

The New Ensign

No. 143 July 2021

This publication is for private circulation only

Calling The True Israel Peoples

Editorial

Dear Reader,

The Graphene Oxide Connection

The current “pandemic” is a cover for Graphene Oxide introduced by several ways into the body, which is a form of carbon which has been made magnetic, unlike all other carbon which is not. This is why it is so dangerous when introduced into the body as carbon is a constituent of cells.

This information has recently been brought to light by a Spanish bio-statistician Ricardo Delgado, Dr. José Luis Sevillano and the team of researchers and professors with whom they have been conducting their research have confirmed the presence of graphene oxide nanoparticles in vaccination vials.

It was not confirmed whether all of the different vaccine brands were tested, but from the many stories from jabbed people who report coins and other objects clinging to their skin, it would appear to be all.

Not only through the vaccines, it is on the official CV-19 masks and test swabs. Reports are also coming in of Graphene oxide being placed in our food supplies. Therefore, to be on the safe side, its best to avoid processed food where possible.

Graphene oxide is extremely potent and strong in aerosols, as is the alleged SARS-CoV-2. Like any material, graphene oxide has what is called an 'electronic absorption band'.

This means a certain frequency above which the material is excited and oxidizes very rapidly, thus breaking the equilibrium with the proliferation in the organism of the toxicant against our natural antioxidant glutathione reserves. Precisely this frequency band is emitted in the new emission bandwidths of the new 5G wireless technology. That is why the deployment of these antennas never stopped during the pandemic.

This is another confirmation that fictitious diseases, are and have been used by the enemy to cover mass poisoning down the centuries.

People are been terrorised through the false science of germ and virus theories, which being invisible to the general public, is very convenient! But with Yahweh, will will overcome!

The Editor
editor@newensign.com

Contents		Page
The Exclusive Covenants (Part 3) Pastor Eli James		3
OT “Word for Word” Deuteronomy Part 21 - Pastor Steven H. Anderson		9
The Fall ad Rise of Abraham’s descendants (Part 4) - Adam De Witt		13
Harold Stough Notes - The Greeks and The Hebrews PART 3		16
The Tetragrammaton - Rev. John Williams Ab Ithel, MB		18
The Political influence of British Israel in The 19th Century (6) - R. Simpson		21
Letters and Views		23
Waun Mawr Nevern, Pembrokeshire Original Site of Stonehenge?		28
Acute Electrical Illness (Part 1) - Arthur Firstenberg		29
The Sussex Zodiac - Mike Collier		33
There is No Corona Virus - Garry Allen		36
Why Are Vaccinated People Behaving like Zombies?		38

The Exclusive Covenants (Part 4)

Of Covenant Theology: Documenting the Bible's Commandment of Racial Segregation

By

Pastor Eli James

The Exclusive Covenants With Israel Confirmed by All of the Prophets

“You only have I known of all the families of the earth: therefore will I punish you for all your iniquities.” - Amos 3:2.

PETER CONFIRMS THIS LANGUAGE WHEN HE SAYS, “Judgment must begin at the House of God,” (I Peter 4:17) which can only be the whole House of Israel. All of Scripture confirms this. It is only because of the poor translations, deceptive definitions, Jewish “tradition,” and Judeo-apostasy that anything different is taught today.

“Sing, O daughter of Zion; shout O Israel; be glad and rejoice with all the heart, O daughter of Jerusalem. Yahweh has taken away your judgments, He has cast out your enemy. The King of Israel, even Yahweh, is in the midst of you: you shall not see evil anymore.” - Zeph. 3:14-15. This is the Gospel (Good News) being proclaimed in the Old Testament for the Israelites of the New Testament, those who have had their past sins forgiven by Messiah at the cross.. This good news is exclusively for Israel, although it will positively affect the residents of the whole world, once Adamic Israel is restored to dominion.

Contrary to what the Jews and Judeos teach, the whole House of Israel will never be completely destroyed: “I am Yahweh. I change not. Therefore, you sons of Jacob ARE NOT CONSUMED.” - Mal. 3:6.

And they shall be as though I HAD NOT CAST THEM OFF.’ - Zech. 10:6.

All of the OT prophets confirm the exclusive, unchangeable covenants with Adamic Israel. Anyone who says that these covenants were changed in the NT to include non-Israelites is a liar. This false doctrine is direct contradiction to all of Scripture. This false idea that True

Israel has been abandoned by God and replaced by the Church is the central tenet of the doctrine called “Dispensationalism.” Since dispensationalism contradicts every pronouncement of Covenant theology, they make Yahweh to be liar. Who do think is lying? Yahweh or the false priests?

Israel is Yahweh’s Servant People

We are Yahweh’s Servant People. Neither the Jews, nor any other people, have ever served Him. They have always served their own gods.

Isa. 4:21: “Remember these O Jacob and Israel; for thou art my servant: I have formed thee; thou art my servant: O Israel, THOU SHALT NOT BE FORGOTTEN OF ME.”

Verse 22 is a prophecy of the coming of the Kinsman Redeemer of Israel: “I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, thy transgressions, and, as a cloud, thy sins: return unto me; for I have redeemed thee.” These words were spoken only to Israel, and no one else. Acts 7:31 confirms that this forgiveness only applies to Israel.

Isa. 42:1 tells us this: “Behold MY SERVANT (Israel), whom I uphold; MINE ELECT, in whom my soul delighteth; I have put my spirit upon him: he shall bring forth judgment to the nations.”

Isaiah does NOT say that Israel will become the nations. He tells us that we will bring judgment TO the nations.

PROMISE

The Promises were made exclusively to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob...and their descendants.

Gen. 16:6-12. Hagar’s son is Ishmael, the progenitor of today’s Arabs.

Paul confirms Ishmael’s exclusion in Gal. 4:22-31. We Anglo-Saxons are the children of the free woman, Sarah. The Ishmaelites (today’s Arabs) are the children of the bondwoman, Hagar.

Gen. 17:1-16, 19-21. “Perfect” is Tamiym, without blemish, without spot. This is the same word that is used of all sacrificial animals. This word cannot be equated with good, upright, or blameless. This is a reference to genetic purity.

Yahweh’s specific promise is given to Sarah (Gen. 17:15-16). She will be the mother of a bloodline. Her direct descendants will be kings and nations.

Again, Paul confirms the exclusivity of these promises. Gal. 3:13-19. This covenant cannot be disannulled. “Abraham’s seed will be a blessing to all nations.” Paul confirms the exact terms of Gen. 12:3 at Gal. 4:14. Nothing has been altered, nor can it be altered.

The whole of Chapter 3 is devoted to explaining that the forgiveness of Israel was not dependent upon the Law of Moses. It was promised independently of the Law, even BEFORE the Law, through Abraham. That’s why the Law cannot annul this promise.

“Now to ABRAHAM AND HIS SEED [posterity] were the promises made. He said not “and to posterities [such as those genealogies which have been decidedly excluded from the promises], as of many [posterities]; but as of ONE [posterity], to your seed [posterity], which is anointed. – Gal. 3:16.

The KJV translation of “which is Christ” is absurd, as the promises were NOT made to Jesus Christ. The verse begins by recounting the direct genealogy to which the promises were applied. These promises were made to all of Abraham’s direct descendants, through Isaac and Jacob’s descendants. The specific promise that the Messiah [Christ] would come to Israel is being affirmed here. Christ did not come to redeem Himself, as this horrible translation implies. Nor were the promises made to Him. He is the Redeemer who was promised to Israel. Gal. 3:16 is speaking of the ANOINTED PEOPLE, ISRAEL.

“I come not but unto the exiled sheep of the House of Israel.” – Matt. 15:24.

He did not come to redeem himself. He was sinless. These nonsensical translations in the KJV have made absolute mincemeat of the True Gospel.

Also, Gal. 3:28-29 is horribly translated. It should read, “There is neither Judean nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for you [ISRAEL] are all one in Christ Jesus. [This confirms that the anointed people, Israel – all twelve tribes, including those of the Dispersion, male or female, free or bond, Judahite or Hellenized Israelites – were redeemed at the Cross.] And if you be anointed, then are you Abraham’s seed [direct posterity] and heirs according to the PROMISE.”

Paul is confirming that only the anointed people, those to whom the promises were made, are the recipients of the promise that was delivered. Sarah specifically disinherited Ishmael at Gen. 21:10.

Esau disinherited his own descendants by selling his birthright, and Paul has no authority to change the terms of the covenants and promises. Nor does he claim to have such authority.

He specifically states that no one has the authority to give our inheritance to anyone else; but the KJV and the Dispensationalists claim otherwise! This is GRAND THEFT, by mistranslation! But these promises can be fulfilled only by ensuring that they are delivered to their intended recipients. The KJV has butchered these verses so badly that they make no sense whatsoever.

However, the universalists just love to preach nonsensical sermons about how ALL PEOPLE – even the Ishmaelites and Edomites who were specifically excluded - can become “Abraham’s seed” by “having faith.” Can you believe this? Believe it, because they have pulled off this tremendous scam by mistranslating a few words! Paul said no such thing.

Galatians 4:1-7 carries the radical word stretching further by falsely translating the Greek huiothesia as ADOPTION in verse 5. Strong's tells us that this word means the "PLACING, as a son."

The word, ADOPTION, is added as an example, but it is a bad example, because only sons and daughters can be put into the place of INHERITANCE. Now, a son or daughter can be placed into the position of inheritance when they come of age. But, only those directly named in the LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT count as heirs. This is how the promises to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob have been fulfilled TO THE LETTER.

Paul is saying that the heirs have "grown up" and now qualify for the inheritance. No other human beings can possibly qualify as heirs. In this verse, Paul first makes it clear that Christ came to redeem them that were under the law [of sacrifices], which had been delivered to and practiced exclusively by Israelites and no other people!!!! So, how can the people of other nations be adopted? These two concepts are in direct contradiction to each other.

Verse 6 confirms that he is talking about true sons, not those adopted from other nations.

Verse 7: "Wherefore you [the direct descendants of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob] are no longer a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ." Remember that only Israel was considered by Yahweh to His Servant People. We are to serve Him by bringing the world order back under His Law. As the City on the Hill, we are to set the example for other nations to follow. If we mix with them, we become like them. If we become like them, then there is no city on the hill.

As Paul stated twice already (Gal. 3:15, 17), these covenants CANNOT BE ANNULLED, but the translation committee of King James have done their utmost to rewrite history, deny that these covenants mean what they say, and declare that the promises have been annulled, by CHANGING THE TERMS OF THE PROMISES AND COVENANTS and adding the rest of creation to the redemption. This doctrine is in total violation of the terms of the covenants, promises, and inheritance. But false priests have no problems with contradictions.

Arnold Kennedy (above) has done the best analysis of the KJV's poor translation of the book of Galatians. His article, "The book of Galatians and an Israel Exclusive" is must reading. First, a quotation regarding Gal 3:26 and 3:29:

In these two critical verses we have something else [not Jesus Christ] which is anointed! What can it be? What is the subject? Is it not the seed of Abraham, in their generations, according to the original promise? Hence, Gal. 3:16 reads 'and TO THY SEED which is anointed' and Gal. 3:29 reads 'and if ye be an anointed (people) then ye are Abraham's seed. The churches try to spiritualize the matter of Abraham's seed.' -

Source:

How would you like it if someone mistranslated your epistles and then interpreted them in such a way as to deprive you of your inheritance? Would that not make you slightly upset with the translators?

Then, because of this type of subterfuge, many in Christian Israel accuse Paul of being the guilty one, not realizing that the KJV translators were doing the devil's work in contradicting the clear, unambiguous, exclusive Covenants between Yahweh and Israel.

How would you like to be accused of this false charge? This is what the Paul distorters have done to his epistles. The lousy KJV translation is responsible for this massive confusion. Paul cannot be blamed for the imperialistic agenda of King James.

KINDRED

Gen. 24:1-7, 36-38: "My kindred" refers to the Shemitic nation of Abraham. No Canaanite wife is permitted for Isaac. Rebekah is the pure White

Shemite that Yahweh has selected for Isaac. She is blessed by Yahweh at Gen. 24:58-60

Gen. 25:1-6: The sons of Keturah are sent away so as not to interfere with Isaac's inheritance. These are the Indo-Aryans. They are still a kindred people to the Shemitic Caucasians, but they are not Israelites.

HOLY, SEPARATE, SEVERED

"Holy" means "called out." It is only in modern times that the word 'holy' has developed the strictly RELIGIOUS meaning of 'saintly' or "non-sinful." Even so, these modern meanings are derived from "called out."

Obviously, the Israelites were hardly ever a non-sinful people, so that definition makes no sense at all. Yahweh has constantly struggled with us because of our sinfulness. Only the Elect, or Remnant, ever achieves righteousness to the degree acceptable to Yahweh for governance of the Kingdom. We are the elect, in spite of our faults, because Yahweh intends to purge the sin out of us.

Ex. 19:5-6: "Now, therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people: for all the earth is mine. And ye shall be unto me a kingdom of priests, and an holy nation."

Isa. 6:12-13: "And Yahweh has removed men [#120, AWDAM] far away [into the wilderness of Europe, which became the regathering place for all White Israelites], and a great forsaking [of His laws, way back in Palestine and the Great Apostasy today] in the midst of the land. But yet in it shall be a tenth [a remnant], and it [the remnant] shall return [to Me, Yahweh], and shall be eaten: as a teil tree, and as an oak, whose substance is in them, when they cast their leaves: so the HOLY SEED shall be the substance thereof."

