Fergus mac Beli married the much younger Lady Cano ferch Nechtan, the daughter of his nephew, Prince Nechtan mac Der-Ilei. The Cenél Loairn of Dal Riata were the descendants of Loarn mac Eirc.

At the height of their power, the clan ruled northern Argyle around the Firth of Lorne, and the islands of Mull and Colonsay, Morvern and Ardnamurchan. The clan's territorial boundary with the Picts ran along the Druim Alban mountain ridge that separated Dál Riata from Pictland.

The major seats of power for the clan were Dun Ollaigh, near Oban and the seat of Dal Riata's power, Dun Ad near Crina. Prince Oengus born in 686 AD had five brothers; Talorgan, Nechtan, Ninian, Drustan, Brude, and an unknown number of sisters.

Living in the north with their family in 693 Princes Oengus and Talorgan were sent south to Dun Nechtan (Dunnichen Hill) to live with their cousin Prince Nechtan ferch Der-Ilei in fosterage. It was to be under his tutelage that they would learn the arts of being a warrior, becoming devout Christians, and most importantly mastering the intricate arts of statecraft in the convoluted world of Pictish politics.

Within weeks of their arrival, the boys were riding into exile alongside the families and retainers of the proscribed princes Brude and Nechtan mac Der-Ilei. In that same year, Taran mac Feredach Anferthwch was crowned King of Pictland at Tap O' Noth, instead of Prince Brude mac Der-Ilei.

Fearing capture or assassination the elder sons of Queen Der-Ilei, Brude and Nechtan, relocated to the relative safety of Cowal to plan their next moves. With Nechtan went Oengus and Talorgan as members of Nechtan's court. In 694 Prince Ferchar mac Feredach (Ferchar the Tall), their uncle, seized the throne of Dal Riata for the Cenél Loairn.

Pictish Name Symbols For King Beli mac Neithon

He was assisted in his aims by Pictish Princes Brude and Nechtan mac Der-Ilei. Brude's and Nechtan's time in exile had not been wasted. Safely ensconced in Cowal they had gathered allies opposed to the harsh rule of King Taran mac Feredach.

Many were the ordinary folk who hated the Irish usurper and eagerly provided valuable intelligence about his troop numbers and movements, most telling Cruithne allies came from Irish Dal Riata with news that many were the nobles in the High King's court who were opposed to King Taran's seizure of the Pictish throne.

From Cowal, the princes secretly journeyed north to rally support amongst the nobles of Fortriu, Ce', Fib, Fidach and Circinn. The death of High King Fínsnechta Fledach seriously crippled King Taran's financial and military resources and he was forced to rely increasingly upon his Irish mercenaries to uphold his right to rule.

The princes, Oengus and Talorgan mac Fergus continued to serve Prince Nechtan map Der-Ilei, working as pages in his brother's court. At the end of 695, Brude and Nechtan secretly returned from Dal Riata with an army of supporters, and then openly took up residence at Dun Nhydwyr (Dunnideer), eyeballing King Taran at his winter residence of Tap O' Noth, just across the valley.

Cairnmore Hill Fort Now Known as Hare Hill

Wedged between the two opposing forces was the old hill fort of Cairnmore. Abandoned for over 100 years, it made the perfect observation point and whoever controlled the fort, could dominate the approaches to Tap O'Noth and Rhi Nhy. Scouts from both sides frequently clashed beneath the old duns shattered heights.

It was but a day's march to Rhi Nhy as more and more clansmen gathered to the banner of the Serpent & Spear. By the time the princes arrived at the base of Tap O'Noth, the only people left within the fortress were King Taran, his household, immediate family, and a war band of Irish mercenaries from Southern Ui'Niell.

With Rhi Nhy fully occupied and the king's hill fort completely surrounded it was a matter of weeks before Taran mac Feredach capitulated. After surrendering, the deposed King Taran, his life saved by a direct appeal from Lady Der-Ilei to spare his life, was forced to sail back to Ireland.

If you're interested in learning more, please feel free to search for the book "Destiny of the Picts" (which contains a Pictish symbols dictionary) online if you feel the urge. The choice is yours. Partial list of resources Here

The End

Cayenne Pepper Is Widely Used In Cooking But Many Are Unaware That It Is A Very Powerful It Is Also A Very Powerful Herbal Medicine!

Posted By Dan - USA

CAYENNE PEPPER ISN'T JUST A SPICY ADDITION TO YOUR MEALS; it's packed with a wealth of medicinal properties. From promoting weight loss to improving circulation and even preventing blood clots, cayenne pepper is a powerful natural remedy. Surprisingly, it also supports gut health by reducing gas, soothing stomach upset, and alleviating cramping. Whether you're dealing with a toothache, shingles pain, or even a hangover, cayenne is here to help you.

The pepper's wide range of benefits come from its robust nutritional profile. Just one teaspoon of cayenne offers 17 calories, 1 gram of fat, 3 grams of carbohydrates, and 1 gram each of sugar and protein. It's also loaded with 44% of the daily recommended intake of vitamin A, along with vitamins E, C, B6, K, and essential minerals like magnesium and potassium.

Here Are 22 Impressive Health Benefits of Cayenne Pepper You May Not Know.

1. Cancer Prevention

Cayenne's active compound, capsaicin, has been studied for its potential to inhibit cancer cell growth. Research suggests it may help prevent tumour formation, particularly in the lungs of current and former smokers.

Other studies show promising results in reducing liver and prostate cancer risks. Whether in supplement form or incorporated into your diet, cayenne pepper offers protective effects.

2. Psoriasis Relief

Psoriasis, a condition marked by red, itchy skin, can be alleviated with cayenne-based treatments. Topical creams containing 0.025% capsaicin have been shown to reduce redness and scaling. Research supports its use over six weeks, leading to significant improvements in psoriasis symptoms.

3. Migraine Relief

Strangely enough, cayenne pepper can provide relief from migraines by shifting your focus to another pain source. The diversion reduces your overall perception of pain. Additionally, capsaicin helps diminish substance P, a pain-signalling chemical, reducing migraine severity.

4. Blood Clot Prevention

Cayenne pepper plays a role in preventing blood clots and promoting heart health by facilitating fibrinolytic activity. This process breaks down blood clots, ensuring proper circulation. Capsaicin also helps clear arterial blockages, further supporting cardiovascular function.

5. Detoxification

Cayenne is commonly found in detox drinks for a reason: it has antioxidant properties that help rid the body of harmful toxins. A simple detox drink combining cayenne, lemon juice, and water can boost digestion, metabolism, and skin health.

6. Lowers Blood Pressure

High blood pressure affects nearly 40% of adults worldwide. Cayenne pepper may help reduce hypertension by relaxing blood vessels and improving circulation. Animal studies have demonstrated that regular consumption of capsaicin can lead to lower blood pressure.

While we are on this topic, did you know that a glass of celery juice can lower high blood pressure and sugar levels?

7. Appetite Suppression

Studies show that cayenne pepper can help curb appetite by reducing the hunger hormone ghrelin. Research found that cayenne decreased appetite in both women and men, making it a potential tool for managing hunger and weight.

8. Boosts Metabolism

Cayenne can also rev up your metabolism. Capsaicin enhances the body's ability to burn calories through a process known as thermogenesis. While the effect might be modest, it can still contribute to your overall energy expenditure.

9. Ulcer Healing

Contrary to what you might think, cayenne pepper can help prevent and heal stomach ulcers by increasing gastric mucosal blood flow and reducing acid production. Capsaicin stimulates neurons in the stomach that protect against injury.