The Israelites will yet bear fruit, which can be "eaten" when the harvest is ripe. The other 90% are so rotten that they cannot be "eaten." This is also confirmed by the prophetic Church of Laodecia, the End Time Apostasy which so foul that it literally nauseates Yahshua! (Rev. 3:16.) Only the Israelites are spoken of in this manner. None of the historical escapades undergone by Israel apply to any other race. The exclusivity of the Bible is unmistakable, once the fog of universalism is removed from one's eyes. Segregation is not an option. It is mandatory.

"For I am Yahweh your Elohim, the HOLY ONE OF ISRAEL, your Savior: I gave Egypt for your ransom, Ethiopia are for you. Since you (Israel) were precious in My sight, you have been [some-what] honorable, and I have loved you: therefore will I give men for you, and people for your life."

Fear not: for I am with you: I will bring your seed from the east, and gather you from the west. I will say to the north, Give up; and to the south, Keep not back: bring My sons from afar, and My daughters from the ends of the earth; Even every one that is called by my name: for I have created him for my glory, I have formed him; yea, I have made him." - Isa. 43:3-5.

These words are spoken exclusively to Israel and to no other people. In fact, these words are part of the dominion Mandate given to the Adamic race way back in Gen. 1:26-31. Yahweh will present the other races and nations to us, once the Remnant has mastered righteousness.

The Hebrew word for 'holy' is qadash. More than anything else, it means "appointed, dedicated, consecrated." The dedication ceremony was the placing of Isaac on the sacrificial altar by Abraham. Only by virtue of this ceremony are Isaac's descendants intended to be "sacred," or "non-sinful."

Steven Books
League Enterprises
Suite 3, 3rd. Floor
148 Cambridge Heath Road
London
E1 5QJ

For books by identity authors –
Kenneth McWilliam, Ria Splinter and Richard Porter plus many other subjects and difficult to obtain books.

<http://www.stevenbooks.co.uk/category/341/Religion>

Certainly a priest and God's people Israel should be non-sinful; but that is not what the word means.

It means that Yahweh has dedicated us exclusively, setting us apart from the heathen, in order that we might refrain from sin, so that we could provide the world with a holy example, so that we might be the City on the Hill.

Peter confirms this dedicated state for Israel. I Peter 2:9-10: "Ye are a chosen [selected out of many races] Race, a royal [kingly, above all others] priesthood, a holy [dedicated exclusively to Yahweh] nation, a peculiar [different from all other peoples] people, that ye should show the praises of him [to the rest of the world, as in Gen. 12:3] who hath called you out of darkness in to his marvellous light. Such in time past were not a people, but now are the people of God."

Because the Israelites had been already scattered throughout the Greco-Roman world, Peter is simply stating that the New Covenant has again made us One People, via the common forgiveness. Because Israel was broken up into two houses after the death of Solomon, we were no longer ONE PEOPLE.

And because we had forgotten His Covenants with us, we were no longer a cohesive culture. But Christ's forgiveness of our past sins made us one people again.

Yahweh is speaking to His people through the apostle Peter, referring to us, using the exact same exclusive language that is contained in the Old Testament, declaring that we are a "chosen" or "elect" race, as a "holy nation" and as a "people for God's own possession." By God's grace we occupy a very favoured position in His universe. This is what it means to be CHOSEN. If every group, race and nation were likewise "chosen," the word would lose its meaning.

Now, True Israel, what are you going to achieve with this very favoured status? Are you going to do as the Judeo-Christians do and destroy your own talents by wasting them on this evil world; or are you going to use your peculiar talents to bring in the Kingdom?

More exclusivity, if you can handle it: "When Yahweh, thy Elohim, shall bring thee (Israel) into the land whither thou goest to possess it, and hath cast out many nations before thee, the Hittites, and the Girgashites, and the Amorites, and the Canaanites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites,, seven nations greater and mightier than thou; And when Yahweh thy Elohim shall deliver them before thee; thou shalt smite them, AND UTTERLY DESTROY THEM; THOU SHALT MAKE NO COVENANT WITH THEM, NOR SHOW MERCY UNTO THEM." - Deut. 7: 1-2.

Why would God say such a seemingly horrible thing? The Christian Apostasy teaches that those days are over; and that it is water under the bridge. Let's continue to read, and we'll find out what the Christian Apostasy does not want you to know.

"NEITHER SHALT THOU MAKE MARRIAGES WITH THEM; thy daughter thou shalt not give unto his son, nor his daughter shalt thou take unto thy son." – Verse 3.

At Deut. 14:1-2, speaking specifically to the children of Israel, we are told, "Ye are the children of Yahweh your God: ye shall not cut yourselves, nor make any baldness between your eyes for the dead. For thou art an holy people unto Yahweh thy Elohim; and Yahweh hath chosen thee to be a peculiar people unto Himself, above all the nations that are on the face of the earth."

This dedication of one particular people, which Paul refers to as "predestination," as being "above all other nations," is repeated at Deut. 26:18-19, which tells us "And Yahweh hath avouched thee this day to be His peculiar people, as he hath promised thee, and that thou shouldst keep all His Commandments; And to make thee high above all nations which He hath made, in praise, and in name, and in honour; and that thou mayest be an holy people unto Yahweh thy God, as He hath spoken."

I Kings, 8:51-53, states: "For they be THY PEOPLE, and THINE INHERITANCE, for which thou broughtest forth out of Egypt, from the midst of the furnace of iron: That thine eyes may be open to the supplication of THY SERVANT, and unto the supplication of Thy People Israel, to hearken unto them in all that they call for unto Thee. For thou didst SEPARATE THEM FROM AMONG ALL THE PEOPLE OF THE EARTH, TO BE THINE INHERITANCE, as thou spakest by the hand of Moses thy servant, when thou broughtest our fathers out of Egypt, O Yahweh God.”

At Isa. 44:3, God tells Jacob/Israel: “I will pour my Spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring. (Not to all people, but Israel’s offspring only. The other nations get blessed according to Gen. 12:3.)

Isa. 51: 1-4: His laws are to be promulgated to the other nations by us, True Israel, that we may be a blessing to the nations, as we have done, as history proves. But we succeed in instructing the nations ONLY AS A SEPARATE SPECIES, for when we mix with them, we become like them, and we lose our genetic ability to be that special people, Israel.

“Learn not the way of the heathen.” (Deut. 18:9; Jer. 10:2.) When we mix with them, we become like them. We lose our ability to be His chosen people, and they lose the blessings we are able to provide them because we are no longer the genetically-created People He designed us to be!! It IS a matter of genetics, and LOGIC. If we hybridise, we are no longer His Chosen People, Israel. If we become like the heathen, we are no longer Israel. But this is exactly what the Judeo-churches are doing. They are causing White people to act like non-Whites. They are even encouraging racial integration. Apostasy, anyone?

The New Covenant Prophesied in the Old Testament

Jer. 31:31-37. Behold, the days come, saith YHWH, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah: Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt; which my covenant they brake, although I was an husband unto them, saith YHWH: But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel; After those days, saith YHWH, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God, and they shall be my people. And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know YHWH: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith YHWH: for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more.

Thus saith YHWH, which giveth the sun for a light by day, and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars for a light by night, which divideth the sea when the waves thereof roar; YHWH of hosts is his name: If those ordinances depart from before me, saith YHWH, then the seed of Israel also shall cease from being a nation before me for ever.

The ordinances of the space-time continuum have not departed, THEREFORE, the posterity of Israel remains. As long as the universe exists, Covenant Israel exists. This logic is irrefutable. This is why the Judeo-Christians scrupulously avoid quoting the exact terms of the New Covenant. These terms totally refute their Dispensationalist, universalistic anti-theology. They are repudiating everything the Bible teaches.

The House of Judah and Joseph Camped in The Wilderness

On the contrary, anything that Yahweh hides can be revealed by Him: “And I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will save the house of Joseph, and I will bring them again to place them; for I have mercy upon them: and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for I am the LORD their God, and will hear them. - Zechariah 10:6.

To be Continued OS23166

Old Testament

“Word for Word” Deuteronomy Part 21

Translation by Stephen Howard Anderson

Chapter 28

[Blessings For Obedience]

1. And it shall be, if you shall listen diligently to the voice of Yahweh Eloheycha, to observe and do all His commandments that I command you today, that will set 5414 you Yahweh Eloheycha on high 5945 over all the nations of the land.

2. And shall come upon you all these blessings 1293, and overtake 5381 you, because you listen to the voice of Yahweh Eloheycha:

3. Blessed 1288 shall you be in the city 5892, and blessed shall you be in the field 7704.

4. Blessed shall be the fruit 6529 of your womb 990, and the fruit of your ground 127, and the fruit of your beasts 929, the increase 7698 of your oxen 504, and the flocks 6251 of your sheep 6629.

5. Blessed shall be your basket 2935 and your kneading trough 4863.

6. Blessed shall you be when you come in, and blessed when you go forth.

7. Shall give Yahweh your hated enemies that rise up against you to be smitten 5062 before you: by one way they will go forth against you, and seven ways they shall flee 5127 before you.

8. Shall command Yahweh upon you the blessing in your storehouses 618, and in all the works of your hands. Blessed shall be the land that Yahweh Eloheycha gives to you.

9. Shall establish 6965 you Yahweh as a people Holy to Him, as He has sworn 7650 to you, because you shall keep the commandments of Yahweh Eloheycha, and walk 1980 in His ways 1870.

10. And shall see all the peoples of the land that by the Name of Yahweh you are called; and they shall be afraid 3372 of you.

11. And shall make abundant 3498 Yahweh prosperity 2896, in the fruit of your womb, in the fruit of your beasts, in the fruit of the ground, on the ground that swore Yahweh to your forefathers to give you.

12. Shall open 6605 Yahweh to you His good 2896 storehouse 214, the sky 8064, to give rain 4306 to the land in its proper time 6256, and to bless all the work of your hands: and you shall lend 3867 to many nations, and you shall not borrow 3867.

13. And shall make you Yahweh the head 7218, and not the tail 2180; and you shall be above 4605 only 7535, and you shall not be beneath 4295; because you listen to the commandments of Yahweh Eloheycha that I command you today to keep and do.

14. And you shall not turn aside 5493 from any of the words that I command you today, to the right hand 3225, or the left 8040, to walk after other elohiym to serve them.

15. But it shall be, if 518 you will not listen to the voice of Yahweh Eloheycha, to observe and do all the commandments and statutes that I command you today; then shall come upon you all these curses 7045, and overtake 5381 you:

16. Cursed 779 shall you be in the city, and cursed shall you be in the field.

17. Cursed shall be your basket and kneading trough.

18. Cursed shall be the fruit of your womb, and the fruit of your ground, the increase of your cattle, and the flocks of your sheep.

19. Cursed shall you be when you come in, and cursed shall you be when you go forth.

20. Shall send Yahweh upon you cursing 3994, discomfiture 4103, and rebuke 4045, in all you put your hand to do, until you are destroyed 8045, and until you perish 6 quickly 4118; from the presence of your wicked 7455 deeds 4611 by which you have forsaken 5800 Me.

21. Shall make to cleave 1692 Yahweh to you the pestilence 1698, until you are consumed 3615 from upon the ground that you went there to possess.

22. Shall smite you Yahweh with a consumption 7829, and with a fever 6920, and with an inflammation 1816, and with a violent fever 2746, and with the sword 2719, and with blight 7711, and with mildew 3420; and they shall pursue 7291, you until you perish 6.

23. And shall become the sky that is over your head as bronze 5178, and the land that is underneath as iron 1270.

24. And shall make Yahweh the rain 4306 of your land powder 80 and dust 6083: from the sky it shall come down upon you, until you are destroyed 8045.

25. Shall give you Yahweh to be smitten 5062 before your hated enemies: one way you shall go forth against them, and seven ways you shall flee 5127 before them, and shall become a terror 2189 to all the kingdoms of the land.

26. And shall be your carcasses 5038 food 3978 for all the birds 5775 of the sky, and the beasts of the land, and none shall terrify 2729 them.

27. Will smite you Yahweh with the boils 7822 of Mits'rayim, and with the hemorrhoids 2914, and with scabs 1618, and with the itch 2775, of which you are not able 3201 to be healed 7495.

28. Will smite you Yahweh with madness 7697, and blindness 5788, and confusion 8541 of mind 3824:

29. and you shall be groping 4959 at noonday 6672, as grope the blind 5787 in darkness 653, and shall not prosper 6743 in your ways: and shall be oppressed 6231 and robbed 1497 all your days, and none 369 shall save 3467 you.

30. A wife you shall betroth 781, and another man shall ravish 7693/7902 her: a house you shall build, and not dwell in it: a vineyard you shall plant 5193, and not eat the grapes of it 2490.

31. Your ox 7794 shall be slaughtered 2873 before your eyes, and you shall not eat of it: your ass 2543 shall be violently taken away 1497 from before you, and shall not be returned to you: your sheep 6629 given to your hated enemies, and none to save them.

32. Your sons and your daughters shall be given to another 312 people, and your eyes shall look, and long 3616 for them all the day: and no might 410 shall be in your hand.

33. The fruit of your ground and all your labors shall be eaten by a people that you do not know; and you shall only 7535 be oppressed 6231 and crushed 7533 all the days,

34. so you will become insane 7696 from the sights 4758 that your eyes shall see.

35. Shall smite you Yahweh in the knees 1290, and in the legs 7785, with harmful 7451 boils 7822, that are not able to be healed, from the sole 3709 of your feet to the top of your head 6936.

36. Shall bring Yahweh you, and your king that you shall set 6965 over you, to a nation 1471 that you have not known, you, nor your forefathers; and you shall serve 5647 there other 312 elohiyim 430, of wood 6086 and stone 68.

37. And you shall become an astonishment 8047, a proverb 4912, and a taunt 8148, among all the peoples where shall lead 5090 you Yahweh there.

38. Much seed shall go forth to your fields, but little 4592 shall you gather 622; for the locust 697 shall consume 2628 it.

39. Vineyards 3754 you shall plant 5193, and tend 5647 them, but the wine 3196 you shall not drink 8354, nor gather grapes 103; because the vine weevils 8438 shall eat them.

40. Olive trees 2132 you shall have in all your territory 1366, but with the oil 8081 you shall not anoint 5480 yourself, because shall drop off 5394 the olive trees their fruit.

41. Sons and daughters you shall beget, but they shall not be yours; for they shall go into captivity 7628.

42. All your trees and fruit of your ground shall possess the locust 6767.

43. The alien sojourner 1616 within you 7130 shall rise up above you very high 4605/4605; and you shall come down very low 4295/4295.

44. He shall lend to you 3867, and you shall not lend to him: he shall be the head 7218, and you shall be the tail 2180.

45. Shall come upon you all these curses 7045, and shall pursue 7291 you, and overtake 5381 you, until you are destroyed 8045; because you do not listen to the voice of Yahweh Eloheycha, to keep His commandments, and His statutes, that He commanded you:

46. And they shall be upon you for a sign 226 and a wonder 4159, upon your seedline 2233 until everlasting 5769,

47. because that you do not serve Yahweh Eloheycha with rejoicing 8057, with goodness 2898 of heart 3824, from the abundance 7230 of all 3605.

48. You shall serve your hated enemies which shall send Yahweh, in hunger 7458, and in thirst 6772, and in nakedness 5903, and in need 2640 of all given things: a yoke 5923 of iron 1270 will be upon your neck 6677 until He destroys you.

49. Shall bring Yahweh upon you a nation from far off 7350, from the end 7097 of the land, that flies swiftly 1675 as the eagle 5404; a nation of which you cannot understand 8085 their language 3956;

50. a nation of fierce 5794 countenance 6440, that does not lift up the person of the elder 2205, and shows the youth 5288 no mercy 2603,

51. and shall eat the fruit of your beasts, and the fruit of your ground, until you are destroyed: which shall not leave 7604 you corn 1715, new wine 8492, or fresh oil 3323, the increase of your cattle, or the flocks of your sheep, until he has destroyed you.

52. They shall besiege 6887 you in all your gates, until come down your walls 2346, high 1364 and fortified 1219, that you trusted 982, throughout all your land: and they shall besiege you in all your gates throughout all your land, that gave Yahweh Eloheycha to you.

53. And you shall eat the fruit of your womb, the flesh of your sons and your daughters, that gave you Yahweh Eloheycha, in the siege 4692, and in the straitness 4689, by which distress 6693 you your hated enemies.

54. The man that is tender 7390, and very 3966 dainty 6028, his eye shall be evil 7489 toward his brother, and toward the wife of his bosom 2436, and toward the remnant 3499 of his children that are left 3498:

55. so that he will not give to any of them from the flesh of his children whom he shall eat: because he has nothing left 7604 in the siege, and in the straitness, by which distress you your hated enemies in all your gates.

56. The tender and dainty woman which would not pass over the sole of her foot upon the ground for daintiness and from tenderness, her eye shall be evil toward her husband of her bosom, and toward her son, and toward her daughter,

57. and toward her young one 7988 that comes forth from between her feet, and toward her children that she will bear: because she shall eat them for need of everything secretly 5643, in the siege and the straitness, by which distress you your hated enemies in your gates.

58. If you do not observe 8104 and do 6213 all the words of this Torah that are written in this scroll 5612, that you fear 3372 this Name 8034 that is honored 3513 and held in awe 3372, YAHWEH Eloheycha ;

59. will make extraordinary 6381 Yahweh your plagues 4347, and the plagues of your seedline plagues of greatness 1419, and long duration 539 harmful 7451 sicknesses 4064, of long duration.

60. He shall return upon you all the sicknesses 4064 of Mits'rayim, that you feared 3025 before, and they shall cleave 1692 to you.

61. Also every sickness, and every plague, that are not written in this scroll of Torah, will bring up Yahweh upon you, until you are destroyed.

62. And you shall be left few 4592 in number 4962, instead of being as the stars 3556 of the sky for multitude 7230, because you did not listen to the voice of Yahweh Eloheycha.

63. And it shall be, as rejoiced 7797 Yahweh over doing you good 3190, and multiplying 7235 you; so will rejoice Yahweh over destroying 6 you, and exterminating 8045 you; and shall uproot 5255 you from upon the soil that you go there to possess.

64. And shall scatter 6327 you Yahweh among all the peoples, from one end of the land to the other end of the land; and you shall serve there other elohiym, that you did not know, you, or your forefathers, wood and stone.

65. Among these nations you will find no rest 7280, nor shall there be a resting place 4494 for the sole of your foot, but shall give Yahweh to you a heart 3820 of quaking 7268, and failing 3631 eyes, and a languishing 1671 of being 5315.

66. And shall be your life 2416 hung up 8511 in front 5048 of you; and you shall fear 6342 night and day, and have no trust 539 in your life.

67. In the morning you shall say, "If only it were evening 6153 !" And at evening you shall say, "If only it were morning 1242!" From the fear in your heart that you fear, and for the sights of your eyes that you see.

68. And shall return you Yahweh to Mits'rayim with ships 591, by the way that I spoke of to you, and you shall no more again see it: and you shall be sold 4376 there to your hated enemies for slaves 5650 and slave girls 8198, and no man shall acquire 7069 you. Verse 69 is 29:1 in the KJV.

69. And these are the Words of the Covenant, which commanded Yahweh to Mosheh to make with the children of Yis'rael in the land of Moab, besides the Covenant that He made with them in Choreb 2722.

References Chapter 28

Verses 1-14 – Lev. 26:3-5; Deut. 11:13-17;

Verses 15-68 – Lev. 26:14-33; Num. 33:56;

Verse 44 – Proverbs 22:7;

Verse 57 – 2 Kings 6:28, 29; Lamentations 4:10.

To be Continued

The Fall and Rise of Abraham's House (Part 4)

By Adam de Witt

THE WRITER OF THE BOOK "THE MUMMIES OF URUMCHI",

Elizabeth Wayland Barber, is not too sure if the root word to the name is simply 'Celt' (the meaning she doesn't outline) or 'Hal' denoting salt (because some areas had salt mines). It would be interesting to know if salt was mined in old Chaldea, if not then clearly the meaning of areas or towns with variations of 'Hal' ('Hoi' or 'Hel') can not be salt.

This is because most of the areas bearing variations of the name had nothing to do with salt. Nevertheless, it may well be that once the term 'Chal(d)' had that secondary meaning of salt. Interestingly, Jesus referred to his followers as being the 'salt of the earth'. Strong's Concordance shows the root of Chald is Kesed: a kin of Abraham. This means that all lands with variations of Chald as seen above such as Halle, Holland, and so on mean, LAND OF ABRAHAM'S KIN!

So we see that the Chaldeans were Proto-Celts. Their very names Celt, Chald (from 'Ke(s)ed') means Abraham's kin. Being Abraham's kin they are thus also Proto-Israelites, Proto-Egyptians, Proto-Caucasians, Proto-Romans, Proto-Indians, Proto-Tokharians, Proto-Saxons and so on. The ethnic Launch-pad of all these many branches of this one race is today found in northern Iraq (the so-called no fly zone). This region was not only the launch-pad to go west and north to settle Europe and northern Africa, but also to go east, a point overlooked by so many. Directly east of the 'Ethnic Launch-pad' lay the old trade routes taking wayfarers to the towns Bisutun and Ecbatana (now in western Iran). Bisulun is well known to Elijah (Identity) Christians because of the Behistun Rock. These towns were most likely founded by the earliest settlers of Abraham's racial kin. Many Israelites leaving the 700 BC Assyrian captivity followed this same route that was carved out many year-hundreds (ages) earlier, as the inscription of the Behistun Rock bears witness to.

Establishment 'scholars' opposed to our Israelite identity have found themselves in a pickle over the Urumchi mummies. They can ignore the Behistun Rock and so many other finds, but the mummies force them into a comer. Usually they call Europe the Celtic cradle, but when pressed they will say (reluctantly) it is the Caucasus region, but they never ask how the Celts got to the Caucasus.

Elizabeth Wayland Barber is also in a pickle. For all their studying and research, secular scholars, without looking to God's Word, are simply fumbling, they hit upon something, build up a theory, then God clogs up the machinery of study. "Thus saith the Lord...I am the Lord that maketh all things; That frustrateth the tokens of the liars, and maketh diviners mad; that turneth wise men backward, and maketh their knowledge foolish." Isaiah 44:24- 25.

Because the Tokharians were Proto-Celts, they shared much in common with European Celts, they even wore tartan cloth! But establishment scholars (of which Barber is one) point out that the Indo-European cultures were dependant upon the horse. Horse culture was unknown in the Caucasus. Therefore if the Tokharians came from the Caucasus how come they brought horse culture into middle Asia?

Horse culture was however well known and highly developed in the Fertile Crescent in the Middle East, just south of the Caucasus. Establishment scholars are now split over just where these Tokharians and other Proto-Celtic, Indo- Europeans came from; the Caucasus or the Middle East.

The humble horse and the 3000 year old mummies make it clear that our folk-homeland was not the Caucasus, but south thereof. How wonderful God is, he lets the scholars build up whole theories, then shatters them. The eastward treks during the bronze age led to the founding of many Proto- Celtic (Indo-European) empires (i.e. many nations of one race) that covered what is today Iraq, Iran, Turkmenistan, Uzbekistan, Tadjhikistan, Chinese Turkistan, Afghanistan, Pakistan, India and Java. Java is Indo-European for 'barley'.

White colonizers from India under Aji Saka landed in Indonesia in 63 AD bringing their Sanskrit with them and the Caste System. 'Saka' is simply a form of Isaac as in Saca or Sacson. But as in India, Ute Caste system was opposed by the Universal Reconciliationists. Hybridization was so great that 'Saka-run' Indonesia crumbled away when Muslims invaded from 1000 AD onwards, over-running the last Hindu Kingdom of Mojapahit in 1478. Proto-Israelites covered an area from Portugal to China, and ethnic empire that spanned some 4500 miles!

The wise men that came to see baby Jesus came from the east, but they were white! They were Proto-Celtic, Abraham's kin, therefore Proto-Israelites. (They were called the 'Magi' [by the translators - the word is not in the text!] an Indo-European word. The word is linked to our words 'mighty' and 'mächtig' (Dutch and German).)???

Chapter 7. Links by Way of the Tongue

The forgotten white tribe, The Kalashe, speak an Indo-European tongue to this day. Some Kalashe words: hitch-Light, dada-dad, tchat-shade, uk-water (as in 'Ach in old German town Salz-ach-salt water), Mai-my, Arman Schar-almighty ruler as in Shah of Iran, Zar as in Nebuchadnezzar, Cae-sar, Kayser, Kie-ser or in Hebrew 'Sar' Aram Mos-meat of an animal sacrifice ('Mos' as in Sanskrit 'Masa', Slavonic- 'Mco,' Russian-'Maso,' and English-'Meat'.

Establishment scholars balk at any claims that Indo-European is linked to the Semitic tongue (although the tide may be turning). A language professor/historian at the University of Queensland (Above) gave some revealing confessions, "I believe the application of the term 'Semitic' to Arabic, Hebrew, Aramaic, Akkadian and the Ethiopic languages is essentially a modern guess," he wrote. That 'guessing' goes a long way to explain why the establishment calls anyone who is a Jew 'Semitic' when most of them are not.

The establishment prefers to guess for the sake of not upsetting the Jews. The professor then writes, "There appears to be quite a lot of quite good material linking Semitic to Indo-European, but a difficulty with it is that it supports two divergent theories of sound equivalences, namely, the so-called emphatic 'K'(also written g) and T'(and P?) of Semitic (which) may correspond either 1. to K, T, P... 2. to G, D, B.

Since my thesis purported to show the ultimate equivalence of these two sets in Indo-European, perhaps it is not such a hefty objection." What a wonderful confession! Identity Christians have pointed out the similarities between Saxon and Hebrew words for years. Establishment scholars ignored these details and instead looked for objections in sound equivalences hoping to still our claims; now there are no objections! This professor who once objected to the link between Indo-European and Semitic tongues now seems to be able to overcome former problems. All praise to God, I say.

Saxons. Paul being forbidden of the Holy Spirit to preach the word in Asia (Acts 16:6).

Without God’s Word, which included laws forbidding mixed wedlocks and multi-racial treaties, the eastern whites were easily converted to the philosophies of the pagan non-whites they came in contact with. Most of the Tokharians became Buddhists, other Proto-Celts followed Zoroastrianism.

Chapter 8

Why the Old White Empires Fell

The Eastern Proto-Celtic (Abraham’s kin) rickes or Empires fell, not because the non-whites were so mighty, but rather, the whites were fools. They relied upon their own wits. Not knowing God’s Laws they had no idea how to survive in a world where other races obeyed their ‘gods’.

Thinking pagan gods could strengthen all races, whites often converted to the pagan gods. For a while whites can live this way but the end thereof is always the grave. “The lips of a strange (racial alien) woman drop as an honeycomb—but her end is as bitter as wormwood, —her feet go down to death, her steps take hold on the grave. Lest thou shouldst ponder the path of life, her ways are unstable, thou const not know them” Prov 5:3-6. Get It?? The Bible is written to Abraham’s kin.