10. Improved Digestion

Rather than harming your digestive system, cayenne pepper stimulates saliva and gastric juices, improving digestion and breaking down food efficiently. This spice may also protect the stomach from infections and promote a healthy gut.

11. Supports Eye Health

Cayenne pepper is rich in vitamin A, crucial for eye, skin, and brain health. It helps reduce inflammation and protect against age-related diseases like macular degeneration. Just two teaspoons of cayenne provide your daily recommended intake of vitamin A.

12. Fungal Infection Fighter

Capsaicin isn't the only beneficial compound in cayenne. CAY-1, a compound found in cayenne, has shown effectiveness against various fungal infections, such as athlete's foot and ringworm, making cayenne a natural anti-fungal treatment.

13. Antibacterial Agent

Cayenne pepper also offers antibacterial properties. It can protect against harmful bacteria that cause food poisoning, digestive issues, and skin infections, making it a safe, natural preservative for food.

14. Eases Toothache Pain

Cayenne's ability to reduce nerve pain makes it a useful remedy for toothaches. While it won't replace dental care, applying capsaicin cream to the affected area can provide temporary relief.

15. Reduces Inflammation

Cayenne pepper has been found to be as effective as certain anti-inflammatory medications. It can be used to manage pain from conditions like sciatica or arthritis without the side effects of synthetic drugs.

especially helpful for alleviating seasonal allergies and food-related sensitivities.

16. Repairs Skin

The combination of vitamins C and E in cayenne promotes collagen production, essential for skin elasticity. These vitamins can also reverse damage from UV exposure, helping reduce wrinkles and repair sun-damaged skin.

17. Enhances Longevity

Some studies suggest that eating cayenne pepper could extend life expectancy. Research indicates that consuming it regularly might reduce the risk of death from heart disease, cancer, and respiratory illnesses.

18. Reduces Allergy Symptoms

Cayenne’s anti-inflammatory properties can soothe allergic reactions by reducing inflammation and detoxifying the system. It’s

19. Enhances Sexual Health

Cayenne pepper can improve blood circulation, which may help address sexual dysfunction. Increased blood flow can enhance sexual experiences for both men and women.

20. Reduces Anxiety

Cayenne has been shown to stimulate the production of endorphins, the body’s natural “feel-good” chemicals. This makes it a potential aid for relieving anxiety and improving mood.

21. Strengthens the Immune System

Packed with vitamins and antioxidants, cayenne pepper bolsters the immune system. It helps fight colds, break down mucus, and boost overall immunity by raising body temperature and enhancing circulation. Did you know that honey may be a natural alternative to antibiotics for coughs and colds?

22. Improves the Taste of Healthy Foods

Finally, cayenne pepper can help make nutritious meals more enjoyable. A dash of cayenne can add flavour to vegetables, making it easier to stick to a healthy diet.

The End OS23562

Great Tartaria (Part 11) Its History and Recent Destruction of the Most Advanced Civilisation Ever By James W Lee

THE NAME “CALIFORNIA” TRACES ITS ORIGIN TO A CENTURIES OLD STORY ABOUT AN ISLAND, full of gold, run by black women who fed men to their pet griffins.

Like other Amazonian legends, the island of California was a place filled with strong, self-sufficient women who solicited male attention completely on their own terms. This story resonates in California, which has a long history of gender roles being reconstructed. And it is fitting that this state, which has served as a frontier for issues of race, gender and religion, gets its name from a mythical story where race, gender and religion collide. Finally, the story of an island full of gold foreshadowed the Gold Rush, which propelled the idea of the California dream around the world.

Emperor Abu Bukari

A Moorish (African) Emperor Abu Bukari took 1,000 ships to the New World in the 1300's.

So Moorish navigators and sea men were highly sought in those days that the previously land bounded Europeans were in their infancy in navigational and maritime sciences.

A black man used to own the San Fernando Valley. That was Pio de Jesus Pico (1801-1894). He was also the last Mexican governor of California. In total, in the 1800's, there were at least four black governors of the state of California.

Califia is a part of California history, and she also reinforces the fact that when Cortes named this place California, he had 300 black people with him. And throughout the whole Spanish Mexican war, 40 percent of the population was black.

In 1535, Cortés led an expedition back to the land of Calafia or California and decided to be re-named it Santa Cruz. However, that name did not stick, as the natives, and the Muurs and the black Indians and red Indians and so-called whites continued to use the ancient and old name of the land "California". Cortes himself and his contemporaries appeared to have used the name too.

In 1550 and 1556, the name appears three times in reports about Cortés written by Giovanni Battista Ramusio. Thus, over the years of increasing conquest, colonization and rape of the land of California, the ancient land of the Moors has held onto its name and identity, in the knowledge that one day, it will be as it was in the beginning. There are over 800 maps of California as an island up until the early 1800's domiciled at the Stanford Research Library at Stanford University.

And of course it is the Jesuits who claimed the whole "Island of California" is a myth. Although some early maps showed California on the mainland, a powerful refutation of the island theory came in 1701 when Jesuit explorer Eusebio Kino crossed the Baja peninsula and, with a telescope, saw that it was part of the continent.

Over 250 maps from the 17th and 18th centuries show California as an island. The definitive catalogue of "California as an Island" maps is "The Mapping of California as an Island" by McLaughlin. The first map in McLaughlin's catalogue dates to 1621.

Island maps continued into the 1800's (above), in spite of Spanish explorer Father Kino demonstrating California's connectedness in 1705 by walking there from New Mexico. But since there were no accurate maps of the New World, map makers continued to supply the market using ancient sources.

Hapgood attributes the ancient sources to maps preserved in Constantinople and later distributed by Turks. (P.9)

That there were only a limited number of original sources is shown by their all falling into categories according to the features on the map. For example, some show the California island with a flat top, others showing it with a “W” top.

In the late 1500's, Spanish trade ships followed ocean currents from the far east to the area of Mendocino, where they turned south to Baja. But they would not venture near the coast and so provided only limited information on California geography. (Polk, p. 244)

In 1603, on a voyage cloaked in secrecy and plagued with misfortune, Vizcaino explored the Pacific coast of California up to Cape Blanco, Oregon, where they presumed a large river was the sought-after passage to the Atlantic. (Polk, p. 257).

In all these explorations, Polk emphasizes the political pressure on explorers and map makers to find that California was an island. It was in the best interest of people like Cortez that California be an island, because Cortez was promised governorship of the island.

McLaughlin assigns maps to groups throughout his catalogue according to features such as the shape of the top of the island. Since no explorers had mapped the California coast at that point, there was no way for map makers to know which source was right. As it turns out, both sources are right, they were just mapped at different times and different ocean levels.

June 26, 1579 ceremony of Sir Francis Drake being crowned with a headdress by California Indians J. Meurs, 1671.

The Island Coastline - Northern Portion

The Pacific coast has been pushed eastward about 200 miles. The area that was pushed eastward extends from the top of the island at the north, to Point Concepcion at the south. This section of the coastline bears no resemblance to today's coastline.

Polk chronicles the extremely slow progress of exploration along the California coast for the next two centuries (“The Island of California, A History of the Myth”, Dora Beale Polk).

In the overlay map to the left the northeast corner of the island forms a point that is created by the mountain range ending at the Willamete National Forest east of Eugene.

She relates how Cortez mapped only the lower portion of the Gulf of California. Alarcon sailed up the Gulf to the Colorado River in 1540 and rowed up the river a long way but left no map.