God says whites who ponder the ways (beliefs and customs) of nonwhites always go to death, never understanding, being unable to understand the coloured races. God should know, He made all things.

It was likely by the way Chaldea became a melting-pot that most of Abraham’s kin, the Proto-Celts/Proto-Saxons, had forsaken God’s Holy Laws and thus they all migrated as pagans. Only some Chaldeans, such as Abraham and some of his descendents would cleave to God’s Word, such as Jacob the father of the Israelites. God’s Word was not even taken to heart by most Israelites; the Word only began to spread in earnest after the death of Jesus Christ.

Even then, however, the ‘word’ spread only westward to the European Proto-Celts, and the lost Israelite tribes made up of Celts and Each group in so doing, failed to bring forth the fruit of the kingdom, an ethno-state grounded in God’s Laws. Although at times the heathen came against the lands of Abraham’s kin to fore do them, the wasting of the lands was already in ‘full swing’. The invading hordes were the simply the ‘finishing touch’. White-lands were often multiracial before the hordes from outside could have the might to lay waste our lands. . .

The ‘weakness’ of apartheid, just as with the cast system, was that the land was not and ethno-state, rather, the land was multi-racial. That is to say, many races lived in the one land, albeit split into enclaves. The enclaves did not hinder inter-racial deals. Whites would give work to blacks and blacks would buy white goods and services. This ‘fellowship of convenience’ is the stepping-stone to assimilation.

Basically the principle is, if you like them so much, you may as well wed and bed them; this is not to be taken as a blessing but as a curse for having double standards The next step is that whites became the tail and they, the coloureds, became the head. “The stranger that is within thee (in your land) shall get up above thee very high and thou shalt come down very low.” Deut 28:43. Thus white nations are weakened from within.

Those coloured people are wittingly or otherwise fifth columnists. Whites end up learning pagan culture, as we see today such as black music; Jazz, Blues, Reggae, Rock & Roll, Pop and so on.

Their children learn pagan dances and stories at school. Even children's shows such as Play School and Sesame Street are brain-dirtying Saxons so they think like the Earth-People; the 'People of the Earth', the Bible calls them, 'The Beast of the Field' 'Earth-people' is a term that they themselves have coined, not us. Beast means a created being in Biblical terms; it can apply to animals and human-types, i.e. the coloureds (non-whites), [as for strangers coming in and taking over, look at the situation in Fiji! Indians trying to take charge through sheer weight of numbers, just like they did in Ceylon]

This is hard for some to swallow but in Jonah 3:8 it is clear that some creatures other than 'man' can pray, cry, repent, put on clothing, understand evil, and have hands! Animals do not have hands nor do any of the above. We can try and train animals, but that does not mean the animals understand evil, have repentance, have hands and do any of the above without our help. "But let man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and cry mightily unto God; yea, let them turn every one from his evil way and from the violence that is in their hands."Jonah 3:8.

This verse was in reference to Assyria which by Jonah's time was clearly multi-racial. Such a society assimilates and then rules whites until white culture, then white folk themselves are swallowed up. The old Hebrew saying for this is 'a land that eateth up the inhabitants thereof?' Numbers 13:30.

To be Continued

Harold Stough Notes (Paper Ref 3187)

(Scientific American Feb. 1965 Vol. 212 No. 2)

The Greeks and The Hebrews (3) By Cyrus Gordon

PHAISTOS DISK is inscribed on both faces with a spiral text written in pictographs. The lines separating groups of pictographs presumably mark off individual words. Although not the same as Egyptian hieroglyphs, the symbols appear to have originated in the Nile delta. Several of them can be recognized in simplified form among the symbols of Crete's two scripts: Linear A and Linear B.

The Phaistos Disk - Obverse and Reverse

We now know enough Minoan to read the Semitic nouns for four different kinds of pots, for "wine" and "wheat," for "town" and "city," for "people," "man" and "mother." We can decipher the verbs "to be," "to give" and "to set up as an offering," the pronouns "he," "his" and "all," the numbers "seven," "nine" and "10," the conjunction "and" and the preposition "to." We can translate synonymous phrases, such as "fellow citizens" and "people of his city," in which all the elements are West Semitic.

It has taken eight years to achieve these modest gains. It came as a blow to me to discover recently in the writings of a fourth-century Latin author, L. Septimius that the dissolute Emperor Nero (who ruled from A.D. 54 to 68) recognized ancient texts discovered on Crete during his reign as being Phoenician. In effect, the decipherment of Linear A amounts to the rediscovery of what was still known in Rome during at least the first four centuries of the Christian era. How much time and labour might have been saved had more credence been given to L. Septimius!

Minoan script employs the principle of acrophony; this means that the phonetic value of each symbol is the opening sound of the word it depicts. How acrophony works can be demonstrated by applying it to some of the pictographs on the Phaistos disk, which is the most noteworthy pictographic text discovered on Crete [see illustrations on this page]. For example, the pictograph of a man on the disk is equated with the Ugaritic word for "man," bwiushu; thus the pictograph stands for the syllable "bu." This is the phonetic value established by Ventris for the Linear B form of the same sign, the pictographic origin of which he did not surmise.

ACROPHONIC PRINCIPLE provides that the phonetic value of a symbol consist of the opening sound of the word depicted by the symbol. In the three cases illustrated the phonetic values for the symbols in linear script were determined independently by the late Michael Ventris. The author has related two of these script symbols to pictographs appearing on the Phaistos disk and has also demonstrated, in all three cases, that commonplace Ugaritic words for the objects portrayed yield the correct acrophonic sounds.

One of the two commonest "words" on the Phaistos disk—it occurs five times—is a pictograph of a horn plus one of a bird. The Semitic word for "horn" is k(a)rn, and in this case we assign the syllable kr (with the vocalic r, as in the English word "butter") to the horn pictograph. The Ugaritic and Syriac word for a bird of prey is kudr, and we assign the syllable ku to the bird pictograph. This is the same value determined by Ventris for the pictograph's Linear B equivalent on the basis of quite different—and purely cryptanalytic—reasons. "Horn" plus "bird" is thus pronounced kr-ku, which probably means "town." (In the Eteocretan texts "town" is spelled kark in unmistakable Greek letters.) A number of additional readings from the disk are possible. My colleagues and I interpret one sequence of nine signs, divided into two word groups, as declaring "I have eaten in the house of Haddu." (Haddu, a variant of Addu, is another name for Baal.) Although we are a long way from achieving a complete and consistent decipherment of the Phaistos disk, I suggest that it bears a ritual text associated with a shrine to Baal in the palace at Phaistos.

The bird pictograph on the Phaistos disk also appears, in a modified but recognizable form, on a bowl found near Apodulu. Another pictograph on the bowl is evidently an apple—tuppüh in Ugaritic and tuffäh (plural) in Arabic. Ventris established the value tu for the equivalent of this sign in Linear B; perhaps we now know why. ' In learning English the pupil says "a is for apple"; in learning early Minoan he may have said "tu is for tuppüh."

What do these text decipherments and parallels between early Greek and early Hebrew literature suggest? In my opinion the conclusion is inescapable that both the Greek and the Hebrew heritage are rooted in a single cosmopolitan culture that flourished throughout the eastern Mediterranean during the second millennium B.C. with Crete as its major centre. From this viewpoint the still unreconstructed history of the region before, during and somewhat after this era must in general have unfolded along the following lines.

Starting in the fourth millennium B.C., before writing was widespread, Sumerian civilization had already arisen in Mesopotamia and Egyptian civilization in the Nile valley. Both cultures required contact with the outside world. Sumerian life demanded a supply of stone and metal, and the native soil yielded neither.

Egyptian fleets and caravans brought raw materials and finished goods to Egypt from widely separated regions of Asia and Africa. Travel was of course slower than it is now, but the ancients got there just the same; what they lacked in velocity they made up in patience.

SU-PU =SP (UGARITIC) (VASE PICTOGRAPH)

KA-RO-PA KARP (AKKADIAN) (AMPHORA PICTOGRAPH) Levant and had established colonies at such key Levantine ports as Byblos.

SU-PA-LA = SPL (UGARITIC) (POT PICTOGRAPH) We must not regard those ancient empires as separated from each other by rigid boundaries.

Both material and cultural interchange was effected by itinerant merchants and by the establishment of commercial offices and colonies abroad. Not only goods but also people were imported and exported as commodities; a craftsman who could turn out a useful product was a more valuable acquisition than mere samples of his wares.

The process of cultural diffusion was more often than not peaceful, because traders usually prefer the stability of peace to the uncertainties of war. But then as now wars brought in their wake waves of refugees who carried their talents to other lands.

All these forms of cultural mobility operated in the Mediterranean region during prehistoric times. By the third millennium B.C. there occurred in the eastern Mediterranean an intermingling of several gifted peoples, some of whom were literate.

The Sumerians and their Semitic contemporaries and successors, the Akkadians, fostered commercial interests throughout the Levant. Occasionally they backed up those interests with invasions, culminating in Sargon's and Naram-Sin's waves of conquest that reached the shores of the Mediterranean between 2400 and 2300 B.C. Meanwhile Egypt was also trading in the Canaan (as Syria and Palestine together were then known) was a land bridge between Africa and Asia. Coastal shipping connected its shores with the rest of the Mediterranean region; its Red Sea ports on the Gulf of 'Aqaba joined it to East Africa and the Indian Ocean.

Caravans brought to or through Canaan the products of many lands, including the frankincense and myrrh of Arabia Felix. Indo-Europeans—that is, those who spoke languages related to Sanskrit, Greek, Latin and many others, including English—penetrated the eastern Mediterranean in increasing numbers from 2000 B.C. On.

Some of them founded the Hittite Empire in Anatolia; the Hittites served as a link between savage Europe and civilized Asia and came to rival Mesopotamia and Egypt in the exploitation of Canaan.

To be continued OS3187

The Tetragrammaton By The Rev. John Williams Ab Ithel, MB

class one common source; but that source is apparently sought for in every place except where, we are persuaded, it can alone be found.

THE ORIGIN OR INVENTION OF LETTERS IS A SUBJECT that has frequently engaged the attention and researches of learned men, and as often defied their power to explain, with any considerable amount of probability and satisfaction. The several alphabets of the known world, indeed, exhibit that mutual similarity of form, which fully warrants them in assigning to the whole

It has been very much the fashion hitherto to depreciate the literature and traditions of the Cymry; yet we can confidently assert that in them lie treasures which would amply compensate for any amount of trouble that may be taken in arriving at them. The patient and-impartial study of Welsh lore will assuredly tend to throw no inconsiderable light upon the science and mythology of all nations.

Even the sacred Tetragrammaton of the Hebrews, taken by itself, is perfectly inexplicable—we cannot see how it represents the great I AM, and wherefore it is invested with extraordinary terror—or why it may not be pronounced or revealed. But the origin and reason of all this are discovered to us in the Bardic traditions.

Above: The Ordnance Survey Broad Arrow Bench Mark

There we learn that God created the world by the melodious threefold utterance of His Holy Name—and that the form or figure of that Name was /I\ , being the rays of the rising sun at the equinoxes and the solstices converging into a focus—“the eye of light.” These rays, we are informed, according to the influence which the sun has upon the earth at the different seasons which they represent, show God in His various characters as a Creator, a Preserver, and a Destroyer.

The Divine Name may not be uttered (Ed. This is what the Edomites pretending to be “God’s Chosen” say! True Hebrews know, the Scriptures tell them to call on His Name.), because no mortal man can individually articulate the harmony of the sound; re-echoed, indeed, by the universe in concert at its primeval birth, “when the morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy,” (Job xxxviii. 7.) but not to be heard again until the renovation of all things at the last day.

It is kept a secret, lest by the ignorant it be abused and dishonoured; as, e.g. by the Hindoos, who have deified the rays into Brahma, Vishnu, and Siva.

This form /I\ was the A wen (awen) the Blessed A, said to contain all the other letters, because they are but modifications of it ; and all sciences, not only because they are represented by letters, but because they can be learned from an acquaintance with the several attributes of God, which are exhibited in the symbol of His Name.

An instance of the development of the primary character, and of the formation of additional letters, may be found in | /I\ \I/ or IAU, one of the forms in which the Divine Name is written. being the equinoctial ray, represents God in the character of a Mediator and Preserver, /I\ is the creative symbol, and \I/, being the same reversed, denotes destruction—the creation, as it were upset. The import of the word is, therefore, simply the Preserver, the Creator, the Destroyer;—“ which is, and which was, and which is to come.” (Rev. i. 4 ;)—the whole being also involved in the radical element /I\ , the A-wen.

The origin of the bardic W, as here given, will sufficiently account for the neutralizing effect of the letter in such words as these;—gwedd, connection, gweddw, unconnected; ul, moisture, ulw, that which is divested of moisture; mar, lively, marw dead; hum, that is here, hwnnw, that is not here, but there.

Again; the bardic  or  is a combination of V or /I\ and \I/ or V, and primarily denotes the same idea as “Alpha and Omega, the beginning, and the ending,” (Rev. i. 8.) which is one of the titles of our Saviour. It is remarkable that there is a natural tendency in the Cymric tongue to pronounce the separate letters AW like O at the end of words; as gwrandaw, gwrandao; taraw, taro, &c.

According to “Cyfrinach y Beirdd,” there were only three languages of Divine origin. The first was that of Adam in Paradise, which, however, he lost on his expulsion;—this is the language of heaven. The second language was that which Moses acquired, and which was used by the prophets for 3000 years subsequently, and is still the language of Holy Scripture. The third is the Cymraeg, which was obtained by Enos, the first man after the banishment of Adam from Eden, who praised God and goodness in a vocal song. It was carried over the Deluge by Japheth, and his posterity conveyed it to the extremity of the earth, and it is spoken at this day in its perfect kind and character by us the Cymry in the Isle of Britain, (pp. 28, 29.)

In accordance with this view of the subject our British forefathers bestowed great pains upon the cultivation of the language. And as it was considered to be peculiarly the language of song, the production of the sacred A, which was formed by the musical utterance of the Divine Name, “when the morning stars sang together,” the improvements, which have been from time to time introduced into its structure, have always more or less been of a prosodial character.

We have briefly marked its progress and gradual development from the earliest period to the era of Edeyrn Davod Aur in the notes which we have incorporated with that portion of the Grammar entitled— “The origin and progress of letters.”

The grammar which formed the basis of “Dosparth Edeyrn Davod Aur,” is said to have been compiled by Geraint Vardd Glas, in the tenth century. This was preserved among the MSS. in Raglan Castle, before it was destroyed in the wars of the Commonwealth, but no copy is now to be found. This is the Book, no doubt, referred to in the following extract which occurs at p. 623 of the Iolo MSS.

“The oldest system on record of memorials and recollections, is that of Geraint Yardd Glas, upon the poetic metres ; and of all that is extant from before his time, there is nothing remaining excepting what may be discerned by the learned by means of books.

This Geraint was brother to Morgan Hen, king of Glamorgan, and he collected ancient records of poetry and bardism, and arranged them in a book of his own composition, and established them by the laws of the chair and the gorsedd, in every country and dominion in Wales; and Geraint excelled in knowledge and judgment, and every chair in Wales and England was given him; from which he was called the Bardd Glas of the Chair—He who understands will see, that it was from the system of Geraint Yardd Glas that the one of Brittany was taken, and also a great portion of that of Gruffydd the son of Cynan was taken, called the system of Glen Achled, and that of Aberfraw, under emendation, amplification, extension, and adornment: and therefore Lewys Morganwg, in his book upon poetry, called the system of Geraint the old original system; and he says that the system of the Round Table is the one of Brittany, called also that of Caermarthen, as it existed under King Arthur in Caerlleon upon Usk, and so it is now held in the Chair of Tir Iarll; but there is little worth noticing in it, except the knowledge of what formerly appertained to minstrelsy.”

What were the particular changes or additions which were introduced by Einion Offeiriad, are not known, nor may they be ascertained from Dosparth Edeyrn; for from certain extracts, which are preserved in Dr. John David Rhys’s Grammar relative to the article, we clearly learn that his views and those of Edeyrn are not altogether identical, or at least are not couched in the same language.

It must be remarked, however, that the paragraph, which is there attributed to Edeyrn, does not occur in the copy which forms the text of the present volume. Einion is said to have flourished in the middle of the twelfth century.

Edeyrn compiled his grammar about a.d. 1270. It appears to have been much valued by the literati of Wales, even to a comparatively late period of our history. Thus, Sion Brwynog, addressing Elissau ab William Llwyd of Rhiwaedog, AD 1500, compliments him upon the fact that his father was conversant with the system and grammar of Edeyrn Davod Aur.

Editor: The sign of the broad arrow (/l) is common on stones across Great Britain and latterly used by the Ordnance Survey, with a line across the top, marking the height at that point above the sea level reference point at Newlyn, Cornwall. See picture on next page.

Ordnance Datum Newlyn:
The brass bolt marker (L)
sits under a cover (R)

Source

The End

The Political Influence of the British-Israel Movement in the Nineteenth Century (Part 6)

Richard Simpson

THE GATES WERE VERY IMPORTANT TO BRITISH-ISRAEL and Constantinople was the most important gate. Possession of the gates meant power to the British Empire. In 1919, British-Israelite Admiral Lord Fisher said 'Do you know that there are five keys to the world - the Straits of Dover, the Straits of Gibraltar (Above), the Suez Canal, the Straits of Malacca, and the Cape of Good Hope? And every one of these keys we hold'.¹⁴⁵

The Channel Islands kept a check on the French. Gibraltar seized from the Spanish in 1704 guarded the entrance to the Mediterranean. Malta captured from Napoleon in 1800 stood halfway between Gibraltar and Port Said. The gates to the Red Sea - Aden and Perim - were acquired in 1856 and 1839 respectively. Cyprus was rented from the Turkish and was the Gate to Suez, Port Said and Palestine.

Possession of the gate of Constantinople would prevent the Russian Black Sea fleet entering the Mediterranean. 'Ask of Me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession' (Psalm ii.8). Hence, in 1839, Britain extended diplomatic protection to all 10,000 Jews living in the Turkish province of Syria.

On the Jewish side, Sir Moses Montefiore was also taking a great interest in Palestine. ¹⁴⁶ Montefiore believed that Palestine was under-exploited making it a rich opportunity for a Jewish homeland. He agreed with the new British Consul William Young to introduce gradual assistance to the Jews so as not to arouse the suspicion of the Turks and Egyptians.

He received the backing of the British government but was only able to obtain vague promises from Mehmet Ali. Unfortunately, in 1839, war broke out between the Egyptians and Turks with the French backed Turks capturing Beirut. ¹⁴⁷ Lord Shaftesbury had put events in motion with the establishment of a British Consulate in Jerusalem, in 1838, reflecting the concern of restorationists with development of their doctrine and its application to political realities. ¹⁴⁸

Philo-Judaism was a strong element of Evangelicalism with its desire to assist Jewish return to Palestine, convert them to Christianity and bring about the second coming of Christ following the conversion of Jews to Christianity. Coincidentally, Shaftesbury's mother-in-law was the wife of Lord Palmerston and on assuming the Premiership, Palmerston asked Shaftesbury to select appropriate clerics for Bishopsrics.

This was the perfect opportunity for Shaftesbury to establish his Evangelical master plan and duly recorded in his 1838 diaries that he had persuaded Palmerston to appoint Britain's first diplomat to Palestine. ¹⁴⁹ Shaftesbury reasoned that if Britain established herself in Palestine, as the Jew's political and military protector, immigration would begin eventually spawning the Second Coming but first he had to sell his plan politically to Palmerston.

However, French territorial ambitions under the aggressive Adolphe Thiers (left) stalled. On the French rivalry for Palestine, British-Israel maintained, in 1866, that they did not wish to contend with any country for the selfish appropriation of Palestine but if the opportunity arose Britain should take it. ¹⁵⁰

The Viscount Palmerston
(October 1784 – 18 October 1865)

An alliance of Britain, Russia, Prussia and Austria demanded the withdrawal of Mehmet Ali from Syria or they would back the Turks. The French king sacked Thiers and Egypt withdrew. In return for Britain's assistance in retaining Syria, the Turkish government lifted its restriction on Jewish immigration to Palestine. Unfortunately Palmerston fell at the 1841 General Election and it appeared that Shaftsbury's plans were stalled. However, his successor Peel agreed to a new Anglican Episcopal seat in Jerusalem.

The first Anglican Bishop of Jerusalem was Michael Solomon Alexander (left), a converted Jew but unfortunately, in 1842, Peel forbade British Consul Young from assisting Bishop Alexander with any of his Jewish schemes and significantly, for the Evangelical Shaftsbury, British Diplomatic protection would only be extended to Jews but excluded those that converted to Christianity. 151

Contemporaneously, the removal of the French threat led to a lapse in the Turkish immigration policy and the expected mass emigration did not take place except for a few people to the Montefiore colonies and mass emigration, when it did take place was directed toward Europe and America.

Disraeli's acquisition of the Suez Canal and Cyprus between 1874-78 made physical conquest of Palestine inevitable. British-Israel applauded the government's bold stroke in acquiring half the shares in the Suez canal proclaiming it as the beginning of the restoration movement and an Act of God. 152 The Suez Canal shortened the sea trip to India by 5000 miles and part fulfilled biblical prophecy 'in the same day the Lord made a Covenant with Abraham, saying, Unto thy seed have I given this Land, from the River of Egypt into the great river, the river Euphrates'.

Disraeli (left) was also worshipped by British-Israel as a God in that his surname 'Of Israel' was seen as fulfilment of 'One shall say, I [am] the LORD'S; and another shall call [himself] by the name of Jacob; and another shall subscribe [with] his hand unto the LORD, and surname [himself] by the name of Israel'.¹⁵³ In 1875, Lionel de Rothschild supplied Disraeli with the £4 million to purchase the Khedive of Egypt's controlling shares in the Suez Canal Company. 154

However, there was one problem here in that Biblical prophecy maintained of Ephraim 'He shall not return to Egypt.'; a fact I only found one reference to in British-Israel literature.¹⁵⁵ Hine remarked on the coincidence that at a time, national identity with Israel, Benjamin Disraeli was selected as Prime Minister and 'I have faith to look upon this man as one specially raised by God as a deliverer for our nation' and 'under the auspices of a Premier, of Jewish or Israelitish origin, and raised, we cannot but believe, to his high and influential position by Divine Providence to exert a prominent influence on the coming events.'^{156 & 157}

His prophetic feelings were backed up by staff writer Harrison Oxley in 'We identify Benjamin Disraeli, Esq., as one called in a most distinguished manner to lead the Nation to glory, and by the Identity, we see clearly how Judah and Israel became united, how Palestine comes into the possession of the British Nation.'¹⁵⁸

However, Disraeli did not seem to agree with this and embarrassingly declared the American nation 'to be more like that of ancient Israel under the judges than any other of history.' In 1875, in preparation for the formation of a Palestine Colonization Fund, members of the society met the Turkish Ambassador. The gravitas of this fund was reflected in the delegation that approached the Turkish Ambassador, at its inception.

The more prominent members included Colonel Gawler, Jacob Montefiore, Bishop Titcomb, Lord Shaftsbury, The Lord Mayor of London and two MPs A. Kinnaird & F. Walpole. 159 One offshoot of The Anglo-Israel Association was The International Universal Alliance whose purpose was 'to secure the neutralisation of Palestine under the guarantee of the great Powers, with the view of assuring the security of Christian and Israelitish populations'. 160

This was a significant link with the Jewish community in that a prominent member was Sir Moses Montefiore, occasional president of the Board of Deputies, who initiated the subordinate Palestine Committee of the Universal

Alliance. This sub-organisation drew up plans for emigration schemes promoting the colonization of Palestine, Syria and neighbouring countries and with the support of the German Colony of the Society of the Temple channelled funds through a Palestine Colonization Fund to a society established at Premisle, Galicia. 161

Although not a member of British-Israel, to their regret, in his obituary it was said 'He was a Prince of the House of Judah, but he belonged properly to the House of Israel'. 162 In the 1870's, Rishon le Zion and other colonies were set up near Lake Tiberias at the initiative of the French branch of the Rothschilds. 163 In 1875, Sir Moses Montefiore travelled to Palestine to arrange for additional purchases of land after Palestine Exploration Fund maps showed large areas of economically unexploited fertile land. 164

To be continued

Letters And Views

Pastor Sheldon Emry on Vaccines

Sir__The following is a statement on the teachings of Lord's Covenant Church, America's Promise Ministries in relation to immunizations, inoculations, vaccines, and related so-called cures, preventatives, or medicines given by injection into the body.

We believe Christians are not to demand or accept any such injections for the following reasons as gleaned from God's Holy Bible. The church is to be holy. Ephesians 5:27, That he might present it to Himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish. Individuals are to be holy. Romans 12:1, I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

Also, 1 Peter 1:15-16, But as He which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation [life]; because it is written, Be ye holy; for I am holy. Holy means not only to be in service to God, but to be "clean". We have a saying, "Cleanliness is next to godliness." That this is true is verified in the Old Testament passage Peter was referring to in his quote in the preceding paragraph. It was from Leviticus 11:44-45:

For I am the Lord your God: ye shall therefore sanctify yourselves, and ye shall be holy; for I am holy: neither shall ye defile yourselves with any manner of creeping thing that creepeth upon the earthy. For I am the Lord that bringeth you up out of the land of Egypt, to be your God: ye shall therefore be holy, for I am holy.

These verses are at the end of the list of clean and unclean beasts in the chapter which God's people are commanded NOT to eat the unclean. The implication here is obvious --- that if they were to eat that which is unclean, they would not be holy.

The same doctrine in Deuteronomy 14. It begins, Ye are the children of the LORD your God; ye shall not cut yourselves, nor make any baldness between your eyes for the dead [these were common heathen religious practices in that day], for thou art an holy people unto the LORD thy God, and the LORD hath chosen thee to be a peculiar people unto Himself, above all the nations (people) that are upon the earth.

Thou shalt not eat any abominable thing, [and then follows the command NOT to eat things God calls unclean. Also in verse 21, we read, Ye shall not eat anything that dieth of itself ... for thou art an holy people unto the LORD thy God.... There are two other things in that passage quoted above that are further reasons for refusing vaccines.

Firstly, we are not to cut ourselves. Inoculations, vaccinations, etc., include puncture or cutting of the body. (See Leviticus 19:28 and 21:5). Secondly, we are not to eat, i.e., partake of, anything that dieth of itself. Vaccines are often made, or in, bodies; foetuses, or, the eggs of creatures that are unclean according to the plain Word of God. Moreover, the process of producing the so-called "vaccine" often causes the body, foetus, or egg to die in the process. Therefore, it is further forbidden us.