The flat top follows the visible break in the coastal range just south of Eugene. Many “California as an Island” maps from the 1600's and the 1700's show the north end of the island as a distinct “M”. McLaughlin categorizes maps by whether they have a “flat” or “indented” top throughout his catalogue of California as an island maps (“The Mapping of California as an Island, an Illustrated Checklist”, Glen McLaughlin).

The explorer Onate reached the mouth of the Colorado at the head of the Gulf in 1604, over a century after Columbus' voyage. (Polk p. 261)

The “M” was the result of later pushing up of the coastal and Cascade ranges around Portland.

The salt lakes east of the northeast corner are evidence that there was a lot of saltwater left there after the ocean receded.

South on the Pacific side from the flat island top, we find the coastline from the top of the island to Point Concepcion extends 200 miles farther out into the Pacific than it does today. Because the geography of the coastline is so different from the present day, the Vingboons map offers no points of alignment with modern landmarks.

Vingboons adorned this section of the coast with many names of features that could not have had any resemblance to what the early explorers saw, but rather assigned them the names given by the Spanish to the modern features found by the Spanish at that latitude.

What caused this 200-mile eastward movement of the coastline? While changing ocean level played a small part in the shape of the coast, the biggest cause was plate movement of the Pacific Sea floor.

Two significant rifts extend across the Pacific, starting at the Hawaiian Islands chain and meeting the continent at Eureka on the north end and Point Concepcion on the south, at Eureka by the Murray Fracture zone, and at Point Concepcion by the Mendocino Fracture zone.

These rifts do not stop at the Pacific coastline but rather continue to the east coast, the northern rift to New York, and the southern rift to the active earthquake zone of North Carolina.

These rifts gradually buckled the continent from east to west, starting during the Flood with the Appalachians.

A Midwest uplift buried under Mississippi river valley sediment was the location of the great earthquakes of 1811-1812. The Rockies were pushed up next, then the Wasatch range in Utah and last the folded ridges of Nevada. Finally, after the Vingboons map was made, the Sierra Nevada and California Coastal ranges were pushed up.

These two ridges do not appear on an otherwise extremely accurate map. I must assume they were not on the source maps because they did not yet exist. The formation of these last two ranges pushed the coastline of the map east by over 200 miles to where it is today.

The eastward shift can be seen in this map of California geology. “Older Metamorphic and sedimentary rocks” are dark blue. There is a sharp break in this rock between the Murray and Mendocino rifts. Formation of the Sierra Nevada range (below) pushed this block east about 50 miles.

The “Older Metamorphic and sedimentary rocks” were pushed east into what became the Sierra Nevada’s. The “Great Gold Rush of 1849” occurred due to the uplifting of the Sierra Nevada Mountain range and revealed abundant gold and silver on the surface of the ground. You could literally pick up the nuggets without having to dig with a pickaxe.

Therefore, ships from as far away as China sailed to San Francisco and the wagon trains were able to cross the Great Salt Lake, which up until that time, was still ocean fed. This is why you find ocean fossils in the Great Salt Lake and no one was able to access California until the mid-1800's!

The Great California Mudflood of 1862

And while all this was going on The Great Flood of 1862 was the largest flood in the recorded history of Oregon, Nevada, and California, occurring from December 1861 to January 1862.

It was preceded by weeks of continuous rains and snows in the very high elevations that began in Oregon in November 1861 and continued into January 1862.

This was followed by a record amount of rain from January 9–12, and contributed to a flood that extended from the Columbia River southward in western Oregon, and through California to San Diego, and extended as far inland as Idaho in the Washington Territory, Nevada and Utah in the Utah Territory, and Arizona in the western New Mexico Territory.

The event dumped an equivalent of 10 feet of rainfall in California, in the form of rain and snow, over a period of 43 days. Immense snowfalls in the mountains of the far western United States caused more flooding in Idaho, Arizona, New Mexico, and Sonora, Mexico the following spring and summer as the snow melted.

The event was capped by a warm intense storm that melted the high snow load. The resulting snow melt flooded valleys, inundated or swept away towns, mills, dams, flumes, houses, fences, and domestic animals, and ruined fields. It has been described as the worst disaster ever to strike California.

To be continued

The Invisible Rainbow You Mean You Can Hear Electricity? ( Part 5 )

By
Arthur Firstenburg

IN 1965, NAFTALIN, thinking in terms of solid state physics, postulated that this membrane—called the tectorial membrane—is a semiconductor that is also piezoelectric.

Piezoelectric substances, we recall, are those that convert mechanical pressure into electrical voltages, and vice versa. Quartz crystals (left) are the most familiar example.

Often used in radio receivers, they convert electrical vibrations into sound vibrations. Judging by its structure and chemical composition, Naftalin suggested that the tectorial membrane ought to have this property. He proposed that it is a piezoelectric liquid crystal that converts sound waves into electrical signals, which it communicates to the hair cell resonators embedded in it.

He suggested that the large voltage across the membrane causes great amplification of these signals.

Naftalin then built scale models of both the cochlea and the tectorial membrane, and began to find answers to some of the outstanding mysteries of the ear. He discovered that the snail-like shape of the cochlea (below) is important to its function as a precision musical instrument.

He also discovered that the makeup of the tectorial membrane has something to do with the instrument's small size.

While the speed of sound in air is 330 meters per second, and in water is 1500 meters per second, in ten percent gelatin it is only 5 meters per second, and in the tectorial membrane it is likely to be considerably less.

By slowing the speed of sound, the jelly-like substance of the membrane contracts the wavelengths of sounds from meters to millimetres, allowing a millimetre-sized instrument like the cochlea to receive and play the world of sound we live in for our brain.

George Offutt came to this problem as a marine biologist, and reached similar conclusions from an evolutionary perspective. His doctoral dissertation at the University of Rhode Island's School of Oceanography dealt with codfish hearing.

His theory of human hearing, first published in 1970, was later expanded into a book, The Electro-model of the Auditory System. I interviewed him in early 2013, shortly before his death.

Like Naftalin, Offutt concluded that the tectorial membrane is a piezoelectric pressure sensor.

And because of his background, he argued that human hair cells, by evolution and by function, are electro-receptors.

George Offutt Marine Biologist

The mammalian cochlea, after all, evolved from a fish organ called the lagena, which has hair cells not too unlike ours, covered by a gelatinous membrane, also similar to ours. But the fish's membrane is in turn topped by structures called otoliths ("ear stones"), which are crystals of calcium carbonate and are known to be about one hundred times more piezoelectric than quartz.

Offutt (above) said that this is not accidental. The hair cells in the ears of fish, he said, are sensitive to the voltages generated by the otoliths in response to sound pressure.

This, he said, explains why sharks can hear. Fish, being composed largely of water, are supposed to be transparent to water-borne sounds unless they have a swim bladder containing air.

Therefore sharks, which have no swim bladder, ought to be deaf according to standard theories, but they aren't. In 1974, Offutt elegantly solved this contradiction by introducing electricity into his model for how fish hear. And by extension, he said, there is no reason why human hearing should not still work in the same basic fashion.

If the cochlea evolved from the lagena, then the tectorial membrane evolved from the otolithic membrane and ought still to be piezoelectric. And the hair cells, which are substantially the same, should still function as electro-receptors.

In fact, fish have other, related hair cells that are known to be electro-receptors. Lateral line organs, for example, arranged in lines along the sides of every fish's body in order to sense water currents, actually respond not only to water currents but also to low frequency sounds and to electric currents.

These organs' hair cells, too, are covered by a jellylike substance, called the cupula, and they, too, are supplied by a branch of the acoustic nerve. In fact, the lateral line and the inner ear are so closely related functionally, evolutionarily, and embryonically, that all such organs in all types of animals are referred to as the acoustico-lateralis system.