We are also commanded not to eat the blood of animals. But flesh with the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat. Genesis 9:4. This was made a statute at Mt. Sinai and repeated, several times as in Leviticus 3:17, 7:26, 17:10, 19:26, Deuteronomy 12:16, and others. It was commanded to Christians in the New Testament in Acts 15:20, 29. Many vaccines are made in or of the blood of diseased animals and the injection is, in effect, a blood injection into the human body. In 1 Corinthians 3:16, Christians are asked, "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?"

The Word then continues, "If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are." Vaccine is an alien substance, unclean by Scripture definition, and injected into the body in a manner condemned by God in His Holy Word.

CONCLUSION

Christians are commanded by God not to accept anything into their bodies that would tend to defile them and make them unclean. The vaccines are such substances and are therefore forbidden!!! Posted by Pastor Eli James

Cure For Hay Fever

Sir ___, All my life I suffered from hay fever. I pretty much choked to death every summer. Then, few years ago, an old man (crazy old man according to my wife) told me to try nettles. Basically, as soon as the spring starts, he told me, and the first nettles sprout out, pick a bunch and sting myself with them. Do that once a week until the end of autumn.

Apparently this would make my immune system concentrate on nettles and forget about the pollen... To my wife's horror and the amusement of the fellow walkers in parks and forests, I soon started the "therapy". This is my hand in the nettles bush And lo and behold it worked... I haven't had any problems with pollen for 3 years now...

So there you have it. Just wanted to share with you my experience. Just in case someone is interested in use of herbs for medicinal purposes... Yours truly, KH, West Midlands, UK.

Reply to Nettle Cure

Sir ____, I was very interested to read KH's post re the nettle cure for hay fever.. We had a Polish couple lived with us for a while. The fella suffered from hay fever and he said that nettles were the culprit, not pollen. If that was correct then provoking an immune response against nettles would make total sense. Yours truly, Mike, Ireland.

A Doctor's Letter to Her MP Regarding Compulsory Vaccination

Sir ____, I came across a copy of a letter from a Doctor to her local MP appertaining to the government's plans for compulsory vaccination recently hinted at by Matt Hancock recently. I see this as another attack by the enemy on true Israel! Letter below.

Dear Sir Graham,

I refer to my earlier correspondence dated March 2nd and April 26th regarding the concerns I have about the COVID-19 vaccination program.

I am grateful to you for raising these concerns with the Minister for covid-19 Vaccine Deployment. Sadly Mr Zahawi seems to be either unwilling or unable to respond to my questions. Perhaps he is just delaying until the vaccine rollout has reached the whole adult population as it is due to imminently.

Mr Zahawi said in his letter to you that "the UK currently operates a system of informed consent for vaccinations". Clearly the current proposals to make vaccinations compulsory for care home workers and possibly frontline NHS workers is completely counter to this. If a medical intervention is mandated for one group in society why not others? What about visitors to care homes? Delivery drivers? Shop workers? The list will go on and on.

I would like to draw your attention again to Article 6 of the Universal Declaration on Bioethics and Human Rights. It states that "any preventive, diagnostic and therapeutic medical intervention is only to be carried out with the prior, free and informed consent of the person concerned, based on adequate information.

The consent should, where appropriate, be express and may be withdrawn by the person concerned at any time and for any reason without disadvantage or prejudice". If an individual is being coerced into undergoing vaccination, through fear of losing their livelihood, then they are not giving "free and informed consent".

In effect, the person administering the vaccine in such circumstances is committing the criminal offence of Assault and Battery. We know that the pharmaceutical companies have been granted legal indemnity by the Government but what indemnity does the vaccinator have in this situation?

In my opinion to ask anyone to undergo a medical intervention for the benefit of others is profoundly unethical. Population immunity, achieved through high vaccine take-up, is a by-product rather than the primary reason for immunising an individual.

This ethical problem is particularly pertinent to the arguments given for rolling the program out to children, but is also relevant to the majority of healthy working-age adults. The mortality risk from covid-19 in this cohort is lower than that for seasonal influenza.

People are being persuaded to have these vaccines to protect society at large. Why is nobody in Government paying attention to the significant morbidity and mortality being reported on the Yellow Card system in relation to the administration of the vaccines?

Young healthy people are being exposed to risks, both known and unknown, in taking these vaccines yet have little to gain in terms of personal benefit. Dr Tess Lawrie wrote an open letter to MHRA Chief Executive Dr June Raine saying that "the MHRA now has more than enough evidence on the Yellow Card system to declare the covid-19 vaccines unsafe for use in humans". At the very least we should be pausing to review the data before coercing young care home workers into having this vaccine when the results of the phase 3 trials are not yet known or understood.

In my discussions with patients who have undergone vaccination I have come to realise that many are unaware that these vaccines do not yet have full marketing authorisation. Sadly, the vaccine trials have now been compromised by being un-blinded and control arm participants being offered the active drug.

Given that these vaccines are still in their experimental phase, surely point 1 of the Nuremberg code applies: the voluntary consent of the human subject is absolutely essential. How is this in any way compatible with mandatory vaccination?

According to Dominic Cummings, the Prime Minister referred to Matt Hancock as "fing hopeless". Having heard the Health Secretary say that there is a "material difference" in the duty of care owed by the state to those who have not yet been offered the vaccine compared to those that have not taken up the offer of vaccination, I would go as far as to say he is dangerous and a menace.

He is not fit for public office and needs to be removed from his post before he inflicts further harm on the people of this country. The GMC's Good Medical Practice guidance states that Doctors must "treat patients and colleagues fairly and without discrimination".

I do not think there is an exception to this based on vaccination status. Similarly the NHS constitution says that "the NHS provides a comprehensive service, available to all" and that staff has a "duty not to discriminate against patients or staff and to adhere to...human rights legislation". With regard to patients it says "you have the right to accept or refuse treatment that is offered to you, and not to be given any...treatment unless you have given valid consent". Perhaps the Health Secretary ought to familiarise himself with these documents.

Having read my comments you will not be surprised to learn that I still do not intend to take this vaccine currently. I refuse to be bullied into undergoing a medical intervention against my will. It is against everything I would advocate for my patients. With record waiting lists in the NHS it would seem to me to be unwise to risk losing a proportion of the workforce by forging ahead with plans for making Covid-19 vaccination compulsory. Yours sincerely, Dr Helen Westwood.

I trust your readers will find this letter of interest, should you decide to publish it. Yours truly, R. Hollis, Carlisle, UK.

Ancient Aryan India

Sir _____, I came across this picture of an ancient Indian queen - note her Aryan features. Yours truly, Pastor Eli James. USA.

Fighting The Corrupt Beast

Sir__, Here is the latest in my fight against the corrupt beast that seeks to eat us. Many are now refusing to pay this unlawful tax. The movement has grown exponentially.

DEAR TRACEY LORD, I write to you as you have signed yourself as Court Officer. I acknowledge receipt of your letter dated 08/06/2021.

On the reverse of the letter is the heading denoting HM. Courts & Tribunals Service giving information of an adjournment of the case that the council is pursuing against the name of MR. John Timbrell. Alongside the heading is the instruction that the sender should include the court's address. This has been left blank.; The court address has not been entered.

This omission is very important and crucial because I believe that there is no actual court conducted by HM Courts and Tribunal Service . This confirms my opinion that this is a Kangaroo court. For your information I quote from Merriam-Webster. definition of a Kangaroo Court.

- 1: a mock court in which the principles of law and justice are disregarded or perverted.
- 2: a court characterized by irresponsible, unauthorized, or irregular status or procedures.

I have already served notice on the CEO of your council that a magistrates court from which the original summons has been alleged to have originated has no power to deal with civil debt.

Your CEO has passed my notice to the legal department who in turn has passed the arrangement of the so called court to you. I believe that this is because the CEO and Marie Barnes do not want to admit that the council is holding a kangaroo court.

If I am wrong and the council is taking action in a properly constituted county court, would you please send me a letter before claim to comply with that court's civil procedure rules. If you are proposing to use another court, would you please inform me of the constitution of the court and the statute that authorises its existence.

I believe that your employee is trying to distance themselves from their criminal intent and passing their intent to you in an attempt to distance themselves from the crime that they are committing. They are using you as a person not qualified in law to try and put into effect their evil intent. You may now care to research the law regarding the powers of a magistrate's court.

You will find that they cannot deal with civil debt and that if what I believe is correct you are being instructed by your employee to act in a criminal manner. I trust that with this knowledge that you will have the courage to stand up to your employees and stop assisting them in their criminal actions. It is criminal because they are trying to extract money from me using unlawful threats or demanding money with menaces.

For my own protection I have copied this email to other interested parties. Yours truly, John T. Gloucestershire, UK.

Waun Mawr Nevern, Pembrokeshire Original Site of Stonehenge? Who Moved the Stones?!

By Zoe Spencer

Contained within the nearby Churchyard of St Brynachs at Nevern is a 'Bleeding' Yew tree whose sap appears to flow like blood from its heart. If that isn't a miracle within itself. Immediately to the east of the Church porch of St Brynach is a stone known as 'The Vitalinus Stone' inscribed in Ogham - To the memory of Vitalinus.

Within the nave of the actual church, embedded into the walls, are two other very ancient stones: One 'The Braided Cross' which bears an exquisitely inscribed Celtic cross and seems to me to be very female in form. Also 'The Maglocunus Stone' a bilingual stone being inscribed both Latin and Ogham, This stone was part of the key to the deciphering of the Ogham alphabet as we 'understand' it today - if indeed we do at all!

Churchyard of St Brynachs at Nevern

THE true origin of the 'Blue Stone' used to build the Solar Temple at Stonehenge can be traced to the Preselli Hills in Pembrokeshire, Wales. Excavations in 2018, in the same area, revealed the site of the Third largest known Stone Circle/Solar Temple in Britain - 'Waun Mawn'

The Latin inscription is MAGLOCVNI (possibly miscut MAGLOCVVI) FILI CLVTOR.

The Ogham: MAGLICUNAS MAQI CLUTAR read from right to left.

The circle, a virtual identical copy of Stonehenge features a 320 feet diameter circle which aligns to the rising Sun on June 21st (Summer Solstice) and once contained some 30 - 50 stones.

The meaning being (THE MONUMENT) OF MAGLOCUNUS (MAELGWN) SON OF CLUTORIUS. Clutorius being Clechre or Clether who granted the church land to St Brynach in the 5th Century.

It is my belief that the legendary Stonehenge is actually in the wrong place and once stood at 'Waun Mawn'. In fact one of the bluestones at Stonehenge has an unusual cross-section which precisely matches one of the holes left at Waun Mawn, whether or not the Stones were actually moved on purpose or stolen?? is a subject I find well worthy of debate! All that can be seen of this once monumental site are 4 recumbent stones; whichever way you look at them, now one question remains: Who Moved The Stones?!!

Legend tells how the invading Saxon? king Hengist invited British Celtic warriors?? Druid Priests??? to a feast at Stonehenge (Wiltshire) but treacherously ordered his men to massacre the guests, killing 420 of them. Hengist erected Stonehenge on the site as a sick joke it would seem.

I know its a legend I haven't gone anywhere near as far back as this and I don't know if I'm right but I really can believe this you know— it makes so much sense. They are a total distraction to the true places of worship. The Battle of the Trees - To be continued - Stay Strong ^ V V E | | -

Churchyard of St Brynachs at Nevern
'Bleeding' Yew trees

The End OS23199

Acute Electrical Illness (Part 2)

Arthur Firstenberg

Influenza Is an Electrical Disease

SUDDENLY AND INEXPLICABLY, influenza, whose descriptions had remained consistent for thousands of years, changed its character in 1889. Flu had last seized most of England in November 1847, over half a century earlier. The last flu epidemic in the United States had raged in the winter of 1874–1875.

Since ancient times, influenza had been known as a capricious, unpredictable disease, a wild animal that came from nowhere, terrorized whole populations at once without warning and without a schedule, and disappeared as suddenly and mysteriously as it had arrived, not to be seen again for years or decades.

It behaved unlike any other illness, was thought not to be contagious, and received its name because its comings and goings were said to be governed by the “influence” of the stars.

But in 1889 influenza was tamed. From that year forward it would be present always, in every part of the world. It would vanish mysteriously as before, but it could be counted on to return, at more or less the same time, the following year. And it has never been absent since.

Like “anxiety disorder,” influenza is so common and so seemingly familiar that a thorough review of its history is necessary to unmask this stranger and convey the enormity of the public health disaster that occurred one hundred and thirty years ago. It’s not that we don’t know enough about the influenza virus.

We know more than enough. The microscopic virus associated with this disease has been so exhaustively studied that scientists know more about its tiny life cycle than about any other single microorganism. But this has been a reason to ignore many unusual facts about this disease, including the fact that it is not contagious.

In 2001, Canadian astronomer Ken Tapping, together with two British Columbia physicians, were the latest scientists to confirm, yet again, that for at least the last three centuries influenza pandemics have been most likely to occur during peaks of solar magnetic activity—that is, at the height of each eleven year sun cycle. Such a trend is not the only aspect of this disease that has long puzzled virologists.

In 1992, one of the world’s authorities on the epidemiology of influenza, R. Edgar Hope-Simpson, published a book in which he reviewed the essential known facts and pointed out that they did not support a mode of transmission by direct human-to-human contact.

Hope-Simpson had been perplexed by influenza for a long time, in fact ever since he had treated its victims as a young general practitioner in Dorset, England, during the 1932–1933 epidemic—the very epidemic during which the virus that is associated with the disease in humans was first isolated. But during his 71-year career Hope Simpson’s questions were never answered. “The sudden explosion of information about the nature of the virus and its antigenic reactions in the human host,” he wrote in 1992, had only “added to the features calling for explanation.”

Why is influenza seasonal? he still wondered. Why is influenza almost completely absent except during the few weeks or months of an epidemic? Why do flu epidemics end? Why don’t out-of-season epidemics spread? How do epidemics explode over whole countries at once, and disappear just as miraculously, as if suddenly prohibited?

He could not figure out how a virus could possibly behave like this. Why does flu so often target young adults and spare infants and the elderly? How is it possible that flu epidemics travelled at the same blinding speed in past centuries as they do today? How does the virus accomplish its so-called “vanishing trick”? This refers to the fact that when a new strain of the virus appears, the old strain, between one season and the next, has vanished completely, all over the world at once. Hope-Simpson listed twenty-one separate facts about influenza that puzzled him and that seemed to defy explanation if one assumed that it was spread by direct contact.

He finally revived a theory that was first put forward by Richard Shope, the researcher who isolated the first flu virus in pigs in 1931, and who also did not believe that the explosive nature of many outbreaks could be explained by direct Contagion.

Shope, and later Hope-Simpson, proposed that the flu is not in fact spread from person to person, or pig to pig, in the normal way, but that it instead remains latent in human or swine carriers, who are scattered in large numbers throughout their communities until the virus is reactivated by an environmental trigger of some sort.

Hope-Simpson further proposed that the trigger is connected to seasonal variations in solar radiation, and that it may be electromagnetic in nature, as a good many of his predecessors during the previous two centuries had suggested.

When Hope-Simpson was young and beginning his practice in Dorset, a Danish physician named Johannes Mygge, at the end of a long and distinguished career, had just published a monograph in which he too showed that influenza pandemics tended to occur during years of maximum solar activity, and further that the yearly number of cases of flu in Denmark rose and fell with the number of sunspots.

In an era in which epidemiology was becoming nothing more than a search for microbes, Mygge admitted, and knew already from hard experience, that “he who dances out of line risks having his feet stomped on.”⁴

But he was certain that influenza had something to do with electricity, and he had come to this conviction in the same way I did: from personal experience.

In 1904 and 1905, Mygge had kept a careful diary of his health for nine months, and he later compared it to records of the electrical potential of the atmosphere, which he had recorded three times a day for ten years as part of another project.

It turned out that his incapacitating migraine-like headaches, which he had always known were connected to changes in the weather, almost always fell on the day of, or one day before, a sudden severe rise or drop in the value of the atmospheric voltage.

But headaches were not the only effects. On the days of such electrical turmoil, almost without exception, his sleep was broken and unrestful and he was bothered with dizziness, irritable mood, a feeling of confusion, buzzing sensations in his head, pressure in his chest, and an irregular heartbeat, and sometimes, he wrote, “my condition had the character of a threatening influenza attack, which in every case was not essentially different from the onset of an actual attack of that illness.”⁵

Others who have connected influenza with sunspots or atmospheric electricity include John Yeung (2006), Fred Hoyle (1990), J. H. Douglas Webster (1940), Aleksandr Chizhevskiy (1936), C. Conyers Morrell (1936), W. M. Hewetson (1936), Sir William Hamer (1936), Gunnar Edström (1935), Clifford Gill (1928), C. M. Richter (1921), Willy Hellpach (1911), Weir Mitchell (1893), Charles Dana (1890), Louise Fiske Bryson (1890), Ludwig Buzorini (1841), Johann Schönlein (1841), and Noah Webster (1799).

In 1836, Heinrich Schweich observed that all physiological processes produce electricity, and proposed that an electrical disturbance of the atmosphere may prevent the body from discharging it. He repeated the then-common belief that the accumulation of electricity within the body causes the symptoms of influenza.

No one has yet disproved this. It is of interest that between 1645 and 1715, a period astronomers call the Maunder Minimum, when the sun was so quiet that virtually no sunspots were to be seen and no auroras graced polar nights—during which, according to native Canadian tradition, “the people were deserted by the lights from the sky,”⁶—there were also no worldwide pandemics of flu.

In 1715, sunspots reappeared suddenly after a lifetime’s absence. In 1716, the famous English astronomer Sir Edmund Halley, at sixty years of age, published a dramatic description of the northern lights. It was the first time he had ever seen them. But the sun was still not fully active. As though it had woken up after a long sleep, it stretched its legs, yawned, and lay down again after displaying only half the number of sunspots that it shows us today at the peak of each eleven-year solar cycle.

It wasn’t until 1727 that the sunspot number surpassed 100 for the first time in over a century. And in 1728 influenza arrived in waves over the surface of the earth, the first flu pandemic in almost a hundred and fifty years. More universal and enduring than any in previously recorded history, that epidemic appeared on every continent, became more violent in 1732, and by some reports lasted until 1738, the peak of the next solar cycle. ⁷ John Huxham, who practiced medicine in Plymouth, England, wrote in 1733 that “scarce any one had escaped it.”

He added that there was “a madness among dogs; the horses were seized with the catarrh before mankind; and a gentleman averred to me, that some birds, particularly the sparrows, left the place where he was during the sickness.”⁸

An observer in Edinburgh reported that some people had fevers for sixty continuous days, and that others, not sick, “died suddenly.” ⁹ By one estimate, some two million people worldwide perished in that pandemic. ¹⁰

If influenza is primarily an electrical disease, a response to an electrical disturbance of the atmosphere, then it is not contagious in the ordinary sense. The patterns of its epidemics should prove this, and they do.

For example, the deadly 1889 pandemic began in a number of widely scattered parts of the world. Severe outbreaks were reported in May of that year simultaneously in Bukhara, Uzbekistan; Greenland; and northern Alberta. ¹¹ Flu was reported in July in Philadelphia ¹² and in Hillston, a remote town in Australia,¹³ and in August in the Balkans. ¹⁴

This pattern being at odds with prevailing theories, many historians have pretended that the 1889 pandemic didn’t “really” start until it had seized the western steppes of Siberia at the end of September and that it then spread in an orderly fashion from there outward throughout the rest of the world, person to person by contagion. But the trouble is that the disease still would have had to travel faster than the trains and ships of the time.

It reached Moscow and St. Petersburg during the third or fourth week of October, but by then, influenza had already been reported in Durban, South Africa ¹⁵ and Edinburgh, Scotland. ¹⁶ New Brunswick, Canada, ¹⁷ Cairo,¹⁸ Paris,¹⁹ Berlin,²⁰ and Jamaica ²¹ were reporting epidemics in November; London, Ontario on December 4;²² Stockholm on December 9;²³ New York on December 11;²⁴ Rome on December 12;²⁵ Madrid on December 13;²⁶ and Belgrade on December 15.²⁷ Influenza struck explosively and unpredictably, over and over in waves until early 1894.

It was as if something fundamental had changed in the atmosphere, as if brush fires were being ignited by some unknown vandal randomly, everywhere in the world.

One observer in East Central Africa, which was struck in September 1890, asserted that influenza had never before appeared in that part of Africa at all, not within the memory of the oldest living inhabitants. ²⁸ like a flood, inundating whole sections in an hour... It is scarcely conceivable that a disease which spreads with such astonishing rapidity, goes through the process of re-development in each person infected, and is only communicated from person to person or by infected articles.”²⁹ Influenza works its caprice not only on land, but at sea.

“Influenza,” said Dr. Benjamin Lee of the Pennsylvania State Board of Health, “spreads

With today’s speed of travel this is no longer obvious, but in previous centuries, when sailors were attacked with influenza weeks, or even months, out of their last port of call, it was something to remember.

In 1894, Charles Creighton described fifteen separate historical instances where entire ships or even many ships in a naval fleet were seized by the illness far from landfall, as if they had sailed into an influenzal fog, only to discover, in some cases, upon arriving at their next port that influenza had broken out on land at the same time.

Creighton added one report from the contemporary pandemic: the merchant ship “Wellington” had sailed with its small crew from London on December 19, 1891, bound for Lyttelton, New Zealand. On the 26th of March, after over three months at sea, the captain was suddenly shaken by intense febrile illness. Upon arriving at Lyttelton on April 2, “the pilot, coming on board found the captain ill in his berth, and on being told the symptoms at once said, ‘It is the influenza: I have just had it myself.’”³⁰

An 1857 report was so compelling that William Beveridge (left) included it in his 1975 textbook on influenza: “The English warship Arachne was cruising off the coast of Cuba ‘without any contact with land.’ No less than 114 men out of a crew of 149 fell ill with influenza and only later was it learnt that there had been outbreaks in Cuba at the same time.”³¹

The speed at which influenza travels, and its random and simultaneous pattern of spread, has perplexed scientists for centuries, and has been the most compelling reason for some to continue to suspect atmospheric electricity as the cause, despite the known presence of an extensively studied virus.

Here is a sampling of opinion, old and modern: Perhaps no disease has ever been observed to affect so many people in so short a time, as the Influenza, almost a whole city, town, or neighbourhood becoming affected in a few days, indeed much sooner than could be supposed to spread from contagion.

Mercatus relates, that when it prevailed in Spain, in 1557, the greatest part of the people were seized in one day.

Dr. Glass says, when it was rife in Exeter, in 1729, two thousand were attacked in one night. Shadrach Ricketson, M.D. (1808), A Brief History of the Influenza 32

The simple fact is to be recollected that this epidemic affects a whole region in the space of a week; nay, a whole continent as large as North America, together with all the West Indies, in the course of a few weeks, where the inhabitants over such vast extent of country, could not, within so short a lapse of a time, have had the least communication or intercourse whatever. This fact alone is sufficient to put all idea of its being propagated by contagion from one individual to another out of the question.

Alexander Jones, M.D. (1827), Philadelphia Journal of the Medical and Physical Sciences 33

Unlike cholera, it outstrips in its course the speed of human intercourse.

Theophilus Thompson, M.D. (1852), Annals of Influenza or Epidemic Catarrhal Fever in Great Britain from 1510 to 1837. 34

Contagion alone is inadequate to explain the sudden outbreak of the disease in widely distant countries at the same time, and the curious way in which it has been known to attack the crews of ships at sea, where communication with infected places or persons was out of the question.

To be Continued

The Sussex Zodiac

By Mike Collier

The terrestrial zodiac is one of the places where earth mysteries and strange phenomena meet and wink at each other. Those whose personalities are dominated by cynicism will sneer at the concept/phenomena out of hand. But such unconsidered criticism should be ignored. Reality is relative and so strange in places that to dismiss things without consideration is to live in ignorance and illusion. The earth mysteries - strange phenomena - paranormal fields lie at the edge of reality. Those who familiarise themselves with their contents may well gain a better grasp on reality, in total.

Ed. The Zodiac and its signs is Scriptural, His story written in the sky and reflected on earth.

Mr. Collier has spent several years researching this zodiac on the map and in the field with the dowsing rods. His research so far is not definitive but is probably the beginning of a life time's work. It is published here for the first time.

The Zodiac

"The secret source of Avalon's mystique, the bubbling fount of all its legends, the magnet that drew so many saints, kings and pilgrims, is all the more mysterious for being invisible". This is the Glastonbury Zodiac, claimed by its discoverer, Katherine Maltwood, as at once the oldest and biggest of Britain's antiquities. This great goemantic circle of giant effigies, ten miles across and thirty miles round, has so far been totally ignored by cautious Establishment archaeologists. It is Too Big to be Seen, Too Good to be True:

Modelled in relief by hills and lesser contours, outlined in part by streams which follow these round, the effigies are essentially natural - yet the outlines have been completed by man through the ages, by roads, paths and canals and embellished by tumuli, ramparts and lynchets at the nodal points. Preposterous! Maybe, but there on the map are the twelve signs of the zodiac in correct order in a circle....

I can think of no better introduction to a piece on these rather elusive signs than the above, written by Mary Caine in "The Glastonbury Giants or Zodiac" (An Arthurian Reflection) - ((Glastonbury - edited by Anthony Roberts)).

When Mrs Maltwood discovered it half a century ago, she equated the figures with the Arthurian legends and suggested that the circle was the original Round Table. Since then other zodiacs have been found, at Pumpsaint in Wales, Nuthampstead in Hertfordshire and Kingston in Surrey. There is literature available on these by Lewis Edwards, Nigel Peninck and Mary Caine respectively. There are also others that have been written about, albeit some of them rather tentatively.

It appears that we have one in Sussex, overflowing into Kent and not far from the Surrey border; roughly twice the size of the Glastonbury circle.

It is twenty miles across and virtually on the same latitude, centred around the village of Stonegate. (A pin was put into the map at Stonegate and another at Glastonbury and a line between them actually went through Stonehenge.

However, do not regard this as too accurate, it is merely a point of interest). The zodiac stretches from Danehill in the west to Bodiam in the east and from Hellingly in the south to Tunbridge Wells in the north.

It should be noted that there are some very significant place names, a real phenomenon that does occur in this and associated 'earth mysteries', for want of a better phrase.

AQUARIUS: As at Glastonbury, the phoenix. Flightshott farm nearby.

PISCES: A whale with the lovely Bayham Abbey at its mouth and Jews Wood in its belly. There is another fish attached.

TAURUS: At Mayfield an outline of just head and hoof. This is common amongst some zodiacs instead of the whole animal.

CANCER: Here is a superb outline of a crab; this is very significant as so far not one has emerged on any other zodiac.