Some fish have other organs, which evolved from this system, that are exquisitely and primarily sensitive to electrical currents. With these organs, sharks can detect the electric fields of other fish or animals, and can locate them in darkness, in murky water, or even when hidden in the sand or mud at the bottom.

The hair cells of these electric organs lie beneath the surface of the body in sacs called ampullae of Lorenzini and are covered, again, with a gelatinous substance.

All such fish organs, no matter their specialization, have proven to be sensitive to both pressure and electricity. Lateral line organs that primarily sense water currents also react to electrical stimuli, and ampullae of Lorenzini that primarily sense electric currents also react to mechanical pressure.

Therefore marine biologists were once of the opinion that piezoelectricity was at play in both the lateral line and the ear. Hans Lissman, once the world's foremost authority on electric fishes, thought that this was so.

Muriel Ross

Later, anatomist Muriel Ross, who had a grant from NASA to study the effects of weightlessness on the ear, emphasized that the otoliths of fish, and the related otoconia ("hair sand") of our own ears' gravity sensors, are known to be piezoelectric.

Mechanical and electrical energy, she said, are interchangeable, and feedback between hair cells and piezoelectric membranes will transform one form of energy into the other.

In a related study in 1970, Dennis O'Leary exposed the gelatinous cupulas of frogs' semi-circular canals—the organs of balance in the inner ear—to infrared radiation. The response of the canals' hair cells was consistent with the electrical and not the mechanical model of such organs.

Recently the outer hair cells (above) of the cochlea have themselves proven to be piezoelectric. They acquire a voltage in response to pressure, and they lengthen or shorten in response to an electric current. Their sensitivity is extreme: one picoamp (one trillionth of an amp) of current is enough to cause a measurable change in a hair cell's length.

Electric currents, travelling in complex paths, have also been found traversing the tectorial membrane and coursing through the organ of Corti.

And pulsating waves have been discovered, in the thin space between the tops of the hair cells and the bottom of the tectorial membrane, that reverberate between the outer hair cells, the tectorial membrane, and the inner hair cells.

Australian biologist Andrew Bell (above) has calculated that in the human cochlea these fluid waves should have wavelengths roughly between 15 and 150 microns (millionths of a meter)—just the right size to put hair cells 20 to 80 microns in length into musical resonance. Bell has compared these waves to surface acoustic waves, and the organ of Corti to a surface acoustic wave resonator, a common electronic device that has replaced quartz crystals in a wide variety of industries.

In the electro-model of hearing that these scientists have constructed, there are several places where electricity can act directly on the ear. The inner hair cells are electro-receptors. The outer hair cells are piezoelectric.

The tectorial membrane (above) is piezoelectric. And since both direct and alternating current can act on any of these structures, many of the early reports of the hearing of electricity, said Offutt, including reports that were dismissed as being due to “skin vibration,” should be reevaluated.

The exquisite sensitivity of the organ of Corti to electricity explains the nineteenth century reports of the hearing of direct current and the twentieth century reports of the hearing of alternating current.

And it forms a basis for understanding the torment suffered half a century ago by Clarence Wieske's client in Santa Barbara, and the suffering of so many millions today. But a piece of the auditory puzzle is still missing.

Direct or alternating current applied to the ear canal requires about one milliamper (one thousandth of an ampere) to stimulate hearing. If an electrode is placed directly in the cochlear fluid, about one microampere (millionth of an ampere) suffices.

If current is applied directly to a hair cell, one picoampere (trillionth of an ampere) is all that is necessary to cause a mechanical reaction. Clearly, sticking electrodes in your outer ear is an inefficient way to stimulate the hair cells. Very little of the applied current ever reaches those cells. But in today's world, electrical energy is reaching the hair cells directly in the form of radio waves, to which bones and membranes are transparent. The hair cells are also bathed in electric and magnetic fields originating in the electric power grid and all the electronic appliances that are plugged into it.

All those fields and radio waves penetrate the inner ear and induce electric currents to flow inside the cochlea itself. The question then becomes, why do we all not hear a constant cacophany of noise drowning out all conversation and music? Why is most electrical noise confined to either very low or very high frequencies?

The answer very likely has to do with a part of the ear that is not ordinarily associated with hearing at all.

To be continued

King Arthur & Conspiracy Against True British History How Alan Wilson and Baram Blackett's Endeavours to Uncover The True British History Have Been Thwarted By A USA Correspondent (Part 6)

The Empress Helen and the Holy Cross

WHEN CONSTANTINE THE GREAT LEFT HIS NATIVE BRITAIN IN AD 311 TO FIGHT AND DEFEAT THE OTHER TWO RIVALS TO THE IMPERIAL THRONE OF ROME, his mother the British Empress Helen went with him. When Licinus was defeated at the battle of the Milvian Bridge Constantine entered Rome and by AD 322 he was able to make Christianity a legally permitted religion in Rome.

Constantine then went to ancient Byzantium to rebuild this key trading centre as his new capital city of Constantinople. Julius Caesar had planned to relocate the centre of Roman power to this place at the crossroads of Europe and Asia.

The widowed Empress Helen then went on a pilgrimage around Sinai accompanied by a large body of soldiers. Helen then went north to Jerusalem where she demanded that the Holy Cross that had been used in the crucifixion of Jesus the Nazarene must be handed over to her.

After much prevarication that compelled Helen to use force and threats the precious piece of timber was handed to Helen, who immediately had it plastered with jewels and gold and placed into a silver casket. She had the nails made into a bridle bit for her son's horse and then she sailed her fleet back to Britain.

There are twenty five various accounts of this event scattered across Europe and the Near East. The Exeter Book has a good account of this.

When Helen arrived back in Britain she clearly had the Cross paraded around Wales which was much larger in those days before the constantly moving border drifted west. The practice of ancient royal and noble persons was never to leave their possessions at home, and usually a train of Ox drawn carts lumbered along around 10 miles a day.

The parade of the Cross can still be traced by place names like the Ford of the Cross, the Field of the Cross, the Vale of the Cross, the Hill of the Cross, and so on, all around 8 to 10 miles apart.

What is remarkable is that the place where the Cross was finally deposited is recorded in a manuscript first written around AD 920 and re-copied in circa AD 1100. Helen herself retired with it to Constantinople, but not the Constantinople in modern Turkey, but the Constantinople in West Wales. Here there are significant place names like Castle of the Great Helen, Ridge of the Empress, River of the Empress, River of the Sanctuary, and Castle of the Sanctuary, and one old Welsh story gives dramatic traceable details. Mass of details allows for the tracing of a tomb that is virtually certainly that of Helen.

In 1282 King Edward I of England demanded that the Khumry should hand over the Iron Crown of Arthur and the Holy Cross to him. He did not get them.

With the mass of information available and lying around totally ignored, Baram Blackett and Alan Wilson went in search of the Holy Cross and Iron Crown, and a quality metal detector identified both objects.

A non ferrous metal object around 1 foot, by 1 foot, by 5 feet, would appear to be the silver casket and another non-ferrous box shaped object around 1 foot square would probably be the Crown. There is a legal difficulty that needs to be resolved.

So far after twenty years nothing has been done and the Government refuses to take even the smallest action to easily recover these fabulous items. The total refusal to do anything in Wales is astonishing and there is the same ancient Communications gap.

To be Continued

More Than 3,000 Chemicals Enter Our Bodies Through Food Packaging — Here's What You Can Do About It

By Stacey Leasca

(FCCs) to five biomonitoring programs and three metabolome/exposome databases to see which ones are most frequently detected in "food contact materials" and then mapped their presence in humans. It found evidence of 3,601 of them, representing 25% of known FCCs. The team noted in the findings that 80 of these FCCs have "hazard properties of high concern." Here's what you need to know.