CAPRICORN: The figure associated with Pan and the earthy side of Nature is the goat-unicorn and has a satyr-like look and position with a virile appearance. Nearby is Mount Easy. This extraordinary figure has a shortage of churches and contains an H. M. Detention Centre and the incredibly named Worms Hill, Folly Hill and Nevergood.

SAGITTARIUS: The front of the figure is incomplete owing to lack of research; after all, someone once said that a zodiac contained a lifetime's work. It appears to be a Centaur, or mounted Archer, firing an arrow. Right on the head is the name The Horns which may put this in the sphere of Cernunnos but in Glastonbury it is the Arthur Figure. If the arrow is fired it hits a chapel where the map says Great Butts. Surely like Ramslye and Lions Green these place names must be beyond coincidence.

GEMINI: A giant sitting in a boat. The boat in these cases is usually named the Argo Navis, certainly there is Argos Hill nearby. In the body of the boat is Skippers (of the boat) Hill, Sleeves Wood on the arm and the aptly named Cross-in-Hand where the hand is holding a cross of some description.

SCORPIO: An outline of the Scorpion; a water sign with the watery Bodiam Castle adjacent. As befits the death sign, it is near to the site of the Battle of Hastings.

Lions Green Where there used to be Stone Lions

LEO: Lion's Green is in this figure with two stone lions outside a large house and lion named houses nearby. In spite of this it really looks like a hound rather than a lion; in a Babylonian zodiac this would have been so. It is worth remarking here that some of the Leo signs in the other zodiacs do not look very leonine either.

ARIES: A sitting ram with the head looking southwards towards the sea. It's tail is formed by an ancient site at Ramslye where there is the rocky formation High Rocks, well worth a visit. The horns are marked by circular paths in a wood called, of all things, Hornshurst Wood.

LIBRA: Usually represented by a dove in the middle of the circle instead of the scales but here appears to be absent. This sign was, after all, a late arrival, in Caesar's time by the Romans, and grew from one of the claws of the Scorpio. Perhaps the crow below Scorpio is something to do with this.

VIRGO: The same as in most other zodiacs, the goddess is holding a sheaf. She has been associated with a hare and here, nearby, is Harebeating. The lower part of her outline appears to be near the top of a crow's head between her and Scorpio, note the nearby town of Crowhurst. There is a precedent for this as there is a crow in the Hebden Bridge Zodiac. What is the significance of the name on her sheaf, Three Cups Corner?

High Rocks (Ramslye) in Aries

The End OS22492

There is No Coronavirus

Garry Jordan

(I. Wuhan Lab)

REPORTS THAT THE VIRUS LEAKED FROM WUHAN are designed to convince the sheeple that Sars-Cov-2 and Covid-19 exist. Like the planes on 9-11, they don't. Illusion is the basis of all psy-ops.

“No lab leak necessary. Incessant propaganda and government lies get the job done in a more efficient and timely manner than any manufactured infectious agent ever could.”

Garry Jordan is an author, researcher and activist from Dublin, Ireland. His book The COVID-19 Illusion; A Cacophony of Lies can be found on Amazon, Lulu, Google Books, Walmart and Barnes and Noble. Keep up to date with his latest articles on Substack.

Almost a year ago, I wrote a book called The COVID-19 Illusion; A Cacophony of Lies.

Even back then, in the very early stages of the pandemic hoax, there was an abundance of evidence to show that the SARS-COV-2 virus, far from been made in a lab, was instead made up in someone's mind.

Why bother to go to all the trouble and hard work of engineering a virus, when you can create the illusion of one? Why the necessity of releasing a wayward virus among the nations of the world, when you can just create the perception of one, leaving you in complete control of it?!

The idea that there is a deadly virus raging rampant throughout our planet has been enough to convince billions of people that they should line up for an emergency use, unapproved, experimental, gene therapy, which of course, has always been the end goal.

No lab leak necessary. Incessant propaganda and government lies get the job done in a more efficient and timely manner than any manufactured infectious agent ever could.

Even if we were to suspend disbelief for a moment and imagine that you had discharged a lethal microorganism into the world, with the aim of depopulating the planet, killing off huge swathes of the population – wouldn't you be asking for a refund now?

I know, if I had purchased a made-to-order pathogen and it turned out to have a 99.97% survival rate among those who were infected and was only efficacious when it came to killing octogenarians in nursing homes, I sure would. I'd be pretty pissed to think that I'd paid to have a virus created that is less deadly than regular influenza. Damn right, I'd want my money back.

Dr. Anthony Fauci – Facing early retirement at 80 years of age, due to his crimes against humanity, Who writes this stuff? And how do some people who are supposedly investigative journalists fall for it?

We're expected to believe that Dr. Anthony Fauci is responsible for the lab leak. We're told that this man, who was outed via FOIA requests made by BuzzFeed – an organization that has been closely involved with a government-funded information warfare group called Open Technology Fund – and the Washington Post – owned by Jeff Bezos, who has profited immensely from the pandemic hoax – is culpable for the 3.9 million deaths that have supposedly occurred worldwide since the beginning of the pandemic.

That's 1300 times more people than Osama Bin Laden was accused of killing on 9/11. With Bin Laden, we bombed entire nations in oblivion, killed him and threw his body into the sea. But with Fauci, we're going to pass the Fire Fauci Act, and he'll be handed a pink slip, forcing him into retirement. What a horrible, cruel punishment for an 80-year-old multi-millionaire, who supposedly helped kill millions of people.

As well as the crew at Buzzfeed and the Washington Post, there are others in the media industry pushing this scam.

One, in particular, is Michael R. Gordon (above) of the Wall Street Journal.

Gordon has been lying on behalf of his handlers for decades. He holds the distinction of being one of the very first journalists in the world to allege the existence of weapons of mass destruction in Iraq. In a September 8th 2002 article titled 'US Says Hussein Intensifies Quest For A-Bomb Parts', Gordon cited anonymous sources.

Today he is citing undisclosed intelligence reports as proof of the Wuhan hoax. We all know how reliable his WMD sources were 19 years ago, yet still, there are those in the independent media who advance his pseudo-journalism today, buying into the latest psyop.

THE TAKE AWAY

With all this in mind, and in the knowledge that the mainstream media, and seemingly some within the alternative media, want us distracted, believing that COVID-19 does indeed exist, it's important to remember a few points – most of which are covered in greater detail in my book.

-By the admission of the CDC, SARS-COV-2 has never been isolated. It has never ever been proven to exist. Koch's postulates have not been performed, as they should be to identify any new virus.

-Despite (allegedly) hundreds of millions of cases of COVID-19, there does not exist any electron microscope (EM) photograph of the SARS-COV-2 virus. What we have seen so far, are a handful of digitally simulated images and artists renderings.

-The diagnosis of COVID-19 is based on a PCR test. Hundreds of millions of cases have been 'confirmed' using this method. The PCR test is not reliable, should not be used to diagnose illness (according to its inventor, Kary Mullis) and has even been called into question by the World Health Organization. Therefore, the hundreds of millions of diagnosed cases, which have sparked mass vaccinations and unconstitutional lockdowns, are based on lies.

-Death rates in nations worldwide have remained the same, or in some cases, decreased since the WHO's declaration of a pandemic in March 2020. In the UK, for example, age-standardised mortality rates have been at the lowest level ever recorded. So what has the engineered virus been doing all this time?

- It's not a new concept. Pandemics have been manufactured before. The 2009 Swine Flu was deliberately designed to foment panic and sell vaccines. This was even acknowledged by Forbes magazine, before they pulled their article in October 2020.

-The vast majority of reported deaths from COVID-19 were of elderly patients who had been moved out of hospitals and transferred into care homes, where they would no longer receive the treatment that was required for the illnesses they were initially hospitalised for.

On top of that, it is reported that a huge number of those who died had been on ventilators, which evidently damaged and then blew out their lungs. This has been confirmed by numerous whistle blowers in destinations worldwide such as Italy, the UK and the US, proving that any major wave of death that did occur was due to the genocide of the elderly by government-backed eugenicists, as opposed to the contraction of a deadly contagion.

Health officials worldwide have instructed hospital staff to label everybody who dies after testing positive for COVID-19 as a COVID-19 death, even if they were sick from other illnesses such as cancer, heart disease and diabetes. In some cases, car crash victims and people who had been terminally ill for months have been certified as COVID-19 deaths. This is a deliberate scam, aided by a faulty PCR test, in an effort to boost numbers, turning up the level of fear that little bit more.

Ignoring facts such as these, in favour of an MSM-sponsored conspiracy theory citing the dubious claims of dubious groups and dubious individuals, the so-called independent journalists are doing a disservice to themselves and to their audience.

Until we can develop immunity to the powerful propaganda and the psychological attacks that have been waged upon us, and finally, see what is very plain to be seen – that COVID-19 is a hoax – we will not progress and we will remain in the nightmarish dystopia that has been thrust upon us. SOURCE

The End OS232002

Why Are Vaccinated People Behaving Like Zombies?

WE DON'T KNOW ALL THE ANSWERS, but there sure are a lot of questions that need to be raised.

Not just heart issues are showing up after people are COVID vaccinated – myocarditis but unusual tumours are emerging.

People are in a trance as if they've been hypnotised, according to one doctor observing his vaccinated colleagues. What is going on here?

Dr Lee Merritt gives her take on the PCR test con which drove everyone to be vaccinated. What happened to all the lab managers who forgot how to do their job. Why didn't they object?

What is happening is the killing and sterilising of humanity. Lab people cannot isolate or find the virus.

Why didn't the virus spread across whole cities? This is more likely a synthetic/ contact genetic poison which caused the initial surge.

They then called the effect of the contact poison COVID renaming many other illnesses like flu. The contact poison could now be in the vaccine.

Why do people need booster shots? SPIONS are in the vaccine, (Charles Lever nano-technology connecting brain cells to electronics) designed to control people from outside.

SPIONS could even be put into toothpaste. (Brew up some saline, folks) They were able to change the behaviour of mice through magnetic effects (nano-particles)

Reports show that it's not only through the vaccine that people are being magnetised.

Nanoparticles in the ovaries, testicles?, spleen and the adrenal gland have been observed.

The adrenal being targeted would be slowing people down, and could explain why doctors/university staff are being zombified.

Doctors and nurses were vaccinated first. Was that a device to switch their brains off? Or are they simply in denial? They cannot bring themselves to admit they were wrong, and the potential liability.

Hospitals instruct them not to discuss adverse reactions to the vaccine. Grants to hospitals and universities are based on them not disclosing the real situation.

A lot of dogs are suddenly attacking people. their vaccinated owners. Babies are rejecting their own vaccinated mothers (reported in Israel).

Watch the full interview here.

See also here

The End

IF THE TRUTH BE KNOWN

CD 127 minutes (listen to Audio Clip on site)
$16.00

Here you will find the ignored story of the massive deportations of the German peoples from Eastern Germany, Poland, the Baltic States, and the Sudetenland and its attendant horrors.

The entire library of many more audio programs is available as a bundle. All told, this is nearly 14 hours of great historical commentary! Plus, you realize a savings of $20 dollars. For full details and to purchase go to the website:—

<http://www.untoldtales.net>

Eurofolk Radio

Is now on air!

24 hr streaming of items of interest to identity believers including live broadcasts on matters of national interest and much more!!

TUNE IN NOW!

<http://eurofolkradio.com/category/general/>

Pastor Eli James
Sundays 16.00 hrs
(British Summer time)

Live on Eurofolk Radio and Eurofolk YouTube - Tune in and join in the chat

<http://eurofolkradio.com/category/general/>

This long sort after book is now available!

Click on image for details

A Magazine For Patriots

For further details click HERE

Announcements

[In The Name Of Yahwey auf
Deutsch - Für
weitere
Informationen, auf das Bild auf der rechten klicken Sie
bitte](#)

The Chronicles Of The Migrations Of The Twelve Tribes Of Israel
From The Caucasus
Mountains Into Europe
By
Pastor Eli James

CLICK HERE

www.theflameuk.com

Contact

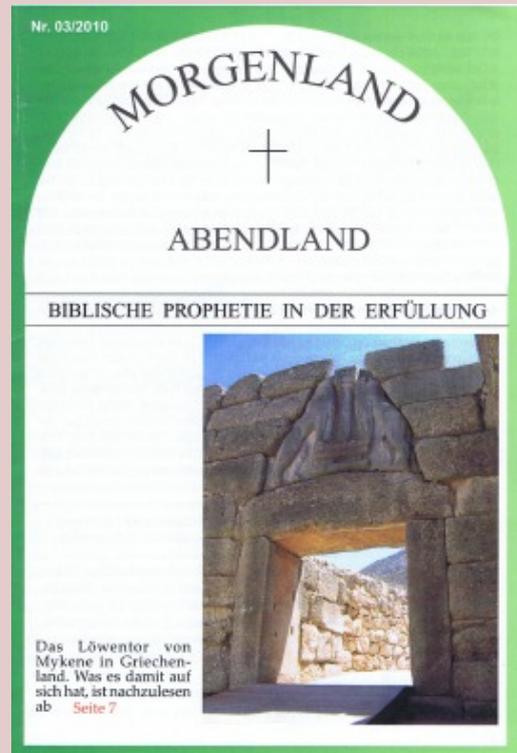

Tel: 07984 775937

E-mail HERE

This website is dedicated to those who have an open mind and question the official Government narratives about COVID19 and the lockdown measures.

<https://judgeforyourself.co.uk>

GERMANY'S OWN IDENTITY MAGAZINE

CONTACT

pia-6@t-online.de

Die Banker Satans

Aktualisiert Erweitert Unzensuriert
von
Carrington Hitchcock, Andrew