Recycled Paper And Card-board Is Among The Worst Offenders

There are an estimated 14,000 known chemicals in food packaging. And according to a newly published study, more than 3,600 of them could now be lurking in your body.

On Tuesday, a research team from Switzerland and several other nations published their findings in the new study, "Evidence for widespread human exposure to food contact chemicals." in the Journal of Exposure Science & Environmental Epidemiology. The team compared more than 14,000 known food contact chemicals

What Are Food Contact Chemicals?

As described in 2020 in the consensus statement, "Impacts of food contact chemicals on human health," FCCs are the chemical constituents of "food contact materials and finished food contact articles, including food packaging, food storage containers, food processing equipment, and kitchen- and tableware."

The team defined FCCs as "all the chemical species present in food contact articles, regardless of whether they are intentionally added or present for other reasons."

Are 'Forever Chemicals' In Your Favourite Sparkling Water? Here's what to Know

Again, there are thousands of FCCs; however, as the authors of the new study note, they found metals and per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances, also known as PFAS or "forever" chemicals, had made their way to the human body through food packaging.

How Dangerous Are These Chemicals?

As Food & Wine previously reported, exposure to PFAS chemicals, which have been used for decades in packing and other products to "impart oil, water, stain, and soil repellency," could potentially have serious health consequences. The Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry (ATSDR) noted several "potential outcomes" from PFAS exposure, including changes in cholesterol and liver enzyme levels, small changes in infant birth weight, and changes in the immune system and response to certain vaccines.

"One of the main outcomes is suppression of your immune responses after you get a vaccine," Dr. Jamie De Witt, the director of the Environmental Health Sciences Center at Oregon State University, who has long studied the human immune response to PFAS, shared with Food & Wine.

"The type of suppression that has been observed from PFAS and other environmental chemicals would be considered clinically to be mild to moderate. It doesn't mean that people are going to immediately get sick and immediately have problems, but we know from studies of people who are mild to moderately immune suppressed that there is an increased risk of infection and there is an increased risk of other types of diseases such as cancer."

How can I mitigate my risk?

The researchers of the new study note that "toxicity data are often incomplete or missing, which means that safe use cannot be assessed." So, they suggest reducing exposure "to known hazardous FCCs and assessing untested FCCs can contribute to the prevention of non-communicable diseases that are associated with chemical exposures."

This can be done in a multitude of ways. As the Washington Post reported, exposing food to these chemicals at high temperatures can cause them to leach more quickly into what you're about to consume.

Thus, it's not advisable to microwave anything in its takeout container. Simply educating yourself on which containers may be worse than others is also critical, as they may not be what you expect.

A High Seafood Diet Could Increase Your Risk of Exposure to 'Forever Chemicals'

"Probably the worst one is recycled paper and cardboard," Muncke told the paper. "And I know that's a hard one to stomach." That's because recycled paper, cardboard, and plastic can leach non food grade ink mixing with food, adding more chemicals than before.

Additionally, the experts Food & Wine spoke to previously noted that there are other ways people can limit their exposure, including looking for products that are "BPI certified," which means they are certified by the Biodegradable Products Institute, which requires all compostable food packaging to be PFAS-free. Consumers can also check out the Centre for Environmental Health website, which frequently updates its database of PFAS-free food packaging.

on by the Food and Drug Administration on the "Development of an Enhanced Systematic Process for FDA's

There is also one more way those living in the U.S. can advocate for themselves, and that's by taking part in an upcoming public hearing put

The End OS25363

The Health Benefits of Body Grounding By Jack Lewis

Quote: Let me jump in here. I work as an EE in bioengineering. There is no indication that an electrical bias in the human body has any effect on your cells or biological processes.

Furthermore any EM that your body absorbs is turned into heat, and not electric charge. That's why all new cell phones ship with a notice detail their SAR levels. This is a measure of how much specific absorbable RF energy your body is exposed to based on laboratory testing. If you break it down and do the math it's pretty negligible.

I RECENTLY CAME ACROSS 'BODY GROUNDING' AND ITS HEALTH BENEFITS. At first I thought this was another piece of health quackery! However after watching a You tube video I found on the Rumble video site I decided to look closer at it. It is an interview with Dr, Bryan Ardis, shown below, who exposes the lies of big pharma and government health agencies.

There is a benefit to all the grounding technology people are pushing online. Unfortunately the benefit is only to the person selling you $300 metal bed sheets.'

Click on Picture Above for Video

Fast forward to 49:12 where Dr Ardis touches on the subject of grounding health benefits. After watching I decided to do my own research and was astonished at how much information there is on the subject and all positive.

I did find one negative response on the Reddit website to a question about grounding.

I then found 2 scientific article from the US National Library of Medicine (above) that gave the lie to his comment.

First Positive Quote: ‘Lifetime exposure to EMF is becoming the subject of significant scientific investigation since it has the potential to cause crucial changes and deleterious effects in biological systems. The biological impacts of EMF can be classified as thermal and non-thermal.’

Modern Grounding Shoe

Up until say the 1940's grounding was something that happened pretty much automatically when we went walking. The leather soles of our shoes were good conductors for electricity between us and the ground even on concrete.

However, since the increased use of rubber soles and later plastic shoes we have insulated ourselves from the earth and grounding doesn't happen. This is closely linked to a number of illnesses that we now suffer from to the delight of ‘big pharma’.

A number of companies have been set-up that sell products that will enable us to get back grounding ourselves. These can be special bed sheets, grounding mats, wrist bands and even shoes (below).

All of these products are made of electrically conducting materials that are connect via a wire to the grounding (earthing) part of an electrical socket. The shoes however have conductive soles and insoles and will connect you with the earth provided you are not walking on insulating surfaces like asphalt or plastic floor coverings.

Some types of EMF radiation will produce the ‘free radicals’ that are eliminated when we ground ourselves. Free radicals are molecules with an unpaired electrons and thus can adversely alter lipids, proteins, and DNA and trigger a number of human diseases. It has been

Also, ‘a significant part of many studies concerning EMF have investigated the “non-thermal” effects of RF on biological tissues. It has been observed that this effect is mediated by generation of reactive oxygen species (ROS). ROS are involved in various cellular functions.

They can be essential or extremely toxic to cellular homeostasis-- In this case, antioxidant defence mechanisms are impaired by being subjected to an agent that causes overproduction of ROS, including EMF, thus resulting in oxidative stress.’

This is a subject that has been thoroughly researched by academia and numerous reports can be found on the Internet. It is a subject that, although known for decades, was not necessarily a problem for humans but nevertheless since we started to use electricity, it has been having a negative effect on our health.

This was adequately covered by Arthur Firstenberg's book, 'The Invisible Rainbow' and which is currently being serialised in this magazine. (Left) suggested that free electrons from the earth neutralize the positively charged free radicals that are the hallmark of chronic inflammation.

thicker and so increase the blood pressure. Below are red blood cells before and after grounding from 3 different people.

It is quite easy to test grounding before investing in grounding products. All that is required is a simple, inexpensive multimeter.

Depending on the meter purchased, switch and turn the dial to AC volts. Connect the red and black cables to their respective sockets. normally you would need to put the black probe into the ground/earth socket in your power point. But if you are a cautious about which is the correct socket then just take the meter outdoors and stick the black probe in the ground/grass.

Assuming you are wearing plastic or rubber soles on your shoes, just hold the metal tip of the red probe and note the voltage.

Next remove one of your shoes and put a bare foot on the ground. You will see that your body voltage drops to almost zero! This is because you are now at the same negative charge as the earth which is natural and how it should be.

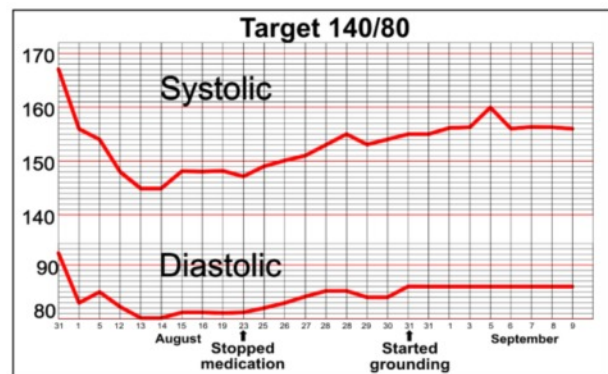

Animals don't have this problem and that is why they suffer with far less diseases than humans.

I suffer with high blood pressure and was given medication, which I reluctantly took, to stabilise my blood pressure. I check my blood pressure daily with a BP monitor and record the average day by day.

The medication seemed to keep within the recommended values for a particular condition. On discovering grounding I noticed that it lowered blood pressure. This is because when you are insulated from the earth the red blood cells tend to clump together and make the blood

So thought I would try grounding to see if it had any effect on my heart condition. I then purchased a wrist band and cable and started to use it on 31 August. I connected myself to a grounding socket whenever I was sitting at my computer, having lunch/dinner, just resting and during the night.

The first BP test went up slightly. Then on 31 August 2024 I started grounding and the BP average is now fairly constant. I put the slight increase between medication and grounding down to the over thinning of my blood by the medication.

The result shows a high BP at the start of the monitoring process on 31 July 2024, when I was taking the medication, and as I measured the BP over the next few days the average started to show a reduced BP.

On the 23 August 2024 I stopped taking the medication and the BP was slightly higher average and would be a true reflection of what my normal blood pressure should be. The doctor said that my target BP should be 140 Systolic over 80 Diastolic.

The actual average is about 156 over 86. I hope over time that the overall healing to my body from grounding will reduce the BP a bit more.

In 2004, electrical engineer and electrostatic discharge expert Roger Applewhite conducted an experiment to measure voltage on a grounded and ungrounded body.

For this purpose, he was both the subject and the author of the experiment, published in the journal of European Biology and Bio-electromagnetics. (Applewhite, R., 2005. Effectiveness of a Conductive Patch and a Conductive Bed Pad in reducing induced human body voltage via the application of earth ground. European Biology and Bio-electro-magnetics 11/03/2005 issue, pp. 23–40)

The experiment demonstrated that grounding decreases common alternating current voltage (in this case 60 Hz) induced on the body in a hotel room by a factor of about 70, a level similar to the electrical “noise” present in the room.

while ungrounded and then grounded using a conductive Earthing patch (referred to as a pain patch) and a conductive bed pad. He measured the induced voltage at three positions: left breast, abdomen, and left thigh with each grounding method. Figure 1, (below), shows the configuration of the room where the experiment was performed.

Figure 1: Test Geometry

To be continued

Mr. Applewhite took measurements on himself

Letters And Views

Letter to the Honourable Donald J. Trump
May 31, 2017

People in Oil-rich Venezuela Are Starving

Dear Donald Trump, As I'm sure you know, our dollar, like almost all currencies in the world, is fiat. The Constitution defines the value of the dollar in terms of precious metals and directs Congress to “coin” money and to regulate its value.

Even though you and members of the House and Senate have sworn to support and defend the Constitution, these very important elements of our monetary system are being ignored. People in oil-rich Venezuela are starving because, among other things like our sanctions, the bolivar is worthless. As we know from economic history, monetary collapse is a natural consequence of un-backed fiat currency and starvation is a natural consequence of a monetary collapse.

You are talking about fake news and many of your supporters are talking about fake campaign promises but no one is discussing our fake money. Next to sex, money makes the world go around and our dollar is intrinsically worthless.

Davy Crockett said that most politicians: “—sacrifice honour, integrity and justice to obtain it”. Money is an extremely important part of our lives and, yet, our government ignores the Constitution to use a money substitute in lieu of money.

I am interested in your thoughts concerning fiat currency and also your thoughts on who will ultimately have to pay the national debt. Thank you. Respectfully, William J. Madden. Posted by Pastor Dan, USA.

A Father Uses Old Car to Teach Son An Important Lesson About Life

Sir,____, The above is a vehicle offer to purchase from the Soviet Union (1977). Ordinary citizens had to wait between a decade and two decades to buy a car due to the lengthy process of saving for it and the lead time for delivery.

The Soviet state owned and controlled all production; imports of foreign vehicles for the general public and private dealerships were banned, and customer service or satisfaction was not a main priority. People felt fortunate to have this privilege.

By the 1980's, the waiting period after purchase could stretch to a decade or more due to high demand and limited production capacity. Soviet citizens could only buy cars from a few locally produced brands without customisation.

Yet many Soviet leaders personally owned what socialism termed "capitalist-fascist" luxury cars, including Rolls Royces and Porsches, which were forbidden to the Soviet citizen. Some from the Soviet bloc may feel proud of their prosperity and quality of life, but the reality is that emigration from a Soviet country had to be made illegal, while immigration into a Soviet country was rarely desired.

A father said to his son, "You graduated with honours. Here is a Volkswagen Beetle that I bought many years ago— It is over 50 years old, but before I give it to you, take it to a dealership downtown and ask how much they are offering you."

The son went to the dealership, came back to his father and said, "They offered me $10,000 because it looks very used." The father said, "Take it to a pawn shop."

The son went to the pawn shop, came back and said, "They only offered me $1,000 because they say it is too old."

Finally, the father asked his son to take the car to a classic car club and show it there. The son took the car to the club, came back and said, "Some people at the club offered me $100,000! because it is a very rare car and sought after among the members."

The father said to his son, "I wanted you to understand that the right place appreciates you in the right way. If they don't value you, don't be angry, it just means you're in the wrong place. Those who know your value are the ones who truly appreciate you. Never stay in a place where they don't recognize your value!" Yours truly, Quorar Alessandro

Bolsheviks and Women

Sir __, The following article titled "Bolsheviks and Women" was based on a report by an Englishman who moved with the anti-Bolshevik Cossack forces, and was published during the Civil War (1919)

The Cossacks

"In towns captured by - Bolsheviks the only unviolated sacred buildings are the synagogues while churches are used for anything, from movie shows to slaughter house. The Poles, Galicians, and Petlura have committed 'pogroms' (massacres of Jews)— not the Russian volunteer armies under Denikin. Denikin has, in fact, been so strict in protecting 'the Jews that he has been accused by his sympathisers of favouring them."

"They have declared war on Christianity. The Bible to them is a 'counter revolutionary' book, and to be stamped out. They are aiming at raising all non Christian races against the Christian countries. The Bolsheviks form about 5 per cent, of the population of Russian-Jews (80 to 90 per cent of the commissaries are Jews), Chinese, Letts, Germans, and certain of the 'skilled labour' artisans."

"Papers are no good, because papers would put it more delicately. We have here at H.Q. passes issued to Bolsheviks by commissaries on occupying Ekaterinodar. These passes authorize their holders to arrest any girl they fancy for the use of the soldiery.

Sixty-two girls of all classes were arrested like this and thrown to the Bolshevik troops. Those who struggled were killed quite early. The rest, when used and finished, were mutilated and thrown, dead and dying, into the two small rivers flowing through Ekaterinodar. "

"Hundreds of 'suspects,' men, women, and children, were herded in these— doors and windows manned and the struggling mass fired into until most of them were dead or dying. The doors were then locked and they were left. The stench, in these places, I am told, is hair raising. These 'slaughter houses' are veritable plague spots, and have caused widespread epidemics."

"The Bolsheviks are devils... hope to send you copies of 61 official photos taken by British officers at Odessa when the town was retaken from the Bolsheviks. The French and Greek divisions had cleared out; the Bolshies had taken the town and were finally driven out by Denikin's 'Iron Brigade.' The successful assault was made by a detachment of the Volunteer Army."

"They must be woken up John and Katie ought to see them. Most of the photos are of women. Women with their breasts cut off to the bone. Women with their bodies cut open."

"I suggest that you should have copies done... They show men who've been crucified with the torture of the 'human glove.' The victim gets crucified, nails through his elbows."

Gen. Deniken

"The very enemies of Gen. Denikin [the anti-Bolshevik commander of the Russian White Army] who have committed pogroms accuse him of all men, and his volunteer armies, of massacring Jews. It is one more expedient to turn the sympathies of western countries against Denikin—not very successful on the whole, and a side issue. I don't know why I wasted so much time on this minor point of the Jews."

discrediting the Czar and Imperial family in allied countries." Yours Truly, K. H. West Midlands, UK.

The End

"At the same time they made every effort, unfortunately with the greatest success, of

Our American Identity (Part 4) By Dr. J. Stanley Barnes (Comments By Pastor Eli James)

After the death of Solomon, the united kingdom of Israel was divided into two distinct political units,

- (1) the "house of Israel" in the north consisting of ten tribes, and
- (2) the "house of Judah" in the south, consisting of two tribes, Judah and Benjamin.

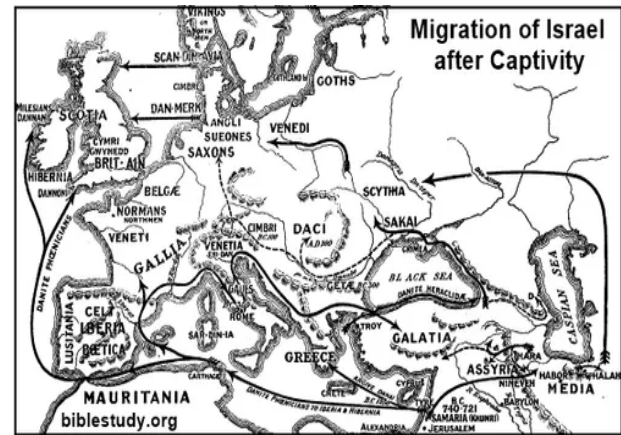

In the late eighth century B.C. the northern "house of Israel" became subject to the political and military power of neighbouring Assyria, culminating in about 721 B.C. in the fall of Samaria, the capital city, and the deportation of all the productive people of that society into the region today comprising Iraq and Iran, the land of Medes and Persians.

MOST OF THE MISSIONARIES TAKING CHRIST AS A BLESSING TO ALL PEOPLE ARE SENT OUT BY THE ENGLISH-SPEAKING NATIONS, and they are the countries which have led the world in the printing of Bible and providing funds for world evangelisation.

Christ is "A light to lighten the nations (the true meaning of "Gentiles"), and the glory of thy people Israel." (Luke 2:32.)

The blessing of Christ is being taken to all the world by white European and America related nations. "And the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many people as a dew from the Lord, as the showers upon the grass..." (Micah 5:7) bringing refreshment, nourishment, and growth.

By their fruits you shall know them. The true Israel consists of those who fulfill the prophecies. Anyone who claims to be Israel and does not take the blessing of Christ Jesus into the world is an impostor.

Those people then migrated north and west into the wilderness that became Europe. Their identity was lost to history because they were known by different names in various places and times. They forgot their roots and adopted the religions of the primitive peoples they encountered on their travels.

Jerusalem Well Defended

Second Kings 18:13 records a successful invasion of the house (kingdom) of Judah by Assyria about 700 B.C. in which the invading armies captured "all the fenced cities of Judah" except Jerusalem.

The Assyrians' record of that invasion says the Assyrian armies captured forty-six cities of the house of Judah and that Assyrians "brought away" 200,150 people.

Those Judaite prisoners in Assyria moved eastward into the mountains of Central Asia where they were known as the Yoti, but about the time of Christ the migrated into Europe and settled in the Danish Islands and in Jutland, or Judahland. These people of the house of Judah became ancestors of the Germans today. Though they are of the house of Judah (the tribes of Judah and Benjamin), they are far different from the Jews of today.

The Jews through the centuries have mixed with Edomites, Khazars (Mongolian), and North African stock, so that the Jews of today have little blood of Abraham in their veins while the Germans of today could (if they knew the facts) trace their ancestry to the house of Judah centred on Jerusalem.

Perhaps this fundamental conflict of identity explains the ancient tensions between Jews and Germans.

About one hundred years after the exile of two hundred thousand Judaites by the Assyrians, the house of Judah was invaded by Babylon. Only a relatively small number ever returned to the area around Jerusalem, the rest remaining in Babylon. These {non-Israelite} people in Palestine and Babylon became the ancestors of the people known today as the Jews.

The book of Esther records that in her time many people of other races adopted the Jewish {sic, Mosaic – Eli} religion, which added thousands of people who became known as Jews but were not descended from Abraham (Esther 8:17).

{The most correct way of stating this is that the non-Judahites of the time contrived a bastardised, Babylonian version of the Mosaic Law, which is today known as the Babylonian Talmud. – Eli}

According to Josephus, the Jewish {sic, Judahite – Eli} historian, writing 95 A.D., about 150 B.C. a Judean leader named John Hyrcanus led a Jewish {sic, Judahite – Eli} army; which captured many cities of the Idumeans (Greek form of Edomites) and compelled them to follow the Jewish {sic. Judahite – Eli} religion.

The men were all circumcised and all the Edomites were forced to adopt the Jewish {sic, Judahite, Mosaic – Eli} ceremonial and dietary laws.

Edomite - Herod The Great

From that day on, all those Edomites were counted as Jews {sic, Judeans, not as Judahites or Israelites – Eli}, though racially they were descended from Esau.

Significantly, these descendants of Esau have always deeply resented that God’s salvation plan was carried down through the line of Jacob Israel rather than Esau, their forefather; and the Edomite Jews have bitterly resented Jesus of Nazareth, rejecting the Crucified One as Messiah. Interestingly, "Edom" means “Red”.

In the eighth and ninth centuries after Christ, a basically Mongolian people called Khazars (or Chazars) lived in the area north of the Black Sea and the Caspian Sea.

Their King Bulan (left) decreed that all

Khazars adopt the religion of the Pharisees as an instrument of political unity. Arnold Toynbee, the eminent British historian, places this mass conversion to Jewry as taking place across the period 750-870 A.D.

This Khazar empire became the backbone of the Jews who migrated into the Slavic nations of eastern Europe and from there into the United States about the turn of the Twentieth century, bringing with them the mentality of socialist revolution, which has always included terrorism.

The basic Communist documents are 'Das Kapital' and 'The Communist Manifesto' written by Karl Marx, a Jew. He was assisted in his writing by another Jew, Friederich Engles. Jewish influence, if not control, of the Communist movement continued through Lenin, who is today worshipped as the Red Messiah, and Leon Trotsky, a New York Jew whose real name was Braunstein.

According to U.S. Document No. 62 of the 66th Congress, Vol. 3, at the Communist meeting in Petrograd (now Leningrad) Russia, in 1918; the group in attendance consisted of 16 Russians, 1 American Negro, and 371 Jews.

Above all the Karl Heinrich Marx, whose real name was Kissel Mordekay, was born in Trier, Rhineland. His father was a Jewish lawyer. His grandfather was a talmudic Rabbi. "On both paternal and maternal sides he was descended

Steven Books
League Enterprises
Suite 3, 3rd. Floor
148 Cambridge Heath Road
London
E1 5QJ

For books by identity authors –
Kenneth McKilliam, Ria Splinter
and Richard Porter plus many other subjects and difficult to obtain books.

<http://www.stevenbooks.co.uk/category/341/Religion> from rabbinical families." Univ. Jewish Encyclopedia, Vol. VII, p. 289; etc.

Another Jew, Sigmund Freud (above), invented psychoanalysis. Though the whole system of thought is purely Freud's own creation and is totally non-medical and non-scientific it has been amazingly seductive, being accepted today throughout Western medicine.

Freud's system has no more scientific credibility than does voodoo, yet his pseudoscience has become the effective religion of thousands of Jews and Anglo-Saxons, the two groups who comprise most practitioners and "patients" today. Psychoanalysis, a Jewish invention, totally discredits the Biblical teaching of man as sinner in need of Jesus Christ as Savior.

Freudianism and Communism certainly qualify as antichrists. As such, they represent Satanic attacks upon the integrity of the true Israel.

In the gospel of John we see a clear distinction being drawn between the false Israel and the true Israel. Seeing Nathanael, Jesus defined his type as "...an Israelite indeed (in truth), in whom is no guile!" (John 1:47). Significantly, Nathanael was a Galilean, not a Judean.

In fact, Judas Iscariot was the only Judean among the twelve disciples. Of the false Israel, John writes, "He came unto his own, and his own received him not." (John 1:11).

{Actually, this statement applies to the true Judahites and Israelites of Judea, who Were "His own."}

Yahshua did not come to save the Jews, because the Jews were and are aliens to true Israel. The fact is that many true Israelites rejected Yahshua. This is still true today. Also, Judas came from the town of Kerioth, which was an Edomite town bordering southern Judah. The erstwhile surname, Ishkerioth, means "man of Kerioth." – Eli.}

Nothing could be clearer than the test of authenticity set forth by Jesus Himself in John 8:39: "If ye were Abraham's children, ye would do the work of Abraham." Then Jesus added, "If God were your Father, ye would love me." (John 8:42). Here is the test of who is true Israel and who is not. True Israelites, like Nathanael, will accept and love Jesus as Messiah. False Israelites will reject and despise the name of Jesus.

To be continued - OS23544

The Marvellous Medicinal Properties of Lime Peel - From Our Health Correspondent

REMEDY STEEPS HOPE FOR MODERN MEDICINE IN LIME PEELS AND STEAM

Amid alarm over rising antibiotic resistance, new research restores hope by reaching back to ancient plant cures. Scientists in Thailand tested an essential oil made from Kaffir lime peels against dangerous, multi-drug resistant staph infections.

AS "NIGHTMARE BACTERIA" IMPERVIOUS TO ANTIBIOTICS PROLIFERATE, AN ANCIENT

In lab dishes, the oil potently blocked growth and killed methicillin-resistant Staphylococcus aureus (MRSA), restoring effectiveness to failing antibiotics like gentamicin.

The Centres for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) warns that common bugs like MRSA are becoming "nightmare bacteria" - impervious to most antibiotics.

This leaves doctors scrambling as more standard drugs fail against formerly routine illnesses. Seeking solutions, researchers extracted Kaffir lime's pungent, citrusy essential oil through steam distillation of the peels. In lab tests, they discovered this natural oil alone halted MRSA's spread (above). But it also exhibited a little-known power: restoring potency to gentamicin, an antibiotic beaten down by resistance.

This ancient-meets-modern pairing of plant oil and gentamicin provides a new strategy against stubborn infections.

The CDC now acknowledges that rather than relying solely on new antibiotics, incorporating old botanical treatments may better protect public health.

The research team first confirmed antibiotic resistance levels in staph cultures from hospital patients. As expected, most strains resisted multiple drug classes like penicillins, c e p h a l o s p o r i n s , fluoroquinolones, and more, qualifying as nightmare super bugs. But when exposing MRSA samples to Kaffir lime oil (Left), growth diminished. The oil also completely killed MRSA within 12 hours at higher, but still safe, levels.

Additionally, the researchers tested lime oil and gentamicin together using checkerboard testing. This assesses if combining treatments improves efficacy. Strikingly, pairing tiny doses of gentamicin with minimal lime oil concentrations annihilated MRSA colonies.

The mix also prevented single drugs from breeding resistance. Rather than crude plant compounds versus pharmaceuticals, the study revealed an elegant synergism against microbes when delicately blended by nature and science. So with antibiotic miracles waning against proliferating drug-resistant threats, this research proffers hope.

It suggests reviving ancient botanical wisdom could offer modern medicine tools to combat our most urgent infections. A little natural sour and spice, with gentamicin's still mighty punch, may concoct the soothing savour we desperately need.

To learn more about how conventional antibiotics may have contributed to the rise of so-called antibiotic-resistant or "nightmare bacteria," Learn more about the wide range of natural approaches researched for combating MRSA or antibiotic resistant bacteria on the Greenmedinfo.com database.

The End

Meme
Russia and The Soviets

In 1929, the Jewish writer, Joseph Haiman, who had returned from a visit to Russia, wrote in New York 'Hebrew Tribune:' "In Soviet Russia we have not a dictatorship of the proletariat but the Jewish Dictatorship of the Proletariat."

The Russians call Soviet-power "shidovakaja vlastj" —which means. Jewish-power.

"Jewry is the father of Marxist-Communism." said the Jewish journal 'Le droit de vivre,' published in Paris, May 12, 1933.

IF THE TRUTH BE KNOWN

CD 127 minutes (listen to Audio Clip on site)
$16.00

Here you will find the ignored story of the massive deportations of the German peoples from Eastern Germany, Poland, the Baltic States, and the Sudetenland and its attendant horrors.

The entire library of many more audio programs is available as a bundle. All told, this is nearly 14 hours of great historical commentary! Plus, you realize a savings of $20 dollars. For full details and to purchase go to the website:—

<http://www.untoldtales.net>

Eurofolk Radio

Is now on air!

24 hr streaming of items of interest to identity believers including live broadcasts on matters of national interest and much more!!

TUNE IN NOW!

<http://eurofolkradio.com/category/general/>

Paul English

PAULENGLISHLIVE.COM

m US eastern · gab.com/paulenglish · t.me/paulenglish · ru

League  Sentinel

A Magazine For Patriots

For further details click HERE

Announcements

In The Name Of Yahwey auf Deutsch - Für weitere Informationen, auf das Bild auf der rechten klicken Sie bitte

The Chronicles Of The Migrations Of The Twelve Tribes Of Israel From The Caucasus Mountains Into Europe
By
Pastor Eli James

CLICK HERE

www.theflameuk.com

Contact

Tel: 07984 775937

E-mail HERE

This website is dedicated to those who have an open mind and question the official Government narratives about COVID19 and the lockdown measures.

<https://judgeforyourself.co.uk>

GERMANY'S OWN IDENTITY MAGAZINE

CONTACT

pia-6@t-online.de

Die Banker Satans

Aktualisiert Erweitert Unzensur von
Carrington Hitchcock, Andrew